TRICKS OF TRADE.

Messrs. Editors:—I notice in the Weekly Mirror, published at Manchester, under date of Feb. 18, an account of the proceedings at the annual meeting of the Manchester & Lawrence Railroad Corporation, held at Manchester, Feb. 15.

It seems to me from the statements made at that meeting by the President and other officials of the Road, that their manner of doing business must be any thing but profitable to the stockholders; and should our railroads throughout New England be managed in like manner, the dividends would be rather small, unless a debt were created for the purpose of declaring a dividend when the earnings of the road will not justify it. In this case the grand secret appears to be, that Mr. Dodge, the President of the road, is a party interested in what purports to be a large House at Concord.

In reply to a remark of C. L. Woodbury, that it had been stated that some of the officers of the road were interested in this large House, the President said he should be happy to explain the whole matter, and did so; which it seems amounts to this:

Some time within a year, if my memory is correct, it was rumored that a heavy company was about being established in Concord, with a branch here, having the enormous capital of fifty thousand dollars, which company intended going largely into the importation of their own goods. The sum named, is about half as large as is now used by one House in Portsmouth for importing a single article, viz.: molasses. The company attempted to make some special contract with the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad Co., but finding they could not induce the managers of the P. & C. Road to take their goods to Concord at a price to suit their convenience, they tried another scheme, in which it appears they have been more successful. Notwithstanding the distance from Boston to Concord is much greater than from this place, their freight comes less.

This should lead to some candid inquiry. How is it that this large importing house can take its goods into Boston, where wharfage, drayage and storage are double those of Portsmouth, and the distance over one third longer, and notwithstanding all this, get their goods into Concord from Boston at a less price than from Portsmouth? Let me ask at whose expense is this deduction made, and what is the result? I presume the deduction will be readily acknowledged must come out of the earnings of the Railroad Company.

When we learn from the President's own statement, that he cannot tell whether the road will pay 2 or 3 per cent., as many things are not settled—if this road takes for one firm five hundred tons freight per month to and from Boston to Concord, and is doing other business in proportion, let the inquiry come up, Why does not this road pay a fair dividend? Let the public judge.

What is the result? is it not that a few of the officers of this road, who are interested in the before mentioned house, are benefitted beyond their fellow traders in the like business with themselves? And are not all the stockholders thereby wronged out of their part of the earnings of the road, under a pretence that this company are importers of their own goods? They do not import their own goods beyond a small cargo of lime or plaster occasionally, as others do in the same business in most of our villages.

Is it right that any of the officers of this road should enjoy the privilege of having their own goods transported at a much less rate than others, thereby making themselves a monopoly to the injury of their neighbors and of the stockholders. Let their freight be but fifty cents per ton less, and the amount set at what they pretend is the basis of the contract, and a sum of $3000 on freight alone will be the annual saving to this house.

Certainly this seems a rapid step toward helping this heavy house in time to monopolize the whole business of the place. Such underhand work prevents trade from pursuing a natural and healthy course, and causes much of the trade at Concord to be supplied from Boston, that would otherwise supply itself from Portsmouth. Should this not be looked into by the stockholders of the road, or by the Legislature? Let all men's rights be equal.

MERCATOR.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, MARCH 17, 1854.

THE BLACK WARRIOR MESSAGE.

The President's Message to Congress, published in the proceedings of March 15, is decidedly warlike, and according to the despatch of the same day, quite popular at Washington. It says,

The President's Black Warrior message has created great excitement, all lauding him for the position he has taken. Members of Congress are generally in ecstasies, some wanting the neutrality laws forthwith suspended, as, in this event, expeditions would at once proceed against Cuba.

We do not suppose this to be universally true, but have no doubt it is generally so. We have a desire to know the true merits of the Black Warrior case, of which we have yet heard only one side.

Of one thing we are certain, viz. if Spain does not promptly meet this demand, so far as to promise reparation, and put it in train, she will put in peril her most valuable dominion, Cuba. Fillibusters are numerous in the United States; the war spirit is greatly prevalent since the successful invasion of that country; and the annexation policy affords the easiest and readiest means of making political capital. We are and have been in favor of the purchase of Cuba: but we are rather expecting to see our armies conquer it first and our people pay for it afterwards, exactly as we managed the Mexican affair.

The pride of Old Spain will be rather apt to precipitate matters, so as to squander much treasure and waste many lives.

It is possible she may be wise enough to comply with our peremptory demand—and so keep her misgoverned but beautiful island a while longer.

As to the people of Cuba, they can hardly be worse governed than they are now: but here come up the questions: What kind of a Republic will Cuba make, annexed to our Union? What real need have we of such a State? And why are we so very valiant towards Spain at Cuba,—yet so tame towards Britain on the fishing grounds?

POSITION OF FRANCE.

One of the most interesting pieces of European news brought by the Arabia, is the speech of the Emperor Napoleon, at the opening of the French Legislature, March 2, 1850. It was mainly devoted to the Turkish war as its subject. The speech commenced by referring to the deficient harvest. He said that seven million hectolitres of grain had been imported, and more was on the way. Famine had been averted, but war was beginning.—On this topic the Emperor said:

France has gone as far as honor permitted to avoid collision, but must now draw the sword. I have new views of aggrandizement. Days of conquest are passed, never to return. The result of France's frank and unselfish policy is seen in England—her former rival—being now in alliance, and becoming daily more intimate. Germany, distrustful from a remembrance of the former war, and hitherto paying too much deference to the policy of St. Petersburg, has already acquired an independence of action, and considers freely on which side lies her true interests. Austria, above all, which could not see with indifference the events which were in progress, will enter into an alliance with the Western Powers, and thus give her testimony to the justice of the war. Here then stands the case. Europe, reassured by the moderation of Emperor Alexander of 1015, and of Nicholas of the present time, seemed to doubt the danger which, from its colossal power by successive encroachments, embraced the north and the centre of Europe, and which possesses almost exclusively two inland seas, whence it is easy for its armies and fleets to launch forth against civilization; and her unfounded demand in the East has awakened Europe to the injustice of the act by which a powerful sovereign demads new accessions from his weaker brother, and because he cannot obtain them, invades two of his provinces. This is enough to put arms in the hands of those who revolt from injustice. But France has an equal interest with England in preventing Russian supremacy from extending itself indefinitely over Constantinople—for to be Supreme in Constantinople, is to be supreme in the Mediterranean. To protect this right has been for ages the policy of every national government in France, and I will not desert it. We are going, therefore, to Constantinople to defend the cause of the Sultan—to protect the cause of Christians—to defend the freedom of the seas, and France's just rights in the Mediterranean.—We are going with Germany to aid Austria in preserving the rank from which they wish to degrade her; to secure her frontier against the preponderance of her too powerful neighbor. We are going, in short, with all those who desire the triumph of right, of justice and civilization. In this solemn conjuncture, gentlemen, as in all those in which I shall be obliged to appeal to the country, I rely firmly upon you, for I have always found in you the generous sentiments which animate the nation. Strong, then, in this security, in the nobleness of our course, in the firmness of our alliance, and the protection of our God, I hope soon to arrive at a peace which shall no longer depend on the power of any one to disturb it with impunity.

☞ The Rails on the track at Erie, Penn., were relaid quite promptly, and the trains proceeded.

LATE FROM EUROPE.

By the steamer Arabia, we have Liverpool dates to March 4. Cotton, on some qualities had declined a little; provisions were firm; and the Breadstuff market dull and declining throughout the week; the prevailing feature had been sales for immediate payment at a considerable reduction from previous current rates. There were sellers willing to make concession of 3d a 4d on Wheat, 18d a 2s on Flour, and 1s a 2s on Indian Corn.

Prices—Western Canal Flour 39s; Baltimore, Philadelphia and Ohio 39 a 40; Canada 39s 6d; white Indian Corn 46s 6d, yellow 46s, mixed 45s. Since the market closed offers of 38s were accepted for Western Canal Flour, 39s for Philadelphia and Baltimore, and 45s for yellow Corn.

THE WAR.—Actual operations exhibit no new features. Every power in Europe continues to arm—France, England and Russia on an immense scale.

Sir Charles Napier has been appointed to the command of the allied fleet in the Baltic, Admiral Seymour being second in command. Over twenty ships had already assembled at Spithead.

The ice in the Baltic was breaking up, and a part of the Russian fleet had been liberated. The Russian fleet at Cronstadt was ready to sail.

A report from a private source, yet unconfirmed, says that the Czar has laid an embargo on British shipping in Russian ports.

On the Danube a deep snow prevented a movement of either army; the weather becoming milder, the Russians were making ostentatious preparations to cross the Danube. Omer Pacha, evidently aware of their plans, was making efforts to check them. Some military men think that the Russians, notwithstanding their demonstrations, do not intend to attack Kalafat, but wish to entrap the Turks to come out. Omer has sent supplies to Varna. The Turks no longer occupy any place but Kalafat north of the Danube.

There has been considerable fighting between small parties whenever they could come in contact, but no decisive action has occurred.

Another convoy of 16,000 troops was preparing to leave Constantinople for Batoum.

The Greek insurrection is in a fair way of being suppressed. Several British ships-of-war are ordered from Malta to Patras.

The Pacha of Jania had defeated the Greek insurrectionists at Asta, but had not force enough to disperse them. The Pacha had issued a proclamation calling on the Sentarians and the Catholic Albanians to remain faithful.

The St. Petersburg Journal of the 24th contains the following, as the substance of the answer sent by the Czar to the Emperor Napoleon:—

"If His Imperial Majesty extends his hand to me as I extend mine to him, I am ready to forget the mortification I have experienced, harsh though it be. Then, but then only, can I discuss the subject treated of in his letter, and may perhaps arrive at an understanding. Let the French fleet prevent the Turks from transporting reinforcements to the seat of war, and let the Turks send me a plenipotentiary to negotiate, whom I will receive as befits his character. The conditions already made known to the Conference at Vienna are the sole bases on which I will consent to treat."

PARIS, Friday. The funds declined. 3's closed at 66.70; 4 1-2 per cents, 96.14.

PRUSSIA.—Russia demands that Prussia shall at least close her ports nearest Russia against French and English ships. Berlin letters say that Prussia is not willing to accede to this demand.

Prussia has granted her officers in the Turkish service permission to remain.

State of New Hampshire.

A PROCLAMATION

For a day of Public Fasting and Prayer:

BY THE GOVERNOR.

Voluntary fasting, if it tends to humility of spirit, is a salutary exercise, and does much to produce a frame of mind adapted to sincere contrition and penitential prayer.

Prayer is the medium of communication between rational creatures and their Creator, and has been recognized as such, by all civilized and christianized individuals and communities, from time immemorial to the present day.

The good and wise have given us the impressive sanction of their example, in establishing and perpetuating the custom of fasting and prayer; in our own New England, we have the authority of our revered forefathers, who annually set apart a day for this solemn observance.

In conformity with this civil and religious usage, established by our ancestors and approved and continued by my predecessors, I do, with the advice of the Council, appoint THURSDAY, THE 13TH DAY OF APRIL NEXT, to be observed as a day of Fasting, Humiliation and Prayer throughout this State.

And the people are earnestly invited to spend the day in such a manner as shall be most promotive of their present and future welfare. Let us assemble in our respective places of religious worship, and unitedly and humbly acknowledge our entire dependence upon our Heavenly Father: His unfailing care over us individually: His exalting benefactions to us as a State and a Nation; confess our manifold sins and transgressions, imploring their forgiveness; beseech Him to avert from us those evils which spring from ungodliness and wickedness; and supplicate Him to continue unto us the joys of health, the blessings of peace, the comforts of competence, and the inspiring hope of a glorious immortality.

Given at the Council Chamber, at Concord, the twenty-fifth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, and of the independence of the United States the seventy-eighth.

NOAH MARTIN.

JOHN L. HADLEY, Secretary of State.

☞ At the meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, on Wednesday evening last, Mr. William W. Dow was chosen President for the present term.

LOCAL.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN, March 16, 1854—Alderman Brown in the Chair. The Clerks of the several wards reported the state of votes in their several wards, which results in the choice of Hon. Horton D. Walker as Mayor for the current year.

Chief Engineer of the Fire Department made his annual report, which was accepted.

Warrant from County Treasurer was received to raise County Tax of $5602.09.

City Marshal made his annual report, which was accepted.

His lecture, as announced, on the New England Mind, while it acknowledged our oft-repeated excellencies, dwelt chiefly, and we thought very honestly, on our defects. These were, a lack of individuality, or too great a reliance on the opinion or energy of a mass or community; too high a value for material thrift, and too low an estimate of the ideal and beautiful; and the too exclusive cultivation of the intellect or mind, to the neglect of the heart or affections. The latter was beautifully expressed by letting in the light, but excluding the genial and fertilizing warmth.

The whole subject was applied to the education of children by the parent, and to the cultivation of man by himself: naturalness and serenity were described as elements of happiness; and enthusiasm and poetic inspiration were eulogized in the poetical and rhetorical close of the lecture. It was handsomely delivered and well received.

The lecture on next Thursday evening is to be by Rev. Mr. Moore of this city.

A COMMOTION.—On Thursday afternoon, a splendid bay horse, belonging to Mr. Charles Robinson, in prancing up Pleasant street, without harness, frightened the horse of Samuel W. Moses, Esq. from his store-door, causing him to upset the wagon, and run madly about town for half an hour or more, injuring him considerably. He went first to the South end, and thence to the wood-wharf of Mr. Daniel Spinney, near the Eastern Depot, where he was shut in and caught by Samuel Spinney, Esq.; and as he had the broken shafts dangling at his heels, it is wonderful serious damage was not done. We are informed that one lad was struck and knocked down, but we know not how much injured.

In the hubbub, the staid old white horse belonging to the City of Portsmouth, standing near our office, was startled, and he actually struck a respectable gait up street, but was soon hauled up.

☞ A communication of interest to all who buy and sell, will be found on our ontside this morning.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.

STATESMAN OFFICE, Concord, }
Thursday Forenoon, March 16, 1854. }

We feel authorized to announce that it is the general belief in Concord that the 89 Democratic majority in the Legislature is overcome, and that there may be a working majority of Whigs and Free Soilers in the Legislature which convenes on the first Wednesday of next June. It is a matter of absolute certainty, that no man in whose garments is even the smell of favoring the Nebraska Bill can be chosen Senator in Congress from New Hampshire by the Legislature elect. That Bill and the Letter of Judge DOUGLAS to Hon. CYRUS BARTON are the chief instruments in producing this astonishing result. This city is in a tempest of excitement. We have no time now to say more.

The Boston Journal of Thursday evening says,

We learn from various and reliable sources that the Whigs and FreeSoilers have succeeded in electing a majority of the House of Representatives. They have elected 149 members, which gives them the control of the House over the Democrats. Mr. Burke says that among those counted as regular Democrats are twelve "Old Guards," who will not act with the regulars. The Democrats have got the Senate, but the House being in the opposition will prevent the election of U. S. Senators.

Letters received from Concord this morning say that Democrats there give up the House. Dover, it is said, has elected opposition representatives, with John P. Hale at the head of the list. Goffstown has elected Whig representatives—a thing never before known. We shall await with interest the final result of the count.

The Statesman Extra of 3 P. M. of Thursday, gives the following table of Democratic gains and losses in the House:

Where a change has been made, each member counts two; where an additional member is elected, or where the town was unrepresented last year, a member now counts one.

The whole House of Representatives cannot exceed 306, and the Whigs and Free Soilers have elected, certain, 156, and Barrington and Charlestown have probably elected three more.

We learn that Mr. Baker, the Governor elect, sets his majority down at 1000; and that intelligent men in Concord are confident of the election of but five senators, one of whom is a whig.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, March 15.

SENATE.—In the Senate this morning several remonstrances against the Nebraska Bill were presented.

The joint resolution authorising the fixing of a site for the lighthouse on Cohasset rocks was passed, as was also the bill providing a retired list for disabled army officers.

The Vermont Senatorial case came up, and Mr. Foote of Vermont addressed the Senate for an hour in support of Mr. Phelps's right to the seat. The subject was then postponed, and an executive session ensued. When the doors were re-opened, the bill to authorize the issue of registers to vessels, ordered by the Accessory Transit Company, was taken up and passed. The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House went into Committee on the Deficiency Appropriation bill.

Mr. Bridges of Pennsylvania proceeded to answer at length the objections to the Nebraska bill, accusing the North of having violated the Missouri Compromise, while the South stood firm.

Mr. Brooks of South Carolina also spoke in favor of the Nebraska bill.

The discussion was then resumed on the Deficiency bill, pending which, the Speaker laid before the House the following message on the Black Warrior affair:

To the House of Representatives:

In compliance with the resolution of the House of Representatives of the 10th instant, I herewith transmit a copy of the report of the Secretary of State, concerning all the information received at the Department, in relation the seizure of the Black Warrior at Havana, on the 28th ult. There have been in the course of a few years past many other instances of aggression upon our commerce, violations of the rights of American citizens, and insults to the national flag, by the Spanish authorities in Cuba, and all attempts to obtain redress have led to protracted, and, as yet, fruitless negotiations. The documents in these cases are voluminous, and when prepared will be sent to Congress. Those now transmitted relate exclusively to the seizure of the Black Warrior, and present so clear a case of wrong, that it would be reasonable to expect full indemnity therefor, as soon as this unjustifiable and offensive conduct shall be made known to her Catholic Majesty's government; but similar expectations in other cases have not been realised. The offending party is at our doors with large powers for aggression, but none, it is alleged for reparation. The source of redress is in another Hemisphere, and the answers to our just complaints made to the Home Government, are but the repetition of excuses rendered by officials to their superiors in reply to representations of misconduct. The peculiar situation of the parties has, undoubtedly, much aggravated the injuries which our citizens have suffered from the Cuban authorities, and Spain does not seem to appreciate to its full extent her responsibility for the conduct of these authorities. In giving very extraordinary powers to them, she owes it to justice and to her friendly relations with this government, to guard with great vigilance the exorbitant exercise of these powers, and in case of injuries to provide for prompt redress.

I have already taken measures to present to the government of Spain the wanton injury of the Cuban authorities in the detention and seizure of the Black Warrior, and to demand indemnity for the injury which has thereby resulted to our citizens. In view of the position of the Island of Cuba, its proximity to our coast, the relations which it must ever bear to our commercial and other interests, it is in vain to expect that a series of unfriendly acts, infringing our commercial rights, and the adoption of a policy threatening the honor and security of these states, can long exist with peaceful relations. In case the measure taken for an amicable adjustment of our difficulties should unfortunately fail, I shall not hesitate to use the authority and means which Congress may grant, to ensure the observance of our just rights to obtain redress for injuries received, and to vindicate the honor of our flag. In anticipation of that contingency, which I hope may not arise, I suggest to Congress the propriety of adopting such provisional measures the exigency may seem to demand.

FRANKLIN PIERCE.

The Message was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, and ordered to be printed. It was received with general favor by the members.

A bill was passed providing for the distribution of arms among the States, according to the Representatives in Congress.

LOUISVILLE, March 13.—Steamer Burnt—Loss of Fifty Lives.—The steamer Caroline, running from New Orleans to Memphis, was burnt on Sunday, the 5th inst., near the mouth of the White River. The boat was totally destroyed, and 40 or 50 lives were lost. The flames spread so rapidly that scarcely any escaped. As soon as the fire was discovered a pilot run her on to the bank. Fifteen persons seized the yawl and attempted to reach the shore, but the boat sunk and all perished. Captain Creighton jumped into the river and was drowned. John T. Rice, the pilot, perished at the wheel. The boat was burnt to the water's edge, slid off the shore and sunk. The boat and cargo were a total loss. Only the cabin passengers were lost. The remains of the victims were boat hands and deck passengers.

LOUISVILLE, March 15.—The steamer Gladiator burst her flue at Cannelton, Ind., yesterday, making terrible havoc among her passengers. Fifty persons were killed and wounded, many being blown into the river and drowned.

BANGOR.—Geo. W. Pickering, Esq., was elected Mayor of Bangor on Monday, with little opposition. His majority was 993. The Whig says—The nominations of the Maine Law Caucuses, general and ward, were withdrawn, there being no organized opposition to the nominees of these caucuses, although their preferences led to the throwing of a portion of votes for those not nominated.—Bangor Argus.

The town election in Marblehead, Mass., yesterday, turned upon the Temperance question, and the liquor party carried two to one, the Board of Selectmen who would not appoint liquor agents.

INSOLVENT LAW FOR MAINE.—The Portland Argus suggests that the insolvent bill drafted several years ago by the able Commissioners appointed for the purpose by the Legislature, be now hunted up and passed with such amendments as the present Legislature may deem necessary. We believe that there were several insolvent bills before the Legislature at that time, and as we were then in favor of an insolvent law for the State, we know of no good reason for changing our opinion on the subject, and therefore unite with the Argus in hoping that this legislature will provide a way of escape for the honest but unfortunate debtor and bid him hope.—Bangor Democrat.

We are glad to perceive that this subject is now before the Committee on the Judiciary, and trust the Legislature will not adjourn without passing an insolvent law. They could not do a better service, or one more popular.—Portland Argus.

We have no doubt all this is true. And every argument in favor of a good insolvent or bankrupt law in any one state, applies with equal or greater force to a good bankrupt law for the United States. Yet an admirable law of this description was repealed and set aside, simply because it was passed by the wrong party.

The wife of R. A. Smith, the mail robber condemned at New Haven, is a sister of the late Mrs. Bradley, who was murdered in Connecticut by Jennings. On visiting the jail at New Haven she found the murderer of her sister in one cell, and her husband in another.

INTERNATIONAL SWEETS.—A Confiseur, in the Rue St. Denis, at Paris, has just invented a new cordial for the special use of the English and French armies in Turkey, to which he has given the name of the 'Entente Cordial.'—Punch.

The Concordia—A New Glee Book,

BY Prof. V. C. TAYLOR, author of the Sacred Minstrel, Choral Anthems, Golden Lyre, &c. The Concordia, just published, is composed entirely of Secular Music. It was prepared by request, to supply the urgent want for Glee and Quartett Music of not too elaborate an order.—The pieces, though simple, are not devoid of character. The poetry is of a high order, and cannot fail to please. Published by

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 76 state Street, opp. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages to applicants for Patents, to persons offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ———.

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,

Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Boston, Dec. 7, 1853. eodly

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both hundred years.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks more improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has a cure. There is no if's and ands, hums and ha's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle. To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is over you will find yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple compound. It is composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1852, I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1852, I sold 6720 bottles. I hope you will see that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs.—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns.

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. If the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could fill all of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. I have heard the first spoonful put off the fit two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to clean the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done. It will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and of what you think.

I have an herb, simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, tea spoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered Consumption can be cured!! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!

HOUSES, &c.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the North end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city; each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

Feb. 21. No. 9 Islington street.

MR. EVERETT'S REMARKS.

The remarks of Mr. Everett on the clergymen's anti-repeal memorial, as reported in the New York papers, read much better than in the telegraphic version. As an act of justice to him, we copy them.

He believed the memorial was in fact signed by all the gentlemen whose names are attached to it, before the date of the passage of the Nebraska bill, and consequently when that measure was before the Senate. It ought therefore to be regarded as the expression of the sentiments of the signers respecting a measure actually before the Senate. He had not argued as to the expediency of presenting memorials upon subjects which had passed from the body. But as others had continued to do so, he thought he might do so, particularly as it was possible the bill might be returned to the Senate. He did not think these three thousand clergymen of New England had any design to step from the appropriate line of their duty into the political arena.—Among them there were doubtless men of all political parties. This memorial was signed by men who looked upon the measure purely as a moral point of view; looking upon it in that sight, they had expressed their sentiments upon it. Such had been the habit of clergymen in that section of the country.—They on all proper occasions expressed their views upon all moral questions occurring, and they had in this instance done no more. It was hardly necessary for him to say that three thousand clergymen of New England were a very respectable body of men—no other body of men in the country, of the same number, was more learned, religious, moral and intelligent than they. They were men devoted to the cause of religion and morality, the most of them with very little reward or expectation in the way of the goods of this world. He further eulogized the character of the memorialists. He regretted that this memorial had elicited any feeling. The Senator from New York had presented the memorial of the bishop and clergy of New York, and it had been received without a word of objection. This memorial ought to be received as all others. It was wrong to ascribe to its signers angry or unworthy feelings or motives.

LYMAN BEECHER'S COURTSHIP.—An eminent divine, who is as well known as he is universally respected, many years since was led to the conclusion that 'it is not well for man to be alone.'

After considerable pondering, he resolved to offer himself in marriage to a certain member of his flock.

No sooner was the resolution formed than it was put in practice, and getting out his cane, he speedily reached the dwelling of his mistress.

It chanced to be Monday morning, a day which many New England readers need not be told is better known in the household as washing day. Unconscious of the honor that was intended her, the lady was standing behind the tub in the back kitchen, with her arms immersed in the suds, busily engaged in an occupation, which, to say the least of it, is more useful than romantic.

There was a loud knock at the door.

'Jane, go to the door, and if it is anybody to see me, tell them that I am engaged and cannot see them.'

The message was faithfully rehearsed.

'Tell your mistress,' said Parson B., 'that it is very important I should see her.'

'Tell him to call this afternoon,' said the lady, when this answer was returned, 'and I will see him.''

But it was unavailing.

'I must see her now,' said the minister.—'Tell me where she is.'

So saying, he followed the servant into the kitchen, to the great surprise of her mistress.

'Miss ———, I have come to the conclusion to marry. Will you have me?' was the minister's opening speech.

'Have you?' replied the astonished lady.—'This is a singular time to offer yourself. Such an important step should be made a matter of prayer and deliberation.'

'Let us pray!' was Mr. B.'s only response, as he knelt down beside the tub and prayed that a union might be formed which would enhance the happiness of both parties.

His prayer was answered, and from this union thus singularly formed, has sprung a family remarkable for talent.

The above anecdote of Dr. Beecher is new to us, and though we find it, (neither leaded nor credited,) in a paper so respectable as the Portland Advertiser, yet on the whole we don't believe a word of it. New England Misses, who washed, forty years ago, did not have servants to attend the door, nor would they have declined seeing any friend; but would have wiped their arms instanter. Nor would Dr. Beecher have spoken of the damsel in question as the door-girl's mistress. If the story is true, it needs to be told over again.

THE DOOR CLOSED AGAINST HIM.—The Congregationalist says: "We understand that Matthew Hale Smith, Esq., lately editor, and also lecturer against the Liquor Law, has applied to the Suffolk North Association for readmission to their body, with a view of resuming his cast off clerical character, and that his request was denied by a unanimous and very hearty vote."

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, MARCH 18, 1854.

THE BLACK WARRIOR.

The promptness with which President Pierce has acted in the case of the Black Warrior, seized by Spanish authorities in Havana, is receiving the praises of all parties; and shows that he means to carry out to the letter the doctrines of his inaugural address. That a country in our immediate vicinity, and which at any time would pass from the hands of Spain, but that we have frowned upon the expedition against it, should be retained by a friendly power, that would hearken to the counsels of other nations in the direction of its international affairs, so as to affect our commerce and from time to time commit direct outrages upon our citizens, is beyond endurance.

Long enough have we submitted without resistance, to loss of property, to imprisonment, and in some instances murder, of our citizens; to the firing upon our vessels, the search in Cuban ports, and the interruption of our commerce; and the time has come when we should demand with a voice not to be disobeyed, that these things shall cease. This is the first hostile act under this administration, and the President has met it as become his character, and as the honor of the States demanded. We doubt not he will follow it up, if immediate and full reparation is not made, and assurance given for future good conduct. Spain has a revolution to look after at home; she may have one in Cuba before the summer months are out; and she will do well to create no new difficulties.—Newburyport Herald.

This is one view. Per contra, a correspondent has just handed in a communication,—in which, after considering the Nebraska question settled, so far as the Missouri compromise is concerned; and after some suggestions that the Black Warrior affair is got up as a trick or trap—he says:

For the Chronicle.

Should success attend the present project, Mr. Calhoun's idea of "a Southern Republic" may soon be realized. But the event cannot take place without Northern aid, or else the Northern consent. The President's warlike message is not without meaning. Now is the time, if ever, to strike the blow, when the British and French squadrons are called to the Baltic and Black Seas,—still upon the appearance of the message, a few will be ordered to the coast of Cuba. This may be inferred from Lord John Russell's late despatch. The United States cannot have Cuba without war with England, France and Spain, and should they gain possession of the island by a sudden incursion, the latter would not avert war, and a vast destruction of our commerce upon the ocean. Before the North shall agree to be involved in such a war for the purpose of acquiring territory to extend the institution and open a new slave mart, let them pause and consider consequences. It is an easy thing to get into a war—not so easy to get out of it.

We feel very certain that the Black Warrior outrage is a Southern pretext, contrived for the occasion, like a number of previous occurrences. It may be fair to suspend opinion until we learn the Cuban version of the outrage. But we say that the very statement of the commander of the Warrior, as reported, proves him to be in the wrong. He entered his vessel at the Spanish port, and delivered a false manifest of the cargo. Immediately afterwards he cleared at the Custom House, that is, took out clearance papers. The authorities seized the vessel, on account of the false manifest, as they had a right to do by law, and as all commercial nations, as well as our own, would have done under like circumstances. After this the captain claimed as a right the privilege of presenting a true manifest. The answer was, you are too late, after having cleared your vessel. Such a privilege would not have been granted at any custom house in the United States to any foreign vessel. The Captain then abandoned vessel and cargo to the Cuban authority, hoping, no doubt, to make a very profitable voyage thereby, as well as to involve the two countries in war. An American merchant, extensively engaged in trade at Cuba, assures us that the Captain of the Warrior had many times before presented the same false manifest, and had been warned not to present it again. If this can can be proved,—who would deny that the vessel and cargo should be forfeited?

The message informs Congress that documents will soon be prepared detailing a long series of insults and injuries to our citizens by Cuban authorities, which, unless repaired, can no longer be endured under pacific relations, &c. Before the documents appear, we ask, in candor, who has any knowledge of such injuries? All recollect that our fillibustering movements have long spread a degree of alarm and consternation over the island, and it is a general belief that the South are "bound" to have Cuba. The public excitement will, we think, be now led off from Nebraska to Cuba; and whether inflammatory appeals to our Northern people can have the intended effect to enlist their sympathies in favor of a Cuban invasion, is a question soon to be solved.

In New Hampshire and Maine the same day has been set apart as a day of fasting, viz: April 13th.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.

CONCORD, March 17, 11 A. M.—The returns of the election received up to this hour, show the choice of 142 Democrats to the House, and 144 opposition. East year the remaining towns chose 20 Democrats and 2 opposition. The Senate is Democratic.

Baker's (dem.) majority for Governor will be about 3000.

The above is probably from the Patriot Reading Room. The figures in the last paragraph differ very widely from those of the Reporter of Friday morning, which gives Baker a majority of about 1500, says that the whigs and free soil democrats claim about the same majority with the Patriot, only on the other side, and doubts whether there is a majority any way. Amongst the Democrats elected there is a pretty fair sprinkling of the Old Guard.

☞ A despatch from the N. H. Patriot office, Thursday 12 M. says:

Baker is elected Governor by 1000 or 2000 majority.

Democratic Councillors are chosen in districts 1, 2 and 5. Coalitionists in districts 3 and 4.

Democratic Senators are chosen in districts Nos. 1, 2, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, and 12. Coalitionists in Nos. 3 and 9. No choice in Nos. 5 and 7.

To the House the Democrats have elected 154. Coalitionists 145. The towns to be heard from sent last year 7 Democrats and 1 Whig.

FRENCH CLAIMS.

The Washington correspondent of the N. H. Patriot, who signs his letter N. H., and who is said to be ex-senator Rix, says in his letter of last week,

The French Spoliation bill yet lies dormant in the House. We believe the wise and more honest members of that body will be very generally willing to let it have a long nap.—And even the most corrupt—if there can be such a thing as corruption in Congress—will think it, financially considered, too good a thing to suddenly let go. Its outside friends will feel of their pockets several times before they are willing to see an end of it, even by its success, those only who have heavy contingent fees depending, inclining to a more hasty policy. I cannot but hope that if the question comes up in the House there will be virtue and firmness enough there to beat off the hungry and organized band of speculators who are pushing forward this engine of attack upon the treasury.

Now we commend the above extract to our editorial brethren of the Eastern Argus and the Dover Gazette, both of whom, we think, have expressed opinions that the claim is just, and also hopes of its payment.

WAR STEAMERS.

It seems to be a settled point, that the Collins and other ocean steamers are not fit for war steamers, for the simple and sufficient reason that they are not strong enough. Our naval commission has reported against them.

After a general examination of the Cunard steamers, a British naval commission has declared them unfit for active naval service.—There is no proper way for the United States to have a steam marine, except for the government to build the ships and machinery at its own yards, or under its own supervision. The Boston Times says:

"Constructor Pook, at the suggestion of the Secretary of the Navy, has had under consideration the propriety of altering into a steamer the line-of-battle-ship Virginia, now in one of the ship houses in Charlestown. The plans for the alteration have already been made; also a model of one of the proposed steamers, should Congress ever pass the appropriation bill which is now before it."

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

LONDON QUARTERLY FOR JANUARY 1854.—We have just received from Messrs. Leonard Scott & Co. of New York, the publishers, their reprint of the London Quarterly Review for January. The contents are:—1, Life and Works of Gray; 2, Humboldt's COSMOS—Sidereal Astronomy; 3, The Missions of Polynesia; 4, M. Guizot; 5, Religion of the Chinese Rebels; 6, Castren's Travels among the Laps; 7, Memoirs of King Joseph; 8, Turkey and Russia.

All the political articles are interesting, particularly the last.

☞ The Musical Repository, No. 19, is just received from F. Parker, Boston, and contains the Duett, Nay, bid me not resign, Love. "La ci Darem." Music by Mozart.

☞ A new advertisement of the 'splendid remedy' for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, &c., Devine's Pitch Lozenge, will be found on the fourth page of this morning's Chronicle.

☞ ANSWER to the Charade in the Daily Chronicle of March 10, and the Weekly of March 11—TURN PIKE.

PERFECTION.—The man who never makes a mistake, may ride the horse that never stumbles.

A few days ago, 46 slaves, including many women and children, were sold in New Orleans, for $37,470. One man brought $3000, another $1970, and others from $1600 to $1700.

It is said that Judge Cady, in writing to Mrs. Stanton, the Woman's Rights woman, commenced with—"My Dear Sir!" Mrs. S. is a daughter of the Judge.

LOCAL.

ABSTINENCE IN HAMPTON.

A gentleman was in this city on Thursday, from Hampton, whose errand was to get a little rum, or spirit of some sort, for some medicinal use, bathing as we understood it, for his wife, who is sick. He says the article is not to be had in Hampton: as the people of that town, being incensed and scandalized at the proper effects of a great groggery there, resolved to shut it up by law, and have done so. Distant readers will please to bear in mind that Hampton is in New Hampshire,—and that this shutting up is done by public opinion in that town, aided only by a very cheap license law. Public opinion, however, is so strong there at this moment, that no liquors are known to be for sale in the place.

NOT QUITE.—A hearing on the capital punishment question was had on Thursday afternoon in the Massachusetts Representative Hall, before a joint special committee.—We perceive that Dr. Wm. E. Channing referred to Maine as one of the States where capital punishment had been abolished. This is a mistake. We have a dead letter law on our statute book, which provides nominally for hanging. It is, however, so worded as to be of little or no force. Virtually it throws the responsibility upon the Governor, and makes him Grand Hangman for the State. We suppose no one will ever be hung under this law; but the principle is still recognized. For our own part, we are in favor of live laws, though they may make dead men. Wipe the act out, or give it vitality. Don't let us pretend as a State to be for hanging people, unless we have the courage actually to do it.—Portland Argus.

We had the impression that the Act of Maine, in regard to punishing men for the crime of murder, gave general satisfaction to the people, as to its actual practical workings. We hope the Argus will correct us if we are in error,—and at the same time inform us whether we also err in our supposition that crime has not increased in the State of Maine since the present law was passed.

For our own part we do not think that human life, even that of a criminal, is so light a thing, that we can throw it away just to give a law vitality, or to show our courage. And by the way, we do not believe it requires any courage at all to hang a man with his arms pinioned. It may require a little brutality, or hardness of heart, or fanaticism,—but it seems to us to have nothing to do with courage whatever.

We think, moreover, that the Argus does not make a good choice of words, when it styles the Governor of Maine the Grand Hangman. A Hangman is one who hangs;—but the Governor of Maine does no such thing; he does not even sign the death warrant unless he chooses; and so far no Governor has done it, since it was left to his choice.

If any Governor is a hangman, it is he who does order executions,—not he who does not.

"A Daniel come to Judgment."

"The first step to greatness is to be honest."

We actually found the above words, standing together, just as we have printed them, in one of our exchanges. We wonder what the fellow means by 'greatness.' An honest man may be a great fool, a great simpleton; he may keep a good conscience and die happy, and be eternally blest, but he must lead a miserable life in this world.—Lowell Advertiser.

"Why that's the very error of the moon." Is the editor of the Advertiser prepared to defend this novel dogma of moral philosophy, that every man must be either a great scoundrel or a great fool? And will he tell us on which horn of this beautiful dilemma he chooses himself to hang? In other words, is he a scoundrel, or a fool? or will he give up the nonsense he has here broached, which makes it inevitable that he is either the one or the other.

We think he will do the latter, for we hope he is neither miserable nor wicked. We have long cherished the idea that every man's happiness in this world depended on certain moral qualities and feelings, of which honesty formed an important item:—and we have also carried the same ideas into our faith relating to the future life. We do not believe, in short, that the same character which makes a man happy in one life can make him miserable in another. If the editor of the Advertiser will instruct us soon on these points, we will be instructed; but until he does, we must stand among the doubters.

THE POPE'S BLOCK.—We mentioned, some days ago, that somebody had smashed in pieces the fine block of Italian Marble, which his holiness the Pope had sent all the way from Rome, to be built up into Washington's Monument at Washington City. We recur to it now for the purpose of saying that the act of destruction was in exceedingly bad taste, unworthy of an American, and was probably the work of some foreigner, possibly of some one who had suffered in some way by the papacy.

Such an one we would not judge too harshly; but would hope we have no fanatic among our native citizens, who would wreak his vengeance on a block of stone, or refuse the benefaction of any foreign prince or other person, for such an object.

☞ Thomas Adams, Esq., sheriff of Norfolk County, Mass., has been found guilty of selling two barrels of gin at auction, as he was bound to do by law and his own bond—though in violation of the new liquor law.—Justice Churchill decided that the new law repealed all other laws about liquor selling, and fined him $10, calling for $1000 bonds not to sell for a year. Sheriff Adams answered that he was under $20,000 bonds to sell as sheriff, and would therefore refuse to pay the fine or give the bond. The justice then made out a mittimus, and gave it to the coroner.

"Who trow dat brick-bat?"—Horace Greeley, or somebody else in the New York Tribune, has pressed pretty hard against the Railroad Monopoly of New Jersey, in which the State is interested, and from which it derives a large revenue.

In the New Jersey legislature, last week, resolutions were introduced into the House of Assembly, and adopted by a vote of 32 to 24, hurling back the imputations of the Tribune, "with indignant pride and utter contempt," as the "railing of a disordered brain," and all that.

This looks as if Horace's brickbats had hit somebody.

THE CASE OF THE BOSTON & MAINE RAILROAD.—It is reported that the Committee of the Boston City Government have decided adverse to all the matters petitioned for by the Boston and Maine Railroad, respecting the motive power to be used, and the new proposition of bridging Causeway street.—The use of horse power by this road within the limits of the city is thus established.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, March 16.

SENATE.—The report of the commissioners appointed some years ago to investigate claims against the United States growing out of the war in California, was sent to the Senate to-day, where it was referred to the Military Committee.

The Phelps case coming up, Messrs. Mason of Virginia, Toucey of Connecticut, and Stuart of Michigan opposed Mr. Phelps' claim, and Messrs. Grier of Missouri, Walker of Wisconsin and Clayton of Delaware supported it. The Senate finally decided against his right by a vote of 26 to 12.

The Senate then adjourned.

In the House to-day, Mr. Giddings moved a reconsideration of the vote referring the President's Black Warrior Message to the Committee on foreign Affairs, making a violent attack on the President. He narrated circumstances attending the seizure of the Black Warrior, and contended that there was nothing extraordinary in the affair. The revenue laws of Spain are similar to our own, and should always be as sacredly maintained. He referred to the seizure of the English steamers in New York and Boston, as circumstances similar to the Black Warrior, and yet no voice had come from England in remonstrance. The resolution calling for information was objectionable, but the President had gone beyond the call, and was forcing his opinions upon the House. He referred to the President's statement, that Spain in many instances had committed aggressions upon our commerce, and insulted our flag, and called for the proof. He denied the right of the President to lecture the House, and tell the members that they had pocketed insults from the Spanish government. It was an encroachment on their dignity, and should be promptly rebuked.

Mr. Giddings said the policy of the President was to provoke a war with Spain, in order to prevent the emancipation and civilization of the slaves in Cuba, as now contemplated by that government. This policy was in accordance with articles put forth by the executive organ, during the last year, written by members of the Cabinet, and was a decided attempt to revolutionize this government.—Non-intervention was no longer the watchword of the President, or of his party, except in so far as relates to Nebraska. On the contrary it was proposed to intervene in Cuban affairs.

Mr. Giddings stated that he had seen in the papers, a statement that a resolution was pending in the Legislature of Louisiana, denouncing the President for so interfering in arresting the emancipation progress in Cuba.

Mr. G. reiterated his assertion and denounced in violent language the mediated attempt upon Cuba, and expressed a hope that when another American army invaded the soil of Cuba it would be met by the emancipationists with arms in their hands.

Mr. Baily of Virginia defended the President, and stated that the Committee on Foreign Affairs has several cases of a character similar to that of the Black Warrior, for which our government had for years vainly been seeking redress at the hands of the Spanish government.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Stanton of Tennessee, Dean of New York, Cutting of New York, and Smith of Virginia.

The bill of the Select Committee of the House proposes the establishment of two railroads and telegraph lines to the Pacific—one commencing from the Mississippi at a point north of the 37th parallel of north latitude to San Francisco, and the other from some point on the westerly shore of Lake Superior, thence to the Mississippi River in Minnesota, and so on to the Pacific.

Mr. Giddings' motion to reconsider was laid on the table with but few dissenting voices.

The House went into Committee on the Deficiency bill. Adjourned.

FROM WASHINGTON.—The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Times, says that "the story that despatches have been received from Havana, stating that the authorities offer indemnity for the Black Warrior outrage, is unfounded."

The correspondent of the Tribune says:

"The fillibustering members are loud in denouncing the tameness of the President's message. A majority of the Committee on Foreign Affairs will probably report Thursday.—It is said the report will be of a conservative character. The minority go for extreme measures. A special messenger will go in a government vessel to deliver to Minister Soule all the evidence relative to the Black Warrior case, with strong instructions."

TRENTON, March 15th.—The bill limiting the monopoly of the Camden and Amboy Railroad Company to fifteen years, was amended in the Senate to-day, excluding the through trains from running at 2 1-2 cts per mile, the fixed rate for all other trains. The bill thus amended was brought into the House, debated and passed by 36 to 18.

MILWAUKIE, March 15.—Yesterday a Fugitive Slave was arrested near this city and was imprisoned in our jail. Great excitement ensued among our citizens, resulting in the collection of a vast mob, which broke open the jail, took out the Fugitive, and sent him in a wagon towards Canada. The military were called out, but arrived too late. The owner of the slave and his assistants were afterwards arrested on a charge of assault and battery.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Henry Carson, of Tarrytown, recovered yesterday in the Superior Court, a verdict of $5750 damages against the Hudson River Railroad Company, for injuries received last summer, caused by the bursting of a boiler.

SALEM, March 16.—City Electon.—Our municipal election for Mayor to-day resulted as follows: Andrews, Know Nothing, 1251; Sutton, Whig, 511.

LOUISVILLE, March 15.—It is ascertained that 22 persons were killed in the explosion, and little hopes are entertained of the recovery of 24 more.

A NOVEL CASE OF ADULTERY was before the Newburyport Police Court a short time since, in which the wife of a John Bennett, formerly of Exeter, N. H., resorted to the same course in unveiling her husband's falsity, that was used upon one of old—she plowed with his heifer. John had yielded to the weakness of his nature and became enamored of a Miss ——, whom he took to Haverhill, to spend the Sabbath with the "old folks" at home, passing as their son-in-law and showing a forged certificate of marriage. His watchful wife understanding the matter fully, took occasion while walking in the street, to inform him that she was knowing to the facts, when he knocked her down, and upon complaint was lodged in jail for thirty days.—While he was in prison, the shrewdness of the wife manifested itself. Dressing herself in male attire, she visited his paramour, as an attendant at the jail, sent by Mr. B., saying he was afraid the presents he had given her might be used against him if he should be tried for adultery, and requested that she should let his friend, the bearer, take charge of them, which was accordingly done, and they were handed over.

Before leaving, and after some very severe remarks about the jealous wife, this assumed jail-waiter said Mr. B. requested him to bring one kiss from her, which she consented to give, and wished to send a thousand by the same bearer! The visit was repeated several times, and the girl completely blinded till the facts were obtained, nor till then did she discover that she had been completely sold.—Newburyport Herald.

AN EXTREME TEST.—If you wish to ascertain the temper of a young lady, look at her nails, and the tips of her gloves. If they are jagged and much bitten, you may be sure she is peevish, irritable, quarrelsome, and too ready to show her teeth at the smallest provocation. This is an infallible test that every ill-tempered young lady carries at her fingers' ends.

The Concordia—A New Glee Book,

BY Prof. V. C. TAYLOR, author of the Sacred Minstrel, Choral Anthems, Golden Lyre, &c. The Concordia, just published, is composed entirely of Secular Music. It was prepared by request, to supply the urgent want for Glee and Quartett Music of not too elaborate an order.—The pieces, though simple, are not devoid of character. The poetry is of a high order, and cannot fail to please. Published by

PATENTS.
American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE,
"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,
Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Boston, Dec. 7, 1852. eodly

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running piles.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, hums and ha's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I pedled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, worry looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever was listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of two different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold over two bottles per day. In June, 1853, I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs.—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 75, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. If the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases, where the pale water your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fit two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to cleanse the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen the roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it makes the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb, simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, tea spoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

HOUSES, &c.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE, No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

Rare Chance.

THE subscriber now offers for sale one undivided HALF of the well known Property situated on Market Square, and bounded as follows, to wit: on the North by the Congregational Meeting House, on the South by Warren street, on the West by Church street, and on the East by Market square, and measures one hundred feet square, together with all the BUILDINGS thereon; said Building is now occupied as Store, Public House and Private Residence, and rents for $575.00 per annum. The Building is in good repair and has lately been painted and papered throughout. Gas and water are attached to the building.

Said property, if not disposed of on or before the 1st of April next will be sold at Public Auction. For further particulars enquire of ATTEMPTED HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—We learn from the Worcester Spy that two young men from New York, while visiting Worcester paid a visit to a tavern some miles from the city, and there made rather a free display of their cash funds. As they were about returning, the keeper cautioned them to be careful of their money, inasmuch as two of the men who had been present were bad characters, and had preceded them on the road. The young men accordingly, for want of a better weapon, took an old axe helve with them into the chaise. They had proceeded but a short distance when they were stopped by two men who seized their horse by the bridle. One of the parties in the chaise immediately sprang to the ground and felled one of the assailants to the earth with the axe-helve, upon which his companion fled. The young men drove on without stopping to inquire as to the nature of the injuries they had inflicted on the robber.

AUSTRIAN MUSIC.—There is not in Europe a more musical city than that of Vienna. Not only every female, but every man, in respectable life, is capable of taking part in a concert. In making up parties for this delightful amusement, no kind of formality or ceremony is observed. A gentleman wishing for a quartet or quintet in the evening, walks out in the morning for the purpose of inviting any friend he may chance to meet; and as the slightest previous acquaintance is sufficient, no difficulty occurs. The love of music is so general, and the ability to play on some instrument so common, that it is usual for a gentleman not to engage any man-servant who is not sufficiently master of some instrument to occasionally accompany him, and join him in his concerts, if wanted. The number of music shops, and the rapidity of the sale of music in Vienna, are prodigious; and there is not a respectable private house without a piano forte.

PEDESTRIANISM.—The Charleston, S. C. Courier says "A walking match, against time, came off recently, on the Washington course—heavy bets having been laid on doing six miles in 53 minutes. The time made on each mile was 8:06, 8:35, 8:43, 8:49, 9:36, 10,27, total 54:11. It will thus be seen that the bets laid on the accomplishment of the feat were lost, although the first five miles were done in good time and within the average that would have made the whole in the time specified.—On the last round, however, the pedestrian was attacked by a stitch, or side cramp, which caused him to labor heavily, and the time actually made was surprising under the circumstances."

ESCAPE.—Rufus Chapin, one of the Martha Washington conspirators, was arrested in Cincinnati, to be conveyed to Arkansas, for a second trial, while lying unwell in the Walnut Street House. A guard was placed over him, notwithstanding which he contrived to dye his hair and whiskers and get a new suit of clothes, and passing through the office of the hotel, where quite a number of persons were seated, entered a carriage and was driven fifty five miles before daylight to a place where he took the express train for the east. He has not since been heard from. The horse which carried him to the cars died subsequently of fatigue.

TRADE OF LIBERIA.—The British line of monthly steamers which call at Liberia, is composed of four vessels. Commander Rudd, of the United States frigate Constitution, in a letter dated off Monrovia, Aug. 20, says of these steamers: "They are doing a first rate business, running full of freight both ways, and of course cutting up our trade very much, and I believe in two years they will get all of it! Steam is the only thing on this coast.—Sail vessels are behind the age."

More than a million New Testaments for China have been subscribed for, and are to be supplied by the British and Foreign Bible Society within three years. The Bible Society has passed a resolution to send 50,000 Bibles to China.

Hiram Gillett, of Haydenville, while chopping in the forest a few days since, had one of his legs so badly crushed by the falling of a tree upon it, that amputation was judged necessary. His leg was taken off below the knee, and he survived the operation but four hours. His age was 31.

A severe thunder storm passed over New York between seven and eight o'clock on Wednesday evening, interrupting for a time nearly all the telegraph wires. Two magnets were burst with electricity in the Union Boston Line Office, but no one was injured.

An ecclesiastical council have effected the separation of a part of the members of the Congregational Society in Westmoreland, N. H., and the organization of a new church and society. This is the fourth council which has been called for the purpose.

An intoxicated man fell out of his wagon and was frozen to death near Gilboa, Schoharie Co., N. Y., last week. When discovered he was so embedded in the ice, that it was found necessary to cut him out with an axe.

FOLLOWING INSTRUCTIONS.—A German Roman Catholic having been ordered by his priest to walk a number of miles with peas in his shoes, as a penance, wished to obey the injunction and yet not undergo any suffering, and accordingly boiled the peas.

MONDAY, MARCH 20, 1854.

THE MAINE EXPOSITOR.

We spoke of this paper, some days ago, as an able and open advocate of the rights of liquor drinking and dealing, published in Portland, and devoted to opposing the Maine Law. After thanking us for the compliment, the Expositor replies:

"We have never, knowingly, advocated liquor drinking, neither do the party who oppose the Maine Law."

Well, we did not say it had; we made a distinction between the right to drink and the practice of drinking,—and think there is considerable difference between them. And unless we have grossly misunderstood the repealers, they have always claimed the right to drink what they pleased, as one of their inalienable rights. We are glad to hear so good news, as to the temperate habits of the repealers down east, and think morals must be gaining there.

The Expositor also says:

"Since the establishment of our paper, we have advocated equal rights and just laws, and endeavored, by fair and honorable arguments, to convince the people that the Maine law is an outrage, and the advocates of that law, men who care but little for the cause of temperance; their whole aim being to gain power and office.

* * * * *

If the people of New Hampshire, who are now agitating the Maine Law, are desirous of learning where to find the true temperance men of Maine, they must look into the ranks of the opposers of the Maine Law."

We will believe as much of this as we can, and let the reader believe the whole of it, if he can.

We have never thought the Maine Law to be, as has been claimed for the common law, "the perfection of reason; but we have thought that in cases under it, as in all cases, there ought to be a speedy trial by jury, before confiscation or other punishment. We also should prefer confiscation to destruction.—Nevertheless, we do and must rejoice at the good results which have come from the law, in spite of its defects.

We happen to know many of the advocates of the law in Maine, and not a few of its opponents; we know excellent men among both; and we must say, that in their care for the cause of temperance, so far as our knowledge extends, the former do not fall one whit behind the latter, to say the least.

As to true temperance men, we have no doubt whatever, that most men, even though themselves intemperate, wish to see their children, their friends and neighbors temperate. Nor have we any more reason to doubt the position, that the keepers of drinking houses and tippling shops would desire that their customers should keep within the bounds of sobriety.

In fact, intemperance, considered either as a condition or a habit, can have no defenders or advocates. Nobody can speak a word for it, except in apologetic tones. There used to be a host of defenders, who poured out a flood of arguments in favor of drinking liquors as a matter of daily necessity for the laborer—but now these only plead for it as a luxury or a medicine.

But when we come to ask men to make a considerable self-denial for the good of others, and when we call for effort for others' good, which may expose those who make it to obloquy and injury, then we set up a test of friendship that is worth something. Tried in this manner, many professed friends of every good cause wilt away and disappear like Jonah's gourd.

The people of New Hampshire, at this moment, are looking, not without interest, at the legislation and jurisprudence of Maine and Massachusetts, on this very subject; and we do not look for any decisive action here, till the smoke has cleared away from the latter State. But there is a disposition in some neighboring towns, to set some bounds to the evils of intemperance, by the application and enforcement of the present laws. And the effort seems to be successful.

The number of deaths in New York last week from small pox was 32. This was an increase of five over the previous week. The small pox has been very prevalent in New York for two or three months, the deaths from that loathsome disease having averaged at least 30 per week during that time.

Many of these deaths are among foreigners, who are rarely vaccinated, and who live grossly, on meat and strong drink. This is the reason given by an Irish physician in Boston, to a friend of ours, when he put the question, Why do your countrymen die here of small pox, when in Ireland they rarely die of that distemper? He answered, Because they live so much higher, and drink so much more, here than there.

A Washington clergyman, a Sunday or two since, whilst stating a deficiency in the collections, remarked that since the issue of three cent pieces, the revenue of his church had decreased nearly one half.

That must be a small potato congregation, who used to contribute five cent pieces, but now put in only threes, with the lone star.]

THE ELECTION.

New Hampshire Election.—A despatch from the N. H. Patriot office, at Concord, dated 8 o'clock on Friday evening, says:

The returns of the election up to this hour exhibit the following result:—Democrats elected to the House, 156; opposition, 146. The towns to be heard from elected six Democrats last year. Col. Baker, Democrat, is elected Governor by about 1400 majority.

We have received the Concord Statesman of Friday evening, which claims the election of 155 whigs and freesoilers; and an extra Patriot of the same date;—both of which contain lists of Representatives.

On comparing the lists together, we perceive that the two Representatives from Goffstown are claimed by both parties; the whigs being declared elected by the moderator, but the Patriot publishes the democratic names. We also find five other discrepancies between the two lists, changing candidates from side to side. These 7 discrepancies being doubled, will account for the difference in the numbers reported.

The Patriot, speaking of the discrepancies, says,

We stake whatever reputation we have for correctness in election statistics, upon the substantial truthfulness of what is given in this sheet.

Hon. N. B. Baker is elected Governor by a majority of about 1400. He has 800 in the towns here given, and about 25 towns and places remain to be heard from, which will give him about 600 more.

Laconic, but Unsatisfactory.—The following is a copy of a dispatch said to have been sent to the White House by an intimate friend of President Pierce, when the result of the election was known at Concord:

Dear Sir:—Your old ward has been carried by the opposition, and even the State itself has gone to ——— !

Germania Concert.—The attendance on Saturday evening was large, but the performances were decidedly the least entertaining, and most miscellaneous of any concert this season. The audience, nevertheless, seemed to be in high good humor, and applauded, as it seemed to us, without discrimination or stint. We could not help thinking, as the pieces were encored, that between 'classics' and 'lights,' the idea of the fable of Jack Sprat and his wife was fully manifest.—Boston Transcript.

Perhaps our readers are not all posted up in the classics, and so are not familiar with the elegant extract descriptive of the scene mentioned in Jack Sprat.

Mother Goose has this version of the legend:

"Jack Sprat could eat no fat,
His wife could eat no lean;
So 'twixt them both they clear'd the cloth,
And licked the platter clean."

The application of this story to the Germanians' Concert seems to be, that all sorts of people like all sorts of music, and that no piece is so poor as not to have its admirers. The usual and favorite music of the Germanians themselves, was of the 'classic' order—but the Boston audiences called for 'lighter pieces' once a fortnight, and the directory of the Germanians very wisely yielded to the request.

For the remainder of the season, the light concerts had about twice as many hearers as the classic.

Voltaire and Newton.—A little piece has been going round in the papers, stating that Voltaire ridiculed Sir Isaac Newton's ideas of locomotion, then future, as derived from the prophecies, and called him an old dotard. But the Investigator says, on reading the story, we instinctively turned to Voltaire's Philosophical Dictionary, and read his whole article on Sir Isaac Newton, and neither the language nor the sentiment are to be found in it! He always speaks of Newton with the highest respect, and nowhere uses the slang phrase, 'the poor dotard.'

☞ Rev. Alexander Young, D. D., of the Unitarian church, died in Boston on Wednesday evening. He was a little more than 50 years of age; was a son of Alexander Young, the old printer of the Palladium, and wrought some at printing himself; graduated at Harvard College in 1820, and was settled as minister of the octagon church in Summer street, Boston, in 1825, in which ministry he remained till his death. He was highly esteemed by his own society, and by all who knew him.

Riot and Loss of Life.—New Haven, 15th.—A serious riot occurred here last evening between a party of citizens and some students of Yale College, during which pistols were discharged and dirks very freely used. One man, named Patrick O'Niell, was shot dead, and another severely wounded in the leg by a pistol ball. Mr. R. Scoffield, while passing up Chapel street, received a stray pistol ball in his arm. The bells were subsequently rung, and two cannons were brought upon the green, loaded, and aimed at one of the College buildings. The riot was finally quelled by the city authorities acting in concert with the College Faculty.

Arrival from Europe.—The new steam propeller Ottawa, Capt. Atkins, from Liverpool March 2, arrived at Portland at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. She brings 160 passengers and a large cargo. The Charity, which left Liverpool Feb. 22 (so reported) for Portland, has not made her appearance.

The political complexion of the City Council will be—Aldermen 3 whigs, 4 democrats: Common Council, 11 whigs, 10 democrats; in joint ballot 14 to 14.

Mercantile Library Association.—As has been announced, this Society propose a course of Lyceum Lectures the coming season. The committee of arrangements met on Saturday evening as we are informed, and from the success they have already met with in procuring lecturers, and from the interest manifested by the citizens, they are fully determined to proceed—the more so as it has been publicly announced that the Mechanic Association have decided not to direct another course next winter. This is as it should be. This duty properly devolves upon this young society, as the only truly literary association in this city, and we have no doubt they will provide a course which will give general satisfaction.

☞ The Newburyport Herald of Saturday contains a table of 70 vessels belonging to that port taken or plundered by the French in or before 1800, the losses by which are footed up at $682,608 05. The names of the owners are also given.

An Outrage at Erie.—An Erie correspondent of the Buffalo Courier, writing on the 14th inst., gives some additional particulars in regard to the recent disturbance:

On Saturday evening a meeting was held in the Court House, professedly for the purpose of remonstrating against the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. As, however, they found a sufficient number of those favoring the opinions of leading men here, a few remarks sufficed to direct the attention of the meeting to the subject of the railroad, and the alleged injustice and wrong done to the rights of Erie by the accommodation afforded on Friday evening last to a train which was allowed to pass over the road without a break. The result of these deliberations appeared yesterday, when the Councils met, and at the instance, as I understand, of Judge Sterrett, it was unanimously resolved that the track across Sassafras street, which had been laid during the visit of Governor Bigler, should be torn up, and this was accordingly done.

The same writer says that a locomotive designed for one of the Western roads, is at Erie, unable to cross the break, although Gov. Bigler left express directions that Western freight should not be hindered.

Two Suicides in Lowell Wednesday.—David W. Holmes, aged 22 years, from New Hampshire, having been disappointed in love and discharged from a mill, committed suicide by cutting his throat and the arteries of his arm, at his boarding house in Goward block, Lowell.

Mrs. Stanford, wife of Wranslow Stanford, aged about 40 years, residing on the Merrimack Corporation, committed suicide by hanging with a rope attached to a Secretary in the house.

☞ There was a great meeting in Tammany Hall, New York, on Thursday evening, to sustain Mr. Douglas, and the Nebraska bill. The proceedings occupy about six columns of the New York Herald.

☞ On Saturday morning, about 10 o'clock, the violent wind blew a chimney top off a five story building, into Court Avenue, Boston, which fell on Daniel Regan and killed him almost instantly. Regan was 55 years old, and leaves a family.

A late visitor divides the inhabitants into two classes—one of which makes a living by manufacturing cigars, and the other by smoking them.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, March 17.

SENATE.—The Senate was engaged on the private calendar until 3 o'clock, when it adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.—A motion by Mr. Benton, calling for information touching the progress of negotiations with the Indians west of Missouri and Iowa, for the surrender of their lands, was adopted. The House then went into Committee on the Deficiency Bill. The Committee rose, and the bill was reported to the House.

Mr. Stanton of Kentucky offered an amendment to the pending proposition for Custom Houses and Marine Hospitals, providing that no officer shall be appointed to superintend the construction of any building for which appropriation is made in this bill—rejected.

Mr. Preston moved to strike out the appropriation of $530,000, for an Assay office building in New York. Debated and stricken out—ayes 91, nays 59.

The amendment striking out the Assay office appropriation was concurred in—yeas85 nays 57—and the bill passed—yeas 138, nays 11.

The Speaker laid before the House a communication from the State Department, by which it appears that there arrived from abroad during the year ending 30th September, 1853, 400,777 persons. Adjourned till Monday.

THE FUGITIVE SLAVE EXCITEMENT AT MILWAUKIE.—A despatch yesterday announced the arrest and forcible rescue of a fugitive slave at Milwaukie. The Milwaukie Sentinel gives full particulars of the affair:

The colored man's name is Joshua Glover, and he is claimed as the runaway slave of S. Garland, of St. Louis county, Missouri. He is alleged to have run away in 1852.

Glover was in the employ of St. Clair and Rice, in a mill near Racine. On Friday night, while seated in his shanty, five men broke open the door suddenly, rushed in upon him and felled him to the ground. They then handcuffed him, took him into a double buggy, with nothing on but his pantaloons and shirt, and drove off north, and, after having lost the way, at last brought him to Milwaukie county Jail. Here he was lodged in a cell, handcuffed. Our deputy jailer, with commendable feelings of humanity, took off the handcuffs, and treated him with care and kindness.

As soon as the matter got wind the greatest excitement prevailed. A large number flocked to the jail; hundreds of men were aroused, and declared that he should not be taken from the city. Lawyers without number were busy at work, searching through the sections of the Fugitive Slave law. The Revised Statutes were opened in a number of law offices to the chapter on habeas corpus, and everything that could be done within the law for the release from custody of Glover was resorted to.

The Court House bell was rung, and an excited meeting of several thousands was held in the vicinity of the jail. Resolutions were adopted declaring that the prisoner should have a fair and impartial trial by jury. A committee of twenty-five was appointed to see that the prisoner was not carried off secretly, and they were directed to ring the bells in case such an attempt was made. The Sentinel continues:

During the morning a writ of habeas corpus, as above mentioned, had been served upon Sheriff Page. He immediately made return that the negro was not in his custody, or under his control, but was in custody of the U. S. Marshal and deputies, under a warrant from judge Miller, of the U. S. Court. Another writ was got out by the negro's counsel, G. K. Watkins, Esq., and put in the Sheriff's hands to be served upon the Marshal, and was so served. This was about 5 P. M. In a short time the steamer arrived, bringing about one hundred men from Racine, who marched in solid column to the jail, where the negro still remained in charge of two deputies of the United States Marshal. This accession to the numbers of the crowd added fuel to the flame, and after a short time a demand was made for the man; a refusal being returned, an attack was made upon the door with planks, axes, &c. It was broken in, the inner door and wall broken through, and the negro taken from his keepers, brought out, and placed in a wagon, which was driven at great speed down to the Walker's Pt. Bridge, where he was placed in another carriage and taken south, on the way to Racine. The military was called out, but had not gathered when the crisis came.

THE ALLEGED DEFALCATION IN THE NEW YORK REGISTER'S OFFICE.—More facts in regard to the reported defalcation in the office of the New York City and County Register, have been developed. Major Dyckman, the Register, stated to the committee to whom the matter had been referred, that his accounts had not been properly rendered by the Comptroller, and that he had in his possession papers upon which fees were due and collectable, sufficient to pay all his actual liabilities to the county. Delays of several weeks were granted him, in the course of which time he paid over moneys sufficient to reduce his indebtedness from $28,000 to $17,000. Ten thousand dollars of the remaining amount are secured upon the bonds of Gov. Edward C. West and Peter Aston, Esq., sureties for Major Dyckman. An accountant is now employed in making a thorough examination of all the transactions of the office.

The Times says that it is shown that no discharges of mortgages, conveyences, deeds, leases or agreements, have been signed by the present Register during his term of office! The certificate of the Register has always been considered necessary heretofore, for the authenticity of a record left at his office. Probably two hundred thousand papers recorded there have never been seen by him, and are on file without his signature. Hence the question arises whether these deeds, mortgages, &c., are legal.

NEW YORK.—The new liquor law, with the "Maine Law" provisions, came up in the New York House of Representatives on Thursday. An amendment was offered providing that the bill shall go into operation on the 1st of May instead of the 1st of December, as provided by the Senate bill. A discussion upon the amendment is to take place to-day.

HOUSES, &c.

HOUSES FOR SALE.
THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equal-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. It is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,
Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

Rare Chance.
THE subscriber now offers for sale one undivided HALF of the well known Property situated on Market Square, and bounded as follows, to wit: on the North by the Congregational Meeting House, on the South by Warren street, on the West by Church street, and on the East by Market square, and measures one hundred feet square, together with all the BUILDINGS thereon; said Building is now occupied as Stores, Public House and Private Residence, and rents for $575.00 per annum. The Building is in good repair and has lately been painted and papered throughout. Gas and water are attached to the building.

Said property, if not disposed of for one or before the 1st of April next, will be sold at Public Auction. For further particulars enquire of

DEATH OF A HERMIT.

From the Boston Traveller.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE, March 1.

Every village has its eccentric persons, resulting from the principle of individuality which characterizes the occidental world, the want of which, according to the Edinburg Review, produces the everlasting monotony of the Mahometans and Eastern world. Sally Duget was one of these—crazy Sally, who you remember more than 20 years ago, living alone on Corey Hill, a mile east of the College, selling berries in the summer and nuts in the fall, telling fortunes to the girls, always good ones,—always talking and laughing more than all the company together. She died last Sunday night—perished in the storm which howled around the bleak hill, aged 69. It was the same storm which stopped all the cars in this region for two days. She came to the village near sundown to beg her stated ration, and returning in the darkness got bewildered, could not find her hut, wandered into the open field, and, like one lost on the prairie, made zig-zag and circuitous tracks in the deep snow till exhausted, she sunk down and died. She was found in the morning by the nearest neighbors, with signs of herculean effort and intensest suffering—the flesh from her limbs and hands worn off by crawling up a steep ascent half a mile long.

The sympathies of the people were much excited; they gave her a decent Christian burial—a large audience assembling and following her to the grave. The painfulness of the occasion was increased by the remembrance of an outrage committed on her through mere wantoness (to give it the softest name,) on the night of the 31st of January, by "three men," according to her account, whom she "didn't know from Adam," who broke into her house and beat her nearly to death. This was doubtless the remoter cause of her death.

For the sake of many graduates who remember her, I add the following particulars of her history. She was the daughter of Dr. Michael Duget, a native of Paris, who emigrated to Canada in the American Revolution, and not long after to Hanover, where he lived and died. Her mother was Hannah Roberts, of Stamford, Ct., whom the first President Wheelock procured to superintend the Commons hall, which stood where the College pump now is. The first President married them, and they had a family of seven children. Sally was born in 1785. She received a good common school education, and was a good scholar. She was tall and graceful, with features, if not handsome, attrative. She was modest, reserved and retiring—the entire opposite of the garrulousness induced by her insanity. She was employed by many families as a seamstress and help in the house, with uniform acceptance and respect. She was a constant attendant upon public worship, and read the Bible much, as her copious and ready citations in after life testified. Thus till twenty-five years old, when she was "disappointed," (sister's testimony,) and became deranged. For fourteen years her insanity was by intervals, living here and there in families, and sometimes taken care of by the overseers of the poor. Towards forty she manifested decidedly the tendencies of a hermit. She chose the spot on Corey hill, which she never after (thirty years) forsook. At first she laid slabs inclined on the stone wall by the roadside, and dug underneath a hole, the space hardly sufficient to stand in erect, and there she lived for some years like a lone troglodyte, steadily resisting all overtures to society, except in her own way of occasional visits to the village to sell the small proceeds of her industry collected in the fields, and to receive the charities of some "angel houses, without which she did not know what she should do."

After this, a benevolent gentleman of the College, who will drop a tear when he reads this, built her a comfortable hut on the same spot, which lasted several years, and was then burnt by some accident or vagary of her insanity. Her friends then built her a brick hut, twelve feet square, with a brick floor, and no ceiling. Here she passed the rest of her life with insane attachment to the spot, and admitting no associate but a tailless cat, which still haunts the place with similar pertinacity of a home. She often suffered much in the wintry storms, and was sometimes saved from perishing by the care of friends who looked after her.

Except when rudely provoked, she was uniformly kind and gentle, never frantic in her insanity. Her hiliarity, shrewdness and humor—the peculiarities of which impressed on her the remarkable individuality she possessed—made her a favorite; and these, with her hapless lot and sad end, renew and will prolong the sympathy, as we remember her cheerful face and tones, concealing unconsciously, with its cruel mockery, deep wees and wounds. "Good morning, Sally. How are you this morning?" "Pretty smart.—How do you do, and how does your beloved do, and your beautiful daughters? She's a beautiful woman; how happy you must be! I'll bring you some chestnuts next Monday." We showed her a chincopin. "Have you got any chestnuts like that?" She took it in her thumb and finger, and looking at it comically a moment, thrust it into her pocket as if she were Signor Blitz. "But I want that, Sally, it's all I've got." "I think you'll go to heaven—I have no doubt you will;" and walked away rapidly, talking and laughing till the distance made her words inaudible. She acquired great skill in improvisatory poetry, with which she amused herself apparently as much as her audience; and to both the amusement was not small. These snatches were always at hand, and freely imparted, perhaps the more for the trifling presents they brought in return.

But I cannot write her biography—print so much as some frail memorial:

"For who, to dumb forgetfulness a prey,
This pleasing, anxious being e'er resigned
Left the warm precincts of the cheerful day,
Nor cast one longing, lingering look behind?"

She died—true to the instinct of our common humanity, as her last dying effort bore witness—perhaps with dawning reason. Who knows?

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, MARCH 21, 1854.

HEAR BOTH SIDES.

Mr. Wiggin of Boston, in his late speech against the liquor law, said:

The law, in the first place, was made partial and vindictive in its operation. The spirit of the prosecutions which had taken place—at least many of them—had been similar to that which supported lynch law—certainly not more tolerant or tolerable. That spirit had manifested itself principally in valiant attacks upon shanties kept by women, and not upon parties who kept respectable hotels, or on rich liquor dealers. There had been no lack of opportunity for moral philanthropists to exercise their vocation upon men and interests pecuniarily powerful, but it was seldom such courage had been displayed. It was something wonderful, considering the respectability one of the rich order of liquor dealers or hotel keepers would lend to the House of Correction. What a gratifying spectacle it would be to see the State Treasurer stepping into the House of Correction to see Mr. Cash, who had been condemned to a term of hard labor for violating the liquor law, and succeeding in making terms for a loan from Mr. Cash for the Hoosac Tunnel, only after having special leave from the keeper of the House of Correction to leave his labor, perfect the papers, and draw his check for the amount! It was possible that such a lively scene might occur. There were numbers in this city who were exposed to this situation; and how did it come that the friends of the liquor law overlooked them? The answer was obvious: they were afraid to do it—afraid to do justice on a rich man—but not at all scrupulous in applying persecution to a poor one.

We have told the public all along, especially those who have supposed such a law could be readily enforced, that the liquor interest in Boston was immensely strong, not only in money, but in influence. Mr. Wiggin confirms this view. Yet his argument herein does not seem conclusive against the bill. Its friends may lack courage, as he suggests, to attack the rich; and yet they may not be wrong in endeavoring to diminish a great evil.

Mr. Wiggin must certainly have seen an old saying, which passed into a proverb, to this purpose: Laws are like cobwebs, which catch and hold the small flies, while the large ones easily break through. The general truth contained in this homely saying, is applicable not only to the law in question, but to all laws of human enactment.

It may not be out of place here to say, that the divine law on this, as on all other subjects, applies impartially and certainly, and executes itself. By whatever tricks, or pleas, or shams, then, we may deceive ourselves or our neighbors, in regard to our own habits, or to the real merits of laws or of men in this matter—it is certain that the common sale and use of strong drinks promotes drunkenness, and that drunkenness is a grand fountain of misery. These effects follow their proper causes, inevitably; and human legislation, whether good or bad, cannot make or alter one hair, in their moral qualities, either white or black.

A troublesome or offensive human law may be winked or kicked out of sight; but the terrible breach of divine law, moral and physical, cannot fail to bring down the terrible consequence.

Mr. Wiggin says, in another paragraph:

All liquor dealers, according to the statements of the friends of the law of 1852, are and have been bad men. Were it proper to eulogize the names of the living, their good deeds and example, exhibited as they could be, would be a rebuke to the assertion its uncharitableness deserved. As a class the liquor merchants could compare with any in the business of philanthropic or charitable fields of action; and their reputation for temperance was second to none. It was not out of taste to mention the dead who while in life had been engaged in the liquor traffic. McLean! look at the monument of his munificence in the Asylum which honors his memory! Perkins! could any one point to that Institution which his generosity erected, or recal the many charities he dispensed, and say, in truth, that he was a bad man. Shaw, too! was he in the category of the debased? No! The Institution his beneficence erected will make joyful the hearts of millions yet unborn. It had been truly said that he was 'the world renowned merchant.' The late John D. Williams came up next in succession in Mr. Wiggin's memories of worthy men. The Asylum for Indigent Children, and Harvard University, were evidences that he was not of the class illiberal men had put him and others into.—They were far above depreciation, no matter who attempted to depreciate them. They were honest men—the noblest works of God—and the worst thing the most corrupt mind could dare say of them, in truth, was—"Peace to their ashes!" and yet to such men the obnoxious law of 1852 would apply.

That these men were noble, and did noble deeds, is undoubtedly true. But the statement alluded to, in the first three lines of the above paragraph, we have never seen, though it may have been made by some one who deals in sweeping statements.

Every act of a man's life has its own moral qualities, and the balance of the whole is his true character. Ordinary and mean men may do good things sometimes; and the best and greatest men sometimes act unworthily, as all records, sacred and profane, will show us.—Hence it may not always be safe or wise to do exactly as our fathers did, though we venerate their memory and emulate their virtues.

A VEHEMENT WIND.

We had a good topsail breeze (and a little more) from the North West on Saturday, doing little or no mischief: but our neighbors east and west got more of it.

In Waltham, Mass., the car house of the Fitchburg Railroad Company, 70 feet in length, was totally demolished.

In Fitchburg, the large brick engine-house belonging to the Fitchburg and Worcester Railroad Company, was blown over with a tremendous crash, a portion of the brick work staving through the gas building adjoining, destroying the gasometer, causing the gas to escape: no persons in either building.

A new two-story wooden building, unoccupied, located near the Catholic Church in Fitchburg, was blown down. Nearly all the houses in that vicinity had to be propped up to keep them from being levelled. A chimney upon the Rollstone Block, on Maine-street, was blown over into the street. Several men, who were passing, were grazed by some of the falling bricks, but not injured. A dog was crushed to death. Some of the streets of Fitchburg, it is said, were almost black with slates, blown from the tops of houses.

In Pepperell, a house was blown down, containing nine persons, and not one of them was injured.

In Ashland, a new three-story frame building, 60 by 40 feet, not quite completed, belonging to Leland & Co., was levelled to the ground.

At South Reading, a coal shed was turned over, which fell upon the Eastern telegraph line, demolishing it for some distance.

On the Eastern road the wind was so high that the cars could scarcely make head against it, and on the Fitchburg road the conductor could not pass from car to car.

At Groton Junction, the side of a brick building, occupied by a blacksmith, was blown in.

The steamer Arabia, at her wharf in East Boston, it was feared would careen over on the wharf, or get adrift. The posts on the wharf were broken, and she parted one or two cables, but the steamer was finally made safe.

On Warren Bridge, a cartman, with a load of empty hogsheads, attempted to pass to Charleston, but when about midway a gust of wind relieved him of half his number. Two pedlars followed, and the same liberty was taken with a large quantity of tinware. The dock presented a beautiful mixture of floating kegs, tin kitchens, pans and pails.

It rained in New York on Friday evening, but when the train left at 8 o'clock A. M. there was no gale, but on reaching Hartford it commenced, and through the valley of the Connecticut it was most severe, rocking the cars like cradles. Just before reaching the station, about twelve miles from Springfield, a large tree was blown down, the branches and limbs of which projected on to the track. The engine and cars struck it, but fortunately were not thrown from the track. Five minutes before the train entered the Springfield depot, the wind struck the roof of this immense building, which is four hundred feet in length, carrying away about three hundred feet of it into the neighboring streets, demolishing vehicles, and starting the horses—but no one was seriously injured. The large coffee factory of Messrs. Fox & Co., in Springfield, was completely demolished, and several other large buildings destroyed.

As the train started for Boston the citizens were employed in bracing up other buildings that had been started from their foundations.

The following despatches were received:

Portland, March 18.—A violent gale, accompanied by rain and sleet, commenced about 11 o'clock last night. This morning it was pleasant, but it blows hard. The depot at the Bath Junction, about two miles from here, was blown over in the track, but did not delay trains. No other damage was done, except to the telegraph lines, the wires of which are badly broken.

Bangor, March 18.—A severe blow and snow storm commenced this morning early. It has blown hard all day, and the roads are badly drifted. Weather this evening clear and frosty.

Eastport, March 18.—The gale here is very severe. Several chimneys were blown down, but not much damage caused.

Calais March 18.—A severe gale and snow storm commenced early this morning, and it is still blowing a gale. The roads are blocked up with snow drifts. The mails for the West started to-day, but returned, being unable to proceed. The steamer Admiral is still at St. John, detained by the storm, but will leave to-morrow if the weather permits.

The New York Express of Saturday afternoon says:—

A Sirocco, as intolerable as any that ever scorched the Libyan deserts, swept over the town last night and this morning, with a fury, resistless at times. The streets, in every direction, were enveloped in clouds of suffocating dust, nothing like unto which, that we know of, were even seen or felt in a civilized city before. The air was often darkened with the clouds of dirt that were borne aloft by old Boreas, and scattered about with unpitying malignity. At Norfolk a severe gale swept over the city and port, Monday, during which several boats were upset and three lives were lost.

DR. SHATTUCK.—Died in Boston, March 18th, Dr. George C. Shattuck, in the 71st year of his age. The deceased was a native of Templeton, Mass., a graduate of Dartmouth College, and has long been a prominent citizen of Boston.

LOCAL.

DIVIDEND.—The Portsmouth Gas Light Co. have declared a dividend of 3 per cent. payable on the 10th day of April next.

☞ Mr. Meinerth's first concert of his proposed series, will take place this evening at the Cameneum. See advertisement.

THE CASE OF THE BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD.—It is reported that the Committee of the City Government have decided adverse to all the matters petitioned for by the Boston and Maine Railroad, respecting the motive power to be used, and the new proposition of bridging Causeway street. The use of the horse power by this road within the limits of the city is thus established.—Transcript.

We advise the people of New Hampshire to retaliate by conferring their trade upon the merchants of their own commercial capital, Portsmouth; and by so doing they will not only benefit the State, but eventually bring the City government of Boston to a clearer view than they now enjoy, of the results of the case. Everybody knows that most West India Goods and Groceries can be obtained from Portsmouth, at a cheaper rate than from Boston. Let us give old Portsmouth a lift.—Exeter News Letter.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.—This election has run unusually close, and the democratic majority in the House will be small, so small that there may be some doubt in regard to the choice of Nebraska or anti-Nebraska men to the U. S. Senate. Notwithstanding all that is said to the contrary, the democratic party stands the Nebraska shock with remarkable strength, better than it has other issues of the kind, which have been brought under the party rally; better than the Texas annexation project or the opposition to the Wilmot proviso.—Newburyport Herald.

If the Herald means the Nebraska shock in New Hampshire, will it please to notice that the Patriot, and we believe, every regular democratic paper in New Hampshire, assured us the Nebraska question was not the issue—that is, not the principal or leading point.

A GOOD TIME GENERALLY.—That must be a remarkable election that suits everybody. The Concord Phenix of Saturday says:

What the result of the election this week has been, politically, we do not pretend to say. Each of the three political parties claims the majority, and now while we are writing, three flags are waving in honor of the three victories which have been gained. It is really interesting to see the joy of all parties.—Some one or two of them spoke forth their joy for an hour or two, last evening, through the mouth of the cannon.

The same paper says:

A fair proportion of temperance men have been chosen in all the parties, so that the prospect is highly encouraging that even New Hampshire may now be blest with a Prohibitory Liquor Law.

We can hardly believe this; no doubt the Phenix is encouraged—but we think its opinion is rather ahead of the facts.

The Old Guard of the same day says:

As to the House, it is impossible at this writing to say which party has the majority. The Whigs and Free-soilers claim a majority of seven, whilst at the Patriot Reading Room a Democratic majority of about the same number is figured up. The truth is no doubt between them, and there is probably no majority either way—or if any, it must be very small. Amongst the Democrats elected there is a pretty fair sprinkling of the Old Guard.

Our own belief is, that the democrats have the House by a small majority.

☞ The latest news from Concord is contained in the Independent Democrat of Monday, which gives a list of Representatives, and says the whole number elected is 303, viz: Hunker Democrats 146, Whigs 100, Independents 57. Five places yet to hear from; if all of them send democrats, the whole Administration strength, including the Burke men, will be 157,—opposition 157.

The vote for Governor in 205 towns is for Baker 28,746; Bell 16,706; Perkins 10,881. Compared with last year, the whigs have lost 1000; democrats about the same; and the independents have gained about 3000. Baker's majority is about 1500.

☞ Twelve of the Ministers of Concord, N. H., have signed a memorial to President Pierce, requesting him to veto the Nebraska bill with the slavery clause. Hundreds of laymen there have signed a similar petition.

The Washington letter writers agree that Mr. Pugh, the newly elected Democratic Senator from Ohio, is opposed to the Nebraska bill.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT EAST BOSTON.—A large number of bales of cotton were destroyed by fire at East Boston Saturday afternoon at about 3 o'clock. The cotton was piled within ten feet of the track of the Eastern Railroad, with the open ends of the bales towards the track, and it was intended to transport it eastward to-morrow, as it belongs to the York Manufacturing Company, Saco, Me. The fire was caused by a spark from an engine passing along, and the wind being high, the flames spread with great rapidity, and the whole pile, consisting of 400 bales, was nearly destroyed. No alarm was given in the city proper, but the whole East Boston portion of the fire department was on hand, and did their best to subdue the fire. The extent of the loss we could not ascertain with exactness, that will not fall much short of $20,000.—Sunday News.

VERMONT.—The Montpelier Watchman announces that the new County Commissioners elect, in that state, are generally in favor of the Maine Law.

Rev. Alexander Burgess, Rector of St. Mark's Church, Augusta, has accepted a call to the Rectorship of St. Luke's Church, of this city, and will enter upon his duties on the first Sunday after Easter.—Portland Argus.

Saint Luck! Saint Luck! says Uncle Toby: certainly there has never been any such saint in my calendar. But as Mr. Micawber says, something may turn up one of these days to build a church for him in this city, which would certainly be crowded with worshippers at a shrine so auspicious.

EASTERN RAILROAD CHANGE.—The time fixed upon for the trains of the Eastern Railroad to run into the new depot on Causeway street, Boston, is the 10th of April.

A number of Germans lately made a profession of their religious faith, in Rev. Mr. Henderson's church, New Orleans, through an interpreter, and although unable to converse with their American brethren, sat down with them at the same communion table.

AMERICANS IN THE FIELD.—A Paris correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune says that at the close of one of M. Costa's recent lectures on embryology, upon the proposal of a medical student, twenty young American medical students volunteered in ten minutes to aid the Russians with their unpracticed skill. The Turks will probably not be disheartened at this, unless, indeed, the Emperor should limit the sphere of their operations to the Turkish prisoners. The same writer states that Americans were leaving every day for the Turkish camp. Among those who had gone were Col. Macgruder, of Mexican war celebrity; Mr. Quincy Shaw, of Boston, and Rev. Wm. B. Green, late Unitarian clergyman at West Brookfield.

Some of the religious papers are discussing the propriety of using currant wine for sacramental purposes. The idea, however, does not seem to meet with general favor, and wine from wild grapes is suggested as a substitute. A real Yankee argument is urged in favor of the latter, viz:—"that the grapes may be purchased at the moderate price of $1 per bushel—and the wine, exclusive of the labor, thus be made to cost but just one shilling, New England currency, per gallon."

THE HARPERS' ESTABLISHMENT.—The New York Commercial states the Harpers' printing and publishing establishment is to be rebuilt on the old site in Franklin square, extending through to Cliff street. The present intention is to erect three large buildings, separated from each other by a wide space, and made as nearly fire-proof as is practicable.

THE BLACK WARRIOR AFFAIR.—A Havana correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune, after reciting the case of the Black Warrior as it has been generally reported, adds:

"The captain, officers and crew placed themselves under the protection of our flag, on board the United States steamer Fulton, laying in the harbor. Captain Watson, who commanded the ship, had already steamed up, and not only offered but desired to go on board the Warrior and demand that the American flag should be again hoisted. If refused, he proposed to attempt doing it with his crew; and if overpowered by force, he would also abandon the ship in the name of the United States.

Such a procedure would have brought the question to a war test, and I believe the whole American people would have approved of such a course. Unfortunately, the acting Consul, Mr. Robertson, the consignee, Mr. Tyng, and Captain Bulloch, disapproved of this course, and Captain Watson was overruled. He had, at first, proposed to tow her out of the harbor and put the authorities to the test, whether they would or would not dare to fire upon an American vessel-of-war. This, however, was soon withdrawn."

The Washington Union of Saturday announces that a special messenger to the American Minister at Madrid was to leave in the Arctic that day, with instructions for the Minister to demand ample and immediate reparation for the outrage on the steamship Black Warrior at Havana.

STRANGE TRAGEDY.—At Cincinnati, on Wednesday evening, as a party of "German Freemen" were sitting in their hall smoking and talking, Charles Aprends, a Prussian, challenged Charles Froelick, an Austrian, to fire unloaded pistols at each other, and the banter was accepted. The former took the pistols from a drawer, the two fired, and Aprends was shot dead with buck shot. He was treasurer of the society, and it is supposed that his funds were out of order, and that he took this method of disposing of himself.

PROFESSOR HADDOCK.—The Manchester American learns that the trustees of Dartmouth College have voted to supersede Prof. Haddock as Professor of Belles Lettres in that institution, and that the choice of his successor is to fall upon Prof. Long, (who has supplied Prof. Haddock's place during his absence,) Rev. Mr. Swain of Providence, or Rev. Mr. Bartlett of Manchester.

The Glasgow and New York Steamship Company have offered to carry letters, in any of their ships, at two cents each; so that private enterprise proposes to give the boon of ocean penny postage, while the government are doubting whether they can be conveyed for less than a shilling sterling—24 cents.—There is about the same difference between government and individual operations every where.—Newburyport Herald.

NEW ORLEANS, 16th.—A fire occurred in this city last night, destroying thirteen valuable stores. Several firemen were badly injured, and one noble fellow killed through his endeavors. The loss is very heavy. The insurance as far as known amounts to $228,000.

While riding with her husband from Cape Girardeau to Perry county, Missouri, Mrs. Newton Querry alighted for the purpose of lighting her pipe by the fire which was consuming leaves and underbrush. The old gentleman drove on a short distance, when alarmed by the cries of his wife, he turned back to find her enveloped in flames. Her clothing was burned off, and she soon after died at a house near by. The deceased was a good woman, and left a wide circle of friends.

MARRIAGE OF COL. LAWRENCE.—Colonel T. B. Lawrence, son of Abbott Lawrence, the Boston millionaire, was married to Miss Chapman, daughter of Judge Chapman, of Doylestown. The fair bride is one of the most accomplished ladies in the state. Col. Lawrence, it will be recollected, a few years ago married Sallie Ward, the belle of Louisville, but was afterwards divorced, and she married Dr. Hunter. What seems remarkable, Miss Chapman and her father went to Europe in the same ship on board of which was Dr. Hunter and his wife on their wedding tour.—Baltimore Sun.

A UTICA SHOT.—We find the following paragraph in an exchange paper:—A statement, that a man by the name of Travis of New Orleans, was soon to make the experiment of shooting at an apple on a man's head, recently appeared in the N. Y. "Spirit of the Times." Upon reading it, a Mr. Lewis of Utica, volunteered to support an apple in the way mentioned, which offer Mr. Morgan James took advantage of, by shooting at the mark at a distance of fifteen feet, with a pistol, hitting the apple twice out of three times! The time he failed to hit it the ball passed just above the apple. Mr. James offers to pay 25 cents a shot at gold dollars, at a distance of 25 feet, as many times and as long as men can be found who take delight in that manner of throwing their money away.

The New York Courier & Inquirer says:—"The Insurance in London on house property is eighteen pence to the hundred pounds; in New York it is five times as much. London has one hundred and nine firemen; New York three thousand. London has twenty square miles to be protected, New York ten. London has no aqueduct; New York has the largest aqueduct in the world. London has water on one side, New York has water on all."

PISTOL SHOOTING EXTRAORDINARY.—The N. O. Picayune of the 13th ult. says, a most remarkable feat at pistol shooting occured lately in that city. John Travis, of the Pistol Gallery, in Common street, opposite the Clay Hotel, 'snuffed a candle' twelve times successively at twelve paces. A bet of five hundred dollars was made that he could not do it; but some friends backed him that he could, and sure enough he 'brought them out' The agreement was, that any shot touching the stem of the candle should be counted as 'no shot.' The shooter made thirteen shots—one touching the stem. The twelve that snuffed the candle could have been covered on the iron plate behind the candle with a fifty cent piece!

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Sun, writing from Cohasset, Mass., relates a good anecdote of a physician residing in that place, which he says is a fact, and the best temperance lecture he ever heard. Some thirty years ago this doctor was addicted to hard drinking, and neglected his professional duties to such an extent, that the people were obliged to send to Boston for a new physician, a younger man, whom they colonized amongst them. Things went on very well for a time, the old lesing patients, and the new doctor finding them. At last this brace of pestles met in the town store, the old doctor purchasing a jug of rum, and the young doctor buying a barrel of flour. Some invidious remark of a by-stander called forth a sneer from the youngest and most flourishing of the doctors. This was noticed and interpreted by the old one, who, with a calm and deliberate air, put down the jug of rum, and turning to his sneering opponent, he said: "I have pat the cork in that jug, and I will never take it out again, until I have starved you out of the town of Cohasset." He kept his word, and in about a year from that time he had regained his old patients and obliged the young doctor to evacuate, for fear of starving.

THE MIDNIGHT CRY.—Among other accidents which occurred in the vicinity of the wreck of the ship San Francisco, a small sloop, called the Midnight Cry, drifted, aarless, out to sea, with six or eight men on board, all very much intoxicated. The gale that night was furious. The Midnight Cry, floating helpless upon the billows, could offer but feeble security against the violence of the waves, and the poor wretches on board of her went down in the darkness and the storm, in the midst of their drunken orgies.

Cooking Stoves.

WOULD you have a stove that will not only please you by its first operation, but prove satisfactory years hence? Then be sure and buy THE KING OF THE STATES, which takes "the fly" from all others, in market, this season. It may be seen in operation at my store, sign of the big coffee pot, Daniel street.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by this Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered by other agencies, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal of the application within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all present trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ———.

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, MASS.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,

Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Boston, Dec. 7 1852. eodly

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if and ands, hums and ha's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the most decisive cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headaches one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple vegetable compound. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1852, I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1852, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs.—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns.

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two bottles of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. If the columns of a newspaper was a proper conveyance, I could tell of the most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fit two hours, the bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie in it without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to clease the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb, simmering in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful from five to eight, teaspoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

HOUSES, &c.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the ship-yards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the ship-yards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

THE SCHOOL MASTER CAUGHT.—The Palmer Journal says, a few years ago, when it was the custom for large girls and larger boys to attend district schools, and when flagellations were more common in school than at the present time, an incident took place in a neighboring town which is worth recording as a reminiscence of school boy days.

One of the largest, plumpest and fairest girls in school happened to violate one of the teacher's rules. The master, a prompt, energetic fellow of twenty-five, at once summoned her into the middle of the floor; as usual in such cases, the business of the whole school ceased, and the attention of every scholar was directed to the girl, who, it was expected, was to receive a severe punishment. After interrogating the girl a few moments, the master took from his desk a huge ruler, such as we seldom see now-a-days, and commanded the damsel to hold out her hand. She hesitated, when the master, in a blaze of passion, thundered out,

'Will you give me your hand?'

'Yes, sir, and my heart, too,' promptly replied the girl, stretching forth her hand to the master, and eyeing him with a cunning look. A deathly silence reigned for a moment in the school room; a moist spot was seen to glisten in the master's eye; the rule was laid upon the desk, and the blushing girl was requested to take her seat, but to remain after school was dismissed.

In three weeks after the school finished, the school master and that girl were married.

THE SPIRITUAL WIFE SYSTEM AMONG THE INDIANS.—The Pagan custom introduced into Utah by the Mormons, of having a plurality of wives, has taken hold of the fancy of one of the Utah chiefs. He is a warrior of influence with his tribe, and he recently proposed to the Mormons that they should build him a house as large as Gov. Young's, on a prominence near the city, pay him a large sum of money, and furnish him with as many wives as their veritable Governor has. So far as the house and money were concerned the Mormons were willing to comply, but furnishing the wives they objected to, as the chief thinks most unreasonably, for if a harem is proper for a white Governor, it is certainly becoming to an Indian chief. The consequence is, he intends to exterminate the white pagans, and the saints at Salt Lake are preparing to defend themselves and their "peculiar institutions" against these apprehended attacks. The overland emigration to California, it is supposed, will be dangerous and difficult in consequence, at least to small parties.—Newburyport Herald.

A CURIOUS CASE OF INSANITY.—An English paper says that some seven or eight years ago, a man named Milldenhall was employed as hostler in the service of a Mr. Stephens, of Marlboro. Having saved a little money, he emigrated to Australia. He was fortunate there, and acquired property to the amount of four or five hundred pounds.—Some years past, he became impressed with a conviction that he had robbed his master. This monomania increased in strength, until finally he felt compelled to return to England and make restitution. He accordingly returned, carrying with him between £100 and £200. During the passage he did not take off his clothes once, and devoted his time entirely to reading the bible. Arriving at England his heart failed him, and he resolved to commit suicide. Changing his mind he determined to return to Australia, but on his way to Liverpool to take passage he saw a prisoner in custody of some officers, which so excited him that he made a confession to one of the officers. He was immediately brought to Abington jail, having at that time in his possession about five hundred dollars. Here his old master visited him and after some time succeeded in persuading him that he was laboring under a delusion, and that he had always been a faithful servant to him. The man was finally discharged, with a greatly relieved conscience.

A CURIOUS CASE.—A curious case recently came up before the Recorder's Court in San Francisco. A certain John Smith had given a gentleman a brass button in lieu of a ten dollar gold piece, and when, several hours afterwards, his attention was called to the matter, declined giving any redress. The charge was for cheating by false pretences; but Smith showed conclusively that he had never pretended that the button was of any value; and he was not liable to the charge of counterfeiting because it was not a counterfeit coin. The Recorder, after a lengthy examination, discharged the case, as being one to which no law would apply.

A very Solomon is this same Recorder of San Francisco, to let John Smith pull the wool over his eyes by his innocent plea of no pretence at all! If we were guilty of any crime, commend us to this Recorder as our Judge: but if innocent, deliver us from his Court! We should be afraid he would condemn us for sheer lack of evidence.

THE PURITANS.—Bancroft the historian, says the Puritans established a worship purely spiritual. To them the elements remained but bread and wine; they invoked no saints; they raised no altar; they adored no crucifix; they kissed no book; they asked no absolution; they paid no tithes; they saw in the priest nothing more than a man. The church as a place of worship, was to them but a meeting house; they dug no graves in consecrated earth. Unlike their posterity they married without a minister, and buried the dead without a prayer.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 22, 1854.

THE FLOUR TRADE.

An article on this subject appears in the Portland Advertiser of the 20th of March, parts of which have as much interest for Portsmouth as for Portland, and ought to have some bearing on the proposed Railroad from Dover to this city.

The article introduces testimony from Mr. Robinson, undoubtedly Mr. Shadrach Robinson, formerly of this city, who speaks in favor of the Hoosac Tunnel.

Mr. Robinson is one of the largest flour dealers in Boston, and speaks from what he knows on this subject.

When the friends of the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad, at its commencement, stated that flour from the fertile prairies of the West could be put down via the St. Lawrence river and the Portland and Montreal Railroad, in less time, and at less expense, than by any other route, our Boston friends sneered at the idea; but now, that one of their own dealers has transported from 13,000 to 14,000 barrels, as he says, and that "the route by way of Portland is the cheapest," we suppose they will believe it.

The following extracts from Mr. Robinson's testimony we think worth giving also, as they show from a competent witness some of the advantages which we have claimed for our route. The statement respecting the injury that flour receives by transhipment, is worthy of note, as the Montreal and Portland route here possess a decided advantage over the New York routes, via canal.

When the second track is laid from Island Pond to Montreal, reducing the distance some thirty miles, the expense of transportation via Portland can be still further reduced.

Mr. Robinson said:

"There have been large shipments made during the past season to Europe. The European demand has increased during the past season, more than we can supply. All the avenues from the west to the eastern seaboard have been overflowing, and it was impossible to get it along in season. As far as I have been acquainted with it, there is no mistake but the Western trade is increasing faster than the facilities for getting stuff forward. For the last two years the facilities have been unequal to the trade. It has sometimes occupied nearly two months to get flour brought even from Ogdensburg.

We have had the whole trade of Maine formerly, since he has been in the business, but we have now lost the most of it. If this tunnel should be completed, and a reduction effected of from twenty to forty-five per cent. on transportation, no doubt it would increase and enlarge trade here. There is no reason why we could not ship to Europe in proportion with New York, if flour is brought to us as cheap as it is carried to New York.

The transhipment of flour is a damage. It injures it at least three cents a barrel, for cooperage, &c.

He has been acquainted in Canada West, having brought flour there six years ago. He paid a duty on it, and brought it into market. Canada West is as good a flour region as our own. Our trade with them is increasing very rapidly. This western road, now open to Detroit, goes right through the Western portion of Canada. Great quantities of flour are shipped on that road from all the way to Detroit.

If the western produce comes here, it will have a tendency to bring trade with it. People will come to purchase merchandize, &c.—They will naturally wish to exchange, and buy where they sell. A few cents difference will sometimes change the course of trade.

Flour now comes to Massachusetts by way of the St. Lawrence, and then goes to Haverhill, Salem, Portsmouth, and other towns in that direction. It may come as cheap by way of Concord, down as far as Portsmouth, as it would by this new route. The facilities are not enough now to accommodate the trade of the West with Boston. The traders have found it so this fall and winter. There has been trouble for two years past. Some difficulty is occasioned by the cold on the northern routes. For two months last winter, and a month or six weeks already this winter, it has been impossible to get our property from Ogdensburg."

☞ DAMAGES BY THE GALE.

We continue to receive additional accounts of the damages by the Northwesterly Gale of Saturday and Sunday last.

The freight house of the Connecticut river railroad at Holyoke lost its roof, as did also the engine house, and a wood shed was blown down. The bridge on this road, a mile or two south of Northampton, was moved and partly unroofed. At Northampton the tin roof of the Court House was blown off. At Greenfield, the tin roof of the new town hall was partly or entirely carried away, and a part of the tin roof of the Court House.

The Albany Argus of Monday says:

A hurricane swept over this city on Saturday from the northwest—the like of which has never been known here by "the oldest inhabitant." It opened on us during Friday night, increasing in violence until noon on Saturday, and continuing with little perceptible abatement, accompanied with flurries of snow, until sundown—all through Saturday night and Sunday it blew with unusual fury. There is scarcely a building in the city that does not exhibit proofs of the vigor of the tempest, in ragged or missing roofs, chimneys, firewalls, window shutters, balustrades, signs, &c. To detail a tithe of the damage done would be impracticable. 50 buildings were unroofed.

At Troy the disaster was as extensive as at Albany, and a large number of buildings were either blown down, unroofed, or otherwise injured.

The loss at Albany and Troy is estimated at $100,000 in each place.

At Cleveland, Ohio, the gale was as severe as elsewhere. Buildings were unroofed, and several marine disasters occurred.

At Newburg, near Cleveland, a large portion of the walls of the New Lunatic Asylum were blown down.

Accounts from Troy and Utica show that the tempest was very destructive in that locality. Many buildings were blown down, roofs blown off, chimneys and walls demolished.

At Utica the tower of St. Patrick's Church was blown down.

An extra from the office of the "Plymouth Rock" reports that the schooner Russell, capt. Wm. D. Simmons, of that place, struck on Billingsgate Bar, off Orleans, on Saturday last, about 10 A. M., and immediately went to pieces. She had nine or ten men on board. The names of the captain and crew are as follows:—Wm. D. Simmons, Alpheus Richmond, Erastus Torrence, and Ichabod Rogers. The following passengers are supposed to have been on board:—Harvey Richmond and son, Elkanah Barnes, Henry W. Weston, and Edward Griffin, all of Plymouth.—The Russell was owned by N. Russell & Co., Capt. Simmons, and others, and was insured. The "Rock" says:—"Several articles of merchandise, marked with the names of several of our merchants, who had goods on board the R., had washed ashore, and as she has not been heard from otherwise since she left Boston, and being deeply laden, it is more than probable that all on board have perished—the distance of this bar from the main land making it almost impossible for a person to reach the shore in such a gale as that of Saturday."

CAN'T GET THE HANG OF IT.

Every body round this way has heard of a little boy who had been to school in one of the old tattered school houses, but whose district had somehow unaccountably built a new one. Soon after the school had got into the new hive, the little boy was bothered with a spelling lesson; and the more the school-ma'am tried to help him, the more he blundered.—The good dame was troubled, and wondered what could be the matter with the scholar; but he accounted for it to every body's satisfaction, by saying, "I can't get the hang of this 'ere new school hacouse yet."

Politicians abroad, of all colors, have got bothered in the same way about the New Hampshire election, and the more they guess the worse they blunder. Indeed we cannot give a clearer account of it ourselves, than to say that every body is defeated, but nobody in particular is victorious.

One of the best jokes connected with the result is contained in the following extract of a letter from the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, an administration writer, who says:

The news brought by a gentleman from New Hampshire, now in the city, and in high position, is that there must have been some mistake in the election. He reports that the impression at the polls was that the President was against the Nebraska bill, and that he would veto it if it were to pass. Mistaking the issue, the Democratic voters voted the Free Soil ticket, believing it to be that of the administration. A member from New Hampshire is under the impression that in this manner the Democrats elected to the Legislature are all anti-Nebraska men.

On this the Boston Courier, whig, remarks:

This must be extremely well received by the New Hampshire Democracy, since it is so great a compliment to their intelligence and their knowledge of political events, and since it comes, too, from a member of their own party. A "gentleman from New Hampshire, in high position," assures the people of Washington that the Democracy of New Hampshire are such nincompoops that they did not know upon which side President Pierce stands on the Nebraska question, notwithstanding every Democratic journal in the state—or every one which we have seen or heard of—has been, throughout the whole contest, a defender of the Nebraska bill, and the enactment of which, they have, one and all, asserted, over and over again, would and could have no effect whatever upon slavery in the territories. To say to the loyal Democrats of New Hampshire now, that they did not know upon which side the President leaned on this important measure, and that therefore they have been defeated, is a little too bare-faced, even for a politician of the present generation. How the New Hampshire Patriot will relish the concluding sentence of the writer, the editor will probably show in good time.

☞ The Concord Reporter of Tuesday, foots up the votes for Governor, giving Mr. Baker 845 majority as far as returns are received, and saying,

The few towns and places that remain to be heard from will increase Col. Baker's majority to about 1200, which will correspond very nearly with the majority for Governor Martin in 1852, and which is probably about the true democratic majority in the State—the election of last year affording, really, no test.

The House still remains in doubt, both parties pertinaciously claiming it. The majority either way, will not probably amount to half a dozen, with the chances now inclining very slightly to one or two on the democratic side. We shall give a correct and as perfect a list as we can in our Friday's paper; but as several members elected are claimed by both parties, it will be some little time before the question will be definitely settled—perhaps not until the meeting of the Legislature in June. The crowing of the Patriot and the firing of guns by the Statesman, were alike premature, for neither were out of the woods, nor are they yet. The Old Guard men are sufficiently numerous to control the action of that body.

☞ The House of Representatives, as figured up by the Independent Democrat, will stand, Democrats 151—all others 157.

LOCAL.

LOST AND FOUND.

Our friend who lost his pocket book and money, ($35,) and advertised the same in the Chronicle, has recovered his pocket book and papers, which were carefully deposited on his doorstep by the finder,—but without the money. The loser is quite thankful to get so much, and concludes that there is some honor among thieves. We think so too, especially among such thieves as read the newspapers. Speaking of newspapers and thieves together, puts us in mind of saying, that this pocket book finder is probably the same man who steals Chronicles from people's doors, and then makes use of his ill-gotten booty, by reading the advertisements which invite pocket books to come back with or without the money. This kind of quasi honesty is not up to the rank of regular subscribers.

Another friend who lost his green purse with only a little "siller" in it, has had it brought back in full tale by the honest boy who found it, and who was well satisfied with a dime for his pains, being a tithe of the whole purse.

And now, as the public deem a daily printing office a receptacle of lost things on earth—somebody has picked up a letter in a prepaid envelope not directed. We could do no better than open and read, in the hope to find some name whereby we could either forward or return the document. But we can do neither. It is a good lettter, from a good wife, or one at all events who appears finely under her concealment thus accidentally exposed,—to her husband, who we hope is worthy of her. But she signs only her own Christian name, and addresses her husband only by his. We infer that the husband is a soldier. Should the wife see this, as she may, she can recover her stray epistle. If otherwise, we have at least had the pleasure of knowing that true hearts may beat under mean attire, and that some noble souls occupy humble stations.

☞ The District Court of the United States was holden here on Tuesday, by the Hon. Matthew Harvey, District Judge.

Some cases in admiralty were disposed of, and several aliens naturalized, and the Court adjourned.

CITY COUNCIL.

At a special meeting of the City Council, held on Monday evening, March 20, by a concurrent vote of both branches, the Committee on Finance were authorized to procure a Loan of $2500 to supply the deficiency in the appropriations of the past year.

The Reports of the Chief Engineer and City Marshal, were accepted by the Common Council.

Hon. Horton D. Walker signified to the Board of Aldermen his acceptance of the office of Mayor, to which he had been re-elected.

FROM HAVANA.

The New York Herald contains a copy of a protest signed by passengers in the Black Warrior and American residents at Havana, addressed to Secretary Marcy, detailing the events of the capture of the steamer.

A letter to the Express says:—

I have not conversed with a disinterested individual, no matter whether he be a native of the United States, or of other countries, who has not said, in relation to the Black Warrior affair, that it was a matter in which the United States could not, with a due regard to its own honor, interfere, and that it must be left to be decided between the Spanish government and the owners of the steamer. If unbiased Americans here in Havana, and who must necessarily be acquainted with all the circumstances, hold this opinion, how great is the reason to hope that the government of the United States will not suffer itself to be driven by the wild and unruly spirits who dwell in various parts of the Union, to take any measures that may involve the peace of the United States.

This statement, by letter, is not exactly the other side of the story, which we sought: nevertheless it is another, and a very different account from the first. Now let us see the Spanish account, and we may begin to understand the matter.

We dissent entirely from the opinion that our government ought not to interfere: and express the decided opinion that it ought to demand and obtain reparation, if reparation shall prove to be due—and on the other hand, having so demanded, it becomes our duty to make the reparation if our citizens have transgressed any reasonable Spanish law,—and to punish the offenders if they have broken any laws of our own. In short, while we ought not as a nation, to submit to what is wrong—we ought also to be quite as careful to demand nothing but what is right.

CINCINNATI, March 20.—The officers of the ill-fated steamer J. L. Avery arrived here to-day, and furnished full particulars of the disaster to that vessel. The boat sunk in two minutes after striking a snag. The cabin parted from the hull, and the latter went down in sixteen feet of water. Guthrie, the engineer, says that the loss of life cannot be less than 60 or 70 persons, including 8 cabin passengers. The boat had a large and valuable cargo on board, all of which was lost. It was insured chiefly in this city.

THE LIBERAL.—We have received from Bangor, Maine, the first number of a paper with this title, published by Brewster & Co.—It is to be published for the special purpose of opposing the Maine law and Abolitionism. This first number contains John Mitchell's scriptural argument in favor of holding slaves, and the editor's scriptural defence in favor of drinking wine. The editor, Mr. Henry Bickford Brewster, is a native of Portsmouth. The Belfast Journal says of him:

Mr. B. is an old school whig, after the model of those, (now almost obsolete,) who clustered around Mr. Clay and Mr. Webster in the days of their greatness. The paper will be national, opposed to Abolitionism and the Maine law. We knew Mr. Brewster to be an honest, temperate, and well informed man, and one whose convictions govern his acts.

Mr. B. says of himself:

We deeply regret to see the filthy and nasty habits of our youth in chewing, smoking, drinking, and swearing. From our youth we have always been a strict observer of total abstinence; never using tobacco in any form whatever; and have never been in the habit of using liquor, in private or public, on any occasion whatever, except only in sickness; and we have been a voter twenty-five years.

The Portland Advertiser gives the Liberal the following first rate notice:

The first number of this paper, published by the renowned "Brewster & Co.," has made its appearance. It is "death" against the liquor law and "abolition," and in favor of the Nebraska Bill! The "true whigs" of Penobscot have at last got a suitable "organ"! It is not quite as large as the "State of Maine," but considerably smarter and better looking!

☞ Steamship Charity, from Liverpool, arrived at Portland on Tuesday, having encountered and weathered the late severe gale, being defaced by having her bulwarks stove, covered with ice, &c.—but proving herself a good vessel for strength and safety.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Yesterday, in Executive Committee, Fletcher Webster's nomination as Surveyor of the Port of Boston, was unanimously confirmed without reference.

The Monocacy bridge on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, near Frederick junction, was destroyed by fire on Friday evening.

VALUE OF A VOTE.—A correspondent writes that Dr. George B. Gale, of Exeter, N. H., doing business in Lowell, being strongly impressed with the idea that a single vote might be of special importance in the recent election, left his place of business on Monday and returned home. The next day was the "ring of war." The election of Representatives was carried one at a time, after repeated trials, by one majority, finally resulting in the choice of four Whigs and two Democrats, and one no choice.—Boston Bee.

The Bee must have a "fast" correspondent. Exeter sends but three representatives, and the New Hampshire Patriot sets them all down as whigs.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, MARCH 20.

SENATE.—Several remonstrances against the passage of the Nebraska bill, and numerous other petitions on the subject of slavery, were presented.

Mr. Badger of North Carolina said that he would take this opportunity to make some remarks which he had intended to make on an expected remonstrance from his own constituents against the passage of the Nebraska bill, which remonstrance he had been disappointed in not receiving this morning. He wished to correct some mistake in reference to the effect of the amendment, and explain its true effect. He proceeded to show that the bill, as originally reported, did not revive the Louisiana law even without the amendment, and that the amendment did not change the force of the bill with respect to slavery in the territories. He argued these points at length, and denied the charge that by voting for the bill he had conceded the doctrine of squatter sovereignty. On the contrary, he held that the power of Congress over the territories was plenary.

Messrs. Butler of South Carolina, Mason of Virginia, Brown of Mississippi, Clayton of Delaware, and Stuart of Michigan followed Mr. Badger, giving their reasons for voting on the Nebraska bill. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Bocock of Virginia, from the Naval Committee, reported a joint resolution relative to the bids for provisions, clothing, and small stores, for the use of the Navy. It provides that all bids may be rejected at the option of the department, if the persons offering are not known as manufacturers or regular dealers of the article. In explanation Mr. Bocock said that the resolution was designed to take contracts out of the hands of mere speculators, who were not to be relied on, and permit the Department to go into open market. Debated and passed.

Mr. Barry of Mississippi asked leave to introduce resolutions calling for a committee of inquiry into the truth of charges made the other day by Mr. Stanton against the War Department, to the effect that that Department had monopolized as many of the civil offices of the government as it could for the purpose of bestowing them upon favorites, and otherwise transcended the legal powers and usages of the Department.

The House refused to suspend the rules.

Mr. Campbell of Tennessee offered a resolution providing that the Committee on the Judiciary, now charged with the duty of devising measures to recover the money supposed to have been fraudulently drawn from the treasury on the Gardiner claim, be further instructed to report what measures are necessary to recover money drawn from the treasury for services as Ministers, Plenipotentiary, Charges d'Affaires, &c., by persons who have not entered upon the duties of the offices to which they were appointed. Debated at length and passed.

The Senate resolution accepting from Queen Victoria volumes and medals of the London World's Exhibition was passed.

The House then adjourned.

ANECDOTE OF SHERIDAN.—The celebrated Sheridan was one day much annoyed by a fellow member of the House of Commons, who kept crying out every few minutes, "Hear, Hear!" During the debate he took occasion to describe a political contemporary, that wished to play the rogue, but had only sense enough to act the fool. "Where," exclaimed he with great emphasis, "where shall we find a more foolish knave, or a more knavish fool than this?" "Hear! Hear!" was shouted by the troublesome member. Sheridan turned round, and thanking him for the prompt reply, sat down amid a general roar of laughter.

FATAL RESULT OF A SPREE.—John Barry, aged 28, an Irish laborer, went into Boston from Canton to celebrate St. Patrick's Day, drank liquor profusely, and took lodgings Friday night at 113 Sea street, to "sleep the sleep that knows no waking."

Some of the papers attribute the rescue of a fugitive slave from the jail at Milwaukie to the passage of the Nebraska bill by the Senate—the rescuers taking the ground that if the Compromise of 1820 is not binding, that of 1850 is not.

A private letter to Mr. Bandt, written by Mr. Mitchell, in London, dated Feb. 17th, informs him that he has entered into an engagement with Madam Goldschmidt (Jenny Lind) to appear in concert during the coming season.

"Old Masters, indeed!" exclaimed an Art amateur, who for an hour had been vainly endeavoring to ascertain which was top and which bottom of a worn out and undecipherable daub of brown paint, which it was claimed had come from the hand of one of the old masters—"Old masters, indeed! he must have been so old he couldn't see!"

A young man named Veets, who had been out hunting in Union county, Indiana, called at a house and took a chair. Young Miss Freeman seated herself in his lap, and playfully leaned her head on the muzzle of his gun, calling on those present to look at her, when it went off and killed her instantly.

The negro woman who poisoned the family of the late Coleman Wingfield, at Richmond, Va., and who drank of the coffee in which the arsenic had been dissolved, for the purpose of proving her innocence, has since died of its effects. The family are slowly recovering.

FUGITIVES.—The Springfield (Vt.) Telegraph, says that a family of four slaves arrived in that town on Monday last, on their way to Canada. They escaped from Virginia several weeks since. The citizens of Springfield contributed a supply of material aid for them, and furnished them with a new conductor for the next station of the "underground railroad."

ST. DOMINGO.—The St. Domingo correspondent of the Washington Union states confidentially that a plot to assassinate the Dominican President Santana had been detected and defeated.

ADVICE TO THE RISING GENERATION.

In going to parties, just mind what you're a', Beware of your head, and take care of your hat Lest you find that a favorite son of your mother Has an ache in the one and a brick in the other.

The Roman Catholic clergy in France continue to incite the local authorities against the Protestants. They have actually succeeded in closing the Protestant church at Villefavard, so well known as the scene of the distinguished Roussell's labors, and where—there being no Roman Catholics in the village—Protestant worship only has been celebrated for twenty years.

Lord Raglan, commander of the British army just sent out against Russia, it is stated in the papers, is better known in the military history of England as Lord Fitzroy Somerset, son of the fifth Duke of Beaufort, by the daughter of Hon. Admiral Boscawen. He is now in his 66th year and has been fifty years in military service. He was in all the important engagements in the war of the Peninsula, where he obtained great distinction and was several times wounded. He was aid-de-camp to the Duke of Wellington, at Waterloo, and lost his right arm in that battle. Like most of the English nobility, whose life of active habits give them the enjoyment of a vigorous old age, he is yet as fresh and active as in the period of middle life.

Dr. O. A. Brownson has been invited by Rev. Dr. Newman, President of the Irish University, to fill one of the principal chairs in the new institution. The Pilot states that should the invitation be accepted, it will not involve any change in the conduct of Brownson's Review, nor a lengthened absence from America on the part of Dr. Brownson.

Cooking Stoves.

WOULD you have a stove that will not only please you by its first operation, but prove satisfactory years hence? Then be sure and buy THE KING OF THE STATES, which takes "the fly" from all others, in market, this season. It may be seen in operation at my store, sign of the big coffee pot, Daniel street.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linament, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ——

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, MASS.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any otheragent. I am very respectfully, Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, hums and ha's about its suiting some cases, but not your case. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; told so people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, sickly looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have been taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but do not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever was listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1853, when I commenced making it, I sold about 1 doz. I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853. I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, who body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last two years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. If the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fit two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to cause the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to cover all, it makes the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever complained of it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will roon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb, simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, teaspoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

HOUSES, &c.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 8 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This House is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling House.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

Rare Chance.

THE subscriber now offers for sale one undivided HALF of the well known Property situated on Market Square, and bounded as follows, to wit: on the North by the Congregational Meeting House, on the South by Warren street, on the West by Church street, and on the East by Market square, and measure one hundred feet square, together with all the BUILDINGS thereon; said building is now occupied as Store, Public House and Private Residence, and rents for $575.00 per annum. The Building is in good repair and has lately been painted and papered throughout. Gas and water are attached to the building.

Said property, if not disposed of on or before the 1st of April next, will be sold at Public Auction. For further particulars enquire of IMPIOUS RELIGIOUS JUGGLERY OF RUSSIA.—When we reflect on the means which the Russian government adopts to promote its nefarious ends, it is as if we were called upon to encounter the resuscitated vampyres of some of the worst tyrants and religious cheats of the darkest middle ages. The Russian papers gravely relate a miraculous appearance of the Blessed Virgin during one of their recent conflicts on the Asiatic frontier of Turkey and Russia. She is said to have been seen by the combatants on both sides in the attitude of blessing the Russian soldiers. The consequence was that they were inspired with supernatural and irresistible valor; and that (still more wonderful) a number of the infidel Moslems were converted to the 'Orthodox Faith.' The day has past when such an old woman's fable could have any effect on the soldiers of France, England, or even Turkey; but the Russian serfs, from among whom their armies are recruited, are in precisely the benighted state to be acted upon by such holy lies. This legend of a manifestation of the Virgin in the hour of battle is intended to act upon the Russian soldiers as opium used to act on the Turkish Delhis—to impel them with fanatical faith on the bayonets of their enemies. The device of the Russian priests and government may be laughed at, but care must be taken to oppose, vigorously, the deluded multitude influenced by the blasphemous inventions.

MELBOURNE PAPERS.—It may not be known to many of our readers that Melbourne, in the far off Australia, furnishes papers that vie with the mammoth sheets of London. The last Melbourne Argus received at this office, is a fair specimen. It is a 12 page paper, printed on agate, similar to our smallest type, and the editorials, items, advertisements and all, are set close. The page is about the size of a page of our paper, and the paper is of the same quality as that used by the London Times. Less than one page of the Argus is devoted to reading matter, the remainder being occupied with advertisements, with the exception of one page of commercial and shipping intelligence. Ten pages of advertising, at the rate of 1s (25 cents) for 30 words, or 3s (75 cents) for half an inch in length, must yield a profit unknown to publishers of newspapers in the United States. Of the advertising, 14 columns are headed "New Advertisements." "Sales by auction" fill 21 columns. Another department of advertising is found in this paper, which can be found in the papers of no other country in the world, viz: "Impoundings." These are notices of stray cattle, which will be sold at auction if not claimed. There are 10 columns of this kind of advertising, and above 30 pound keepers advertise from 5 to 100 cattle each. That must be a lively place, where upwards of 30 pound keepers find employment.—Boston Journal.

COURT GOSSIP.—The Empress of France has a rival! Louis has been smitten with the charms of an English lady named Smead.—At the last ball given at the Tailleries—which, by the way, cost the city $25,000—the Emperor paid her so much attention that the Empress has forbidden her admission to the Tuilleries! A letter writer in describing the conqueror (Miss Smead) says:

She is the most thoroughly, perfectly beautiful woman I have ever seen, either in Europe or America. Her type is altogether English: she has the fair complexion, the light hair, the blue eyes, which are characteristic of the nation, and a trifle of that embonpoint which a lady may have to advantage, even at twenty-one. In form she is faultless, and in manners she is a model. Every one seemed to know the circumstances of the late flirtation at the palace, and consequently when she walked she was followed by a retinue; when she stopped she was the centre of a dense group of worshippers, and when she sat, all circulation was rendered impossible, and the passages to and from her were blocked up hopelessly. She bore it with unbroken equanimity, hardly noticing that she was the object of an unusual remark; she had learned that a beautiful woman is doubly beautiful when unaffectedly simple. I have never dreamed of such a wonderful perfection; certainly no painter has ever created, from the depths of his imagination, and out of the unreal suggestions of an inspired fancy, a face so adorably lovely; there is not another like it, except, perhaps, in Circassia, or at Baltimore. Heigh ho! The Empress had good reason to be jealous: she herself is far less handsome.

MASSACHUSETTS REFORM SCHOOL.—A late report of the Massachusetts Reform School at Westboro', gives the following statements, collected by the chaplain.

The whole number of inmates has been 986, of which 262 were committed last year. The following is the condition of their families; 271 had lost their fathers, 139 their mothers, and 85 both parents; 398 had fathers without occupation, 304 fathers who were intemperate, 123 had both parents intemperate, and 255 belonged to families where one or more member had been committed for some offence.

The character of the 986 boys is given as follows: 868 were idle previous to admission, 935 were untruthful, 872 used profane language, 846 were truants, 776 Sabbath breakers, 670 visited improper places of amusement, 495 used tobacco, 338 drank ardent spirits, 560 slept out in stables, sheds, boxes, &c., 385 had been previously arrested, and 303 had been previously imprisoned.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1854.

PREDICTION AND FULFILMENT.

The Washington Star of Monday says of the prospects of the Nebraska bill in the House:—

"We know of forty-six members of the house from non-slaveholding states who are for the bill, and presume that there must be others so disposed. Under these circumstances, we have to say to our distant readers, that notwithstanding the current startling telegraphic stories of disaffection in congress, the terror under which northern members rest, &c., it is at this moment sure of a majority of thirty in the house."

On Monday, the telegraph stated:

Mr. Benton says the bill will be defeated. He declares he does not know how, but that it will be, he is certain. Such wrong as it meditates, he says, never does triumph. He will speak, but he says he shall not speak out of order, nor over his time. He wants but an hour, he says, to destroy it before the people, and that hour he proposes certainly to occupy, for he says he will kill the bill and write its epitaph. "Yes, sir," in his own language, "the bill will be sent to — sir, and its authors will be sent there with it, sir." Of its principal author, he expresses the profoundest contempt. "Sir," said he, "the meanest man in our country is a poor white man who marries a woman with niggers. He is not allowed to associate with gentlemen, sir. He is hooted off the Court House Green, sir. We have nothing to do with him, sir."

The People's Advocate says:

The remonstrance against the Nebraska bill headed by the Rev. Charles Lowell, D. D., and signed by a multitude of clergymen of all denominations, is signed also by Theodore Parker, who calls himself a "congregational minister," and who says, speaking of the Protestant churches, in his anti-Nebraska sermon—"The foremost sect of them all debated, a little while ago, whether it should have a litany, and on what terms it should admit young men to the communion table—allow them to drink 'grocers' wine' and eat 'bakers' bread' on the Lord's 'day' in the Lords 'house.'" When political passion allows Christian ministers to join in such blasphemy as this, we appeal to the sober sense of the community to decide upon the safety or wisdom of clerical advisers in national matters.

On Tuesday, the bill was put into Committee of the Whole, which is by some considered equivalent to putting it in Chancery.

It is to be observed, that another Bill on the same subject, is No. 21 on the Calendar, and may come up in time.

We suppose that the singular result of our election in this state, has had great influence in defeating the bill for the present.

It is also possible that the ministerial protest, cried down in one house and not even received in the other, had some effect, after all, in aiding the defeat.

Perhaps this may be as good a time and place as any, for us to say that it is the right, not merely the privilege, of every American citizen, whether clergyman or coalheaver, to express his opinion of any bill, or even any law, by protest as well as by petition:—that any company of men, as a temperance society, may petition for or against a law; that the distillers and liquor dealers of any city or State, have the right to protest against the liquor laws;—and that their petitions and pretests ought to be received and considered.

If the people of this country are desirous to pass such bills, of course they can do so: but we do not think they are obliged to have any measure crowded down their throats without uttering a remonstrance.

There must be a few Coups d'Etat before the day arrives when Yankees must neither remonstrate nor discuss.

EMANCIPATION.—The New Bedford Standard says:—"We learn that an accomplished and intelligent young lady, from Baltimore, by the name of Carroll, a lineal descendent of Charles Carroll, of Carrolton, of revolutionary memory, has visited our city for the purpose of raising the necessary funds for the emancipation of several slaves left by her father, who has lately deceased. The negroes were mortgaged by her father a year ago, to meet a perplexing necessity, and the instrument will soon be foreclosed, if payment is not made. The young lady has already raised $3000, and wants only an additional $1000 to accomplish her objects, the satisfaction of the mortgage and emancipation of the slaves.—Miss Carroll comes here with letters from Reverdy Johnson and other distinguished gentlemen of Baltimore."

She will doubtless get her money and accomplish her worthy object. She could not have come round in a better time. But what a withering commentary is this appeal, on the "institution" which makes such an appeal possible.

ICEBERGS.—The propeller Charity, which arrived at Portland on the 21st, suffered a delay of nine days' duration in consequence of being hemmed in with ice; fortunately, however, without sustaining fatal injury.

COMPENSATION.—The Legislators of Massachusetts have voted to raise their own pay from $2 to $3 per day; Speaker of House and President of Senate to have $6; Clerks of both $10; assistant Clerks 6 and $7.

Bishop Potter has refused to lecture before the Young Men's Association of Pittsburg. The cause was, Miss Lucy Stone had preceded him as a lecturer, and Miss A. L. Brown was to follow.

VERDICT OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The Concord Reporter & Old Guard of Tuesday says:

Whatever we may think of the justice and equity of the principles involved in Mr. Douglas' bill creating the territories of Nebraska and Kansas, it cannot be disguised that there is a deep and abiding feeling amongst the people of N. H., without distinction of party, of determined hostility to its provisions. Although intelligent and reasonable men are ready to admit the correctness of the doctrine, that the people of the territories should possess the right to determine for themselves their own domestic institutions, and that territory acquired by the common blood and treasure of all the States, should be alike open to all, yet they cannot see the propriety of re-opening a question which they had supposed had been forever settled by the compromise of 1820, and of agitating a matter which it was solemnly agreed in 1850 should not be agitated again. This feeling manifested itself most clearly in the election which has just taken place, and is one of the causes, although by no means the whole cause, of a result so little gratifying to the democratic party. But it is a significant fact, that where Judge Douglas' letter to the editors of the Reporter was most liberally circulated and where the subject matter of that letter was most freely discussed, there have the democratic losses been greatest; and it is believed by many, that had the discussion and agitation been carried generally into the interior agricultural towns, the total rout of the democratic party would have been inevitable. We will not pretend to say how this might have been, but we are entirely satisfied that the people of this State, even the democracy, will never consent to, nor acquiesce in the measure—and it is perfect folly to suppose that the passage of Judge Douglas' bill by Congress will allay, or in any degree quiet the agitation upon the subject. It is looked upon as a gross violation of a solemn compact, for which the South received a consideration and an equivalent thirty years ago, and whose share of the benefits the North is about to be deprived. However much we may deprecate this state of feeling, truth compels us to say that such is the fact, and so intense and deep seated is this feeling, that, in our belief, no man, however exalted his position or his standing, can successfully combat it or stand up against it. Although the discussion of this question has undoubtedly contributed much to the result of the election, yet there are other causes behind this, and which have been a longer time in operation, which have been doing their work, and which we shall take an early opportunity to discuss at length.

EXECUTIONS IN MAINE.

The Portland Argus of March 22, copies our recent article on capital punishment in Maine, and gives a satisfactory answer to our queries on the subject.

The existing law of Maine in this respect, is found in two statutes. Section 2, of Chapter 154 of the Revised Statutes reads thus:

"Whoever shall commit murder with express malice aforethought, or in perpetrating or attempting to perpetrate any crime, punishable with death, or imprisonment in the State Prison for life, or for an unlimited term of years, shall be deemed guilty of murder of the first degree, and shall be punished with death."

This provision has never been repealed.

Subsequent legislation provides that the convict shall remain in prison one year before his execution, and shall not be executed "until the whole record" of the case "shall be certified by the clerk of the court, under the seal thereby, to the supreme executive authority of the State, nor until a warrant shall be issued by said executive authority, under the great seal of the State, directed to the Sheriff of the County wherein the State Prison shall be situated, commanding the Sheriff to cause the sentence of death to be carried into execution."

And the next Section provides that "the punisnment of death shall, in every case, be inflicted by hanging the convict until he is dead, and the sentence shall, at the time directed by the warrant, be executed within the walls of the State prison, or the inclosed yard of the same."

On these facts, the Argus remarks:

Thus we have a positive provision that the murderer shall be—not may be—punished with death; and yet the execution is dependent upon the Governor's warrant. Gov. Dana, when the case of Thorn was before him, deemed it his duty, under the Statute, at the close of the year's imprisonment, either to issue his warrant for the execution of the sentence or commute it to imprisonment for life. The latter course was adopted "by advice of the Executive Council."

It is clear that the principle of the death penalty is retained on our statute book, and yet the law is really a dead letter. Now we would have the principle itself repudiated by the legislature. The State occupies a false position. Legally it professes to believe in a mode of punishment, which it has too much humanity to carry into practice.

The Chronicle desires to know whether crime has increased in the State of Maine since the present law was passed. We are not aware that it has. In fact, we don't believe it has any material influence on the matter, either to increas or diminish crime.—When men intend to commit penal offences, they don't expect or intend to be caught, and therefore they don't think much of the punishment.

The testimony of the Argus in the last two paragraphs is exactly to the purpose;—and the information in regard to the law itself, is a valuable piece of knowledge for the intelligent and humane reader.

The ice in the Merrimack river appears to have taken its departure with scarcely a note of warning. It is seldom that the river breaks up so quietly. The recent mild weather, together with the rains, have caused the ice and snow to melt so gradually as to create but a trifling rise, comparatively, in the river, and our citizens who reside on its banks feel much relieved at its quiet departure.—Haverhill Gazette.

MECHANICS' LYCEUM.—The lecture at the Temple on Wednesday evening was by Henry Ward Beecher, on The Ministry of the Beautiful. It was a discourse rather to be enjoyed than criticised; yet many expressions, and not a few sentences, were quite vulnerable to one who wished to pick flaws. The merits of the performance, however, were superabundant: they were honesty, naturalness, genial humor, a keen sense of the beautiful, and a knowledge of human nature no less keen. These, joined with entre self-possession, good use of language and good voice and action, made up a most acceptable lecture, and shewed the entire audience that the lecturer deserves the celebrity he enjoys.

The Mission of the Beautiful, as we gather it from the lecture, is to make men happier, by the hearing and the sight of the beauties which God has made, and which man has copied.

The lecturer urged the cultivation of the senses and tastes that appreciate beauty, as the birthright of the poor and the duty of all; as a means of refinement and a powerful aid to moral improvement. Yet he pronounced ideality, on which a sense of beauty depends, to be, not a moral quality or attribute, but only a power or quality which heightens devotion, strengthens conscience, and ennobles honesty.

Nature must be studied, or art could not be understood: nature must be loved, or art could not be appreciated.

In the practical application, to those especially who had limited means, small apartments, and narrow grounds, the lecturer laid the foundation of beauty in cleanliness, order, fitness, symmetry of form, and agreeable colors, in apparel and furniture; in the care and love of trees, flowers and plants; in goodness and gentleness of heart, imparting their expression to the eye and to the whole countenance.

CITY LYCEUM.—Rev. H. D. Moore lectures at the Cameneum this evening, before the City Lyceum, on "John Milton and his writings." Tickets 12 1-2 cts.

SCHOOL DISTRICT MEETINGS.

DIST. No. 2.—Wednesday afternoon, 29th, at 4 o'clock, at Mr. Senter's school room.

☞ We do not know why it is not as desirable for the people of each District, to know the time of the School Meetings, as for the citizens to know the Ward or town-meetings. The law requires only the posting up of notices to call a district meeting;—but a full meeting cannot be secured without something like a newspaper advertisement.

POLICE COURT.—John Swindles was arraigned before His Honor Judge Parker yesterday afternoon, and plead not guilty to a complaint for keeping open his shop and selling liquor on the Sabbath to Peter Solomon, (the person who was so badly frozen on the night of the 30th of January last). Judge Parker decided that the complaint was fully proved and fined Swindles five dollars and costs. I. B. Cleggett for the Government. Hatch for Defendant.

A GIRL KILLED IN STRAFFORD.—On Thursday, March 16th, three children were at the house of Jonathan M. Tuttle in Strafford. One son of Mr. Tuttle about 10 years old, and one daughter about 8 years old, and a son of Richard T. Foss, about 10 years old. There was a loaded gun in the house which the Foss boy took, and told the girl he would shoot her. She ran under the bed to get out of his way. He pointed the gun under the bed and fired it off. The charge took effect in her face and neck and killed her instantly. Whether the boy knew the gun was loaded or not does not appear, nor does it appear whether the boy was angry with her or whether they were at play. The Foss boy ran home as soon as it was done, and the Tuttle boy after dragging the body of his sister from under the bed, which was on fire, ran to one of the neighbors for his mother.—Dover Enq.

DEATH OF MRS. POTTER.—Mrs. Clara A. Potter, aged 49, wife of Hon. C. E. Potter, of Manchester, died on Sabbath morning the 19th, of erysipelas. Mrs. P. was an excellent and accomplished woman; intelligent, cordial and greatly beloved. Though well qualified to shine in society, she has seldom mingled much in social circles, preferring rather the quiet of home and the duties which her family required of her. Her memory will long be cherished by the few who have known her here, and by the many friends of her early days.—Mirror.

MRS. Potter was a native of Portsmouth: a daughter of the late Mr. John Underwood.

NEW YORK, 22d.—The Sun learns from good autqority at Washington, that the Japan expedition has been recalled, the order being on its way to the commander of the squadron.

Mr. Rufus Bennett of Alfred, Me., left Alfred village, for his home, in a sleigh a few days since. When the sleigh arrived at the house, Mr. Bennet was found by his wife sitting lifeless on the seat. He was 35 years of age, and died of a disease of the heart.

☞ The N. H. Patriot of March 22, foots up the votes for Governor; giving Mr. Baker 1700 majority; and reporting the Representatives heard from, Democrats 160; others 145. Four to be heard from, will all be democrats, making 19 democratic majority, as per Patriot. The whole House, then, will be 309. The Patriot explains some of the discrepancies between its list and the others, and says,

The result of this election should be satisfactory to our friends, when they consider all the circumstances.

"ALARMING SICKNESS IN GARDINER."—Observing this startling caption in one of the Maine papers, we supposed that the cholera, small pox, or scarlet fever at least, had made its appearance in the beautiful Kennebec town of Gardiner. But instead of a description of the disease, we have only the amount of medicine used. In other words by an official statement of the liquor agent of the town, it appears that various prescriptions during the last year, to the following amounts have been ordered, or rendered necessary and absolutely taken down:—In rum $656; gin $309; alcohol $129; Cognac brandy $267; American do $28 75; Pale do $1 60; French do $70; cherry do $7 87; W. I. rum $33; old Madeira wine $27; Sicily do $38 25; Malaga do $49 75; Port do $84 75; American gin $45 50; Muscat wine $8 62; 54 bottles of ale and porter $11 70. Here is a total of $1,769 69 spent for medicine (besides the quantity kept in private medicine chests) in one year by a town of 6500 inhabitants. It is no matter of wonder, that at a recent Maine Law meeting, at which this Gardiner exhibit was made, a resolution was introduced by Mr. Tucker, declaring it "the duty of every friend of Temperance to abstain from the use of ardent spirits as a medicine"—and neither need it excite wonder that the said resolution was laid on the table.—Boston Chronicle.

Any man who will take the above Bull by the horns, will find him to be a mere Calf, after all his bellowing. Suppose these 6500 people to compose 650 families; and then divide the retail price of spirits used for medicine equally among them; we shall find it falls short of $3 per household for a year. It is $2.73 and a fraction. We only ask any reader who is a housekeeper, whether in the present state of medical practice, $2.75 is a large sum to pay for spirituous potions and baths in a year for a family of ten persons?

A DINNER PARTY IN LONDON.—The London Daily News says that at a dinner party recently given by Mr. Saunders, the American Consul at London, there were assembled, among other guests, the American Ambassador, the American Vice Consul, Mazzini, Kossuth, Ledru Rollin, Arnold Ruge, Herzen (the wealthy Russian emigre,) Worcell (the Pole,) Giribaldi, and Orsini.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, March 21.

SENATE.—Several remonstrances against the Nebraska bill were presented.

Resolutions were presented from the Illinois Legislature, in favor of a grant of land for a ship canal around Niagara Falls. Also from the New York Chamber of Commerce, praying the establishment of naval schools; and from the Maryland Institute, relative to arrangements with Great Britain for international coinage on decimal principles.

Nothing further of special interest transpired in the Senate, which, after an executive session, adjourned.

HOUSE.—The Senate Nebraska bill was taken up, when much feeling was exhibited on the part of the members.

Mr. Richardson of Illinois moved to refer it to the Committee on Territories.

After considerable discussion of an exciting tendency, the vote was taken on Mr. Cutting's motion, and it was referred to the Committee of the Whole by 16 majority. This is considered equivalent to its defeat.

During the debate which occurred, Mr Richardson said that the reference to the Committee of the Whole would kill the bill by indirection. Gentlemen, said he, need not pretend that they were favorable to the bill while voting to place it in such a position that it cannot be reached during the present session.

Mr. Cutting denied that he was hostile to the bill. No gentleman present was more devotedly attached to the main principles of the bill than he was, but he thought it needed amendment in some of its details, and especially in the provision restricting the right of suffrage. He thought aliens who had declared their intention to become citizens ought to be allowed to participate in the councils of the new-born territory, and he presumed that the people of the free states would insist on this as a sine qua non before the passage of the bill. He claimed that the representatives of the free states who had to go before the people and justify their votes on the question, were entitled to an opportunity to present their views in the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Cutting was of opinion that the people of the North misunderstood the bill. If they would throw aside fanaticism and agitation, continued he, and bestow upon the bill a fair examination, they would find that there never was a measure so beneficial to the North, and a full discussion would prove it to be so. He wanted a fall, frank, manly discusion.—Gentlemen, said he, must ascertain for themselves whether Mr. Badger's amendment involved the principle of Congressional intervention. He believed it did, and wanted it extirpated. Let gentlemen meet the question manfully, so that when the yeas and nays are taken, it may be seen who were for giving the people in the newly organized territories the right to frame the laws under which they live. He then moved the previous question. An exciting scene followed, some members appealing to Mr. Cutting to withdraw his motion, and others cheering him on.

The question was put, and resulted thus:—Yeas 110, nays 95.

The entire New England delegation, with the exception of Messrs. Hibbard of New Hampshire, Ingersoll of Connecticut, and McDonald of Maine, voted yea.

To clinch the bill, Mr. Cutting moved to recensider and then lay it on the table—carried, yeas 110, nays 96.

Adjourned.

[Considerable exultation was manifested by the enemies of the bill at the result of the affair, and much chagrin by the friends. The bill stands number 50 on the calendar. The House Nebraska bill, (Mr. Richardson's,) stands number 21.]

U. S. SHIP CYANE, ASPINWALL, MARCH 4.—We expect to lay here until about the end of this month. Below is a list of Lieutenant Strain's party, who are supposed to be lost, belonging to the Darien Surveying party:—

Lieutenant J. G. Strain, Passed Midshipman W. T. Truxton, Midshipman H. M. Garland, Engineer J. M. Maury, Geo. W. Mayo, of Suffolk, Va., W. S. Boggs of Ohio, J. S. Kettlewell of Baltimore, draftsman, A. T. Avery of New York, (volunteered at Carthagena,) V. Gonzales and B. Polanca of Carthagena, Henry Wilson and Thos. Johnson, landsmen, Geo. B. Holmes, James McGinnis, W. H. Parkes, Benj. Harrison, Peter Vermillion, John Henwood, Thos. Miller, and James Golden,—ordinary seamen; Edward Lomport, seaman, John R. O'Kelly, Corporal of Marines.

These twenty-two persons left the ship at Caledonia Bay, to go across the Isthmus, full of hope and spirits, but now all supposed to be no more. Lieut. Strain left with every hopes of being back in ten days, and now it is 45 days, and no news of him yet. The supposition is that they have all been murdered, or have starved to death.—Cor. of the Pennsylvania Inquirer.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The Washington correspondent of the Evening Post says—"I have learned that Mr. Marcy has nearly concluded his negotiations for a treaty about the fisheries, with Mr. Crampton, and that as soon as it is ratified he intends to withdraw from the Cabinet.

CRYSTAL PALACE.—An injunction from the Supreme Court was served upon the officers of the Crystal Palace, at the instance of a creditor, in order to compel the association to wind up its affairs for the general benefit of its creditors. Mr. P. T. Barnum, it is said, has found the affairs of the association in such a desperate condition that he has determined to resign the office of President, recently conferred upon him.

CONSEQUENCE OF A BAD APPOINTMENT.—A Washington letter-writer says:—

The Black Warrior difficulty would be less alarming if our Minister at Madrid was not known to be a gentleman of excitable temper, who has no particular reason to like his stay in Madrid. He went thither as an avowed annexationist, and is known as such at court. Having fought the French Minister, and challenged the English Minister, he is very apt to stand alone in Madrid.

MOBS CONDEMNED.

The Boston Courier of Monday has a good article against the practice of Hanging and Burning in Effigy; occasioned by the several cases of hanging effigies of Senator Douglas. After stating its low opinion of Mr. D. and his favorite measure, the Courier says:

Thoroughly deserving of the public condemnation as we hold this man to be, it is nevertheless with decided disapproval that we look upon the mode which, as above indicated, many persons have chosen to adopt in the expression of their indignation. This hanging in effigy is a bad business. It is of itself mobbish in character, and very likely to lead to scenes of riot and disorder. From the counterfeit of a crime to the reality, the path is perilous and slippery. Unthinking people who are taught to commit outrages upon a man of straw, may be easily led to commit them upon the living subject when their blood is up, and a turbulent crowd offers a shelter to any desperado who is bent upon serious mischief. The act, too, is a cowardly one; what respectable man would own to having been concerned in such an affair? There is, moreover, no argument in it; the innocent as well as the guilty may be hanged in effigy—and what is proved in either case when the logic is only a halter? and the only fact apparent on the face of the transaction is that the actors are too angry to reason?

It is worthy of remark, moreover, that the individuals most forward in these disorderly proceedings are commonly foreigners, ignorant of American institutions and of the proper duties of American citizens. There is great danger to the country from this gross abuse of the privileges of a free government by persons utterly incompetent to comprehend its spirit, and whose only conception of political liberty is that it consists in freedom from all wholesome restraint whatever.

Let opinions be free, and freely and honestly expressed; but let us frown upon everything that is calculated to encourage a mob spirit. Let us have a decorous and rational criticism of every public man's public acts—as severe as may be deserved—but no hangings nor burnings—nothing that shall furnish an incitement to violence or disorder. Hanging in effigy ought to be forbidden by law. Such things never do good, and they are capable of doing great mischief.

The Concordia—A New Glee Book,

BY Prof. V. C. TAYLOR, author of the Sacred Minstrel, Choral Anthems, Golden Lyre, &c.

The Concordia, just published, is composed entirely of Secular Music. It was prepared by request, to supply the urgent want for Glee and Quartett Music of not too elaborate an order.—The pieces, though simple, are not devoid of character. The poetry is of a high order, and cannot fail to please. Published by

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Mosquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV, late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linimeut, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Suffered for years under the weight of disease,
Turn by its application to suppleness and health.
A remedy of such general usefulness that can
Restore newness of Action to the diseased nerves,
Arteries and glands of the human body,
Is worthy of high praise.

Let the rheumatic, halt, lame and palsied
Invalid examine its qualities, and they will
Not be disappointed. Years of study and
Investigation have enabled the proprietors of the Mexican Mustang Liniment to furnish a remedy,
Extraordinary in its power over diseases,
No matter of how long standing—sold at

CHOCOLATE, Chocolate Shells and Cocoa—a fresh supply just received by MATHES & VARRELL.

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Two to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so impossible to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, hums and has's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. I give great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I have sold some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853. I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs.—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 70, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns.

Another case was Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make such some fast and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. It the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fit two hours. One bottle cured him.

Another case had been to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to clease the dandruff out of the hair and destroy the roots, which it effectually does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will room you up in flesh.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but Humors, and I never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, tea spoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

HOUSES, &c.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being only a few minutes distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished and in good order. Attached to it in the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,
Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

Rare Chance.

THE subscriber now offers for sale one undivided HALF of the well known Property situated on Market Square, and bounded as follows, to wit: on the North by the Congregational Meeting House, on the South by Warren street, on the West by Church street, and on the East by Market square, and measure one hundred feet square, together with all the BUILDINGS thereon; said Building is now occupied as Store, Public House and Private Residence, and rents for $575.00 per annum. The Building is in good repair and has lately been painted and papered throughout. Gas and water are attached to the building.

Said property, if not disposed of on or before the 1st of April next, will be sold at Public Auction. For further particulars enquire of Valuable Real Estate for Sale.

THAT valuable Mansion House of the late Col. WM. GARDNER, situated in the south part of the city. The situation is one of the most beautiful locations, commanding a view of Piscataqua harbor and Navy Yard, unsurpassed by any in the city. There is a large Garden, connected with the premises, filled with choice Fruit Trees. A plan of the above may be seen, the premises examined, and any information respecting the same will be given by calling on either of the subscribers.

MUSIC IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

ITS RELATION TO MUSICAL PROGRESS.

Nowhere do we find a more perfect embodiment of the peculiar genius of our republican institutions than in our common school system. It is this which imparts to it such a tremendous power in moulding the American mind. At this happy moment, of all others, the character of the man is stamped upon the boy. Faculties awakened, or talents neglected now, and neither time nor circumstance can stop the onward march of the one, or make reparation for the defection of the other.

How important then that our system of education should see to it, that no one branch of learning shall be allowed to overshadow another! Suppose, for example, that instruction in mathematics should be neglected in all our schools for twenty-five years, and that every one wishing to obtain a knowledge of this science, should be obliged to employ a private teacher, study the Rule of Three, and Cube Root, in a transient class, or court such an acquaintance with them as he may be able to do from text books, after he has come to years of manhood, and learned, by bitter experience, his deficiency.

To say nothing of the influence of such neglect, in diminishing the number of close-thinkers in the nation, what would be its practical results? How would it cripple the business operations of the country? How would the cry come up from the thousand counting rooms of our cities, and from the engineers and surveyors, scattered over the land "Give us accurate accountants, expert mathematicians!" Foreigners would rush over to fill the vacancies, or, if there were sagacious and wealthy fathers enough to secure for their sons a thorough mathematical training, and thus fill with Americans these more important posts, how meager would be the mathematical proficiency of the American people as a mass.

The difficulty of learning a science neglected till years of manhood would soon produce the impression, that only such as are blessed with an extraordinary talent for mathematics could ever master its difficulties, and to such the people would quietly resign all pretensions of familiarity with its profound teachings.

Precisely in this way has music been neglected as a branch of elementary education, and precisely such results as these are now being realized in this country. Its omission from our common school system tends to lessen its importance in the public estimation. Childhood—the only appropriate time for the commencement of its study—is suffered to pass away without even an introduction to its elementary principles. The musical faculties are left to be enervated by inaction—the ear to grow dull for lack of culture, and the voice to become unmanageable by long disuse.—Attracted by its delights, or actuated by a sense of Christian duty to prepare for engaging in the high praises of God, young men and young women begin its study in singing-schools, transient classes, or under a private teacher. What would have been only a pleasant recreation in the golden hours of childhood, has become, by reason of long accumulating difficulties, a severe and laborious task.

It a few succeed in so far overcoming these difficulties as to become tolerable singers, the majority give up, under the impression that they are not favored with a natural talent for music, and none make the attainments that an early attention to the science would have secured. A few, who are able, provide their children with a private music teacher; but the zest, the enthusiasm necessary to make the study attractive can be gained only where large numbers are similarly employed; and while singing schools are giving an impulse to the practice of music among thousands of our youth, the great majority of the people, notwithstanding, fail to secure either a knowledge of the science or a mastery of the art.

For musical entertainments of a high order we depend mainly upon foreign artists. Men and women, without moral principle, and incapable of religious emotion, who sing in the theatre or opera, on Saturday night, are employed to perform the praises of the sanctuary on Sunday.

The effort to engage the people in congregational singing is as tedious in its process as it is superficial in its results; while grand choral and oratorio performances, such as are common in England and Germany, are rarely given, and more rarely appreciated. This is the state of things in New York, in most of our large cities, and throughout the country. We neither wish to disguise the fact, nor apologize for its existence. We mean to faithfully probe the wound—not to taint America with defects, but to point out the remedy, and secure her true and permanent advancement.

Singing schools may and must be fostered. They will always fill an important place in the machinery of our musical education, but even they do not go far enough back to fulfil the conditions of wide-spread progress. We must take another step before we reach the fountain, namely, introduce music into all our schools, as a regular and systematic branch of education.

We shall not stop to argue with the man who does not see that music deserves to be thus studied, for he has not sufficiently observed its influence upon the moral, intellectual, social, and physical well-being of man, to make his opinion upon the question of any importance. One has but to witness its devotional power—its refining social influence, and its elevating tendency upon nations as well as individuals, to see that while the study of music, like that of any other science, affords mental discipline, it is attended with moral results, which make it even of greater importance than any mere intellectual branch of education.

In Germany, music is made one of the regular branches of elementary study in all the schools. Every teacher is required to have a sufficient knowledge of the science to teach its elementary principles, and the violin will be found in almost every school-room, this being the auxiliary chiefly used by teachers. The result is, that boys and girls, twelve or fourteen years old, come to read plain music at sight, just as they would read a book, or a newspaper—not always tastefully, but intelligibly.

But we need not go abroad to see how the musical education of children is related to the musical progress and appreciation of a people.

Twenty-eight years ago, Boston made the first move in juvenile musical education.—Growing directly out of these efforts was formed the "Boston Academy of Music;" and in 1838, music was introduced as a regular study into all the grammar-schools of the city, since which time it has been systematically taught. As a result of this course, on the part of our sister city, we have, in thinking of the matter, been struck with the large proportion of successful composers and teachers of music in this city, and throughout the country, who owe their musical origin to Boston.

Now, carry out this system of musical instruction, not in one city, merely, but in every city, village, and district in the land, for twenty-five years, and what glorious results should we witness! For, observe, we are endowed by nature with as good voices, and as much musical intuition as any other nation. It is nonsense to suppose that musical culture or talent is dependent upon an Italian sky, or German sourkraut and lager bier. What we need is, a popular and democratic musical education. With this, aided by the buoyant elasticity of our free institutions, and the activity of the American mind, we may ultimately as far surpass every other nation upon the globe, in our musical culture and appreciation, as we now do in wealth of natural resources.

PROHIBITORY LIQUOR LAWS.

In the New York House of Representatives, on Wednesday, the Liquor Law passed by yeas 78 nays 42. It is to go into effect on the first of May, and has already passed the Senate.

In the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, a prohibitory liquor law was passed by a vote of 50 yeas to 44 nays.

The passage of such bills through the popular branches of two legislatures in our largest states, notwithstanding the late legal decisions, and the strenuous opposition made to the laws in other ways.—must be taken as evidence that the great body of the people in the free states demand some stronger laws or better defence against the monstrous evils of intemperance and pauperism. The laws which they enact may not be the best, and the course taken for their enactment and enforcement may not be the wisest. Perhaps they are not: but this is not the point on which we here insist.

We mean now to press this single consideration, viz. the People demand a change in the laws, and they will have it. They are dissatisfied with the existing statutes, which compel them to pay taxes for the support of imported drunkards, paupers and criminals, and yet give them no adequate power to break up the dens wherein these evils are preserved and increased.

Just at this point in our writing, happening to look at the New York Herald of the 22d, we read an article calling on the city government for immediate action, especially if the Liquor bill should not become a law. The City has the power, and its use is called for.

We are well aware of the very pernicious practice of vending liquor at retail in every grocery store; and, in addition to the groceries, almost every block of buildings contains a rum selling rendezvous, many of which are surmounted by a sign of "General Pierce's Retreat," "General Jackson's Head Quarters," or some such device to attract attention. In these places, or dens they might be termed, the vilest and most injurious drinks are sold, at three cents a glass; one drink of which is enough to produce a delirium, from which, by a repetition, crime of the highest magnitude follows.

Now, the Mayor and the Board of Excise can remedy this evil in a very short period, if they will only undertake the job. In the first place, they should refuse licenses for the sale of intoxicating drinks in grocery stores and small groggeries. In the event of their keepers selling liquor without license, the ordinance should be enforced, and the fine for each offence imposed and collected. The keepers of the groceries and groggeries will then soon discover it to be a losing business, and they will give it up.

In addition to this, the Mayor should order every storekeeper to close on the Sabbath.

* * * * * * * *

If the authorities wish to promote the well being of the poorer classes they must restrict the sale of intoxicating drinks—abolish it in all groceries to begin with—cut off the supply, and thus prevent any temptation being placed in the reach of those who are inclined to become temperance men, but who are unable to resist the charms of rum. In a very little while the good results will appear. It will eventually be much better for the grocers. At present there is a general complaint by respectable females, who absolutely refuse to go to the groceries in their vicinity because they are generally filled with drunkards.

No one will accuse the New York Herald of fanaticism or ultra temperance: nevertheless, it calls loudly for the abatement of an intolerable nuisance. It is, in this respect, only an echo of the sober people of that city.

THE YEAS AND NAYS.

Below are the yeas and nays on the motion of Mr. Cutting of New York, in the House of Representatives on Monday, to refer the Senate Nebraska bill to the Committee of the Whole:—

NAYS—Messrs. Ambercrombie, Aiken, J. C. Allen, Willis Allen, Ashe, Bayley of Virginia, Barksdale, Bocock, Boyce, Breckenridge, Brooks, Carruthers, Caskie, Chastain, Churchwell, Clerk, Clingman, Cobb, Colquit, Cox, Craige, Davis of Indiana, Dawson, Dent, Dinsney, Dowell, Dunbar, Elliott, English, Ewing, Faulkner, Florence, Goode, Greenwood, Grey, Hamilton, Harris of Alabama, Harris of Mississippi, Hendricks, Henn, Hibbard, Hill, Houston, Ingersoll of Connecticut, Jones of Tennessee, Jones of Pennsylvania, Jones of Louisiana, Keitt, Kerr, Kidwell, Burtz, Latham, Letcher, Ludley, McDonald of Maine, McDougall, McMullen, McNair, McQueen, Maxwell, Miller of Missouri, Miller of Indiana, Milson, Olds, Oliver, Orr, Packer, Perkins of Louisiana, Phelps, Phillips, Powell, Preston, Ready, Reese, Richardson, Riddle, Robbins, Rodgers, Ruffin, Seward, Shannon, Shaw, Shower, Singleton, Smith of Tennessee, Smith of Virginia, Smith of Alabama, Smyth of Texas, Stanton of Tennessee, Vansant, Walsh, Warren, Wright of Mississippi, Wright of Pennsylvania, Zolikoffer—93.

The members from the New England states are placed in italics, and the Southern members, who voted in the majority, in small capitals. The latter are all Whigs, except Mr. Benton and Mr. Stanton. We repeat their names to keep them together, viz:—Messrs. Benton of Missouri, Stanton of Kentucky, Hunt of Louisiana, Bugg of Tennessee, Cullum of Tennessee, Etheridge of Tennessee, Franklin of Maryland, and Puryear of North Carolina.

The whole delegation from New England was present, and all voted for the reference, except three.

Those who were absent or did not vote were:—

Messrs. N. P. Cummings, Tweed, Walker, Dean, Rowe and Lyon of New York, Stratton of New Jersey, Bridges, Drum and Howe of Pennsylvania, Sapp of Ohio, Stuart of Michigan, Cook of Iowa. Total from free states—13.

Messrs. May and Sollers of Maryland, Edmundson and Snodgrass from Virginia, Bailey, Hillyer and A. H. Stephens of Georgia, W. S. Barry of Mississippi, Dunbar of Louisiana, Lamb and Lindley of Missouri, Chrisman [Boyd, (Speaker) silent,] of Kentucky, Barry of Tennessee, Bell of Texas. Absent from slave states, 16; in all, 29.

The yeas on the bill are classed thus:—

The nays are:—

The Boston Courier says:—

We do not regard this vote as being definitive with regard to the fate of the bill. The obnoxious Clayton proviso was sufficient to drive away many Western Democrats from its support, and a majority of fifteen, with all the New York Democrats,—Hards and Softs, except Mike Walsh,—particularly when the leader of the movement had declared himself in favor of the bill, is not to be relied upon on the day when the final vote is to be taken on the bill itself. One Washington letter-writer states that the declaration of Mr. Richardson of Illinois, that the sending the bill to the committee was equivalent to killing it, was made in the excitement of the moment, and had no weight either way; while Inspector, of the New York Enquirer, states that the Nebraska bill is considered to be disposed of for the session.

The Newburyport Herald says that the New York Hards seem to have taken the lead in referring the bill. Their main object doubtless, is to thwart the President and the Softs, and they also believe as they assert, no doubt, that the bill, and their cause, will both strengthen by delay and discussion, and the drill and management of party discipline.

These things look as if the discussion and agitation on the subject of slavery, which were waked up anew by the introduction of this bill, by no means closed, but would last through this year, and probably through the present administration.

The proposed new cent is to be of white metal, resembling silver in appearance, with a round and slightly raised edge. It is about 8-10th of an inch in diameter, larger than a ten cent piece, and less in size than a quarter of a dollar.

LOCAL.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—In the Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening, sundry matmaters of no public interest were transacted, after which

Ald. Jenkins, in a short and appropriate speech, offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Board of Aldermen be and are hereby presented to the Hon. Horton D. Walker, for the courteous, dignified and impartial manner in which he has presided over their deliberations the past municipal year.

The Hon. Mayor responded in a brief and appropriate manner.

☞ The Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council elect, will meet next Tuesday at 10 o'clock, at the Court House, for the purpose of being sworn, and organizing the Boards for the year ensuing.

PORTRAIT PAINTING.—Mr. Conner, the artist, is now in the city, and exhibits at his room in Congress Block some striking likenesses of gentlemen well known to the public. His charges are very reasonable, and those who desire a faithful likeness of themselves or friends, should call and see him.

☞ The City Lyceum was not open last evening, on account of the rain. Rev. Mr. Moore's lecture is postponed to Tuesday evening next, at the Cameneum.

☞ We understand that the North Parish have hired the Temple as a temporary place of worship while their new house shall be in the process of building.

POLICE COURT.—Two cases of the ordinance against keeping liquor shops open on the Sabbath were brought into the Police Court Thursday. His honor Judge Parker fined each five dollars and costs, and gave the offenders a strong hint that for a second offence they would not be let off on so easy terms. It has been stated as a reason why drunkenness was allowed to prevail to such an extent, was that the citizens would not sustain the officers in the discharge of their duty. The cases of yesterday and the day before, go to show that the citizens and the Police Court are disposed to sustain some important movements in favor of sobriety and good order.

HAVEN SCHOOL.—The vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Littlefield, the late principal of this school, is now filled by Rev. Samuel Hoyt. The following song prepared for the school, by the teacher, is sung by the scholars with great glee.

THE PLEASANT SCHOOL.

Air—Old Virginny Shore.

To the pleasant school in yonder village
I went from day to day,
And boys and girls together learned
To study, and sing and play.
'Twas my delight at morning break,
To look all my lessons o'er,—
So carry me back to school again,
To my pleasant school once more.

My school boy days were short and merry,
And merry my heart shall be,
As I think upon the innocent joys,
My school room gave to me;
But I miss some lessons I lost at school,
And it grieves my heart full sore,—
So carry me back to school again,
To my pleasant school once more.

Oh! tell me not I've passed the limit
You've set in the school boy's prime,
That the world is now the school for me,
And my only teacher time.
I would go to school where once I went,
And stand on the same old floor;
So carry me back to school again,
To my pleasant school once more.

Alchohol and the Constitution of Man; being a popular scientific account of the chemical properties of Alchohol, and its leading effect upon the healthy human constitution. Illustrated by a beautifully colored chemical chart. By Edward L. Youmans, author of the "Class Book of Chemistry."

The book is accurately described by its title; and the matter contained in it, is worthy the attentive perusal of every sober man who prescribes, or sells, or uses spirits, either as a medicine or a luxury. Total abstinents and hard drinkers need not read it.

☞ At Port Haron, Michigan, the jail has been burnt, and other buildings and property worth $30,000—supposed to be set on fire by men who had been imprisoned for breaches of the liquor law. In some cases the doors of the burnt buildings were fastened outside, evidently to destroy the inmates. Eight or ten arrests have been made, of supposed incendiaries.

We once saw a young man bravely turning up the glass—he was a true-hearted, glorious fellow—and was, he said, sowing his wild oats. We afterwards saw a policeman hauling a miserable drunkard from the gutter to the watch house. The wild oats were being harvested.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, March 22.

SENATE.—The Senate took up the House joint resolution for changing the manner of supplying the navy with provisions, clothing and stores. The resolution was debated by Messrs. Pratt, Petit, Cass, Gwin and Shields, and finally passed—yeas 29, nays 9.

Bills granting land to Wisconsin to aid in the improvement of the Fox and Wisconsin River, and to Illinois and Indiana Central Railroad, were severally passed.

The bill increasing the pay of the officers of the army and for other purposes was taken up, and a long debate ensued, in the course of which Mr. Shields said that there were many reasons, which it would be improper for him to state in open session now, which, if stated, would satisfy the country that the army, rank and file, and the navy should be largely increased. Both arms of the service should be largely increased, not for the purpose of going to war, but to keep out of it, to preserve a neutrality which other nations will respect.

The bill was finally passed, and after an executive session the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House took up the bill for the relief of settlers on lands preserved for railroad purposes.

The bill was debated at length, its friends contending that settlers should have the right to preemption at a dollar and a quarter per acre, and its opponents insisting that they should pay two and a half dollars per acre, the last-named price being established for lands in reserve sections. The bill ultimately passed.

The House then went into Committee on the Indian Appropriation Bill, which was debated, and without taking the question the Committee rose, and the House adjourned.

BUSINESS IN NEW YORK.—The New York Economist, says that the dry goods trade in that city, is very dull, and those houses which incurred heavy expenses for rents, and other incidentals of traffic, have not had their views justified. A number have been compelled to stop payment, or ask extension of their creditors, and many others that go on from the profits very small for the amount of business. Exorbitant rents have become a serious drawback to the business of the merchants, and a reaction must be the consequence.

The dealers from the country come in more tardily than usual, and buy more sparingly and with greater caution.

DARING ROBBERY IN WASHINGTON CITY. The Washington Union says that, on Thursday, "one of the most atrocious robberies that we have heard of was committed. Miss McNeill, daughter of Gen. John McNeill, deceased, and a neice of President Pierce, was met in one of the public streets by a ruffian, assaulted, and robbed of her purse, containing about thirty dollars, certificates of stocks amounting to about $2000, and a valuable diamond pin. The blow was severe, but her injury is not dangerous. This bold robbery took place about 3 o'clock P. M., in one of the public streets, and the robber succeeded in making his escape.

GAS EXPLOSION.—An explosion of gas occurred in the vault of the Atlantic counting room, by which Capt. Oliver and J. S. Safford were severely burnt and bruised, Mr. Safford having been thrown upon the brick floor with much violence. They are both now doing well.

It seems that a gas lamp was left burning over night in the vault, and that, consuming all the oxygen, it went out; the vault thus became filled with unconsumed gas. Precautions were first taken to admit air, but a large body of gas still remained in the upper portion of the vault, above the door, and the air admitted formed the explosive compound which has so recently caused so many accidents.—Lawrence Courier.

CHAPLAINS TO THE ENGLISH ARMY IN TURKEY.—In the British House of Commons, March 2d, Mr. S. Herbert, Secretary at War, said it was the custom, whenever troops were sent on foreign service, to appoint a sufficient number of chaplains for their spiritual care, and upon the present occasion there would accompany the force, which amounted to 25,000 men, four chaplains of the church of England, one Presbyterian clergyman, two Roman Catholic priests, making in all seven ecclesiastics.

ADVERTISING FOR A WIFE.—E. D. W. Clifford, a young man in Indiana, who recently advertised for a wife, says that he is thoroughly convinced of the advantages of advertising. He says he has received in answer to his advertisement 794 letters, thirteen daguerreotype likenesses of ladies, two gold finger rings, seventeen locks of hair, one copy of Ike Marvel's 'Reveries of a Bachelor,' one thimble and two dozen shirt buttons.

THE CLERICAL REMONSTRANCE.—In the U. S. House of Representatives, the remonstrance of the clergymen of New England against the Nebraska bill, was offered by Mr. Appleton of Boston, but it was not even received or allowed to be read, and had to be carried out of the chamber.

Father Gavazzi is very busy in lecturing in England to influence the people against the despotisms of the continent. The Catholics there and in this country side with the Russians. The Freeman's Journal in New York, says, "we look upon the British government as the very hot bed of all animosity against the Catholic church in Europe."

The merchants of Broadway, N. Y., have decided to take a portion of the dirt off the hands of the city government. At a meeting held by them at the Astor House, last Thursday evening, John M. Genin was appointed to raise subscriptions from the merchants and residents of Broadway to defray the expense of sweeping the street once every twenty-four hours.

MISS STONE'S LECTURES.—The committee for conducting the course of lectures in Bangor by Miss Lucy Stone, after paying to her for the lectures and her expenses $200, had a surplus of $263, which they have devoted to charitable and other purposes—giving $75 to the Anti-Slavery Society and $38 for women's rights tracts.

THE BRIGHT LITTLE GIRL.

SONG TO AN IRISH TUNE.

Her blue eyes they beam and they twinkle;
Her lips have made smiling more fair;
On cheek and on brow there's no wrinkle,
But thousands of curls in her hair.

She's little—you don't wish her taller;
And lady, or baby, to call her,
Were something to puzzle a sage.

Her walk is far better than dancing,
She speaks as another might sing;
And all by an innocent chancing,
Like lambkins and birds in the spring.

Unskilled in the airs of the city,
She's perfect in natural grace;
She's gentle, and truthful, and witty,
And ne'er spends a thought on her face.

THIS BEATS THE EFFIGY.—It appears from the papers, that some women of Alliance, Stark county, Ohio, have ingeniously sewed thirty three-cent pieces between two sheets of gauze, forming a transparent mat of four inches square, and have sent them to Senator Douglas with a letter signed by over one hundred names:

To Mr. Douglas of Illinois, member U. S. Senate:—

Sir: We, the undersigned, wives, mothers and daughters of Stark county, Ohio, feeling grateful that our boasted "Land of the free and home of the brave" is yet so free that white husbands, sons and brothers can enjoy their own liberty, beg to present to you the enclosed "thirty pieces of silver" as a testimony of the sentiments we entertain for your labors in the Nebraska bill. * * * *

Without dwelling upon this horrid picture further, may you receive the "thirty pieces of silver" herewith sent as an evidence of the consideration in which we hold you, and ere you follow the last act of Judas, may you repent in deepest sackcloth, &c.

In short—ladies and gentlemen, said an overpowered orator, I can only say—I beg leave to add—I desire to assure you—that I wish I had a window in my bosom that you might see the emotion of my heart.

(Vulgar boy from the gallery)—Wouldn't a pane in your stomach do this time?

The Concordia—A New Glee Book,

BY Prof. V. C. TAYLOR, author of the Sacred Minstrel, Choral Anthems, Golden Lyre, &c.

The Concordia, just published, is composed entirely of Secular Music. It was prepared by request, to supply the urgent want for Glee and Quartett Music of not too elaborate an order.—The pieces, though simple, are not devoid of character. The poetry is of a high order, and cannot fail to please. Published by

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty-five) will be required to be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey back by others, and the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ——.

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,

Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Boston, Dec. 7, 1852. eodly

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered from one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it here is a remedy. Try it and ands, hums and has about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853, I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call what doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs.—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns.

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last burst, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. It the column of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could give a long list of cures of distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to cleanse the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upperhand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, and what it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb, simmered in olive oil, scatters scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, tea spoonful. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city. each tenement will be sold separately if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, A BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

Rare Chance.

THE subscriber now offers for sale one undivided HALF of the well known Property situated on Market Square, and bounded as follows, to wit: on the North by the Congregational Meeting House, on the South by Warren street, on the West by Church street, and on the East by Market square, and measures one hundred feet square, together with all the BUILDINGS thereon; said Building is now occupied as Store, Public House and Private Rooms, and rents for $675.00 per annum. The Building is in good repair and has lately been painted and papered throughout. Gas and water are attached to the building.

Said property, if not disposed of on or before the 1st of April next, will be sold at Public Auction. For further particulars enquire of

THE GREBOES.

Dr. George A. Perkins lately lectured in Salem, on West Africa. From his lecture, as reported in the Salem Register, we make the following extract.

The tribe inhabiting Cape Palmas are called Greboes. They occupy a small territory about 400 square miles in extent, and number about 20,000, living in towns of about 2,500 each. These towns resemble a collection of hay stacks, the houses being built in a conical form, from 15 to 30 feet high, [Dr. P. here presented a painting of a native house] the thatch reaching to within four feet of the ground. Persons entering these houses or huts are obliged to stoop, and sometimes to go on all fours. The floor is made of clay, pounded until it becomes very hard. The fire is made in the middle of the house, upon the clay floor; the smoke ascends to the apex of the cone, where their rice is stored, and acts as a preventive against the attacks of the weevil. Without this, the whole of their store must be speedily destroyed. Fresh fish is also hung here, and preserved from decay by the same agent.

The furniture of these houses is exceedingly simple; a few mats to sit upon, an old chest, a rude chair, and three or four blocks of wood for pillows at night, one or two water jars, and a pot for cooking, make up the whole collection. To these is often added, by the wealthy, a row of crockery plates and wash basins strung upon the wall.

About the front of each is to be seen some greegree, or charm, to keep away sickness and other evils from the occupants. These consist often of a branch of a palm tree, fixed over the door, or a little pot sunk in the ground, just within their door, that is supposed to contain some substance of great potency against the evil designs of witches.

These towns are surrounded by a high and strong fence, made of the trunks of trees and lashed together with rattan. No nails are used in any of their structures. The principal entrance is through a house, or gateway, of peculiar construction. This structure is dedicated to the Devil. Persons entering are expected to treat his satanic majesty with a portion of whatever they may happen to carry—a pinch of snuff, a leaf of tobacco, a handful of rice, a casava root, or, if the women are carrying a pot of water on their heads, they spill a few drops for the same purpose.

The Greboes worship the spirits of their departed relatives, and believe that they often revisit their old homes. It is a very common sight to see a fire burning at night, at the door of the house of a man who has recently died, and a chair or a smooth stone placed near for the spirit to sit upon and warm itself; and this is sometimes continued for years. A little altar is sometimes erected near by, where the spirit may be fed with rice, palm oil, and other articles of food. The Greboes believe that, if these attentions are not shown, the spirits of their relatives will cause trouble to come upon them in some way. When any great undertaking is to be commenced, they offer a larger quantity of food than usual, and often kill a fowl or goat, taking care to select the best part for themselves.

The Greboes are polygamists, like most other savage tribes, the number of their wives being an index to their wealth. The age is not material; an old man of 60 will often have six or eight wives of from 10 to 60 years of age. These are purchased of their neighbors, or of a neighboring tribe, and are in reality his slaves, cultivating his farm, cutting his wood, drawing his water, and in fact, doing all the drudgery of his establishment.—Each woman has a house of her own, the husband living by turns with each. As might be expected, there is a continual quarrel among the women, usually ended by the interference of the husband, who often gives them a smart whipping, which serves to keep them quiet for a few days.

MRS. PARTINGTON ON CHINA.—"Ere's the 'Erald, all about the revolution in China and the Tartar Dynasty," yelled a news-boy under the very nose of Mrs. Partington, as vouched for by the Boston Post.

"What's to pay now?" said the dame, looking earnestly at the young and interesting vender of "licheracher."

"Two cents, mem."

"I mean," said she smiling, "what is the inflammation you have got?"

"The Chinese has ris, mem," said he, "and the Tartary is at the bottom of it."

"Good Gracious!" replied she, "you don't say so!" and she searched in her capacious "ridicule" for two cents to purchase the paper. "Tartary at the bottom of it! Cream of Tartar, I dare say, and that will make the whole batch of 'em rise. As for their dying of nastiness," pondering in her mind about the dynasty, "it isn't any matter if they do, if they neglect the goodness of Providence in sending down soap and water for people's comfort, if they do not accept it.

The dame took her seat in the Dock square omnibus, as full of China as a crockery store, and found when she got home that she had bought a paper a week old, which like approated to making a great coat for the cat.

SECTARIAN SCHOOLS.—The House of Representatives of Pennsylvania has unanimously stricken from a bill before that body to modify the public school system of that State, two sections allowing a portion of the public school fund to be divided among sectarian schools. The sections referred to were taken from the present school law of that State, which has been in operation for many years.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, MARCH 25, 1854.

NEITHER KNAVE NOR FOOL.

The Lowell Advertiser, in answer to some questions and criticisms of ours, says,

We have said, somewhat carelessly perhaps, that an honest man must lead a miserable life, in this world. When we wrote that, we had not time to write a sermon, nor had we much of an inclination to do so. In the sense, in which we wished then to be understood, we still maintain that an honest man must be miserable. If he is ambitious, if he would aspire after worldly greatness, he must be disappointed and miserable. If he is contented to simply do his duty, and earn an honest livelihood, seeking for nought further in this world—it be be one of those who he may be one of the happiest men in existence. Would to Heaven we had more such men in our age and country. No true happiness, no real greatness can be possessed, without honesty. But those whom the world call great are usually great scoundrels.

"Great knaves flourish—small ones swing."

By the way, we never maintained that a man must be either a great scoundrel or a great fool. The Chronicle has misrepresented us in that matter. We only said that an honest man may be a great simpleton or a great fool, and so he may, but he cannot be a great man, as the world reckons greatness; his honesty stands most sadly in the way of such an acquisition.

We do not see the misrepresentation now. If "an honest man must lead a miserable life," and if roguery confers happiness, then roguery is wisdom and honesty is folly.

Now permit us to say, that we do not believe the editor of the Advertiser to be a fool; for he makes an interesting paper, which a fool cannot do. We hope he is not miserable, and trust he is not a rogue. But he did broach a piece of bad philosophy, and tried to support it with poor theology.

It is a happy circumstance that he did not write a sermon on such a text as he laid down for a foundation.

As he now explains himself, his doctrine amounts to this:

An honest man, if humble, may be happy—but no honest man can be a great man (as the world goes,) for his honesty prevents his advancement.

To this latter doctrine we cannot fully subscribe. To be sure we have known some dishonest men to rise to exalted stations, not merely in spite of fraud and lying, but by the use of these means. But then we do not believe all great men have thus risen. We have some idea of one George Washington, who appeared to be an honest man, and who was somewhat elevated. We remember the names of Jefferson and Adams, Madison and Monroe; have seen some of them; and fancy their reputation for honesty would not suffer by examination now: yet they went up in the world somewhat.

We mention these cases because they are well known, and also because our friend of the Advertiser seems to connect worldly greatness with high station. Now we know that some slimy reptiles have wriggled their way up to exalted positions, where they are the observed of all observers, but they are only reptiles still. They have not the real greatness of which the Advertiser speaks, nor can the world esteem them great, except in trick and craft. The wisdom of the serpent only is theirs, not the nobility of the lion.

There seems also to be in his mind a close relation between greatness, wealth and happiness. It is true that all these things may be possessed and enjoyed by one person. But in our mind they are represented by distinct ideas; the latter depends very little on the former; and either or both of the two former may be possessed without the latter.

For the example: the late Daniel Webster was a great man, unquestionably. But there is no Yankee so stupid as to fancy that his greatness arose from the stations he occupied. He was, to be sure, Secretary of State, and Senator; but no one thinks these offices added one cubit to his mental stature: nor does any one look back upon him as a smaller man because he did not attain to the Presidency. Yet he was never rich, often straitened in his circumstances, and gave no evidence that his happiness rose above the common lot. His greatness, to our mind, was real—and his memorial on the common mind of the country is that of his intellectual greatness, distinct and almost alone.

The other part of the Advertiser's creed, above stated, we adopt with a hearty Amen. 'An honest man, content to do his duty, doing good by stealth, may possess real greatness, true happiness—yea, he may be one of the happiest men in existence.'

This is sound philosophy, and consists with all true theology. We can form no conception of a man who is content to be miserable, or who does not aim to be happy: but we can conceive of a man quite indifferent to great trusts and high offices and eminent stations; though we do not believe any such man can avoid the desire for some fancied greatness of attainment of a more private nature. And as to wealth,—we are quite sure there are happy men who never had a large share of it, who have no prospect of it in future, and who have no very earnest wishes about it.

N. H. ELECTION.

The New Hampshire Statesman of this week, gives the following footing of the Governor votes, embracing nearly all the State.

Baker's majority 1337: dem. net loss 3541.

The same paper gives a list of Representatives, revised and corrected, Whig & Ind. 157; Demo. 150; to hear from 2.

The Reporter of Friday gives a list of Representatives from all the towns but 3, also revised, and says,

We designate the political character of the members from the best information we can obtain. We give of the representatives elected and returned, 153 democrats, and 154 whigs and free soilers. Reckoning the three members to come in as democrats, the House will stand 156 democrats to 154 opposition. To make this result, we claim as democrats, some half a dozen members who are also claimed as free soilers, but we believe we have rightly designated them, as democrats. We think our estimate will be found correct—but the assembling of the Legislature can only fully determine where the majority lies.

AMERICAN POLICY.

The New York Evening Post calls attention to the following extraordinary passage from the official and revised report of Mr. Butler's speech in the United States Senate on Monday last, in relation to Senator Badger's amendment to the Nebraska bill:

"If Russia shall be crushed as a power in Europe by the combination of France and England, the termination of that war will place France and England in a position to induce them to interfere with American affairs. They will come out of that war, if they shall crush Russia, with triumphant armies, accustomed to war and victory—without bread, without clothes, and it will be an easy decision for them to upon our Southern islands—for I call them ours. Perhaps the blood around those islands, in the sea-fights which will take place, will be the language in which to write its history.—But, sirs, these are matters not pertaining to this subject, and I shall not notice them further. I thank the Senate for having allowed me to make these remarks."

'Cry Havoc, and let slip the dogs of war.'

Commenting upon this passage, the Evening Post says:

"We have before heard some well authenticated rumors that the Russian Minister had been trying to tamper with our government, and encouraging an aggressive policy in the West Indies, with a view of creating a diversion of the arms of France and England from the East, but we believe that this is the first time that those rumors have received any confirmation upon the floor of the Senate of the United States. At least, it is the first evidence that such attempts have met with any success."

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

SCARCITY OF SEAMEN.—A pamphlet of 32 pages, on this subject, and with this title, is before us, written by Thomas V. Sullivan, Seaman's Missionary, Boston, and bearing the recommendation of Capt. McKay and others. Attention to it is invited, from Merchants and Ship Owners,—as also to another pamphlet on the same subject by R. B. Forbes.

☞ Peterson's Ladies' National Magazine for April, a beautifully embellished number, is just received from Federhen and Co. Boston, via Morse of this city.

☞ Neal Dow, Esq. has been nominated as the Maine Law candidate for Mayor in Portland.—The Advertiser deems the nomination injudicious, and says:

So we are to have another "Dow fight," in which, whatever may be its result, the cause of temperance will be pretty sure to suffer.—When friends of the Maine Law, practically and in fact, say that there is but one man who can execute it—but one man, who can do what is properly incumbent upon the Mayor of our city to do, to enforce its execution—they must not be surprised if its enemies retort, either such a law must be a very poor one, or that its professed friends manifest more devotion and zeal for a man than they do for the law and the cause which it was intended to promote.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The Herald's correspondent learns that George Saunders, ex-Consul to London, has effected the sale of 200,000 of the U. S. muskets belonging to George Law. They were purchased by certain revolutionary capitalists in London.

A convict who died recently at Sing Sing prison, confessed, on his death bed, that he and three others, Saul, Howlett and Johnson, were the parties who murdered the young German, on the Battery two years since and threw his body over the rails. Saul and Howlett were subsequently hung for the murder of a shop keeper, and Johnson is now in the State Prison for a crime subsequently committed.

ALBANY, March 22.—Yesterday, near Syracuse, the down evening train from Buffalo run at full speed on to a side track, and into a train of empty cars, making a complete wreck of them. The Engineer, Mr. Coleman, the oldest on the road, was instantly killed, as was also a straggling Indian, who was asleep in one of the freight cars. The fireman was badly injured. No passengers were hurt. The accident was entirely owing to the carelessness of the switch tender, who is not now to be found.

The emigration to Utah Territory is about 10,000 annually. Generally they are a good class of people, sober, industrious and intelligent (?!) Mormon converts gather from all nations. Recently four hundred of them from Denmark, arrived on their way, at St. Louis. They came over the Atlantic as the old Puritans did to New England, under the superintendence of an Elder, a sort of head, who on going up the Mississippi, attended four funerals and one marriage among them.

LOCAL.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—By an advertisement in another column, it will be seen that the above Society propose to have an anniversary address at the Temple on Wednesday evening, March 5, to be delivered by Dr. Fuller, a member of the Society.—Those who listened to the lecture before the City Lyceum, by the same gentleman, will doubtless be pleased again to hear him, feeling assured that their time will be fully recompensed. The object of the lecture will be to present to the public the utility of the organization, and its claims upon the public for countenance and support.

The arrangements of this Society for a course of popular lectures next winter are progressing finely, more than half of their lecturers being already secured; among them Rev. H. Ward Beecher. All thus far engaged, are among the most celebrated.

DISTRICT No. 3.—At the Annual Meeting of this District, held on Friday evening, the following was the state of the votes:

Abraham Q. Wendell 78; Richard Walden 80; Samuel Clark 80: Edward J. Laighton 123; William Marvin 80; Joseph W. Marden 123; William Moses 123; Wm. H. Rollins 35; Abner B. Bennett 37; Benj. F. Chandler 37; Thomas J. Whittem 32.

The first named seven are elected.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW ORLEANS, March 23.—The steamer United States, arrived at the Balize in 4 days and 12 hours from Aspinwall.

Walker spiked his guns and started for St. Thomas with 140 men, one field piece, and leaving behind his sick and wounded. Many of his troops had deserted; those remaining were dispondent, and had abandoned all hopes of success.

Mining accounts were exceedingly favorable. The quantity of gold dug was the largest for many months. All miners were prospering.

An Indian from the interior, who had arrived at Panama, says that Lieut. Stram's party had been killed by wild beasts. The story was not believed; but it is supposed that the party had been killed by Indians.

NEW YORK, March 24.—On Wednesday morning an attempt was made by two persons to assassinate M. Cassali, editor of the Crusader, an anti-Bedini paper, while in his own office. The attempt was the result of a conspiracy, of which Mons. Cassali had received due warning, and consequently had policemen in wait. The conspirators were arrested and committed. No names are given.

ANALYSIS OF THE VOTE ON THE NEBRASKA BILL.—Of the 110 votes in favor of referring, all but nine were given by representatives from the non-holding states. Of the nine from the slave-holding States, six were given by Whigs and three by Democrats. Of the 95 nees, 27 are from non-holding states and 68 from slave-holding states. All from non-holding states, who voted against the motion, are Democrats. Fourteen Southern Whigs voted against it, and six for it.

HOBBS' LOCK PICKED.—There can be no doubt of the fact, that Day & Newell's American Lock, under the care of Mr. Hobbs, now in London, has been successfully picked by Mr. Goater, foreman of Chubb's establishment. A long correspondence has in consequence taken place between Mr. Hobbs and the successful picker. The London Mechanics' Magazine is very severe upon our countryman, for endeavoring to bring English locks and locksmiths into disrepute.

RARE COIN.—A bucket full, or more, of copper coin, was found, yesterday, by the workmen while excavating for cellars on land in Atkinson street, lately purchased by Hon. Abbot Lawrence. The specimens laid upon our desk bear dates of 1735 and 1759. They were issued in the reign of George II, and have the phizzes of very jolly looking individuals. The coin was found six feet below the surface.—Boston Bee.

James Raymond, Esq., the proprietor of three large travelling menageries, was attacked by paralysis last Wednesday, and probably will not recover. Mr. Raymond is the possessor of a fortune, estimated at a million of dollars, the whole of which he accumulated through his own untiring industry as a showman.

Le Republicain, of New York, states, "the Geographical Society of New York, of which the celebrated historian Bancroft was president last year, has just received in the number of its members a colored man, Dr. James Mac Cune Smith."

NEW ORLEANS, March 20.—The Nebraska resolutions, deprecating slavery agitations, and declaring the compromises a finality, have passed the Louisiana House of Representatives unanimously.

Hon. Robert Rantoul, has lately retired from public stations in Beverly. He is in his 77th year, and has been overseer of the poor for fifty years, on the school committee thirty-seven years, representative twenty years, member of two conventions to amend the State Constitution, senator several years—County Commissioner, town treasurer, moderator of meetings, and filled every other office to which his town could elect him. He has acted as a civil magistrate, legal adviser, and generally as the head and father of the town, for a half century, and in every position he has been found intelligent, faithful and honorable—so says the Beverly Citizen.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, March 23.

SENATE.—In the Senate, Mr. Weller offered a resolution directing an inquiry as to the expediency of increasing the salaries and fees of the Marshal of the United States in California. Agreed to.

After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House went into Committee on the Indian Appropriation Bill, when a debate on the Nebraska question ensued, in which Messrs. Millson of Virginia, Hunt of Louisiana, and Breckenridge of Kentucky, participated. Mr. Grover got the floor, when the Committee rose, and the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Among the amendments to the Deficiency bill are the following:

For the purchase of a site for a new Custom House at San Francisco, $250,000.

For a reimbursement of losses sustained by the army in clothing, &c., on board the steamer San Francisco, $29,590.

(a Member of the Association,) at the TEMPLE, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 5, 1854.

For Tickets may be obtained at the Stores of Messrs. Haynes & Nell, John S. Harvey & Son, and Joseph P. Morse, on and after April 1st.

Singing School—Second Term.

J. W. CLARK will commence the second term of his evening Singing School for advanced pupils, on MONDAY EVENING, March 27, at a quarter before 8 o'clock, in ACADEMY HALL. The term will consist of 12 lessons. Tickets of membership may be obtained on the evenings of the first and second lessons. Price for ladies 50 cents, gentlemen 75 cents each. A new book of glees, songs, duetts, quartetts, &c., of a secular character, and some of the best sacred Choruses of Handel, Haydn, Mozart and other composers, will be introduced, the price of which will be 50 cents per copy. A Boston paper has the following, which relates to this new work:

"In Part One are more than 100 songs, duetts, four part songs and fine glees, which could not be purchased in any other form for $3; and Part Two contains 87 tunes, 42 select pieces, 16 chants, and 5 grand choruses,—more music than a School would use in two years." 8 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE PACIFIC.

NEW YORK, March 23.

The steamship Pacific, Captain Nye, arrived, having left Liverpool on the 8th, at 4 in the afternoon. Experienced heavy weather and a tremendous hurricane on the 12th and 13th. Saw hundreds of icebergs on the Banks, and a vast pack of field ice, which detained her for several hours.

The clipper ship Lightning, Capt. McKay, from Boston, arrived out on the evening of the 4th, having performed the entire passage in about 13 days.

The position of affairs is quite unchanged. The news consists mostly of the Czar's manifestoes: of the Czar's reply to Napoleon, and of Mons. Drouhyn de Lyuy's new circular to French agents. All interesting.

No battles had occurred on the Danube, except that two columns of Russians had attacked each other in the dark, in mistake for Turks, and killed some hundreds before the mistake was discovered. However, continual skirmishes were going on between Turks and Russians.

From Asia we have nothing of importance, neither have we anything of interest from the fleets.

The Greek insurrection had been almost checked, and was no longer formidable.

The new United States Minister had presented his credentials to the Sultan and made an address, assuring him of the sympathy of the people of the United States.

The British Chancellor of the Exchequer proposes to double the income tax, and the French Finance Minister to borrow 250,000,000 francs to meet the expenses of the war.

War preparations are continuing to be made in England. The first division of the fleet for the Baltic was to sail in a day or two.

Admiral Corby's division of the British fleet was to sail about the 8th of March for the Baltic.

Mr. Soule was reported to be in high favor with the Queen of Spain.

Russia has prohibited the export of grain from Odessa and the Sea of Azof. The announcement strengthened the English grain market.

TURIN, March 1.—France and England are said to have decided to prevent any movement in Italy.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH FROM LONDON. —Wednesday Morning.—The third edition of the Morning Herald announces the arrival of a messenger, who was immediately closeted with the Queen, bringing the announcement that the Russians had carried Kalafat and massacred all within its walls. The story is not generally believed, though the preceding intelligence had announced that the Russians had opened their first approaches. The story has, however thrown the public into the most intense excitement.

LONDON, March 8.—The Chronicle's Vienna correspondent telegraphs that new proposals had been received from Nicholas. Russia offers to evacuate the principalities the moment her draft of preliminaries of peace is signed. The terms of which, however, are not more favorable than the last overtures which the conference rejected.

A British courier, bearing a summons for the evacuation of the principalities, is already on his way to St. Petersburg.

Her Majesty Queen Victoria was to review the fleets on Saturday.

THE BATTLE IN THE DARK.—On the 17th of February a conflict took place by mistake between two columns of the Russian army.—The Turkish positions are extended in an easterly direction as far as the village of Cuipercenti, which is about a mile distant from Kalafat. For several days a Turkish corps, about 4000 strong, under the command of Col. Mirolai, had been posted in front of this village, and in the direction of the Russian outposts. On this corps the Russians determined to make an onslaught during the night of the 16th. For this purpose two Russian columns were brought up, of from 4000 to 5000 strong—one by the road which leads to Kalajat, from about the village of Scribeza, and the other from the left side of it, from about Boisua (Prince Milosch's property,)—to advance unexpectedly upon the Turks, to surprise, enclose them, and cut them to pieces. The Russian columns commenced their march at 3 o'clock in the morning, and by 4 o'clock reached a position from whence they were only half an hour's march from the Turkish pickets. The second column seems either to have missed the direction, by mistaking the road, or to have come up long after its proper time. Be this as it may, the latter column, in the obscurity of a foggy night, concluded the former one to be a body of hostile Turks, and instantly opened upon them a terrific cannonade, which the others, who labored under the some mistake, returned with yet more deadly effect,—pressing towards each other, it came ere long to a close fire of small arms. This ill-omened combat lasted for an hour and a half, until, when day dawned, the combatants saw with horor the error they had committed. The loss in killed and wounded in the course of this night's encounter, is reckoned by themselves at several hundreds.—The Turks were naturally alarmed at every point; and at Widin, which is but a league and a half distant, Omer Pacha, on hearing the cannonade, took all the requisite measures for defence.

The Turkish corps at Cuipercenti stood to arms in readiness for action at any moment, but did not advance, as it was at a loss to imagine or comprehend what the Russians were about murdering one another in that style. It was not till between 7 and 8 o'clock A. M. that the Russian columns withdrew to their respective positions, carrying the wounded along with them.

ENGLISH MARKETS.—By the Pacific.—Liverpool, March 7. Cotton.—The general tone of the market has been downward, but without any quotable decline.

Breadstuffs have recovered from their depression and have re-established their former rates. Western 39s; Phil, Balt and Ohio, 39 a 40s. in store. Indian Corn in slow demand but 6d dearer; good yellow held at 46s; fine white 48.

No change in Provisions. Lard declined 1 a 2s, without leading to much business.

A Deep Hole.—A correspondent of the California Union Democrat gives a description of the 'deepest hole' in the diggings, at Weaverville, Trinity county. The shaft was sunk by a man named Stiles, for the purpose of finding the bed rock, and was commenced early in 1851. The work has been prosecuted by means of subscriptions, concerts, &c., until recently, when a company of five was formed for that purpose.

The shaft is about five feet in diameter, and thus far a trifle over seven hundred feet deep. At about the depth of one hundred and fifty feet they came to water, which troubled them for some time. Finally, they came below the spring, and at the distance of two hundred and twenty feet came to foul air, where Mr. Stiles came near losing his life. This difficulty, however, was obviated by building a small clay furnace upon the top of the ground, and attaching a hose or ventilator to it, which was lowered to the bottom, when, by keeping a fire burning above in the furnace, the air below became perfectly pure and healthy. This plan has been continued to this time.

The windlass was worked over one year by hand, but now the dirt and rock are raised by horse power. No blasting has been done since the commencement of the work—all having been operated on by the best and sharpest of picks—and in many instances single boulders have been penetrated through, 20 feet in thickness. The most singular of all is, that the color of the gold is to be found through the entire mass of rock and the various strata which have been perforated, from the top to the bottom thus far.

The work is progressing slowly, night and day. The probability is it must be sunk four or five hundred feet further.

North and South.—In some sparring in the House of Representatives, last week, between Mr. Lane of Indiana and Mr. Sollers of Maryland, Lane remarked that he wished to ascertain the opinion of his constituents in order to have a guide for his course. Sollers replied that for his part, he instructed his constituents instead of being instructed by them, and he went on to say that if he thought he could not instruct them on the matters that came up in Congress for his consideration, he should think himself unfit for his place.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Mosquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linimeut, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Cuts, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, opps. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby specifications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Patent Office, ——.

"R. H. Eddy, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"Sir:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other Agent I am very respectfully, Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK, Commissioner of Patents."

Boston, Dec. 7 1852. eodly

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, hums and ha's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston, and all the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and to have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853, I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think it has cured them in all cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns.

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; she was burned, by taking a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. It the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your hair bristle, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fit two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to clease the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb, simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

Directions for use. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, tea spoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

HOUSES, &c.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two outlets, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard near opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

MONDAY, MARCH 27, 1854.

THE MEDDLING CLERGY.

Quite a number of distinguished politicians, and some equally distinguished newspapers, are greatly "exercised" about these days, lest some clergymen should defile their holy garments by signing the anti-Nebraska protest, or speaking against the measure. The same papers and politicians did not, as we remember, get frightened at all, when a number of the same clergy bowed down very low, and spake very humbly in favor of the fugitive law.

Thus, there are not wanting historical precedents for the violent and vindictive denunciations of the clergy of New York and New England. They are treading a path which their predecessors trod before them, when they interfere with the proceedings of Congress, and throw the bitterness of religious strife into a controversy that ought only to be settled by statesmen according to the principles of the constitution.

Statesmen? who are they? and who made them such?

They are Representatives, chosen by the people,—and Senators, chosen by legislatures. Some of them no doubt are statesmen and patriots; but many are quite ordinary men; some are weak, and some are wicked. All legislation, forsooth, must be left by religious men generally, and by the clergy particularly, to politicians by profession, who alone are able to understand the deep mysteries of a simple question.

The list of Quakers who were banished or hanged or tortured for their opinions, by the clergy of New England, is enough to make the cheek of each of the three thousand reverend petitioners of to-day glow with shame.

That is it, exactly. The clergy of to-day are going to torture Senator Douglas, for his opinions, are they? He and Pettit and Butler and Badger are to be martyrs? And Sam Houston and the clergy have conspired together to massacre the innocents.

It is the uniform record of history, that wherever the voice of a clergyman interfered in behalf of humanity, he was silenced by the Church, and his compassion recompensed by the infliction of fresh tortures on this victim.

Here we have it again. The voice of a clerical delegate from Nebraska, coming to Washington as a political parson, interferes in behalf of humanity, by praying Congress to introduce and legalize slavery there—is silenced by the clamor of the three thousand cruel churchmen who protest against it,—and he, holy man, is tortured,—with disappointment, we suppose.

This is not the first interference of the clergy in politics, which history or even our own annals record. During the last half century similar movements of the priesthood have taken place on several occasions. The last struggle between the old federal and the democratic parties witnessed one such, and saw the pulpit devoted to pulling down and putting up political factions. The last war was the occasion of another attempt of a like nature. During the discussion of the compromise measures, a similar attempt to exercise political influence was made by the clergy. The effect of these various ecclesiastical movements has been invariably the same; they lessened the influence of the clergy, and impaired the respect due to the church.

Perhaps the church and the clergy may be frightened; but probably there will not be much of a shower. Ever since New England was settled, clergymen, as well as doctors, lawyers and farmers have talked, voted and acted on politics. They are citizens—and why should they not?

Ere our revolution broke out, a few ministers were tories, but very few; and the great mass were most earnest whigs and Revolutionists. Among the latter, McClintock, Spring, and Witherspoon may be named; but names need not be multiplied; for every one was a politician, and almost every one a whig.

The Massachusetts Provincial Congress in 1774, composed of such men as Warren, and Adams, and Hancock, sent an address to all the clergymen in the Province, calling upon them, as the friends of civil and religious liberty, to do all in their power to sustain the cause of freedom, and so secure to the people their rights. And the clergy, from a sense of duty to their fellow men, and to their God, did exert their influence in favor of freedom, and against oppression.

What a pity it is that there were not at that time some pious, devoted patriots, to stand forth and tell the clergy that they were acting out of character, and ought at once to attend to their own professional business.

SNOW-SHOE RACING.—This is the last kind of racing we have heard of. A Montreal correspondent of the New York Spirit of the Times, gives report of a race by four contestants, over a deep light snow, on "raquettes" or snow-shoes. The first brush was for three miles, which was achieved by the winner in twenty-eight and a half minutes—1st mile 11m., 2d, 9m. 20sec., 3d, 8m. 10sec. Another race of a single mile was won in eight minutes. A hurdle race, four hundred yards, over four hurdles three feet high, was won by an Indian against three white competitors—all of whom fell by the time they reached the third hurdle.

CITY MISSION.

In order that our citizens may understand the object of the city mission, and the duties of its missionary, we publish its Constitution, as revised last December, by a Committee of which Rev. Dr. Burroughs was chairman, and adopted by the Society in January last.

CONSTITUTION.

ART. 1. This Society shall be called the City Missionary Society of Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

ART. 2. Any person annually contributing a sum not less than one dollar, shall be considered a member of this Society.

ART. 3. The officers of this Society shall be a President, two Vice Presidents, a Secretary, and a Treasurer; who, with the clergymen of this city, and one layman, chosen by this Society, from each parish in the city, shall constitute a Board of Directors for the transaction of business.

ART. 4. An annual meeting of this Society shall be held on the Monday evening, succeeding the day of the annual Thanksgiving, for the choice of officers; the appointment of a City Missionary and the amount of salary which shall be paid to him; the hearing of reports from the Missionary, the Treasurer and Secretary; the arrangement of plans for obtaining funds; the choice of one layman from each parish to be of the Board of Directors; the appointment of an Executive Committee; and the attending to such other matters as shall come before the meeting of said Society.

ART. 5. Any nine members, who may be present at any meeting of this Society, after a public notice of such meeting shall have been given, shall be a quorum, competent for the transaction of business; but any smaller number shall have power to adjourn.

ART. 6. There shall be appointed at each annual meeting an Executive Committee, which shall be selected from the Board of Directors, and which shall consist of four persons besides the President of the Board, and they shall be authorised to hold such meetings and to give such instruction, counsel and aid to the City Missionary as may be needed.

ART. 7. The Executive Committee shall meet at least once a month, at such time and place as may suit their convenience, so as to have a full superintendence over the concerns of the Mission.

ART. 8. The Board of Directors shall hold three meetings every year; one on the first Monday evening in November—another on the first Monday evening of February, and the third on the first Monday evening in May. They may meet at any other times, as circumstances may require.

ART. 9. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a fair record of the proceedings of the Society, in a book provided for that purpose.

ART. 10. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to take charge of the funds of the Society, to keep a regular account of all receipts and disbursements, and to make no disbursement without the approval of the President.

ART. 11. Sec. 1. (Provides for statistics to be kept by the City Missionary.)

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the City Missionary to visit generally the poor of this city, but especially to visit as often as shall be necessary, those poor persons who may be aged or sick, or excessively necessitous, and to see that nurses be provided, and such fuel, clothing, medical attendance and medicine, as may be required. He shall endeavor to provide school books, bibles and religious tracts, wherever they may be wanted among the poor. He shall endeavor to provide such decent garments as may enable the extremely destitute to attend public worship, and the children to attend schools and churches.

Sec. 3. He shall give notice that he will receive at his office, from those benevolently disposed, any articles of bedding, clothing, stoves, fuel, or other things necessary for the poor. He shall use his best exertions to obtain good homes and occupations for any poor persons who may be deserving of them.

Sec. 4. It is to be understood that in the discharge of his duty, the Missionary is to use no sectarian influence.

Sec. 5. He is to counsel the poor with good advice and religious admonition; to use all his influence to induce them to attend some places of public worship, to which they may respectively belong, or to which they may prefer to go, and to attend the town schools and the Sunday schools.

SEC. 6. He shall distribute cards among the members of the Society to be signed by the members who shall use them, and to bear the names of applicants for assistance, when such members may wish said applicants to be relieved by the City Missionary.

Sec. 7. He shall keep a particular and regular account of his visits, expenses and whole course of proceedings, and make a full report of the same at the annual meeting.

Sec. 8. He shall present quarterly reports of his missionary operations to the Executive Committee, viz.: on the first Mondays of November, February, May and August.

ART. 12. The amount of moneys obtained by the Society, beyond the sum specified for the salary of the City Missionary, shall be expended by him for the benefit of the poor, and for the discharge of such incidental expenses as shall be necessarily incurred for the operations of the Mission.

ART. 13. All contributors to this Society shall have liberty to send applicants for charity to the City Missionary for aid; and they must use the cards furnished, if they expect that the applicant shall be relieved by the Missionary.

ART. 14. An annual address shall be delivered before this Society on some Sunday evening near the day of the annual Thanksgiving, by some person appointed by the Board of Directors for this purpose.

ART. 15. Should the office of the City Missionary become vacant in the course of the year, the Board of Directors shall have power to appoint some other person to fill that office.

ART. 16. The President and any five members shall have authority to call a special meeting of this Society.

ART. 17. No alteration of this Constitution shall be made, except at the annual meeting, and by a vote of two thirds of the members present.

The following named persons (with the other clergymen of the city) constitute the officers and Board of Directors for the present year:

A. P. PEABODY, President.

CHAS. BURROUGHS, WM. LAMSON, } Vice Presidents.

JOSEPH M. EDMONDS, Secretary.

JOHN KNOWLTON, Treasurer.

George M. Marsh, Daniel Knight, Joseph Harvey, Horton D. Walker, Thos L. Tallock, John Bennett, John P. Lyman, Daniel P. Drown, John M. Davis, Luther Parker, David McCarty, } Laymen:—one from each parish.

A MONEY THIEF.

On Saturday forenoon, a man walked into the Bread Shop of Parry & Plumer in Fleet street, took the money drawer containing silver and copper change, and walked out. Being followed by Mr. P. the thief quickened his pace, shovelling the coin by handfulls into his breeches pocket, as he went, until at last, having emptied the drawer, he threw it away and ran off at full speed with his booty.

Of course this thief is no novice at the business—nor will this theft probably be his last. Look out for him, shopkeepers and householders, and get him caged. He is too rare a bird to go at large.

A BLACK LOAFER.

Within a few days, a large black man, not young nor beautiful, has made unbidden calls in several entries and kitchens in this city, walking in without knocking—sometimes alarming the inmates, when they happened to be women only—but not stealing any thing as we learn.

He is represented as being impudent;—and we should judge a little insane or slightly intoxicated. He ought to be arrested as a vagrant and sent to the Almshouse; or sent home, as it is said he does not belong in the city, but in a neighboring town.

Schooner Eliza Jane, of Rockland, Me., which went ashore on Wallace's Sands, in the storm of Dec. 29, has been got off and towed up to this city.

HAMPTON TOWN OFFICERS—Elected 14th March.—Morris Hobbs, Moderator; John J. Leavitt, Town Clerk; Josiah Dow, John Dearborn, Edmund Mason, Selectmen.

As soon as the South Berwick Branch Railroad, which is now being constructed, is completed from this place to Portsmouth, we imagine Boston merchants will find a perceptible difference in the amount of trade which usually comes from this quarter.—Gt. Falls Journal.

BERWICK TOWN MEETING.—At the annual meeting of the Town of Berwick, for the transaction of Town business, it was voted to raise $1800 for the support of the Poor and other incidental expenses, $1100 for Schools, and $1200 for Highways and Bridges; to instruct the Selectmen to widen and repair the Old Bridge; to instruct the Selectmen to petition the Post Master General to establish a Post Office in Berwick; to instruct selectmen to examine farms and ascertain if one suitable for a Town Farm can be obtained, and report at the next meeting of the Town. The collection of the Taxes was let to Charles Guptil for $24,50.—Gt. Falls Journal.

Samuel Dunn, Whig Chairman and Treasurer of the Board of Selectmen of Dover, for the last fiscal year, has absconded during the past week with two or three thousand dollars belonging to the town, and thirty-six hundred dollars obtained from Strafford Bank with the names of John Clements and Jonas D. Townsend as sureties. It is also reported that some of the Boston pork dealers are large sufferers by his exit. He was pursued by officer Wrisley, but at last accounts had not been overtaken.—Dover Gazette.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE,
FOR THE
COUNTY OF ROCKINGHAM.

THE next Session of this Institute will commence in the METHODIST CHURCH, at Kingston, on MONDAY, April 10th, 1854, and continue until Saturday the 15th. The exercises will usually commence at half past 8 o'clock A. M., and half past 1 & 7 P. M.

The services of the following named gentlemen of much experience and reputation, have been secured:—

Prof. Dana P. Colburn, in Mathematics and Geography.
Prof. Arthur Sumner, in Elocution and Grammar.
Prof. Osgood Collester, in Music.
Calvin Cutter, M. D., in Physiology and Hygiene.

The citizens of Kingston will provide suitable accommodations for all who attend the Institute, at a moderate charge.

Each evening of the week will be occupied by lectures.

Each member of the Institute is requested to have present a Bible, Dictionary, Russell's School Reader, or Town's Fourth Reader, and a small Blank-book; also, to have his or her full name and residence written on a slip of paper or card, ready to hand to the Committee of Reception, on entering the Insitute, so as to expedite the organization.

The attendance of all the teachers in the County, especially, and of Superintending and Prudential School Committees, Parents, and all friends of popular education, is earnestly requested.

Let all make sufficient exertion to be present at the opening of the Institute on the first day.

Committee of Visitation & Report, Rev. E. Adams, S. C. Calef, Esq., Luther D. Peaslee, Esq.

Those traveling by the Boston & Maine Railroad, should stop at East-Kingston, where conveyances will be at hand. A. H. HOYT, Commissioner of Common Schools for the County of Rockingham.

Exeter, March 20, 1854. m27

The Universalists are about to erect a monument over the grave of Rev. Hosea Ballou, at Mount Auburn, and propose to take up a collection inall their churches on the 1st Monday in May, for that purpose.

☞ The Belknap Gazette of March 25, claims 157 Representatives as whig and free soil, being a small majority, and gives the Old Guard 10, and hunkers 141. It says:

In the above calculation we have counted Mr. Moulton of Albany, and Messrs. Brown and Sias of Ossipee, with the Hunkers, although we have been informed these gentlemen were elected as Freesoilers.

The same paper doubts the right of Sanborn to send 3 Representatives, with 737 ratable polls; 750 being required by law.—The three were chosen on one ballot.

The Manchester Democrat of the 23d, says,

The House is as yet disputed ground. We give the list of Representatives just as we believe they will be found to stand next June. The Patriot, by absurdly claiming Goffstown and some six Free Democrats, makes out a majority of 15 for the sham Democracy. In our list we give them all the Burke men, and eleven who are pledged to vote against such Nebraska candidates for the U. S. Senate as John S. Wells and Harry Hibbard.

It then figures up the table, claiming a majority of 2 whigs and free democrats.

After the late election, one of the unterrified was explaining the cause of defeat to another, and attributed it to the Nebraska bill. "The Nebraska bill," said the intelligent sovereign, "there's money enough in the treasury—why didn't they pay the ——— thing, and have it out o' the way?"—Nashua Telegraph.

FURTHER FROM CALIFORNIA.
ARRIVAL OF THE NORTHERN LIGHT.

NEW YORK, March 25th.—The steamer Northern Light, from San Juan, arrived this morning. She brings 350 passengers and $700,000.

The Northern Light connected with the Sierra Nevada, which left San Francisco on the evening of the 1st. Was detained two days in consequence of the detention of the steamer American on the Lake by a severe gale.

There is nothing additional of special importance from San Francisco.

A Mexican was lynched in Mariposa county for the murder of Nathan Pratt, of Rhode Island.

The Oregon bill has passed ordering a vote on the formation of a State government.

The intelligence from Lower California State is that the Fillibusters have nearly all left; those remaining were suffering from want of provisions.

The Maine Law has been introduced into the California Legislature.

LOUISVILLE, March 24.—A locomotive attached to a freight train on the New Albany and Salem Railroad exploded this morning near Providence, killing John Morris, engineer, Thomas Ratcliffe, fireman, and John Merrill, train hand.

A gentleman in Boston, it is said, is dramatizing "Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress."

Singing School—Second Term.

J. W. CLARK will commence the second term of his evening Singing School for advanced pupils, on MONDAY EVENING, March 27, at a quarter before 8 o'clock, in ACADEMY HALL. The term will consist of 12 lessons. Tickets of membership may be obtained on the evenings of the first and second lessons. Price for ladies 50 cents, gentlemen 75 cents each. A new book of glees, songs, duetts, quartetts, &c., of a secular character, and some of the best sacred Choruses of Handel, Haydn, Mozart and other composers, will be introduced, the price of which will be 50 cents per copy. A Boston paper has the following, which relates to this new work:

"In Part One are more than 100 songs, duetts, four part songs and fine glees, which could not be purchased in any other form for $3; and Part Two contains 87 tunes, 42 select pieces, 16 chants, and 6 grand choruses,—more music than a School would use in two years." FRIDAY, March 24.

The Senate took up the private calendar.

The whole session was taken up by Messrs. Pratt and Bayard, the former in favor and the latter in opposition to the bill compensating Rogers and Lonsdale for tobacco destroyed by the British during the war of 1812.

Adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE.—In the House the Senate bill extending the warehouse system was amended and passed.

The House went into Committee on the Indian Appropriation bill.

Various amendments were adopted; among them some for holding treaties with the Indians of Oregon, Utah, New Mexico and Washington Territory, and for a grand council with the Blackfeet and other wild tribes.

The Committee rose and reported the bill to the House.

Adjourned to Monday.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Express says a bill is about to be introduced into the House to repeal the duty on salt, and all allowances to fishing vessels and drawbacks upon the importation of pickled fish. Some three hundred thousand dollars are annually paid in the shape of bounties to New England fisheries, besides an occasional row with England, about fishing within a marine league from shore. The Western members will, nearly in a body, support the bill.

The Anthracite coal trade has commenced—two of the three lines connecting with the Delaware are already in operation. The Schuylkill Navigation Co. shipped for week ending on Thursday, 10,538 tons, making for the season 23,545 tons against 1514 tons last year.

The Reading Railroad brought down for the week ending on Thursday, 33,039 tons, and for the year, 336,254 tons, against 279,996 tons to the same time last year. It will be seen that the two lines have made a good start, with every promise of a good season's business. There is an active demand for coal, one of our largest coal producing companies having already sold nearly all that it can get to market, and could sell much more if they would engage it.—Philadelphia Ledger.

IS FRIDAY UNLUCKY?—The whaleship Hillman, which arrived here on Friday, seems to disprove the old superstition that Friday is an unlucky day, most materially. We learn from the first officer of the vessel, that the Hillman sailed from this port on Friday, that she took the first black fish on Friday, her first whale on Friday, made out her first port on Friday, and finally arrived here on Friday, with 3500 barrels of whale oil, 180 barrels sperm oil, and 61,000 lbs of bone, on board and sent home. Is Friday unlucky? The owners of the Hillman, we presume, are inclined to the opinion that it is not.—New Bedford Standard.

A CONFUSION OF IDEAS.

In the House of Representatives on the 23d, Messrs. Millson of Va., and Hunt of La., both spoke against the Nebraska bill, but based their opposition on different grounds.—Mr. M. opposed it because it was not favorable enough to the South, and Mr. H. because it repealed the Missouri Compromise, and thus opened the door to the repeal of all other compromises.

A letter from Senator Clements appears in an Alabama paper, in which he says President Pierce a few days ago, in conversation with a northern Senator and himself, expressed a decided opinion that the Douglas bill was a proposition in favor of freedom.

Further, that if it should pass, although we might absorb the whole of Mexico, not another Slave State would ever come into the Union. The President also expressed great surprise at the opposition the bill met with at the North, and equal surprise at the South being willing to take it.

Indeed it is passing strange that the great body of the people at the South should support a measure designed to abridge slavery—and that the people of the North should as generally oppose the same! It must be a very cunningly devised bill, if nobody can understand it but a few statesmen at Washington. And yet, if anybody can believe what Senator Clemens says about Pres. Pierce, he thinks the bill has been universally misunderstood. We don't know what to make of such a story.

DEATH FROM EATING CLOVES.—Mr. Amos Brown, an esteemed citizen of our village, died in convulsions yesterday, and a subsequent post mortem examination showed conclusively that his death was caused by eating cloves, which he had been in the habit of using as a substitute for tobacco. A verdict was rendered accordingly.—Granville Advocate.

DISASTERS ON OUR WESTERN RIVERS.—The St. Louis Evening News says that during the two months of January and February, twenty-three steamers were sunk, burnt or blown up on the Mississippi river and its tributaries, and two destroyed by fire on the Savannah—involving the loss of nearly two hundred lives, and more than a million dollars worth of property. The records of the present month will greatly swell this fearful list of mortality. Within the last few days we have received accounts of the loss of the steamers Caroline and J. S. Avery upon the Mississippi, and the Reindeer upon the Ohio river—hurrying, in all, one hundred and fifty human souls, without warning or preparation, into eternity.

We learn that among the passengers on board the ill-fated steamer J. L. Avery, which was lost a short time since on the Mississippi river, was Mr. Edward Kendall, of Boston, the distinguished musician. He was bound for Cincinnati. He lost all his baggage, including that celebrated silver bugle. Several of his band were also on board of the same boat.

The British government propose to abolish the system of party patronage, and leave 16,000 offices to those, from any class, who are best fitted for them. It is a pity that it could not be so in this country, and never can we expect parity in the Executive of any State or Nation, till it is so, nor can any legislative body so long as the administration of that State disposes of offices to tempt and corrupt them. The English government, though they have used the more important and lucrative offices to control disaffected members and reward their friends, have not generally interfered with the opinions of subordinates. The best thing that could be done in this country would be to abolish one half the offices, and make seven eighths of the remainder elective.—Newburyport Herald.

A NIGHT OF DISTURBANCE AND ASSAULTS.—Yesterday was St. Patrick's Day, and last night, in consequence of the large quantity of intoxicating liquor that had been drank, was one of unusual disturbance. The Watch were called into a dozen houses to make peace among the drunken and fighting occupants, and Justice Russell announced in the Police Boart this morning, that eleven complaints had been made to him for assaults upon officers in the discharge of their duty.—Boston Traveller of Saturday.

Mrs. Swischelm, the lady editor of the Pittsburg Saturday Visitor, in her last issue, says, with her characteristic candor and simplicity:

"Indisposition which kept us in our own room prevented our seeing or hearing Miss Brown while she was in Pittsburg, and a sudden influx of domestic cares prevented our doing the usual amount of editorial work last week."

In the good time coming, when women are to take their places side by side with men at the Cabinet board and in our legislative halls, we fear that such little interruptions from "sudden influx of domestic cares," may sometimes prove embarrassing.

The wife of Santa Anna, Dictator of Mexico, was born in Westerloo, Albany Co., N. Y. Early in life she became an actress, and first met Santa Anna at Havana, while fulfilling an engagement there at one of the theatres.

One of our editorial neighbors says the only reason why his dwelling was not blown away on Saturday, was because there was a heavy mortgage on it!—Albany Express.

The Concordia—A New Glee Book,

BY Prof. V. C. TAYLOR, author of the Sacred Minstrel, Choral Anthems, Golden Lyre, &c.

The Concordia, just published, is composed entirely of Secular Music. It was prepared by request, to supply the want felt for Glee and Quartett Music of not too elaborate an order. The pieces, though simple, are not devoid of character. The poetry is of a high order, and cannot fail to please. Published by

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linimeut, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 70 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the act of 1836,) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and forwarded by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully, Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Boston, Dec 7 1852. eodly

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both chronic humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, hums and ha's about its suiting some people, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853, I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many cures of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one person to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; another 7 lbs—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns.

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Your friends need make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. In the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fever two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to clease the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair certainly bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb, steeped in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, teaspoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 8 rooms and cellars) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

CURE FOR CORNS.

"There is no doubt some quackery in the corn doctor's trade, but there is more ignorance. For the benefit of both him and his patients, we will now disclose a secret which will relieve humanity from a load of misery, not less difficult to bear than it is unpitied and ridiculous. The cause of corns, and likewise of the torture they occasion is simple friction, and you have only to use your toe as you do in like circumstance your coach wheel—lubricate it with some oily substance. The best and cleanest thing to use is a little sweet oil, rubbed on the affected part (after the corn is carefully pared off,) with the finger, which should be done in the morning, or just before stepping into bed at night. In a few days the pain will diminish, and in a few days more it will cease, when the nightly application may be discontinued.

The writer of this paragraph suffered from those horrible excresences for years. He tried all infallible things, and submitted to the manipulations of the corn doctor, but all in vain; the more he tried to banish them, the more they wouldn't go; or if they did go, (which happened once or twice under the strong prevailment of caustic) they were always sure to return with ten fold venom.—Since he tried oil some months ago he has had no pain, and is able to take as much exercise as he chooses. Through the influence of this mild persuasive, one of the most iniquitous of his corns had already taken itself off entirely; the other he still pares at rare intervals; but suffering no inconvenience from them, he had thought it useless to have recourse to caustic—which sometimes, if not carefully used, and vinegar and water applied at once to the toe, causes almost as much smart as the actual cautery."

The Beard movement in England is one of the most rapid on record, even in these fast times. Whole towns and classes go into it at once. The Daily News strongly recommends the clergy to abandon smooth shaving, and return to the manly and majestic beard as worn by the glorious Reformers of the sixteenth century. It says nothing would be a surer preventive of clergymen's sore throat, than for nature's covering to supercede cravats. The Rev. Peter Barlow, Incumbent of Cockfield, has acted on the advice. Some of his people were so highly offended at this resemblance to Cranmer and Latimer, that they left the Church. The great body of the congregation were sensible enough to remain. —Church Journal.

It is a profound mystery to many good people, how a man can be a captain of a military company, editor of a miscellaneous journal, wear beard on the upper lip, be a member of the legislature, and at the same time be a Christian, God-loving man. So it was a mystery in ancient times, to certain pharisees, how the Saviour could be what he professed, when he was known to eat and drink with publicans and sinners. Charity covereth a multitude of sins.—So. Boston Gazette.

The above is from the pen of a captain of a military company, member of the House, of eleven societies of various sorts, together with many other "institutions." To this may be added that he sports whiskers, moustache, and the whole hirsute growths. No wonder he wrote the paragraph.—Bee.

THE PROPERTIES OF TEA.—A writer in Blackwood's Magazine, in a lengthy article on "The Beverages," writes as follows on tea:

The peculiar effects of tea upon the system—its exhilarating but not intoxicating properties—are due to three chemical substances: an aromatic, volatile oil—a slightly bitter principle, rich in nitrogen—and tannin or tannic acid. Its odoriferous volatile ingredients do not exist in the natural leaf, but are produced in drying and preparing it. And this is true also of the coffee and the cocoas. All are nearly void of taste and smell in their natural state, while all are high flavored and aromatic when used, deriving these properties from chemical substances produced within them by process of drying and roasting. An equally singular fact has also been ascertained, as equally true of all our usual infused beverages, viz: that the peculiar nitrogen-containing principle which they hold in solution, lessens the natural wear and tear of the body, and thus to a certain extent saves food.

Another interesting and singular fact connected with the subject is, that the leaf contains a very large proportion of gluten, a nutritious ingredient of plants. This substance forms one fourth part of their weight in leaves, and were they palatable so that we could eat them in mass, as we do the cocoa, tea leaves would be nearly as nutritious as beans or peas, and more strength-sustaining than wheat.

MOUNT PLEASANT CHURCH, ROXBURY.—The spire on this church was in great danger on Saturday, from the severe blow. The residents on the opposite side of the street were in fear during the day, and left their houses. The spire oscillated like the bending of a ship's masts in a storm, and will not probably withstand another gale. We understand that the steeple will now be taken down, and a tower built in its place. This is to be regretted, as its architectural proportions are much admired. It is also to be regretted that the edifice was built so fragile as to be unable to withstand the storms of New England only eight years, while other edifices built of same materials, and at less cost, have stood firm for more than half a century.—Boston Herald

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, MARCH 28, 1854.

BROADWAY TO BE CLEAN.

The New York Herald says:

Our readers are aware that the persons resident on Broadway have held a meeting to take into consideration the state of that thoroughfare. By that meeting Mr. Genin was elected Superintendent of Broadway, and was authorized to collect subscriptions with which to pay the expenses of keeping it in a proper state of cleanliness. Mr. Genin has attended to his duty, and has collected eighteen hundred dollars—five thousand dollars will soon be raised. Mr. Genin has engaged a force of fifty men, who will sweep Broadway every night, so that it will be clean as a newly scrubbed kitchen floor at six o'clock every morning. The cross streets, from which dust sometimes blows into Broadway, will also be swept. The streets being kept clean, there will be no occasion for water. Watering a smoothly paved street is always dangerous. Mr. Genin's men receive one dollar per day; and he can find plenty more who are willing to work at that price, notwithstanding the fact that the Common Council pays men a dollar and a half or two dollars per diem for doing nothing.

It will be necessary for the inhabitants of other parts of the city to follow the example of the denizens of Broadway if they would keep off pestilence during the summer months, for we have no government.

Some of the cleanest places in Boston used to be kept so by a combination of the residents, without reference to the town. And the dwellers on Ladd street in Portsmouth, a few years ago, used to rejoice in a perfectly clean street all summer, for which all of us were indebted to the voluntary oversight and neatness of the late Mr. Josiah Webster.

How much our city government may see fit to do about clean streets, or how much the tax payers are willing to have them do, we cannot say: but of this we are sure, that the borderers on any principal street, like that in Broadway, can have all dirt, paper, &c. swept and carried off for a moderate cost.

"GLORIOUS OLD SAM HOUSTON."

This is the sobriquet applied to Gen. Houston, the hero of San Jacinto, the Liberator of Texas from the galling yoke of Mexican tyranny; and the mention of whose name calls forth a spontaneous burst of affectionate and patriotic feeling. Next to Gen. Jackson, under whose banner he served in the war of 1812, and in whose school he learned his first lessons in Democracy, no man ever held a larger place in the hearts, or a firmer hold upon the affections of the American people, than Gen. Houston, and no man ever better deserved the distinguished position he occupies. * * * *

There he stands, the conservator of justice; the champion of freedom; the statesman without ambition other than to serve his country and the best interests of human kind; the patriot marked by the scars of many a well fought battle in freedom's cause; the Christian without hypocrisy; the honest man in whose garments are no stains of injustice.—"Glorious old Sam Houston." Fairly has he earned, and well does he deserve the exalted and affectionate title.

I have been introduced to glorious old Sam Houston. He denounced the Douglas bill as the infamous movement of bad men for the worst purposes. Should it become a law, it would ultimately produce disunion. On the part of the South it was a mean and dishonest act. The Missouri act was a concession to the South. Having received all the benefit to be derived from it, they now repudiate it.—Such conduct deserved from every honest man, and should receive from him the severest censure. He had done somewhat to oppose it, but if God spared his life he would do more. If, after all, it should unfortunately become a law, his mind was made up to sell his lands in Texas, take his wife and children, but no men or maid servants, and remove to a free State.

For the Chronicle.

SACRAMENTAL WINES.

Messrs. Editors:—In the Chronicle of the 21st, I noticed a paragraph stating that some of the religious papers were discussing the propriety of using currant wine, and others wine of native grapes, for sacramental purposes. This paragraph has suggested the following queries:

Would not the honor of the church and the good of mankind as a class be promoted, by abandoning the use of any intoxicating liquor as a symbol of the blood of the Savior, in the celebration of the Lord's Supper? and has not the time arrived when the church should no longer taste, touch or handle alcoholic liquor, in celebrating the most sacred rite of christianity?

The object of this communication is not to invite a discussion in your paper; but simply to commend the subject to the serious and prayerful consideration of those more particularly concerned. It is perhaps proper to remark, that many churches have discarded the use of alcoholic wine; but all have not. †

☞ During the ten days previous to the 18th of March, 54,347 cartloads of dirt were removed from the streets of New York City, at an expense of $18,308.69.

Within the last few days a deposit was drawn out of the Bowery Savings Bank, New York, which had lain there for twenty-one years.

MAYOR OF PORTLAND.—We have already mentioned the nomination of Neal Dow by the ultra Maine Law men. The Argus supposes the whigs will renominate Mayor Cahoon; the Freesoilers Mr. Banks; and the Know Nothings, Mr. Nobody-knows-who.—The Argus then says:

But all this is outside of the Democratic party. Of course, the City Committee will call a Caucus, as usual, and we trust that we shall have a strong and popular candidate. The Democracy of Portland are, at least, sixteen hundred, and if we but hold together harmoniously at the coming election, we can carry the Mayor and a majority of the City Council. Our opponents are divided. Let us be united, democrats! While they are beating each others' brains out with empty rum jugs, we can quietly march over both factions onward to victory. We cannot do it, however, without hard work, for this is going to be a "little the tallest fight you ever did see."

GEO. SAUNDERS.—The New York Herald has a London letter from George Saunders, commenting upon his rejection by the Senate from the Consulate. He lets out the following secret:

This office is, all things considered, the most desirable in the gift of the President, especially for an active, patriotic American, who will gladly take all the opportunities it offers of giving his countrymen information on the many important interests centering here and ramifying to all parts of the world. It is worth not less than fifteen thousand dollars a year. I hope the cleverest fellow in America will get it.

James B. Ward, an Irishman, has been arrested in Henderson, Ky., for enticing a slave to cross into Indiana, and promising to send him to Canada. Miss Delia Webster is again in a Kentucky jail for a similar offence, not being able to give $10,000 bail.

So say several papers; but there is a mistake in the latter saying. Miss Webster is in jail because she was suspected of a similar offence; and because she refused either to leave the State, or to give bonds—not bail.

FASHIONABLE DRUNKENNESS.—A beautiful and accomplished lady, who has recently returned from a three years' sojourn in Europe, in expressing her disgust the other evening at the fashionable habit among our Fifth Avenoodles of getting "a little tight" at parties, remarked that such violations of decency were not tolerated in the upper circles of European society. To appear tipsy in the presence of ladies is there regarded as an unpardonable offence; and she mentioned the case of a certain elegant and dashing young nobleman, who was banished from the drawing-rooms of Brussels for having been intoxicated at an evening party.

But it is very different here in New York. Nobody thinks of "cutting" young Bibo who got so disgustingly drunk the other evening at Madame Mache's fancy ball in the Fifth Avenue, that the servants were obliged to put him to bed, where he lay "in his swinish sleep," until 3 o'clock the next day. The hostess, we understand, even plumes herself upon the fact, as an illustration of the free and easy manner in which her guests "make themselves at home" in her house.—New York Mirror.

DOUBTFUL CASE.—The New Bedford Standard states that a lady of the Charles Carroll family of Maryland had been in its city, backed with very respectable credentials, for the purpose of procuring money to emancipate certain slaves belonging to her father's estate. The Baltimore Sun is assured that this lady cannot be a lineal descendant of Charles Carrroll of Carrollton, inasmuch as there is none absent from the city. And it is positively known that the statements contained in the article are untrue. Certainly no lady connected with the family of Charles Carroll of Carrollton can be engaged for the purpose represented.

CONSUMPTION.—We have become somewhat acquainted with that terrible disease, Consumption, which has hurried to the tomb so many of our race; and the question has often occurred to us, whether it can be cured or not? We believe it seldom happens that a patient, in the last stages of this destroyer of the beautiful and the good of earth, recovers. When the structure of the lungs becomes broken up, it is very seldom that the patient is restored to health again; and yet there have been cases in which nature, assisted by the right medicine, has formed a new structure, and the lungs again performed their functions. But all this does not prove but that this disease, fatal as it often is, may be cured when taken in season. In fact, we have every reason to believe, that there are thousands restored to health who once labored under this disease, and whose cheeks once glowed with the hectic flush, and whose eyes were lit up with a strange brilliancy. And if there is in this wide world a remedy for this disease, Dr. Rogers' Compound Syrup of Liverwort, Tar and Canchalagua is that remedy. Thousands can bear witness to its healing virtues, who have been raised by it to health from the very brink of the grave. The virtues of Liverwort and Tar have long been known; but Canchalagua—an herb which grows in California—is not so familiarly known. The essence of this herb being united with the other articles, produces a powerful tonic effect, while, at the same time, it operates as a febrifuge, thus making the compound peculiarly well adapted to cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, and even Consumption itself. We can recommend this compound to all those who have weak lungs and consumptive habits. Take the remedy in season, and you will prevent a long, lingering and fatal sickness. Remember, Nature has furnished a remedy for all diseases flesh is heir to.—N. Y. Times.

LIQUOR PROSECUTIONS.—Quite a brisk business in the way of prosecutions for violations of the Liquor Law was done in this town last week, under the auspices of the Carson League. H. C. Nash, C. L. Whitney, and Harris Stockwell, were severally fined $10 and costs, and Wm. Holding $30 and costs. There was no trial in any of these cases, each of the parties pleading guilty.—Brattleboro' (Vt.) Eagle.

Police Court—March 27.

[Before Justice Parker.]

It appeared in evidence that Nathaniel Pinder, the watchman who was assaulted, was on duty on the night of March 21st: and about half past 12 o'clock, he and watchman Walden heard persons running and hallooing near the Court House; went to them, found them four in number, including Shannon and Sherburne, and ordered them to desist. Both asserted their determination to persist, and the rioters started again. The two watchmen pursued, when Sherburne seized Pinder by the coat, and watch-hook, taking the latter away, and struck him over the head with it, making a wound two inches long.

During this time watchman Walden was struggling with Shannon and another rioter, to keep them from Pinder. After wounding Pinder, Sherburne struck also at Walden, and in the struggle Walden's watch-hook was broken. The rioters then made good their retreat, and the wounded watchman was conveyed to the watchhouse, where his wound was dressed by Dr. Curtis.

The Justice deemed the charge fully sustained by the evidence. The penalty for the offence is a fine not exceeding $100, and imprisonment not exceeding 6 months. As the offence is beyond his jurisdiction, he bound both the prisoners over to appear at the next session of the Court of Common Pleas. Each of the prisoners to give his own recognizance for $200; and each to give two sureties in $100 each.

A THIEF WITH A SWEET TOOTH.—On Sunday morning, Mr. Rufus K. Oxford, who keeps a grocery store at the corner of Exchange Buildings and State street, found one of his windows broken through, and a quantity of citron stolen, as also some raisins. When the thief gets his cake made, the Grocer would thank him for a liberal slice, and so would the Watchmen. It is probable the thief was disturbed and frightened by the watch or some other person passing, as he might easily have carried off more booty by enlarging the hole.

We have little doubt that some thief from abroad is making this city a visit. This citron thief may be the same who pilfered the bakers' money.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—Permit me to call the attention of your readers to the notice for a Lecture at the Temple, on Thursday evening next, by William Lloyd Garrison, on Individual Responsibility in reference to Slavery. I hope that our citizens generally will avail themselves of the privilege of hearing this self-sacrificing laborer in the cause of truth and righteousness. I have no doubt that all who will give him a candid hearing will feel themselves well compensated for the time and effort. Few men have lived who have been more misrepresented and maligned than Mr. Garrison, and few have ever devoted their lives to a more holy purpose. I say to all, go and hear him—"Prove all things; hold fast that which is good." N.

☞ Rev. Mr. Moore's lecture before the City Lyceum, postponed from Thursday evening last, will be delivered this evening at the Cameneum.

☞ This day at ten o'clock A. M., is the time fixed by the city charter, for the organization of the new City Council.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—This morning our City Fathers are to be inducted into office. This is an interesting and imposing ceremony, calculated to inspire respect for office, and it would be gratifying to see the young men of this city, and the boys of our high school and academy present on the occasion. Can you not give them a word of exhortation on the subject? CITIZEN.

DEATH OF CAPT. WYMAN.

Thomas W. Wyman, Esq., aged 60 a Post Captain in the United States Navy, died at Florence, Italy, on the 25th of February.—He formerly commanded the U. S. ship Columbus, in the China Seas, in which service his health became seriously impaired. He was a native of Roxbury, Mass.; entered the service in 1810, and became a Post Captain in 1842.

He was recently Commandant of the Navy Yard at this station, where he was highly respected.

He was accompanied to Italy by his wife, and attended during his last illness by Surgeon Lockwood of the Navy. His remains were deposited in the Protestant Cemetery at Florence, with the usual solemnities of the Episcopal Church.

A BRUTAL MONSTER CAUGHT!—The black fellow who entered the house of Mrs. Kinne, one evening last week, and committed a dangerous assault upon the old lady, has been arrested, after perpetrating one murder and committing two or three lesser offences. The fiend's name is Bill Lewis. On Friday night he entered the house of the Misses ——, two maiden ladies residing in Montville. Having helped himself to pastry, and committed various disgusting acts, he entered tered the sleeping apartment of the occupants, but being discovered, he decamped. He next stole a buffalo robe from Deacon Parish. Passing on, he entered Mrs. Fitch's house and stole her watch, and then pushed on to the residence of Jerry Church. Here he found nobody at home except Mr. Church's mother, a woman 86 years old, who cried out that "Jerry was coming," whereupon he started off, leaving his stolen watch. But seeing no one near he re-entered the house through the cellar, arming himself with a stone-hammer, with which he struck the old lady three blows on the head, and left her weltering in her blood. One of the blows caused a wound which has since proved fatal—so it is reported. The fellow was arrested, taken back, identified by old Mrs. Church, then brought up to Norwich, and after examination was locked up in jail. This is the same wretch, who in 1848 was sentenced to a term of four or five months in the county prison for putting a stone on the track of the Norwich & Worcester Railroad in Lisbon. His age is less than twenty.—Norwich Courier.

The late Mr. Edmonds, the Warden of N. Y. City Prison, stated officially to the Legislature, that "eleven-twelfths of the more than eighteen thousand persons committed to that prison in 1849, were, by their own confession, intemperate, and the rest claimed to be moderate drinkers." At the same time, Mr. Pillsbury, Warden of the Albany Penitentiary, reported as follows: "Whole number of prisoners in 1849, 408; admitted themselves to be intemperate, 334; claimed to be temperate, 74; total abstinents, NOT ONE.

CALIFORNIA.

All steamers plying on the inland waters of California have been emerged into one mammoth monopoly under a charter from the state, the result of which will be to lay up a large number of inferior boats and to advance prices of freight and passage. It is supposed that the stock will pay a dividend of at least ten per cent. per month.

On the 24th the Assembly passed the Senate bill for the removal of the capital from Benicia to Sacramento. The Legislature meets at the new capital. The citizens of Benicia were so much exasperated that they would not permit the steamer intended to records to lie at the wharf without paying $500.

On the 17th, an old man named Nathan Pratt was murdered in Mariposa county, by three Mexicans and a Chilian, whose only purpose was robbery. The neighbors turned out and soon arrested a Mexican, who confessed. He was straightway taken to Pratt's cabin and hung upon the limb of a tree. The party then found the Chilean, but the whole Spanish population in the neighborhood turned out in arms, and determined that the Chilian should not be taken except by due course of law. The Spaniards had their way until a messenger went to Quartzburg and drummed up forty armed volunteers, which gave the preponderance to the lynch party, who then conveyed him to Pratt's cabin and hung him upon the same tree with his accomplice.—Pratt was 50 years of age, a native of Maine, and had lived in Rhode Island.

Gen. Wool arrived on the 16th and entered upon the duties of his office, and relieved Gen. Hitchcock as Commandant of the Pacific Division on the 17th. On the 20th the Council tendered the freedom of the city to him. On the evening of the 25th a dinner was given to Gen. Wool and Gov. Foote, by the Tammany faction of the Democracy. A good deal of care appears to have been taken to exclude all Chivalry men. General Wool spoke with caution, and did not commit himself. Governor Foote was toasted as the "champion of state rights against the encroachments of federal power and patronage." In his response, he spoke rather sharply of the conduct of the present cabinet, and of its injustice towards himself; but he had come hither for the sole purpose of practising law, and had made his last political speech in New York.

HEAVY PUNISHMENT OF A BIGAMIST.—A genteel looking man, named Jacob Johnson, about thirty years of age, married a lady in Portland, Me., on the 16th day of December, 1849, with whom he lived up to September, 1852, when he disappeared. He went to Portsmouth, Va., where he attempted to marry another lady, but the fact of his already having a wife was discovered, and he left that place. On the 8th day of December last he was joined in wedlock to a lady of Baltimore. The fact of his former marriage was discovered on the third day after the marriage, and the father of the second wife commenced an investigation. He was tried at the Baltimore Circuit Court, was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for seven years two months and eight days. Both his wives were in Court, and were much affected at their exposure. Johnson wept continually after receiving his sentence. The first wife, after the conviction, wished to have an interview with him, that they might talk about their children, one of whom had died since his arrest; but he resolutely refused to have anything to say to her, at the same time stating that he should like to have an interview with the last one.—This was refused.

EXTRAORDINARY DIVORCE CASE.—In the Supreme Court, on Saturday last, application before Judge Rosevelt was made by Jeremiah W. Dimick, for an annulment of his marriage to his wife Frances N. Dimick, under some what extraordinary circumstances. 'Plaintiff and defendent," the Court said, 'had been married more than 12 years. It is now alleged that the marriage was void by reason of precontract. The defendant, it is admitted, was married when a school girl to a young man, who soon afterwards went off to the West, and was not heard of, except it was said he was dead, for many years. She accordingly, in good faith, married her present husband, supposing herself at liberty to do so. It now turns out that the first husband has been living till about five years ago, when he died, and of course left her in a condition to legalize the second marriage. No further ceremony, however, took place, but the plaintiff and defendant for said five years continued to live together as man and wife. The plaintiff says he did so in ignorance of the actual state of the case, and there is every reason to believe the truth of this averment. Of course, no marriage by implication could be inferred, and the original marriage between the parties was clearly void, the prior husband being then still alive and undivorced. There is nothing to deprive the plaintiff of the right which the law gives him to have it so declared. Sentence nullifying the marriage of plaintiff and defendant must therefore be entered.—New York Express.

Ellen Deere, a factory girl of Lowell, was "frightened to death" in that city on Wednesday evening. She left her boarding house in perfect health, at 8 o'clock, with another young woman, to make some purchases, and on returning home, she passed through a dark passage way—supposed that she was followed by some one, ran with her companion to her boarding house, and fell nearly dead upon the sidewalk in front of the door. She breathed but a few moments after being carried into the house, and died of fright—from the effect of imagination, or from the wanton foolishness of some inconsiderate person.

Mr. Joel Harris, residing in the easterly part of Woonsocket, was found dead in the orchard near his house, last Sabbath morning. He is supposed to have died from exposure, being in liquor at the time. His age was about 50 years.

SWEET THOUGHT.—Whenever we find our temper ruffled toward a parent, a wife, a sister, or a brother, we should pause and think, that in a few more months or years, they will be in the spirit land, watching over us, or perchance we shall be there watching over them left behind. The intercourse now ought to be as between guardian angels.

BOOKSELLERS' FESTAL POEM.

At the close of the late Trade Sale in New York, Messrs. Putnam & Co. sold off their Stereotype Plates and Copy Rights. After the sale, the same gentlemen gave a supper to their Bookselling friends, at the Astor House.

After supper several gentlemen made brief speeches, but the great feature of the evening was the following extemporaneous effusion of Mr. Fields of Boston, of the firm of Ticknor, Reed & Fields, which is full of happy hits at members of the trade, and was received with most unbounded applause:—

Why will you call for one whose soil
No fruitful harvest yields,
And waste your precious time to-night
On unproductive FIELDS!

Brave plenty spreads her ample board
At PUTNAM'S generous name,
And though he sold his plates to-day,
He feeds us just the same.

OUR BARNES are fall, our BUTLERS choice,—
Behold our PRINNEY tribe!
And if our LITTLE BROWN should FLAGG,
My lads, we'll still imbibe!

Let BANGS crow o'er his English BORN,—
And SAMPSON Low may strut,—
We've got a Sampson full of hair,
Who will not have it cut!

Let Queens and Czars fight bloody wars,—
We'll act a manlier part;
We'll show 'em SWORDS, if need there be,
With true and trusty HART.

Success to Trade! Let honest men
(I mean Booksellers) thrive
As long as Uncle Tom is known,
Or OLDS shall call for five.

As long as GRIGG, our glorious JOHN,
Shall plant his acres more;
As long as—and that's long enough—
As APPLETON'S new store;

And when our leaves are dropping off,
And we in sheets are laid,
And HARPERS play their final tunes,
And all our notes are paid;

When ADDERS balances his books—
(Good fellow, all have known)—
And PARRY, whose Church is finished now,
Is going, going, gone!

Let this be said in sober truth,
Engraven deep and fair,—
They lived like brothers here below,
And now they're happy there!

The Concordia—A New Glee Book,

BY Prof. V. C. TAYLOR, author of the Sacred Minstrel, Choral Anthem, Golden Lyre, &c. The Concordia, just published, is composed entirely of Secular Music. It was prepared by request, to supply the urgent want for Glee and Quartett Music of not too elaborate an order.—The pieces, though simple, are not devoid of character. The poetry is of a high order, and cannot fail to please. Published by

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in securing Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications at the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE,

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,

Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

m9 W. J. LAIGHTON.

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Rotbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both blunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, hums and ha's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the limits of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are troubled with sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and disease of the nose. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853. I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

All diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns.

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swellings to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it does make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. It the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fit two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to clean the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regarhs dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb, simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, tea spoonful. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city. each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

INTOLERANCE IN CUBA.

The following thrilling narrative, (says the N. Y. Observer, in which it was first published) is from the pen of a highly respectable merchant of a neighboring city. It was addressed to the Rev. Dr. Fairchild, one of the Secretaries of the American and Foreign Christian Union, a few days prior to the public meeting held in the Broadway Tabernacle in this city, with a view to secure the influence of our National Government, in the protection of American Citizens, in the enjoyment of their rights of conscience, and of religious worship, and to bury their dead in such a way as may seem to them most appropriate. The facts of the narrative are reliable, and should be known by all the people of this land. It is quite time to ask of all governments with whom we hold diplomatic relations, that the same privilege granted to their subjects when here, should be no longer withheld from Americans:

———, January 14, 1854.

REV. DR. FAIRCHILD, New York.

My Dear Sir:—In the winter of ———, the declining health of my wife seemed to make it imperative that I should take her to a warm climate, with the hope of her restoration. The Island of Cuba was selected. We arrived there early in December, and after many alternations of hope and fear in regard to her life, she died on the 20th of March. During her residence of some six weeks in the town of Matanzas, we became acquainted with many American invalids, and their friends who accompanied them; as nearly every State in the Union was there represented, and some States by many sufferers. During the winter, from December to March, and previous to my wife's death, a number of Americans died there, and their friends were anxious to remove their remains to their own homes. This it was soon found could not be accomplished, except at an enormous expense, entirely beyond the means of most of the parties interested. The reasons for these expenses I will hereafter explain. The deceased persons and their friends being Protestants, and no religion being tolerated there nor allowed, under severe penalties, except the Roman Catholic, the rites of that Church were neither asked nor offered at the funerals. These and other reasons created a great antipathy against the idea of leaving the dear remains of friends in that strange land, and of burying them in such circumstances, like dogs, without any ceremony at all. After witnessing the first interment, this antipathy grew into a perfect abhorrence. The chief reason for this abhorrence I must now explain, and I will do it by describing the first funeral I witnessed.

A gentleman from Kentucky having died, his brother and myself made application to the Church as directed, and after being detained for several hours by a great many (to us) unmeaning forms and ceremonies, we obtained a permit, for which we paid $17, including $2 extra for the privilege of burying in a coffin. This coffin was made of pine boards stained black—and to gain its admittance into the ground, we were obliged to place crosses on the breast and two ends, which was done with simple white tape. On proceeding to the ground on the outer suburb of the town, we found an enclosure, the area of which was about one fourth of an acre, with brick walls 15 to 20 feet high. We entered with the body by going up a short acclivity, through the gate at the top of the wall—this rise was necessary to reach the top of the mass which filled the entire enclosure to within some 5 to 5 1-2 feet of the top of the wall; as I remember we could look over the top of the wall as we stood on the mass of corruption. On entering this terrible place, we were nearly struck dumb with horror at the spectacle it presented. The whole surface of the ground was literally strewn with the smaller bones of the human body, and so thickly that not a foot could be set down, nor hardly a finger placed on the ground without placing it on some of the exposed bones of poor humanity.

In every direction human jaws, with their naked teeth, seemed grinning in our faces from the midst of fleshless ribs, arms, and spinal bones, &c., while in the two corners of the yard lay piled many cart-loads of scalls, thigh bones, and other of the larger portions of the human frame. These, we are told, were thrown there to dry in the sun, and then to be burned—and we noticed the remains of many recent fires on the ground, with their charred and half burned bones scattered around. An old superanuated negro, sent from the church, had preceded us, to dig the grave. This we found to be an awkward irregular hole, about 3 feet deep, out of which he had thrown no no less than seven sculls, with most of the other remains of many individuals. Some of these still had a portion of the skin and hair upon their heads, also sinews and portions of partly decayed flesh still upon the frame. The sides and bottom of the hole were lined with other skeletons, the whole emitting a most disgusting and deathly effluvia, which forced us to finish our wretched work with the most indecent haste. You can judge what it would be to stand in such a place, with the scorching tropical sun beaming down upon you, and the mass of corruption under your feet. The coffin was placed in the hole, which being too short, would not admit its reaching near to the bottom; it was stamped down as low as we could get it, and the old negro ordered to fill it in, which he did by taking the skeleton remains in his hands, and strewing them away with the greatest "sang froid" imaginable. We could not wait for him to finish, and left him to cover the coffin, the top of which was within 15 to 18 inches of the surface. Hardly a particle of the original earth could be observed. The whole stuff thrown from the grave seemed a mass of human matter, with portions of decayed clothing, &c. Can you now wonder that the question of being allowed to take away our dead, became a most painfully exciting topic of discussion among Protestant Americans? Many were the promises then and there made to have the matter fairly represented to our government at home, but since that time I have never noticed any effort to that effect.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29, 1854.

SENATOR CLEMENS AND THE PRESIDENT.—The Washington Star says:—"Ex-Senator Clemens has addressed an explanatory letter to the President, in relation to his recent letter representing his (the President's) opinion of the Nebraska bill. He says he did not pretend to give Pres. Pierce's exact words, and very possibly misunderstood his remarks, and adds that the President did not express surprise that the south should be willing to take the bill, but was surprised that the men at the north, who intend to give the south its rights, should hesitate to support the bill, when the south were willing to take it."

This differs widely from what was at first reported, and does not sound to us so unlikely for President Pierce to say. When it is added that Mr. Clemens "very possibly misunderstood him," the whole assertion sinks away into the statement that he was greatly surprised at the Northern Lights, and said something—Mr. Clemens don't know exactly what.

Cordelia A. Grant is alive. On the 10th she wrote a letter from New Brunswick, N.J., stating that she had voluntarily withdrawn from New York, and does not intend any further to prosecute Restell and Shackford for aiding and abetting her in the murder of her five infants.

So says a little scrap which is going the rounds in the papers. Besides this, the New York papers published the letter itself, as received in Court, and the statement that the Judge ordered the case to be dismissed in consequence.

If the Court had no other or better evidence of the fact that Cordelia Grant was alive and wished to back out, than this letter, it was wrong to dismiss the case. A letter might be forged; a genuine letter might be written under duress; or bribery, fraud or collusion might shut the witness' mouth from making further disclosures. Enough was known before, we think, to hold the criminals;—but we don't understand New York Courts.

SUMMER RETREATS.—The approach of Spring sets the New York Herald to talking of Summer, and advising the Cits where to go to avoid the heat. The rich, it says, may go to the Great Fashionable Hotels on the shores or on the hills: but the people of middling purses are advised to go among the farmers. The Herald says:

At the large hotels in Newport, Saratoga, and Sharon Springs, the scene of dissipation presented from June to September, is perfectly shocking to any one of a religious turn of mind, and disgusting to all sensible people who seek for pleasure and recreation. Humbug, swindling, flirtation, dissipation and semi-starvation, are the most prominent features of these establishments. If the waiters are not bribed with a doucear, you will go away from the table greaning with all the luxuries of the season, almost as hungry as when first you entered. The effect produced by this mismanagement and extortion has been very injurious to the whole community, and especially to the middle classes.

The remedy for this evil is simple, and easily applied. Let all who are gifted with common sense avoid these large haunts of vice as they would a plague—let them discountenance the practice of crowding eight or nine hundred people into one building, for it is absurd to say that enjoyment or good health can be obtained in these "whited sepulchres," externally beautiful, but within full of misery and all uncleanliness.

EDUCATION IN LOUISIANA.—The State Superintendent of the schools in Louisiana, has recently visited all the different parts of that State, and has published a long report of the results of his examinations, made to the legislature. The report states that in several parts of the State, the local directors were found to be "totally incapable of performing this duty, for the very potent reason that they themselves do not know how to read or write."—In one parish, the warrant of the teachers contained instead of the signature, the mark of twelve different directors. In other districts, the proportion of the directors who made their mark instead of signing their names, was two out of every three. The Superintendent speaks of this state of things as deplorable, and one of which unprincipled teachers do not fail to take improper advantages, and urges that at least two out of every three directors should at least know how to read and write.

Means of escape from houses on fire have been adopted by the police of Leadon. They have stout canvass sheets prepared, which are stretched beneath the house on fire, and into which the persons in the building drop down, and are caught. The canvass escape has been tried, and has given the greatest satisfaction as to its utility and safety. Persons who could not be persuaded to descend a fire ladder, have leaped into the canvass without hesitation.

LOCAL.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

The Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council elect, for this City, assembled at the Court House on Tuesday at 10 o'clock A. M.

The two boards then met in Convention; the oath of office was administered by Ex-Mayor Teppan to Horten D. Walker, Mayor; and by Mayor Walker to the members of both boards.

An appropriate prayer for the Divine Benediction on the City Government and the People, was offered by Rev. Dr. Burroughs.

At the close of this service Mayor Walker delivered the following brief and business-like

INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

Gentlemen of the City Council:—

By an unexpected but most gratifying expression of the confidence of my fellow citizens, I have been placed in a position in which it becomes my duty to address you at this opening of the new year in the administration of our City Government.

The policy of changing the government from that of a Town to that of a City, at first considered a doubtful one by many, is now coming, after four years' experience, I think, to be regarded with general favor. The practical workings of the system have thus far fully realized the hopes of its friends, and disappointed the honest fears of its opponents.

To us, Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen and of the Common Council, has been entrusted, by the votes of our fellow citizens, the administration of the government for the year to come. It is a trust which brings with it a corresponding responsibility. The power given to us is a delegated power; and we are justly accountable to those from whom our appointment has proceeded. It is a power, too, which is guarded by its proper limits, which we do well fully to understand, that we may in no instance transcend, nor exercise a power which has not been committed to us. I trust gentlemen, that we shall be animated by an honorable purpose to show ourselves worthy of the confidence that has been reposed in us; and that whatever errors may mark our course, will be errors of judgment, not of intention.

The experience and observation of the past year, makes me desirous of calling attention to a few topics demanding your consideration and perhaps your action.

Of the state of our finances it is not necessary that I should speak particularly, as that will be spread before you, and before the citizens generally, in the printed Report of the Mayor and Aldermen. From that report it will be seen that the expenditures for the year just closed have considerably exceeded the appropriations: but it will also be seen that there have been some demands on the treasury, such as may not be expected soon to be repeated.

We have hitherto been without any well settled system in the care of the streets.—There has never been, it is believed, any scientific survey of the streets, by which the relative grades of the different portions of the city could be determined. The consequence has been that much of what has been done has been worse than useless; and the condition of the crossings in many parts of the city during the last few weeks has demonstrated the necessity of some more systematic course in future.

The sidewalks which ought always to be elevated above the middle of the streets, are in many places lower by many inches. We believe that if the streets had been properly graded twenty years ago, (as they ought to have been at a much earlier period,) and if one half of the money had been expended in paving the streets, that has been expended in filling them up, our streets would be in much better condition than they are at present.

The remedy for the continued increase of this evil is to be found, it seems to me, in an accurate survey of the city, by which the Street Commissioner could be guided in all his labors. I would therefore suggest the propriety of taking early steps to secure such a survey.

The Fire Department of the city has hitherto been inefficient, not from any want of skill or energy in the men who have constituted it, but from a deficiency of good engines: and the property of our citizens has thus been exposed to great hazard. We congratulate the city that two new modern engines have been added to the machinery of our fire department during the year; and the addition of a larger supply of hose will perhaps leave nothing more to be desired at present in that department. The alacrity and energy of our fire companies on occasions of alarm, are worthy of our highest commendations.

The Schools of the city have been conducted with the usual degree of prosperity during the year. Our system, ranging as it does from primary school in which the simplest rudiments are taught, up to the high school in which all the demands of a good common education, are met, is all that can be desired.—And it is believed there are few cities in which a more accomplished, laborious, and faithful company of teachers is to be found.

There is great need of better school accommodations in some districts. But this is especially true of the rooms for the High Schools. I would enquire whether your attention ought not very early to be directed to this matter, and whether the highest interests of the City do not demand an immediate and liberal appropriation for this object. That economy is sadly misapplied, which withholds aught that would improve the means of educating the young.

In connection with this subject, it is worthy of being mentioned that more than two thirds of the children of our foreign population have been withdrawn from our common schools during the year, and are, so far as we are informed, growing up in the midst of us without any school education whatever. I cannot but regard this as an alarming fact; one which threatens to mingle a most dangerous element in the future condition of our city: and I commend it to your most serious consideration.

We feel in this community the need of a State Reform School. There are many instances of juvenile crimes yearly occurring amongst us, for the prevention or cure of which we greatly need such an Institution. It is hoped that this subject will yet receive the favorable action of our Legislature.

I regret to say, what we all know, that there is a great, and we have reason to fear, a constantly increasing amount of intemperance among us. You are all too familiar with the sad results of this evil, to need that I should attempt to depict them. The consequent ruin of health, of business prospects, and of domestic peace, is a very serious drawback upon our prosperity. But there is a point at which this evil touches the pecuniary interest of every citizen. A great portion of our pauper tax is the direct result of intemperance. Take away the cases demanding out of door help which have been created by this evil, and there would be but few left: dismiss from our almshouse all who have been sent there by this evil, and most of its rooms would be emptied.

I do not feel called upon to recommend specific measures for arresting and remedying this evil; nor do I feel competent to the task. But that it is an evil of sufficient magnitude to demand your most earnest consideration, is apparent to you all. What shall be done? What can be done to diminish it by the government of the city, I cannot doubt will be cheerfully done by you. And upon the best means to be employed it is for you, gentlemen, to deliberate and decide.

In regard to the general morals of the city, you will agree with me in the opinion that it becomes us to feel a very lively interest. No commercial embarrassment is to be compared for a moment with an increase of profligacy among us.

Whatever, then, by the force of example, the power of personal influence, or by the exercise of legitimate authority, can be done by us to preserve and improve the morals of our city, I have confidence to believe, will receive your cordial approbation and co-operation.

These few suggestions, gentlemen, are on topics which have appeared to me to be of special importance. I leave them with you. They will receive from you, I doubt not, the consideration which they deserve. Permit me to close by expressing my confidence that the same forbearance and co-operation which I have received from the gentlemen with whom I was associated during the past year, will be granted me by you; the hope that nothing may occur in our future deliberations, by which our harmony shall be disturbed; and the ardent wish that we may come to the close of this year with the consciousness of having honestly endeavored to do our duty.

At the close of the address the Convention rose; and the Common Council balloted for the choice of President. Abraham Q. Wendell had 8 votes: William H. Y. Hackett had 10, and was elected. On taking the Chair he said—

Gentlemen of the Common Council:—I thank you for this expression of your confidence and friendship; and in the discharge of my duties as President of this Council, will endeavor to deserve it.

John W. Fernald was elected Clerk by 12 votes out of 13.

The two boards then went in Convention, to choose a City Clerk; and John Bennett, having 26 votes, was unanimously reelected.

The Convention rose; and after adopting the rules of last year, both boards adjourned to meet at the City Rooms on Thursday evening next.

The attendance of spectators was large and respectable, and the occasion passed off in a pleasant and agreeable manner.

☞ The election of School Committee for District No. 2, takes place this afternoon at 4 o'clock, at Mr. Senter's school room.

☞ Thomas Conner, and Ellen Conner his wife, were on Saturday last sentenced to 30 days in the house of correction, for keeping a disorderly house at the foot of Court street.

☞ The black fellow who has frightened and disturbed many of our citizens, has been apprehended by Marshal Beck, and sent home.

CITY LYCEUM.—The lecture at the Cameneum on Tuesday evening, was delivered to a good audience, by Rev. Mr. Moore. His subject was the Character, Genius and Works of John Milton, each and all of which were eulogized in glowing strains by the lecturer, who expressed in eloquent language his high admiration of the blind poet, and defended his tone, conduct and temper with the utmost zeal and enthusiasm.

The next lecture, the last of this course, is to be by the same lecturer, and will be a continuation of this, with readings from Milton's Poems. It is to be delivered on Thursday evening of next week.

For the Chronicle.

MR. GARRISON'S LECTURE.

Messrs. Editors:—I am glad we are to have the opportunity to hear Mr. Garrison this week. At the present crisis of affairs in our country, it will be a peculiar privilege to hear from his own lips the views of one, who, more than twenty years ago, nobly stood forth in the promulgation and defence of those principles which are now arousing the christian sympathies of our people. It is a happy developement of influence in behalf of the slave, that christian ministers and churches are now feeling a deep spiritual pressure upon this subject. The Rev. Mr. Storrs of Brooklyn, last week uttered this sentiment before a Boston audience:

"Until this last enormous stride of the slaveholding power, I had felt my duty to the subject discharged, by preaching a general Christianity. I see now that this is insufficient.—We must make the most direct and the most pointed application of Gospel truth to this subject. God claims that each of us do what and all he can."

We have seen many such hopeful indications within the last few weeks. God speed the right.

A SUBSCRIBER.

CONCERT AT HAMPTON.—We learn there is to be a Concert of Sacred and Secular Music, at the Congregational Church in Hampton, on Thursday evening, March 30th,—the proceeds to assist in procuring an organ for that Church. A worthy object, which should be well encouraged.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE AFRICA.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Steamship Africa, Capt. Gunison, arrived from Liverpool at half past 8. She sailed at 9 A. M. of the 11th.

The Africa brought 95 passengers.

The statement that Kalafat was captured by the Russians was totally unfounded. No fighting worthy of notice has taken place either on the Danube or in Asia.

The London Daily News says (without date) that the Czar had sent another proposal over to Vienna, which the representatives of the Four Powers found inadmissable and rejected.

The messenger with France and England's ultimatum to the Czar, left Vienna for St. Petersburgh on the 7th. Prussia and Austria have not signed this ultimatum, their policy being still defined as to neutrality for the present and mediation for the future. The first division consisting of fourteen British ships under the command of Sir Charles Napier were to sail from Portsmouth on the 11th for the Baltic. It is said that 3000 British troops will go to the Baltic for land service. The 77th Regiment embarked at Liverpool on the 11th for Turkey. The allied fleets were at Beycos bay, the bulk of the Russian fleet at Sebastopol. Both fleets had cruisers in the Black Sea.

Ship Pantheon struck and sunk near Holyhead, on the night of the 8th. Eight of the crew got safe on shore; fate of the others not then known.

Some excitement was caused in commercial circles by Lord Clarendon's announcement to Riga merchants, that all Russian produce, no matter to whom it belongs, and even in neutral vessels, shall be considered a lawful prize, in the event of war.

Breadstuffs had declined a little in England.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, March 27.

SENATE.—The Senate to-day was engaged on the Deficiency bill.

All the amendments to the bill reported by the Finance Committee were adopted without objection, except two, one of which was that appropriating $250,000 for a custom house in San Francisco. Mr. Hunter explained, and advocated the amendment. Mr. Hamlin proposed an amendment appropriating $200,000 for rebuilding a custom house at Portland. A debate ensued, and the bill was postponed.

The Homestead bill being the special order of the day, Mr. Mason moved that it be postponed, and the Senate went into executive session.

HOUSE.—The House concurred in all the Senate amendments to the Appropriation bill, with the exception of that providing for a council with the Blackfeet Indians.

The bill establishing railroad and telegraphic communication between the Atlantic and Pacific Ocean was made the special order for the third Tuesday in May.

A bill was passed establishing four additional land offices in Minnesota.

The bill authorizing the construction of six steam frigates was made the special order for to-morrow, and on each succeeding day until disposed of.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the Civil and Diplomatic Appropriation bill, when Mr. Cutting replied to the remarks of Mr. Breckenridge, made last week, on the Nebraska bill. Mr. Cutting spoke with much warmth, denying the imputation of being unfriendly to the bill, and reiterating the assertion that no gentleman in the House was more favorable to its main prima facie principles than himself.

He was frequently interrupted by Messrs. Richardson and Breckenridge, and had a severe personal altercation with the latter.

NAVAL.—The Navy Department has late advices from Commodore Stringham, in command of the Mediterranean squadron.

The Saranac had returned from Constantinople, whither she had been to convey Hon. Carroll Spence. The St. Louis, Capt. Ingraham, sailed from Spezzia on the 22d February for Constantinople.

Letters have also been received from Commodore Perry, at Hong Kong, January 2. He was expecting to start in a short time on his second expedition to Japan. The statement that this expedition had been abandoned and the squadron recalled is erroneous. After the return from Japan the East India squadron will be reduced, as the force in those seas will be much larger than necessary after the expedition shall have performed the duty assigned it.

No alarm is yet felt at the Navy Department in relation to Lieut. Strain's surveying party, who went to make a reconnoissance of a Panama ship canal route.—New York Times.

MRS. PARTINGTON AT MARBLEHEAD.—A lecture was given on Monday night, in Lyceum Hall, Marblehead, by Ben. P. Shillaber, Esq., the chronicler of the quaint sayings of the world-renowned Mrs. Partington. The production was a rhymed essay on "The Press, showing its greatnesses and its littlenesses—its mightinesses and its meannesses," and furnishing a few features of those connected with it. The lecture was well received by a crowded audience, who listened with evident pleasure and satisfaction. Mr. Shillaber delivers his poem in Salem next Thursday evening.

☞ Mrs. Partington has been engaged as one of the lecturers for the "Mercantile" Course of Lectures next winter.

A FINE SHIP.—The Boston Transcript says:—

The ship Fleetwood, Captain Frank Dale, that arrived on Thursday from China, came into port in the finest order that we ever saw a ship enter the harbor of Boston. Both outboard and inboard, on deck and aloft, she presented a most beautiful and trim appearance. She brought a full cargo of tea and cassia.

TRUTHS AND TRIFLES.—When does a man devour a musical instrument? When he has a piano-forte (piano for tea.)

What is that which Adam never saw, never possessed, and yet he gave to each of his children? Parents.

An Irish paper says, that amongst those mortally wounded at Waterloo, was Major O'Brien, afterwards Mayor of Dublin.

"Oh, dear, Mr. F., you jest when you say my babe is the handsomest you ever saw; you must be soft-soaping." "Well, madam, I think it needed soap of some kind."

A green-horn went to a menagerie to examine the beasts, the birds, and the creeping things there congregated, among which an orang-outang particularly struck his attention. Several gentlemen were conversing about the animal, one of whom expressed the opinion that it was a lower order of the human species. Jonathan did not like this idea, and striding up to the gentleman, expressed his contempt for it thus—"Pooh! pooh! he's no more human species than I be!"

TRIAL OF MISS DELIA WEBSTER.—On Wednesday, Miss Delia Webster, a notorious character in this state, who resides opposite Madison, was arraigned before Judge Gray of Trimble county on a charge of enticing away slaves from their owners in that county. There was evidence that since her residence in that county some twenty slaves had escaped from that neighborhood; also, that Messrs. Day and Cram, who stand indicted in that county for enticing away slaves, reside on the same farm with her and her friends and associates; also, that she had heretofore been convicted on a charge of aiding in the escape of slaves. It was also shown to the Court by a number of the most respectable citizens of her neighborhood that she was generally suspected of having had something to do with the recent escape of slaves from that vicinity. Upon this evidence, Judge Gray required Miss Webster to give bond, with sureties, in the sum of $10,000, that she would be of good behavior, or that she would give bond in the same amount that she would leave the state and never return to it. In default of giving bail as required, Miss Webster is now in the Bedford jail.—Louisville Courier, 18th.

PATENTS.
American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of Twenty), is paid back by others, will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings for procuring patents in the United and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ———.

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,

Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Boston, Dec. 7, 1852. eodly

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the Worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed, growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and buts, humor and has to shout. Its suiting some cases, but not yours. I pedaled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to a boy seven year old; took people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, worm looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It has great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of the system, it will produce a slight feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I have seen the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In 1852, I first commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853. I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs.—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady of 70, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns.

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. If the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of the most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fever two hours, and it never came back. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to cleanse the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most strict diet, (food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what has cured, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary: Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb, simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, tea spoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equal-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been used may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling House.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,
Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

Rare Chance.

THE subscriber now offers for sale one undivided HALF of the well known Property situated on Market Square, and bounded as follows, to wit: on the North by the Congregational Meeting House, on the South by Warren street, on the West by Church street, and on the East by Market square, and measure one hundred feet square, together with all the BUILDINGS thereon; said Building is now occupied as Store, Public House and Private Residence, and rents for $275.00 per annum. The Building is in good repair and has lately been painted and papered throughout. Gas and water are attached to the building.

Said property, if not disposed of on or before the 1st of April next, will be sold at Public Auction. For further particulars enquire of INTOLERANCE IN CUBA.

Concluded.

About three months before the death of my wife, we had removed from Matanzas to a coffee estate 12 miles in the interior, but belonging to the parish of Matanzas. There my wife died. A few days before her death, she requested that her body might not be left in that horrible ground, but, if possible, be taken home, to rest beside her departed loved ones. This, without hesitation I promised should be done— and by the mercy of God, I was enabled to accomplish it: but through much tribulation and at great risk. At the end of six weeks after her death, my sacred promise was fulfilled. Immediately after her death, I had the body enclosed in a metallic coffin, and that packed in a suitable box, and then, through the American Consul, (an excellent man,) I made application for a permit to remove the body, offering to pay to the Church five times the fees allowed by law, but all conditions were refused—except that I must first bring the body to the town, and bury it in the usual way. Then I must employ a lawyer to draw up petitions to the Bishop at Havana, the Governor General of the Island, and to some three or four minor authorities. When all these had agreed to it, and I had paid all charges, I would be allowed to remove the body.

These charges they told me, would amount to some $1,500 or 2,000, and the time required to get through the whole matter would be a month or six weeks. Of course we remonstrated, and argued the case in every possible way—all the influence of the American Consul, (since deceased) being used in my favor without avail. The party to whom we applied, and who, we were told, had the power to grant permission for removal, was, I believe, the Secretary of the Governor of that district. Finding all arguments fail, the Consul kindly tried to dissuade me, saying 'What possible difference can it make where the poor dust shall lie? But in addition to my promise, the idea of associating the last of my beloved one with that horrible place was too revolting to be borne; and I resolved to accomplish it at all hazards. The Consul himself warned me against taking the course which the authorities had pointed out, saying there was but one object in it, which was to wring from me all the money possible; and that if I should pay the $1,500 or 2,000 named, the object would not be accomplished, and other impediments would be thrown in my way, as long as they thought I could raise a dollar, or my friends for me.

I then told the Consul, that in that case, I should take it away without authority. He told me the consequences would be tremendous if found out. The penalty would be $5,000 fine, and imprisonment for five years, at the option of the Church; and moreover, if found on board a vessel, the risk also of her confiscation, and no redress from the civil authorities, as it would be a violation of the Ecclesiastical Code, and the civil authorities would not interfere. It was then I found, on enquiry, that to bury in the woods, on the estate, or in fact anywhere, except in that disgusting spot, I should incur a penalty of $2,000. Under these cruel and embarrassing circumstances, I endeavored to keep the box containing the body above ground, until I could find a captain bold enough to take it on board. I hid it in an old building on the estate, after having packed it myself, and driven, in fact, the nails in my own wife's coffin, not daring to trust the secret to others. But in a few days the Spanish overseer of the place found it out, and ordered its removal to town, threatening to report if not done.—Here was a painful dilemma; but as Providence willed it, the overseer was called the same day to a distant place, and during his absence, with the help of some negroes, I had the box taken a mile from the house, and "stole a grave" in a thicket of plantain trees. By dint of bribery, and threatening the negroes, I induced them to keep the secret from the overseer, although for the six ensuing weeks I was in constant dread of betrayal. I had one friend in the town, an American who was in the secret, and for me he boarded every vessel that arrived, to find one that would receive the box on board at night, and convey it to any part of the United States, no matter to me where. None would take the risk at any price I could offer, until providentially an old acquaintance, arrived, who said he had formerly received favors from me, and he at once volunteered to take the box, provided I would have it put on board, and guaranty his owners against seizure of the vessel.

To this I agreed, and proceeded at once to find boatmen who would undertake to place it alongside the vessel. I was directed to two Spaniards, with whom I bargained, and at the time agreed on they came to the place—purchased of the overseer a load of fruit to blind his eyes, but remained at the landing till after dark, and at 10 o'clock at night, while all were asleep, we took up the box from the ground, conveyed it on board the boat, and at 12 o'clock, midnight, in the midst of a howling storm, we started down the river towards the bay, at the head of which stands the town, where, half a mile from shore, rode a fleet of vessels at anchor, among which was that of my kind friend, who was waiting for me with my precious charge. Being well skilled in boating, I steered the boat—the two Spaniards rowing.

We had to pass two forts before we could reach the shipping, and also to escape, as best we might, the "guard-boat" that rows about, watching the shipping, all night. On approaching the bay, we found the ocean heaving in heavy swells, which were breaking and foaming fearfully. After a short consultation with the Spaniards, we concluded that there was no alternative but to risk the surf, and after having the boat partially filled several times, got over safely, without being hailed from the fort which stands at this point.—The roar of the storm and surf, and darkness shielded us, and I saved some doubloons intended for the sentinel, to bribe him to let us pass. In the bay we found so heavy a sea, and breaking with the force of the gale, that we were near being swamped several times, and had to row eight miles across, to get under the lee of the land,so as to keep the boat's head to the sea. At last we made the lee,and coasted up, stealthily, close to the bank, when we neared the second fort, which stands upon a sharp promontory, jutting far out into the bay, and under the very walls of which our little boat glided without being hailed. An hour before daylight we were opposite the fleet. So far safe. There under a dark bank, we waited near an hour before we could get sight of the guard boat in the darkness.

At last we descried her leisurely moving about; and waiting until two or three large vessels were in range, the Spaniards pulled as for life to the vessel I pointed out, and we were soon alongside. The kind captain, and his wife also, had been pacing the deck anxiously most of the night expecting us. He called some of his crew and in a few moments the box was securely under hatches; and I was taken on board a small steamer, just at daylight, and conveyed back to the plantation, feeling as though a millstone had fallen from my neck, and rejoicing once more in embracing my dear little girl, three years old, for whose situation among strangers I had suffered great solicitude during the perils of that fearful night, when I thought several times I should have been drowned—and I tried most earnestly to thank the good and merciful God who had brought me through all, and so far kept me from the clutches of the human wolves, which I feared much more than the denizens of the forest.

The storm continued three days, and then the brig fairly got to sea, and I thought my troubles on that score nearly over; but she could not take me and my little girl as passengers, and while waiting for another vessel in which we were to leave, (and which sailed a week after) the church authorities got on the track of the metal coffin, (which I had to get made in the town) and sent a deputation to the country to look into it. When they were gone I placed my little girl with an acquaintance who expected to visit the States in two months, and then I made preparations to fly to Havana, distant 60 miles, the good Consul having agreed to give me notice of the return of the coffin hunters, and their success.—Through the mercy of God they returned no wiser than they went, and I remained secure until the vessel was ready to sail, when, with my little girl and my friend, who had alone been in the secret with me, I went on board, and we were soon bounding down the bay with a fair wind, and in a few hours fairly at sea, with the pleasing sensation of having accomplished fully the object nearest my heart of all others, and saying among ourselves, "How hideous is tyranny under the garb of false religion!"

THURSDAY, MARCH 30, 1854.

CUBAN INTOLERANCE.

If the reader has carefully perused the above article, this may be somewhat shorter than we should otherwise see fit to make it.

When first we saw a statement that some one, Gen. Cass, we believe, had introduced into Congress a preposition for securing the rights of public worship for our citizens in all foreign countries, we thought it might all be very well, though of little practical importance. And when we afterwards saw the rites and rights of burial connected with worship,—we still thought it a small matter; forasmuch as the dead certainly might be buried somewhere.

Our cogitations ran thus: no man can prevent my silent homage rendered to my creator; what matter is it if I be shut out of a church edifice? God's temple is the universe. I may bury my dead in the earth: no matter if the ground be not consecrated.

We have, however, lately seen a bitter complaint, made by Englishmen, that in old Spain, which is a Kingdom by English sufferance, the dead bodies of British subjects, male or female, are hardly allowed to be buried any where, unless they happen to be Catholics.

Then, in the article from Cuba, above mentioned, we see that an enormous charge is made on American citizens who buried a friend, for a burial more horrible than that of a dog in a dunghill,—and that when a bereaved husband wished to bury the remains of his wife in the woods or fields, he was forbidden under heavy pains and penalties.

We would not do injustice to our neighbors; not even to a savage tribe. But if this statement of the civilization, government and religion of Cuba be correct;—then that beautiful island cannot change owners a day too soon;—and her people cannot be worse off by any possible revolution.

In the meantime, we hope Gen. Cass' plan above named, will be promptly put into operation.

VOTE FOR GOVERNOR.—The N. H. Patriot of March 29, gives 1500 as Col. Baker's actual majority in all the towns but 6. These 6, last year, gave for Martin 162 majority: add these together, and Baker has 1662.

The same paper gives the Representatives 163 Democrats; 145 others. Two or three classed towns yet to choose.

BLUNDER UPON BLUNDER.

On Monday we published a strange statement said to be by Senator Clemens, of conversational remarks made by President Pierce. On Wednesday we published a half contradictory explanation from the Washington Star, purporting to be about half authorized by Mr. Clemens.

Now it would appear, however, by the following extract from the Washington correspondence of the N. Y. Herald, that the statement of the Star was unauthorized—that Mr. Clemens does not retract his assertion, but only modifies it slightly. The N. Y. Herald's correspondent says:

Colonel Clemens's letter, giving General Pierce's opinion of the Nebraska bill, has created the most intense excitement here, especially among the Southern members. The demi-semi organ of the Cabinet—the Star—asserts this evening that Colonel Clemens, upon seeing the comments of the press upon it, immediately addressed a note to the President, stating that he did not pretend to give General Pierce's language—that it was probable he had mistaken him, and that what the President said, was: "That he was surprised the men of the North, who intend to give the South their rights under the Constitution, should hesitate to support Judge Douglas's bill when the South were willing to take it," &c. Now, upon the highest authority, we make the following statement: As soon as he saw the Star this afternoon, he addressed a letter to the editor of the Union, telling him that he could not notice any publication in such a paper as the Star, but that if the Union copied it, or made a similar statement, he would be compelled to come out over his own signature, and denounce it as a "lie." He did not promptly address the President a note making the disclaimer, as stated by the Star. On the contrary, the President first addressed Colonel Clemens a note, yesterday morning, requesting him to call and see him. Being engaged, he did not go up; and as he was leaving his room, Sidney Webster came from the President to request him to go to the White House. He said he was engaged in court, and could not go. Mr. Webster, the President's Private Secretary, then got him to promise he would go as soon as the court adjourned. He did call in the afternoon, and had an interview with the President. The result was, after a long conversation, that the President said he had not stated his surprise that the South were willing to take the Nebraska bill. But he confessed that Clemens was correct in writing that "President Pierce gave it as his decided opinion that Douglas's bill was a proposition in favor of freedom," and added, that if it should pass, although we might absorb the whole of Mexico, not another slave State would ever come into the Union. Col. Clemens, not appreciating any material difference, politely yielded the "possibility" of the specific reference to the South being a deduction rather than a positive statement.

Last evening, so anxious was the President about the matter, he again sent Sidney Webster to Col. Clemens, to request him to put in writing the admission, meagre and minute as it was. Col. Clemens accordingly did so, and also stated that the President had remarked that the patriotic men of all sections ought to go for the bill.

Now we have had these two or three versions, we would like to have the President's also.

☞ The Newburyport Herald contains an able and lawyer-like article in favor of the Non Intervention policy of the Nebraska bill, which we had thought was a new policy founded on a new doctrine. The Herald says quite the contrary, and maintains that it was the old Puritan doctrine, laid down on board the May Flower, and planted at Plymouth.—The Herald asserts that Congress has no right to make laws for the people of the territories, as its power is founded upon this simple declaration of the constitution, "Congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territories or other property of the United States." This the Herald expounds as relating only to lands, and not to people. The word "territories" neither included the people or the authorities they might institute; and this is evident from the power that was given Congress "to dispose of and make needful regulations," as of "other property of the United States." They had the same power to "dispose of" as to "regulate," and who claims such power as that—to dispose of the people and territorial authorities, as of other property of the United States!

This is an argument of considerable force; and were it not that Congress has always been intervening in the matter, it might be conclusive. But if the doctrine is so old and so clear, it is wonderful that nobody ever found it out till now; but that every body has gone on under a misapprehension.

CORRECTION.—We notice that the statement in our paper of Thursday, relating to Miss Carroll, has been denied by papers in Baltimore, and the business of that lady pronounced an imposition. As this has taken place in consequence of errors in our statement, resulting from misinformation, we hasten to deprive the Baltimore papers of the grounds for their denial. Miss Carroll belongs to another branch of the Carrollton family, and her father is still alive. We have seen her letter from Reverdy Johnson; and her other letters are of unquestionable value and authenticity. But whoever has seen the lady, and heard her urge her cause, will feel that she is her own best voucher, and we shall heartily regret if any error in statement, inducing suspicion, throws obstacles in the way of her success.—New Bedford Standard.

This rubs out the error pretty well; but it seems to be a pity that Miss Carroll does not belong to the most distinguished branch of that family—or rather it is a pity that no buds of the distinguished branch have benevolence and energy enough to do a work so noble.

LOCAL.

THE OLD PARSONS.

When speaking, as we did the other day, of the ministers of a former day who were active politicians, we did not mention—but we will mention now—the names of the late Rev. Nathan Parker, of Portsmouth, who preached a sermon at which many of his Republican hearers were most indignant: of Rev. Joseph Litchfield of Kittery, who was a republican: of Rev. Huntington Porter of Rye, who was a well known federalist, and used sometimes to cast the only federal vote in his town: of Rev. Hosea Ballou of Portsmouth, who by a republican sermon sent off his two wealthier federal parishioners: of Rev. Elias Smith of Portsmouth, who was a great republican, and whose Herald of Gospel Liberty was quite as spicy on political as on religious subjects: and of Rev. Messrs. Pickering, Metcalf and Brodhead, Methodist Ministers, all ardent republicans, and the latter a member of Congress from this State.

A Washington correspondent of the Boston Advertiser says:

Senator Badger cannot have forgotten the famous Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, of May 20, 1775, more than a year antecedent to the 4th of July, 1776, deservedly esteemed a bright point in the history of his own State of North Carolina. The first person who signed this document after its author and the officers of the Convention, was the Reverend Hezekiah Balch, a Presbyterian clergyman, and he made a speech upon the occasion. If Mr. Butler should be looking up the political history of South Carolina, about the times of nullification and State rights, it is possible he may stumble upon (what I have not been able to find, although I am assured that it exists,) a proclamation by Gov. Hayne, calling upon the clergymen of South Carolina to preach State rights upon a particular Sabbath.

A clergyman who once lived in South Carolina, has told us that a large portion of the preachers in that State preached nullification in the days of its greatest agitation.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.—At the meeting of School District No. 2, on Wednesday afternoon, Timothy G. Senter was chosen Moderator, and the following gentlemen were elected Committee for the ensuing year:

William Lamson, John Stavers, Robert O. Treadwell, Geo. M. Marsh, Sam'l J. Dodge, Marcellus Bafford, Andrew Gardner.

☞ The School Meeting in District No. 1, is to be held at the Ward Room this evening at 7 o'clock.

☞ Mr. Garrison's lecture on Individual Responsibility as to Slavery, is to be delivered in the Temple this evening,—when all who wish may hear for themselves, the address of this most distinguished and steadfast abolitionist, and judge for themselves whether he is mad, or whether he speaks the words of truth and soberness.

For the Chronicle.

THE MONTH OF MARCH.

March used to be the first Spring month; but it now hath Sprung a winter upon the land and all the inhabitants thereof; or winter may have stolen a month, not upon us—but from us. Robin songs, and cold snows, and brooks fast in ice, seem incongruous. A robin or two come in a tree in front of my window every morning; and when the sun with his early rays makes everything so glowing, these little red breasts essay a song, but it is a failure; that is, it is not the robius's summer song.—They look as if they wanted to sing, but how can they, while they are in a strange land? They really do not seem certain of their locality. Certainly there is the old mill stream; but then it is ice bound; and there is the pine grove, where we used to tune up every morning, but see how the snow is mantling there. Where are all the sunny children who used to be running with many a laugh to greet our first coming?

See what faith these Robins have. Their instincts will never wrong them. They may be tried a little, but the sunshine and warmth of Spring, will awaken their song at last, and there will be liquid praise all round our dwellings after a while. "Wait a little longer." March will soon march out; and then comes April, always a weeping month; and perhaps she will find full cause for weeping this time in the icy ungeniality of her sometimes sunny and glad predecessor. But every tear she drops, will be like the hiding of germs in the soil, to be found hereafter in a wealth of harvesting. *

A large stable on Bremen street, East Boston, owned by the Eastern Railroad, and leased by D. Meritt & Co., was destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock on Tuesday morning. The occupants had 17 valuable horses in the stable, eight of which were burned to death, and the others got out with great difficulty. The harnesses were all destroyed, and two or three sleds and wagons. Fire supposed to have originated in some cotton which had been stored in a shed adjoining the stable. It was a portion of that which was damaged by fire on the side of the Eastern Railroad on the 18th inst.

Dead Shot for Bed Bugs!

SLEEP IN PEACE.

ALL good House-keepers will be glad to hear of an article for the destruction of Bed Bugs, reliable and sure. The Dead Shot is a saturated tincture of a

POISONOUS GUM RESIN,

Which evaporates very slowly, and will not lose its destructive properties for months. One instance is known where Bugs in LARGE NUMBERS were destroyed by it, where none had been applied later than the previous year. Keepers of Hotels have found that a thorough use of the Dead Shot in every suspicious place, has kept their house free from Bugs for years.

IT IS PUNGENT AND DEADLY.

Apply it to insects it curls them up and lays them out as readily as sulphur fumes kill bees. It is a TRAP READY SET for these noxious tormenters of our nightly rest.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, March 28.

SENATE.—The Senate to-day ordered the printing of the report of the committee appointed to investigate the claims represented to the Board of Commissioners under the Mexican treaty.

The Deficiency bill was then taken up, when Mr. Gwin withdrew his amendment providing for a Custom House at San Francisco.

After the consideration of several amendments, the Deficiency bill was postponed until to-morrow, and the Senate went into executive session.

HOUSE.—The House passed a resolution providing for the expense of codifying and revising the revenue laws, and then went into Committee on the General Appropriation bill.

Mr. Yates of Illinois made a very strong speech against the Nebraska bill, when the General Appropriation bill was laid aside, and the committee proceeded to the consideration of the bill which authorizes the construction of six steam frigates.

Mr. Bocock of Virginia, Chairman of the Naval Committee, spoke at length, urging the prompt passage of the bill.

Mr. Lyon of New York, gave notice that he should move an amendment to increase the Navy by building twelve first class steam frigates. He spoke at length in favor of the bill.

Mr. Franklin of Maryland, made a speech in opposition to the Nebraska bill, when the committee rose and the House adjourned.

SUPPOSED DUEL.—The news from Washington is, that Messrs. Cutting and Breckenridge are to have a duel.

The New York Herald correspondent says:

"It is rumored this evening, the 28th, that Mr. Cutting challenged Mr. Breckenridge last night, and that an acceptance of the duel was received at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Mr. Cutting, through his friend, Col. Munroe of New York, Mr. Hawkes of Kentucky acting as the friend of Mr. Breckenridge."

The correspondent of the Express says:—

"Messrs. Breckenridge and Hawkes left in the five o'clock train this afternoon, for the North, and that it is believed that Messrs. Cutting and Hunt also left at the same time, all being engaged in an affair of honor."

That is—all, all honorable men; all have made fools of themselves; all are in danger of being murderers. Can anybody who knows them tell the public whether all, or any of them are sober men? We rather suppose they must have been heated with wines and brandies, when they went into the debate where the quarrel began.

P. S.—It was reported in Boston Wednesday evening, that the duel came off, and that Mr. Cutting was killed. Other reports state that Breckenridge is killed. Washington and New York despatches also give contradictory rumors; neither B. nor C. was in the House on Wednesday.

THE BLACK WARRIOR.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Times, writes on the 27th:—

A gentleman who arrived to-night from Havana, via Charleston, brings reliable information in relation to the case of the Black Warrior. The Court had agreed to condemn her cargo, and imposed a fine of $50,000 on the vessel, which it was expected would be sold to pay it. But before the Court pronounced the decree, the Captain-General advised with his mercantile friends, who satisfied him that the proceedings were all wrong; whereupon he ordered a commission of five to consider the subject. The commission, under his instructions, decreed that the vessel and cargo be returned to the captain on the payment of $6000. Captain Bulloch received her, under protest, and ordered a survey. It is thought the fine will be remitted. The final decree is considered a confession by the authorities that they have been in error.

THE FUGITIVE SLAVE CASE.—The steamship Keystone State, arrived at Philadelphia port on Saturday morning, the 18th inst., from Savannah. When entering Delaware Bay, a man was discovered secreted outside the vessel under the guards. He was found to be a fugitive slave, who had secreted himself there before the vessel sailed on the Wednesday previous, and had remained in that position up to the time he was discovered—three days. His position was such that the water swept over and around him almost constantly. He had some bread in his pocket which he intended for subsistence until he could reach the city. It was saturated with salt water and dissolved to a pulp. The vessel had encountered high winds, and the position of the fugitive was such that he must have severely suffered. Upon reaching New Castle the fugitive was placed in jail there to await the order of his owner in Savannah.

That man had an idea that there was something in being a freeman; he thought liberty was sweet, and almost suffered death rather than live a slave.

A letter from San Francisco, dated March 1st, says the losses on flour and provisions shipped there will be immense. On a parcel of 1000 barrels sold, the owner was drawn upon for $1900 to pay the freight and charges, after losing the first cost of the article. A full cargo of over 7000 bbls. had just arrived from Richmond, in the ship Samuel Appleton, on which the loss would be $40,000, over $5 a barrel. Had there been a telegraph line through, this vessel might have been ordered directly back with her cargo, and the rise in price here since she left would have paid the expenses of the voyage, thus saving the owner $40,000.

ARRESTS.—New York, March 29.—Mr. I. D. Holbrook, late City Treasurer of Williamsburgh, has been arrested on a charge of embezzling the city funds to the amount of about $135,000.

Twenty-five journeymen tailors, belonging to the Tailors' United Protective Union, were arrested yesterday on a charge of conspiring to prevent other journeymen from getting employment.

AN ORIGINAL LOVE STORY.

From the N. Y. Spirit of the Times.

He struggled to kiss her. She struggled the same
To prevent him, so bold and undaunted;
But, as smitten by lightning, he heard her exclaim,
"Avaunt, sir!" and off he avaunted.

But when he returned, with the fiendishest laugh,
Showing clearly that he was affronted,
And threatened by main force to carry her off,
She cried "Don't!" and the poor fellow donted.

When he meekly approached, and got down at her feet,
Praying loud, as before he had ranted,
That she would forgive him, and try to be sweet,
And said, "Can't you?"—the dear girl recanted.

Then softly he whispered—"How could you do so?
I certainly thought I was jilted.
But come thou with me, to the parson we'll go;
Say, wilt thou, my dear?" and she wilted.

Then gaily he took her to see her new home—
A shanty by no means enchanted—
"See! here we can live with no longing to roam,"
He said, "Shan't we, my dear?" So they shanted!

A BROKEN HEAD.—A Col. Mitchel, of Minnesota, got his head broke in a barber's shop in Washington, for insulting Mr. Clark Mills, the artist. It seems the Colonel went into the shop "in an excited state," and evidently not knowing what he was about, addressed one gentleman after another familiarly, as though they were old friends, though with them he had no acquaintance; and finally, after dealing thus with Mr. Mills, and rubbing his chin, he proceeded to threaten Mr. Mills that he would cut his throat, &c.; whereupon Mills seized a foot stool and gave the drunken Colonel two severe blows on the head, which it was at first thought would cause death.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT—

Every land has hailed with
Xtacy this preparation whose
Intrinsic merits has introduced its
Curative powers to the notice of the whole
American people. Rheumatism of long duration,
Neuralgia, with its tortures, have yielded to its

Magical influence; cancers, contorted joints,
Ulcerated and swollen limbs that have
Suffered for years under the weight of disease,
Turn by its application to suppleness and health.
A remedy of such general usefulness that can
Restore newness of Action to the diseased nerves,
Arteries and glands of the human body,
Is worthy of high praise.

Let the rheumatic, halt, lame and palsied
Invalid examine its qualities, and they will
Not be disappointed. Years of study and
Investigation have enabled the proprietors of the Mexican Mustang Liniment to furnish a remedy,
Extraordinary in its power over diseases,
No matter of how long standing—sold at

PATENTS.
American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1836) is determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ———.

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully, Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Boston, Dec 7 1852. eodly

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, humor and he's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave to the children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In the year 1852 we commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853. I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs.—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady aged 70, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. If the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fit two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to clean the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb, simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years and under, a dessertspoonful from five to eight, tea spoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

TO LET—HALF of House No 66 Pleasant street, containing 8 rooms. Possession given April 1st. Inquire of THACHER EMERY, No. 72 Pleasant street, or at Charles T. Emery's Jewelry Store, No. 10 Market sqr. m22

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two scuileries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city. each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the ship-yards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the ship-yards, or at the Navy Yard and Depot opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOHN M. EDMONDS,
Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

LAST SURVIVOR OF THE BATTLE OF LEXINGTON.—The venerable Jonathan Harrington, of Lexington, the last survivor of the memorable conflict of April 18th, 1775, died on Sunday, in the 96th year of his age. The deceased was born in Lexington, where his father was a prominent citizen. He had designed his son Jonathan for college, and the lad was engaged in his studies when the revolutionary war commenced. Though but 17 years of age, he was connected with the Provincial militia, and at the battle of Lexington played the fife for one of the companies in that engagement. His father's house was ransacked by the British troops and the books of the youthful student were destroyed. By that wanton act his course of life was changed. The loss of his books was fatal to the pursuit of his studies, and he followed the occupation of a farmer. During the last quarter of a century he has been the object of much regard to his neighbors and all visitors at Lexington. His presence on public occasions has given added interest to the numerous celebrations, and as the number of revolutionary veterans has decreased, he has received a larger share of public attention. His old age was passed surrounded by relatives, who watched with much interest the evident decay of his vital powers. He had many visitors, and most of his conversation related to the interesting scenes of his early life. The actors in the opening scene of the American Revolution have all been "gathered to their fathers." By the death of Mr. Harrington, the connecting link is broken between the present generation and those who took a firm stand in the field against the power of the mother country seventy-nine years ago next month. He lived to see his native land achieve its independence, and become one of the mighty powers among the nations. He was born a Colonist, but died an American citizen, full of years and crowned with much honor.—Boston Transcript.

RE-MARRIED AFTER AN ABSENCE OF TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.—The Conneaut (Ohio) Reporter mentions the marriage at that place, on the 11th of February, of Mr. Elias Jones and Mrs. Delia Swap, and gives the following interesting sketch of the parties:

There is a little history connected with the above which may not be uninteresting to the reader. About the close of the last war with Great Britain, the parties became acquainted with each other, and in April, 1822, were married, in the county of Genesee, N. Y., against the consent and wishes of relatives on both sides. A few weeks prior to the birth of their second son, Bradford, now of this place, Mr. Jones left his family for the purpose of purchasing a piece of land, and during his absence his wife was persuaded by her relatives to desert her home and husband and reside with them. Mr. Jones, on learning the fact, and being threatened with violence if he attempted to claim his family, left the country and went to sea. On his return, several years subsequent, he ascertained that Mrs. Jones had again married, and removed to the west.

In palliation of this transaction, it should be stated that the wife supposed her former husband dead, and did receive tidings of his supposed loss at sea. Mr. Jones immediately returned to his vocation on the sea, and from that period until a few weeks since, lost all trace of his wife and his two sons. After a space of twenty-five years he chanced, by a mere circumstance, to learn the residence of his two sons, and wended his steps to this place, where, to his gratification, he learned that their mother was still living, and a widow, residing in Mercer, Pa., having lost her second husband after rearing ten children. In company with his son, Mr. Jones started for the residence of the partner of his youth, who at once recognised and welcomed him to her home; though she could not have been more surprised had he risen from the grave to confront her. The trials of the past were recounted, the love of youth renewed, and after a brief courtship, they were again plighted, and the finale is recorded at the head of this article.

HOBBS'S LOCK.—It was one of Hobbs's cheap till locks which the foreman of Mr. Chubb picked in England. Mr. Hobbs himself explained how this might be picked, and afterwards added a simple protection. The Messrs. Chubb improved upon the hint, set their foreman at work on one of the old locks, and boasted to the world that they had picked the famous Hobbs lock. Mr. Hobbs offered £200 if they would pick his American lock, known as the bank lock, but the trial was declined.—Boston Journal.

Families who thought of leaving for the country last week, have now concluded to take in another supply of coal.—Boston Evening Gazette.

I will listen to any one's convictions, but pray keep your doubts to yourself. I have plenty of my own.

A boy of 14 years died in Watertown last week, of fever brought on by a struggle with another lad.

The unimproved lands of Oregon are so barren that a surveyor writes:—"I think the United States ought to make Great Britain take it all back, or fight. Thank God we did not get up to 54 40; 49 is bad enough."

THE CITY MISSION.

A few days ago the Constitution of the City Missionary Society was published in your paper, and it is earnestly hoped that it met with a careful perusal on the part of the thinking, benevolent and order loving portion of our community. That Constitution embodies and elaborates the idea of a system of benevolent operations, in every way calculated to promote the good of all classes in the community, particularly that class, which from various untoward causes, are more specially interested in the benevolence and christian charity and forbearance of their neighbors.

It seems to be an arrangement in the social system, that those who have the ability to do good, shall have, also, occasion to employ that ability. And to employ that ability in the most approved channels, under the auspices of a system, so as to accomplish the largest amount of good to the greatest number, in the shortest time, is in all respects and on all accounts desirable. The City Missionary Society, when looked at in its own proper light, and in the relations which it sustains to the moral health of the city is an indispensable arrangement. We, a community, cannot do wi hout the Society, nor can we do without the Missionary. The people seem to regard the laborious and active and successful Missionary as one of the city fixtures, though a fixture which some of the "boys" would rather see unfixed.

The work of the Missionary Society, is like a silent under current. We cannot see all that it is accomplishing. But if we were without its influence for a month, we might possibly have a larger idea of the necessity of such an institution.

He knows all the streets, and all the families, and all the boys, almost, in the city. He is going about here, there and everywhere. He is settling family quarrels; preventing broken hearts, and sometimes broken heads; influencing men to refrain from the use of intoxicating liquors, and even exerting an influence in some respect upon those who sell ardent spirits. We cannot fairly realize the extent of his labors in connection with this latter point. And then he is dispensing groups of idle boys; detecting their vicious propensities, and checking them in their vicious courses; getting them into schools, and watching them so as to keep them there; and in this way, saving many a boy from growing up in ignorance and vice.

He is providing work for industrious fathers and sons; procuring places in the country on farms or at trades for grown up children. We saw him the other day sending off a lad in one of our trains, for a farmer's home and a farmer's life; and though the little fellow was sad and wept as the cars moved off, yet we doubt not that the time is coming, if he lives, when he will bless the day on which he was taken care of by the City Missionary and provided with a place, where virtue and industry might be developed in him as he was growing up to manhood.

If any family in our city wants a man or a boy, a woman or a girl, to do "chores" about house; or to attend to any little incidental matters of work in the wood house, cellar or garden, Mr. Abbott can furnish such help at a short notice. The Missionary Society is industrial, as well as charitable, and must prove a great blessing to the whole community.

Now let the community come forward and do itself a great blessing in sustaining the Missionary and his mission. Entrust your money to him and them, to carry on the charitable work of the organization. It will not cost you a tithe of that to sustain the society, which it would cost you to take care of vicious boys in the alms house or in the jail. Every cent you give will come back to you in the reduction of taxes, and in the reward of having a prosperous community, industrious and happy in the common walks of life. *

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

☞ Blackwood's Magazine, for March, 1854, is just received from Leonard Scott & Co., publishers, New York. Contents: Disraeli, a Biography; The Quiet Heart, Part 4; The Russian Church and the Protectorate in Turkey; The Two Arnolds; Count Sigismund's Will; News from the Farm; Alexander Smith's Poems; The Epidemics of the Middle Ages; The Song of Metrodorus; The New Reform Bill.

☞ The Water Cure Journal—and the American Prenological Journal—for April 1854, are received from the publishers, Messrs. Fowlers & Wells, New York and Boston. Both are valuable works, and enjoy a wide circulation.

NEW YORK, March 29—Arrival of the Ohio.—The steamer Ohio arrived here this afternoon from Aspinwall, having left on the 18th, bringing 350 passengers, and $780,000 in specie.

THE MARKETS.

The Foreign Grain Markets, because of good weather, and in spite of the war, have at last made a grand tumble.

In the News by the Franklin, from Southampton, England, it is said in reporting the Liverpool Market, March 15, Flour declined in the week between three and four shillings. Wheat declined sixpence during the same period. Corn is unchanged. Provisions are steady.

By the Canada, under the date of Liverpool, March 18, we read that Flour further receded about 18d to 2s, with moderate transactions. Philad and Balt 36 to 36s 6d; sour 32s 6d to 33s. Indian Corn difficult of sale and offered at 6d to 1s reduction; white 44 to 45s; yellow 44s; mixed 43s.

In Paris, March 17, it is said, the price of wheat has fallen at least two francs per hectolitre. Barley and oats have fallen in proportion. In almost all the markets around Paris there has been a corresponding fall.

MAYOR OF PORTLAND.—We learn from the Portland Argus, which we consider good authority on the subject, that the Portland Democratic City Committee have decided that it is inexpedient, under existing circumstances, to call the usual Ward Caucuses, and that the Whig City Committee had previously determined upon the same policy.

The Argus further remarks:

As we understand the matter, there will be no party nominations in the field. The two leading candidates—JAMES B. CAHOON and NEAL DOW have both been put upon the course by the citizens, without reference to political predilections. They are both whigs, however. How the contest will terminate, no one can at present predict. The scattering votes may be sufficient to defeat an election. But the friends of each are confident of success, and are marshalling their forces with energy. There are committees in every ward, and in nearly every street in each ward, and the voters are nearly all marked and numbered. The vote will be very large. It is proper to say that the Maine Law question is not really at issue in this contest, although from the fact that Mr. Dow is again in the field, one not much acquainted with the internal affairs of Portland, might infer otherwise. Mr. Cahoon is openly and avowedly in favor of that law, and has been so from the start. In fact, he has been a practical as well as theoretical friend of temperance from his youth up. And among his supporters are found some of the staunchest friends of the cause in the city.

We don't exactly understand the parties in Portland, but wolud, if called upon, characterize them as Maine Law, and Ultra Maine Law. Perhaps the liberals, or wildcats, may nominate a democratic mayor, and run them both off the track. We shall soon see.

The Southside Democrat, a disunion print published at Petersburgh, Va., calls upon Southern representatives "to present the Nebraska bill as one alternative, and if needs be disunion as the other."

This Southside editor must be a very foolish man, to press so earnestly a bill which is only meant for the increase of liberty and the confirmation of equality. Southern men are usually wiser in their generation than this comes to.

HOW TO DO THINGS.—We live in a great country: we have Yankee fashions; Irish and German fashions;—Gavazzi and Bedini riots; Mormon polygamy and California celebrations. At the Firemen's celebration, San Francisco, on the 28th February, there was a very general representation of all classes.—California in a few years has done much to level social barriers, and bring the sons and daughters of Adam to an acknowledgment of their relationship. The following extract from the report of the San Francisco celebration brings the theatre and the church into an alliance that, to our starched notions, appears, at least, somewhat unusual:

Mrs. Sinclair having been called for, that lady was led forward by the chief engineer, (Mr. Duane) and said:

"I sincerely thank you for this distinguished and most unexpected honor, and you shall always have my best wishes for your health and prosperity; and let me assure you that, in anything that may be in my power to aid you, you have only to command my services." (Great applause.)

After three cheers had been given for Mrs. Sinclair, Bishop Kip pronounced the benediction.

Mrs. Sinclair was lately Mrs. Forrest, and resumed her name on getting her divorce.

FAMILIES BURNT.

On the night of March 28, the house of Cooper Tyler at North Lawrence, near Detroit, Michigan, was burnt, and seven young children, the oldest but nine years, perished in the flames. The parents after putting them to bed had gone out visiting.

The Nashua, N. H. Telegraph states that the dwelling house occupied by Mr. William Flanders, in Londonderry, was entirely consumed by fire on Tuesday afternoon, with his three children. Mrs. Flanders called at a neighbor's on the opposite side of the road, leaving her children at home alone, and was absent perhaps half an hour, when, looking out, she saw the flames bursting from the house to an extent which forbade all attempts to save the little victims, and they all perished. The children were about two, four, and six years old. The eldest two, judging from the position in which the remains were found, probably ran under the bed for safety, and the feather bed falling upon them saved them from being wholly consumed; of the other only a few of the bones were found.

LOCAL.

City Council—Thursday, March 30.

In Board of Aldermen—His Honor Mayor Walker in the Chair.—A petition of D. H. Treadwell, asking that the stands for trucks, &c. may be changed—referred.

A communication from the Board of Managers of the Washington Monument asking assistance to aid in its completion, was received, read and laid upon the table.

Wednesday evening, April 12, was set apart for election of City Officers.

A series of resolution concerning the Mayor's address was adopted and sent up for concurrence.

☞ Mr. Garrison's Lecture on Slavery at the Temple on Thursday evening, was attended by a numerous audience of ladies and gentlemen, without distinction of party or sect. On the subject of Individual Responsibility in regard to Slavery, as well as on other topics, the lecturer uttered many unpalatable truths, in his usual plain and earnest manner. His fine voice made every hearer understand; and his faithful appeals did not fail to reach the sensibilities of many a tender heart.

So far as we could judge, the lecture was favorably received. Many of his hearers of course did not agree with all his views: but no one failed to appreciate his sincerity.

DISTRICT NO. 1.—At the Meeting on Thursday evening, the following persons were elected School Committee for the current year, viz. Jonathan M. Tredick, Moses H. Goodrich, Thomas J. Spinney, Nathaniel K. Raynes, Leonard Manson, and Samuel Gray.

POSTPONED.—The lecture of Hon. J. G. Hoyt of Exeter at the Temple advertised for next Tuesday evening, is postponed for the present.

ICE AT NEW ORLEANS.—The New Orleans Bulletin, referring to an article in the Boston Courier relative to the supply of ice during the coming season, says—"It is a source of no little anticipatory gratification to all of us who are tied down as home fixtures, during summer, to learn that we are to have a plentiful supply of ice during the ensuing season, and at low prices."

The Worcester Spy says that Mr. Seth Twitchell, building mover, of that city, has gone to Charleston, S. C., to remove the State House from its present location to a more eligible site.

If the story is true, it is nevertheless quite a joke, that the Nation of South Carolina should send all the way to Worcester, to get a poor Yankee to move her government house, when she has so many great men at home, and is so entirely independent.

At Bath, Me., on Monday, the dwelling-house of George Webster was totally destroyed at 2 o'clock A. M., with all the wearing apparel of the occupants except their night-clothes. Mrs. Webster barely escaped by jamping out from the chamber window. The household furniture was also mostly destroyed and about $100 in money. Mr. Webster's loss was eight or nine hundred dollars. Insurance $300.

Two slaves were found secreted on board a schooner recently arrived at Wareham from Norfolk, both of whom have made good their escape. It is supposed that the steward of the vessel assisted them in getting clear.

BALDNESS CURED!

Emerson's American Hair Restorative.

FOR Restoring the Hair on Heads HOPELESSLY BALD, and to prevent the Hair from falling, is winning golden opinions of persons who are using it. This is a new article, recently introduced, is a sure thing for Baldness, and will stand the test of a discerning public. The Proprietors have such confidence in it that they authorize their Agents to take Bald cases on GUARANTEE. Price to be agreed upon between the parties.

Dead Shot for Bed Bugs!

SLEEP IN PEACE.

ALL good House-keepers will be glad to hear of an article for the destruction of Bed Bugs, reliable and sure. The Dead Shot is a saturated tincture of a

POISONOUS GUM RESIN,

Which evaporates very slowly, and will not lose its destructive properties for months. One instance is known where Bugs in LARGE NUMBERS were destroyed by it, where none had been applied later than the previous year. Keepers of Hotels have found that a thorough use of the Dead Shot in every suspicious place, has kept their house free from Bugs for years.

IT IS PUNGENT AND DEADLY.

Apply it to insects it curls them up and lays them out as readily as sulphur fumes kill bees. It is a TRAP READY SET for these noxious tormenters of our nightly rest.

THE BOHON UPAS is not more certain to Animal Life, than is the DEAD SHOT TO BED BUGS.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

The Havre and Southampton steamer Franklin, which left the latter port March 15, has arrived, and the Cunard steamer Canada, from Liverpool, March 18, has arrived also. The Franklin reports that a terrible earthquake had occurred at Calabria, Naples, by which ten thousand persons were killed.

The Cotton and Grain markets were depressed and lower. The Provision market was firm.

The steamship City of Manchester arrived out on the 15th. She met many icebergs on the 8th, and much field ice, and had to run southward for 16 hours to find a passage.

The steamer Niagara had returned from Malta. All the steamers that had been despatched with troops had arrived at Malta.—The Niagara will return with reinforcements. The ships Tinandra, Parramatta, Euchanga, Star of the South, Maragon, Wilson and Kennedy, are also fitting at Liverpool for the conveyance of troops.

The steamship Baltic, from New York March 4, had not arrived at Liverpool at the sailing of the Canada. Much anxiety was felt in consequence for her safety. The report of the steamer City of Manchester, of having met extensive ice fields, caused apprehensions to exist that the Baltic might have received damage thereby.

The accounts from the manufacturing districts were favorable.

EASTERN AFFAIRS.—The Czar's last reply to the last peremptory intimation of Great Britain and France was due March 15. No reply, however, had been returned. Nevertheless, there were numerous reports current of concessions on the part of Russia. These produced no effect on the stock market, and were regarded only as intended to create conflicting discussions, and to retard any combination of the European powers. As regards hostilities, affairs remain nearly as they were. On the Danube no movements of importance had occurred.

From Hermanstadt are accounts of a Russian expedition to the right bank of the Danube to engage a Turkish battery by land, while a flotilla with supplies should pass up the river. The movement was successful, the flotilla having passed. The Russians then withdrew. A similar event occurred on the part of the Turks; 2000 Arabs having crossed near Silistria, made a dash at the Russian battery, and retired with little loss.

The Greek insurrection has not quite subsided, but is not formidable. The villages on the Greek frontier have joined the insurgents, but the cities are quiet. The insurrection manifests itself in South Albania.

The garrison of the citadel of Asta had chased the insurgents across the Greek frontier, where they were themselves repulsed by Grecian troops.

The Baltic is still closed by ice.

The French fleet being occupied in conveying troops to the East, will presently send only the Austerlitz line of battle ship to the Baltic, but soon Admiral Deschesnes' squadron will join Sir Charles Napier's.

27 sailing ships and six steamers are embarking horses and men at Woolwich.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE.—The Czar's reply was not expected from St. Petersburg till the 26th or 28th of March.

In Parliament, Mr. Gisborne moved an address, praying that in the event of a war, Her Majesty would give directions to her cruisers to abstain from interfering with neutral vessels not containing contraband munitions of war. He also suggested the policy of entering into a similar treaty with the United States, and other countries.

The Coasting Trade bill was read a second time in the house of Lords. Lord Stanley said that by the repeal of the laws of the British coasting trade, there was no doubt the United States would in time see it to its advantage to make similar concessions.

The Earl of Derby asked whether the effect of passing the present bill, which would throw open the British coasting trade to American shipping, would be to give the British the benefit of the coasting trade of America?

Lord Stanley did not mean that it was incumbent on the United States to open their coasting trade, but it would relieve them from the constitutional objections that had been urged against opening the carrying trade to California.

The Earl of Derby thought that Great Britain had a strong claim in equity to the whole coasting trade of the United States, including California.

The bill was then read a second time.

SWITZERLAND.—Numbers of emigrants from Tepino were preparing for California via Havre.

ITALY.—The Sultan is reported to have sent a friendly autograph letter to the Pope, which was well received.

The tobacco and salt monopoly has been extended in the Roman States for ten years.

Food riots had occurred at Fabriano, but were suppressed by the military authorities.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29.

SENATE.—Remonstrances against the Nebraska bill were presented by Messrs Foote, Everett, Sumner, Morrison and Fish—that from Mr. Fish being from the Society of Universal Republicans of New York, protesting against that part of the bill which denies the right of voting and holding office to aliens in that territory.

Several petitions and memorials on other other subjects were received, when the Deficiency bill was taken up.

The Deficiency bill was debated, and several amendments were offered and agreed to. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—A bill was passed allowing the people of Council Bluffs, Iowa, to enter lands on which the town is situated, at minimum prices.

The Committee on Lands reported against the bill granting lands to states in behalf of indigent insane.

Mr. Warren made a motion to lay the bill on the table. Negatived—yeas 71—nays 89.

The House then went into Committee on the Steam Frigate bill, when

Mr. Barksdale spoke on the Nebraska bill, advocating its passage, and

Mr. Norton spoke in opposition, when the Committee rose, and the House adjourned.

THE HOUSE.—We published, on Thursday, the N. H. Patriot's latest return of Representatives, claiming 19 democratic majority: and the Portsmouth Journal's general endorsement of the Patriot's list, has come back to us in almost every democratic paper we receive, and in many whig papers.

The Manchester Democrat, the Belknap Gazette, the Old Guard, and the Independent Democrat, however, discredit the Patriot list. The Concord Independent Democrat of March 30, says:

As now informed, we are confident that the Administration are in a minority, and will continue to be so in June, when the Legislature shall come together. In relation to nearly every man about whom we differ from the Patriot, we know that we were right, and that paper was wrong. In relation to several of the men in dispute, the Patriot knows that it or its party has nothing to hope from them.—It has been so informed on the highest authority.

The Independent Democrat then names Mr. Drew of Strafford, as one of this number, and says:

This gentleman, like some ten or twelve others, is claimed by the Patriot as an Administration Hunker; with how much reason may be gathered from a letter we have just received from him, dated March 27, 1854, from which we make the following extract:

I shall go, in the Legislature, and wherever I throw my vote, against the Nebraska bill and all its supporters; for I consider it an unprincipled, office-seeking movement, which should be abhorred by every candid mind. I feel bound to support what I consider Democratic; but not to support what every office seeker of my party says I must."

Mr. Drew clinches his letter by subscribing for the Independent Democrat.

ALBANY, March 30.—Gov. Seymour has announced to Mr. Delavan that he will veto the Maine Law bill.

NEW YORK, March 30.—A block of six dwelling houses on Hamilton avenue, Brooklyn, occupied by many families, with stores on the ground floor, was burned yesterday morning. Loss estimated between $30,000 and $40,000.

DETROIT, March 28.—The weather is moderating. The lake and river are filled with ice. The river boats have stopped running to Toledo and Cleveland.

HARTFORD, March 26.—Right Reverend Bishop Brownwell met with a painful accident this afternoon. In descending a stairway he missed a foothold and fell, breaking his leg near the ancle in three places.

SPRINGFIELD, March 29.—The Armory.—Ex-Governor Steele of New Hampshire, and Mr. Tyler, Mayor of Springfield, left for Washington to-day, to take measures to influence Congress to change the superintendence of the Armories from military to civil authority. Both these gentlemen have been reported to be candidates for the superintendence of the Springfield Armory. There is a report here of the transfer of Col. Ripley from the Armory at Springfield to another post, and another military officer to succeed him.

The neatest style of fashionable pantaloons in New York is described as "a light grey ground, with the castle of Heidelburg in dark blue, on one leg, and Mount Vesuvius vomiting forth fire on the other."

The Tablet, a Roman Catholic paper at Chicago, denounces the Maine law. It is opposed to it on religious and political grounds. Rev. Mr. Hogan, Catholic priest at Bellville, N. J., is a strong advocate of the Maine law, and preaches it in his pulpit. In one discourse he intimated that he would not be restrained in his opposition to rum shops by either pope or bishop.

MESSRS. CUTTING AND BRECKENRIDGE.—The latest news from Washington is, that no duel has as yet taken place; and it is to be hoped that the mediation of friends may be successful in effecting a reconciliation.

☞ Ackerson's Rope Walk, in Cambridge, Mass. was burnt on Wednesday night, supposed by an incendiary.

FATAL ACCIDENTS.—In Boston on Wednesday morning, Richard H. Baker, 18 years of age, son of Eleazer Baker of Dennis, and steward of the New York Packet schooner Marietta Burr, went aloft to assist a sailmaker at work on the vessel, when he lost his hold and fell a distance of forty feet, striking upon the cross rail, breaking in his ribs and injuring him internally. Dr. Clark was sent for, but Mr. Baker died in about twenty minutes.

A boy about twelve years old was instantly killed on the track of the Worcester Railroad, south of the station-house, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. He was run down by a freight train, and his body so mangled as to destroy all identity. His head was crushed to atoms, and his limbs were mangled in a shocking manner.

CHARADE.

One double letter grace my first,
(The time foretold will come)
When I shall blossom like the rose
That buds near Ellen's home.
Two double letters grace my next;
A forest I can boast;
At Daries I flourish strong,
And on the eastern coast.
Thus, in the summer's sultry clime,
The rambler finds my whole;
Likewise, where piercing winter reigns,
I'm under man's control.

BOILING ROCK.

WHAT DOES HE MEAN?—Mr K., a missionary among a tribe of Northern Indians was wont to set some simple refreshments—fruit and cider—before his converts, when they came from a distance to see him. An old man, who had no pretensions to be a christian, desired much to be admitted to the refreshments, and proposed to some of his converted friends to accompany them on their next visit to the missionary. They told him that he must be a christian first. 'What was that?' He must know all about the Bible. When the time came he declared himself prepared, and undertook the journey with them.

When he arrived, he seated himself opposite the missionary, wrapped in his blanket, and looked exceedingly serious. In answer to an inquiry from the missionary, he rolled up his eyes, and solemnly uttered the following words, with a pause between each: 'Adam—Eve—Cain—Noah—Jeremiah—Belzebub—Solomon—' 'What do you mean?' asked the missionary. 'Solomon—Belzebub—Noah—' 'Stop! Stop! What do you mean?' 'I mean—cider!'

Mrs. Benjamin Shurtleff, of Chelsea, has invented a new method of preserving quinces. When ripe they are gathered and put in a barrel, and the barrel is filled with water and placed in the cellar, where the fruit keeps perfectly sound through the winter, retaining all its flavor upon cooking in the spring.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT—
Every land has hailed with
Xtacy this preparation whose
Intrinsic merits have introduced its
Curative powers to the notice of the whole
American people. Rheumatism of long duration,
Neuralgia, with its tortures, have yielded to its
Magical influence; canners, contorted joints,
Ulcerated and swollen limbs that have
Suffered for years under the weight of disease,
Turn by its application to suppleness and health.
A remedy of such general usefulness that can
Restore newness of Action to the diseased nerves,
Arteries and glands of the human body,
Is worthy of high praise.

Let the rheumatic, halt, lame and palsied
Invalid examine its qualities, and they will
Not be disappointed. Years of study and
Investigation have enabled the proprietors of the Mexican Mustang Liniment to furnish a remedy,
Extraordinary in its power over diseases,
No matter of how long standing—sold at

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 70 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements for prosecuting applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ———

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,

Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Boston, Dec. 7, 1852. eodly

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure everything in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, hums and ha's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the value of it in cases like yours. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state. It is health to the sick.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is bound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1852, I sold 420 bottles. In October, 1852, I sold 1120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; I can accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 73, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns.

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. If the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fit two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the deaf. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie on her bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (using it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to clease the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, I have not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the various circulars about the house.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb, simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one tab'e spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, tea spoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having and front room entire,) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the ship-yards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the ship-yards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

DOG THAT SAW THE ELEPHANT.

The following amusing extract from "An Account of Chang and Eng, the Siamese Twins," published in 1853, will be read with pleasure by every dog fancier.

One evening, as with their families they were gathered around the blazing hearthstones, they were startled by a deep, long, melancholy howl, evidently proceeding from a dog, and not only from a dog, but a strange dog. The howling being continued—and it is in any case a most unpleasant sound, especially to hear at night—they sallied out to rid themselves of the disturbance. Here a spectacle presented itself which could not but awaken their pity. Before them stood a rawboned, gaunt creature, literally reduced to a skeleton by hunger, who on seeing them, ran and crouched at their feet with such an agonizing, imploring look of mingled confidence and dread, that they could not find it in their hearts to turn him away. He was therefore admitted to a place by the fire, and the little people soon supplied him with a sufficiency of food, even to satisfy his almost insatiate appetite. Where he came from or what drew him to their door, they could never tell. Some weeks passed on, and Bose, for that was the name given him, grew fat and saucy—we are sorry to state it—very saucy. With muscle and fat came assumption of dignity and importance. Perhaps this was not without reason for Bose was a very imposing dog to look upon, and he seemed to be fully aware of it.—He was a valuable dog too. To be sure his color, nearly a gamboge yellow, is not particularly popular among dog fanciers, but then he was large and strong, he was always healthy and enjoyed his regular meals, and what was more than all the rest, he was an animal of extraordinary sagacity. In truth he was a marvel of intelligence. Some dogs can't take a hint. Bose could in a minute. If he was lying in the room, and you wanted to intimate to him that his presence was disagreeable, all you had to do was to open the door, and pick up the poker or broom-stick and he would understand you as well as if you talked a half an hour about it. He was a famous watch dog—No one could come within a half a mile of the house, but he would raise his voice against it—no one could pass without a due amount of attention. He soon acquired a great influence, probably from his respectable appearance, among all the dogs in the country, and shortly a regular police system was organized among these quadrupeds, in consequence of which every traveller in that vicinity was obliged to run the gauntlet of some two hundred curs, of all ages, colors and conditions. This finally became so annoying that his masters used every effort to induce him to relax somewhat of his vigilance, but without success. Even a hickory persuader proved utterly unavailing.

What the twins had failed to accomplish in this case was finally brought to pass by a singular accident. Before daylight, one morning, Bose was aroused by the trampling of many horses' feet. He at once sounded the alarm; but the noise continued, and to it was added the rumbling of wheels. Presently by the dim starlight was discovered a long train of heavy wagons, drawn by two, four, and six horses each, coming over the road at the rate of about five miles an hour. Bose grew frantic. He yelped, he howled in agony and indignation,—still the cortege kept on the even tenor of its way. It was a travelling menagerie, on its route to the county seat where it was to be exhibited the next day, but Bose was not aware of this. He had never seen such a turn out before, and he viewed it as a personal affront to himself. When however, these had all passed and there presented itself to his excited vision a huge monster—shambling along at an uneven gait, with a proboscis swinging loosely from side to side, and a pair of apron like ears flapping as he walked, the spectacle proved too much for his habitual caution, and he flew at the enormous animal with the fury of a tiger. The elephant rolled his diminutive eyes, gave his trunk a swing and a slap, and away soared poor Bose higher in the air than we would care to state, sailing over a lofty barn in his course, and finally alighting upon his back in an onion-bed full sixty feet from whence he started.—There he lay for a few moments, when he picked himself up and retreated to his kennel, a wiser and sadder dog. Early the next morning he started off on a visiting excursion, and was seen at every house for miles around in the course of the day, and for the week subsequent he held a continuous levee, which was attended by all the prominent members of the canine aristocracy residing in the county. It was observed that after a prolonged consultation in the kennel, he invariably took his callers around to examine the scene of his unexpected fall, and that these always left with a sober and puzzled expression of countenance in which fear was generally strangely mixed with incredulity. The result of all this was admirable. Bose thereafter was a model of humility and good manners, and an army of burglars might at any time have laid siege to the house without his being so intrusive as to make the slightest objection. From that hour he enjoyed the highest consideration among all his fellow dogs, and his example had a striking effect in reforming their conduct towards strangers. The community of rising pups especially, looked upon him with a degree of admiration approaching to awe, evidently believing him to be possessed of a knowledge of the world, such as could be attained by few of his race. He bore his honor meekly, and lived to a good old age, and died at last in full possession of his faculties and appetite. The younger branches of the Chang and Eng family attended to his interment, and a shingle was erected to mark the place where were deposited the remains of the dog that saw the elephant.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, APRIL 1, 1854.

A SPELL OF WEATHER.

We have had something like a fortnight of cold weather. Some people say they never saw it so cold at this season. Perhaps they never did, but it has been as cold before.

Let us compare notes, beginning down East.

Our Bangor exchanges of Saturday last were received on Thursday morning, having been four days on the way, the last snow storm cutting off communication. The Augusta Journal says—"Here on the Kennebec there is no mistaking the fact the "early violets" still have about four feet and a half of snow over their heads. and that old December is likely this year, not only to linger, but fairly to squat in the 'lap of May.'"

April 1st—This month comes in winterish and stormy; four feet of snow on the level in the woods. The roads are greatly blocked up. It is almost impossible for travellers to proceed, there is so much snow.—The mails east and west are brought in on single sleighs. The river has been passable until this day.

April 5—State Fast—A snow storm commenced last night and continued mostly through this day. Snow very damp. One foot of snow fell. It is supposed that about fifteen feet of snow has fallen since November. The roads are blocked up. Five feet of solid snow in the country. The mails are detained by reason of the excessive bad traveling.—Such a winter and spring thus far has not been experienced for a great number of years past.

16th—Ice moved down as far as Hallowell.

20th—Ice above the dam moved down.

22d—Upper ice coming down.

26th—Copious rain throughout the day.

N. B.—1843 was an excellent hay season.

And now let us look back a little further.—An old gentleman, now deceased, who used to live near Islington Creek, now better known as the North Mill Pond, has frequently told us that one of his children was born on Fast Day, April —, 17—; and that on that day he and his son helped a neighbor to drive a cow across the creek on the ice, as the sledding path led that way to avoid the crooked places in the roads, which were blocked up with snow.

THE WIVES OF THE ENGLISH SOLDIERS.—On the occasions of the embarkation of English troops for the theatre of war, but four women are allowed to embark for every one hundred men, so that a great majority of the soldiers' wives are left at home either to suffer from destitution, or to be relieved by the charities of the benevolent. A committee has been formed, says the European Times, for the purpose of raising subscriptions to assist these poor women, either by finding them employment or by affording temporary pecuniary relief. At last accounts money was flowing in from every quarter to the committee. Many of the licensed victuallers of London had opened subscription boxes in their establishments for this object; and the proprietor of Drury Lane theatre had offered to give a free benefit in aid of the fund, and for that purpose had also placed the establishment at the free use of a committee during three days of a fancy fair in April.

This exhibits a sorry picture of the British soldiery and their family relations. One of the worst features of chattel slavery in this land, is the forcible and arbitrary separation of husbands and wives, who morally but not legally sustain these relations. The military slavery of Great Britain, it seems, does nearly the same thing with those who are both legally and morally wedded. We are right glad to know that many Britons give liberally to these poor soldiers' wives—but we would rather know that no war existed to call their husbands abroad. Jeannet's plan to have those who made the war do their own fighting, would suit us exactly, as she brings it out in the song of Jeannet and Jeannot.

GOLD MEDAL.—The Hon. William L. Marcy, Secretary of State, has forwarded a gold medal for Captain Young of Provincetown, master of the whaling schooner Waldron Holmes, which has been awarded to him by the British Government as a testimonial of regard for saving the crew of the British bark Cairo. The Barnstable Patriot gives the following description of it:—

On one side of the medal is a splendid figure of the head of Queen Victoria, surrounded by the following inscription: "Victoria, D. G., Britanniarum, Regina, F. D." On the reverse is a beautiful wreath, between the open ends of which, at the top, is the figure of the British Crown. Outside of this wreath are the following words:—"For saving the crew of the British barque Cairo, 1853."—Within the wreath is this inscription—"The British Government, to Captain Young, of the United States whaling schooner Waldron Holmes." It is enclosed in a rich and elegant case.

Four new fishing schooners, from 70 to 130 tons, were launched in Essex, Mass., last week. The fishing towns will generally increase their vessels, notwithstanding the ill luck of last year.

A SABBATH HYMN.

BY REV. HENRY D. MOORE.

The Sabbath day is dawning;
Sweet day of holy rest;
Its bright and joyous morning,
Smiles on the nations blest.
We lift to God the savor,
Of praise from heart and tongue;
We laud and bless his favor,
And happy strains prolong.

This day the earth rejoices,
And myriad shouts arise
From loudest, happiest voices,
And ring along the skies.
All nature now is raising
A happy hymn of love,
And with its music, praising
The Lord of Heaven above.

The billows of the ocean
Lift up their voice in praise;
The forests with devotion
Pour forth their murmuring lays;
And birds with holy pleasure
Bound upward on the wing,
And with delightful measure,
Their welcome sweetly sing.

The valleys, hills and mountains;
The meadows fair, and plains;
The rivers, brooks and fountains
Unite their gushing strains;
And swell to heaven—from nature—
A chorus loud and long
Of praise to God—creator,
Whose love inspires the song.

To-day the Lord of Glory
Bright from the tomb arose,
To publish far the story,
Of triumph o'er our foes.
Dread death's fierce power he vanquish'd,—
Was victor o'er the tomb,—
Redeemed the world that languished,—
Dispelled its wasteful gloom.

Then hail! the Sabbath morning!
'Tis with salvation blest!
It antedates the dawning
Of Heaven's Eternal Rest!
There, free from every sadness,
We'll happier strains prolong,
And everlasting gladness
Inspire with bliss our song.

PUTNAM'S MONTHLY for April, 1854, is not illustrated at all with pictures;—but its literature is sparkling and brilliant. Our Exodus from Jericho; A Toss Up for a Husband; Notes from My Knapsack; and The Great Paris Cafes,—are articles of great spirit and genuine humor.

Archbishop Hughes was at Savannah on the 26th, and the Georgian of that date denied the report that he would endeavor "to direct the Catholic interest of the United States towards the acquisition of Cuba."

We have no doubt this denial is correct. If Cuba came into our Union as State or Territory, the Church Burial Ground Monopoly would find itself annihilated quite suddenly—and republican heresies would rush over the land like a flood. Cuba is now a Catholic Island. Romanism only is allowed to be considered as Christianity. But a change of circumstances would alter the case materially.

ANOTHER COMET.—A correspondent of the Providence Journal, dating from Brown University, states that a brilliant comet is visible in the north west. Its altitude at 7 1-2 P. M., on Wednesday, was ten or twelve degrees, and its bearing a little to the west of northwest. Notwithstanding a pretty strong twilight, it appeared quite bright to the naked eye, with a tail somewhat bushy, and four or five degrees in length. With a good common spy-glass, this nucleus was very distinct, and pretty well defined.

DEJEUNER A LA POING.—James C. Barber, mate, and Samuel C. Sprague, master, of the brig Smyrna, were examined before United States Commissioner Woodbury, in Boston on Wednesday, on a charge of assaulting Edward B. Pratt. It appeared in evidence, that Pratt, while aloft, gave the mate "impudence," and when he came down he was ordered aft—but refused to do the duty until he had his breakfast. Instead of breakfast, the mate struck him several times in the face. The captain also took part in the assault. The Commissioner, who has no faith in fist-breakfasts, ordered the captain and mate to be held for trial.

The Mayor of Rye, England, has been sent to prison for one year, for having been engaged in bribing electors at the last election for members of the House of Commons. He was defended by one of the most eminent lawyers of England, and after the verdict great efforts were made to set it aside on technical grounds, but the Court was firm.

Albert Judge, 18 years of age, said to belong to Lowell, has been committed for trial in Boston, for breaking open a trunk and stealing $43 from it. Judge had been discharged only a few weeks from the State Reform School.

From China, we have little new or definite. Shanghae was expected soon to fall into the hands of the Imperialists, whilst Pekin was reported to be closely invested.

LOCAL.

CONCERT AT HAMPTON.

A capital musical entertainment was given in the Congregational Church at Hampton, (Rev. S. P. Fay's) on Thursday evening last, to assist in procuring an Organ for that church. At a few hours' notice, and with but a single rehearsal, a choir of twenty singers and players, belonging in Mr. Fay's parish, performed eight or ten sacred anthems and select pieces very finely. We have rarely heard so large a body of singers keep such exact time as did these. The instrumental accompaniment was two violins, a clarionet, and single and double bass-viols—which were played with good effect, particularly the rich double bass. The choir was under the lead of Mr. Samuel Lamprey, of this city, who proved himself a musician of good taste and abilities, as a singer, player and conductor.

In addition to these really attractive and creditable performances in the choir's gallery, was a club of half-a-dozen amateur singers from other towns, who with a piano, occupied a temporary stage in front of the pulpit, and varied the programme with a good selection of secular music,—glees, duetts, songs, &c. The entire programme consisted of twenty-six pieces, and was two hours in being sung through.

Take it all in all, we have rarely attended a more gratifying entertainment. The choir certainly did themselves and their leader much credit; and the club of strangers showed that their souls lacked not music. A young lady and gentleman from Ipswich, sang deliciously; and the whole were much aided by the fine piano accompaniment of this young lady and another from Portsmouth. We don't believe that those who participated in or listened to the entertainment, will soon forget the occasion. Certain it is that the cordial hospitality of the citizens of Hampton will not cease to vibrate pleasingly on the strings of memory, in the hearts of the club who were happy to assist in so worthy an endeavor.

This choir certainly deserve an Organ, and their success in this undertaking looks as if they would get one. The house was well filled; and the receipts, at only 12 1-2 cents a ticket, were $40—which is about the average receipt of entertainments in this city. Success to that choir, that church, and especially to that club, say we. F.

PRESENTS.—Newspaper editors generally—the Chroniclers among the rest—are continually receiving little specimens of this and that—books, and wares and merchandize of all sorts. Whether the contributors are looking more to the printer's interest than their own, in this matter, we will not—do not stop to inquire; but the articles offered an editor in the course of a year, for examination and test,—and, if possible, praise—would form a small museum.

Among others, our old friend Wm. F. Lawrence, of Epping, has furnished us with a bottle of his Cherry Pectoral. The medicine is done up beautifully, with lithographed wrappers, stamped bottles, &c., and is "not bad to take," palatably speaking. As we don't believe in colds, coughs, and the kindred ailments for which the Pectoral professes to be a specific, we don't see but we must leave the testing of it to those who are troubled in this way.

TEACHER'S INSTITUTE.

We invite attention to the advertisement of the Teachers institute, at Kingston.

The Exeter News Letter says:—

With us, the means of preparing one's self for the teacher's work are few and insufficient; but such as they are, the teacher who would advance and hold a respectable position in his profession, must not overlook or fail to advantage himself by them.

Experince has amply proved that Teachers' Institutes—which with us are used as substitutes for Normal Schools—by their superior instruction and the means they afford for a free and profitable exchange of views, sentiments and plans, may contribute largely to the perfection of our school system, and greatly facilitate educational labor.

Prudential and Superintending School Committees should require all persons employed by them for the summer schools, to attend the coming Institute. There, too, Committees will find and excellent opportunity for securing well qualified teachers.

We are glad that the Institute is to be held thus early, before the commencement of the Summer Schools, or the out door work of the farmer and mechanic.

THE WIZARD.—By his advertisement, it will be seen that Macallister, the greatest Magician in the world, is to open at the Temple on Monday evening, with his lady. They will perform all sorts of impossible feats—for which see programme.

☞ We understand that Rev. Mr. Lamson declines the office of School Committee man in the 2d District.

The Eastern Railroad has just put several new engines upon their road, one of which, very powerful and beautiful, was used for the first time on Wednesday. It is called the Col. Adams, in honor of Col. Daniel Adams of Newbury, for many years an efficient and popular director of the corporation. If it wears as well and proves as faithful as the gentleman whose name it bears, it will long be known as a model machine. The weight of the engine is 24 tons.—Newburyport Herald.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, March 30.

SENATE.—In the Senate various petitions and memorials were presented, among them one by Mr. Badger, from the citizens of North Carolina, in opposition to the Nebraska bill. This was the petition alluded to by Mr. Badger a short time since, and on presenting it he took occasion to speak briefly. He said the petitioners were opposed to the bill on the supposition of there being some provision in it involving a breach of national faith, but as they were reasonable and just men, he had no doubt that by this time they had come to a different conclusion.

The Deficiency bill was then taken up.

The question pending was on Mr. Badger's amendment, changing the printing law so as to divide more equally the government contract between the two contractors. A long debate ensued, in the course of which Mr. Bayard moved an amendment, (which he afterwards withdrew) repealing the printing act after the 4th of March, and avowing himself in favor of a government printing office. This was opposed to by Mr. Fitzpatrick, on the ground that it would increase the cost of public printing. Mr. Hunter was willing to vote for the amendment, notwithstanding the additional expense.

Mr. Hamlin was opposed to it.

The debate was continued until the adjournment, and the contest being between the friends of the Union newspaper and those of the Sentinel, as to which should have the printing of the Agricultural Report, the amendment was passed, the effect of which will be to give the job to the Sentinel. The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.—In the House, Mr. Taylor, lately elected from Tennessee, in place of Mr. Campbell, took his seat. Mr. Bennett immediately arose, saying he had received a petition, numerously signed, from his colleague's (Mr. Taylor's) district, which asserted that at the polls he (Mr. Taylor) asserted that he would not vote against the Nebraska bill or resign his seat. He asked Mr. Taylor if it were so, but the latter gentleman declined giving any explanation.

Mr. Keitt of South Carolina addressed the committee on the Nebraska bill, denouncing the ordinance of '87 as an unconstitutional and graceless act, and the Missouri restriction as the source of innumerable woes. He also defended slavery, and claimed for it the same protection as was accorded to other property in the territories.

The House then went into committee on the Steam Frigate bill.

Mr. Benton afterwards made a strong speech against the Navy Appropriation bill, contending that while a navy for the defence and protection of commerce was conceded on all hands, still a navy of conquest was by no means in accordance with the earlier times; the policy was peace, not aggression—defence, not conquest. Jefferson, he said, told him thirty years ago that the establishment of a Navy Board was a great error, the board being composed of naval officers, who would from their knowledge of detail, govern the Secretary of the Navy, and, being fighting men, would procure ships for men and men for the ships, always with a view to a contest with other naval powers.

Mr. Benton thought there was a radical error in the undertaking of building a Navy to contend with the world for the dominion of the sea. He was opposed to a standing Navy and stationary squadrons, and referred to the messages of Adams and Jackson on this subject, adopting their views as his own.

Messrs. Clingman and Bocock replied in favor of the bill. The latter in the course of his remarks said the committee had before them a proposition to abolish some of our Navy Yards.

Mr. Davis of Rhode Island offered an amendment providing that three of the proposed steamers should be built by private contract.

Mr. Phillips also offered one to build two sloops-of-war.

Mr. Lyons moved to amend by building six sloops-of-war—this amendment was rejected.

Mr. Stanton offered an amendment that two of the frigates should be built on the Mississippi river, which was rejected. That of Mr. Davis was also rejected.

Mr. Kingman offered an amendment providing for higher pay for seamen—during the consideration of which the Committee rose and the House adjourned.

THE DUEL.—Washington, March 30, 4 P. M.—Nothing certain is known about the Cutting and Breckenridge affair. Various contradictory reports were in circulation at four o'clock this afternoon. The difficulty has not, however, been adjusted, and consequently the apprehension is that a hostile meeting will take place to-morrow. The police are on the look-out for the parties.

The Star says that the House Committee on Privileges has agreed to report a bill increasing the compensation of Postmasters ten per cent. on the commissions now received—the Postmaster General having discretionary power for increasing compensation at the distributing and separating offices.

The amount now in the United States treasury is twenty-eight million eight hundred thousand dollars.

WEST POINT CADETS.—The bill which the Senate passed on the 22d inst., adds 62 to the number of cadets appointed every four years, and confers upon the Senators of the respective states the privilege of appointing them. At the present time members of the House alone have the right to select the Cadets.

LOSS OF PACKET BRIG BELLE.—Two PERSONS DROWNED.—The steamship Canada, at Boston from Liverpool, reports at midnight on the 29th inst., came in contact with the British Brig Belle, Capt. Meagher, from Boston for Halifax. The Brig was so badly injured in the collision as to cause her to sink in a few minutes, carrying down with her Mrs. Koefler, a lady passenger, and the steward of the vessel. Capt. Meagher and the crew were saved, and put on board the steamer Arabia, Halifax, which was in company on the 20th. The Canada lost bowsprit and cutwater.

According to a Paris letter, Mr. Daniels, U. S. Charge at Turin, has resigned.

Dead Shot for Bed Bugs!
SLEEP IN PEACE!

ALL good House-keepers will be glad to hear of an article for the destruction of Bed Bugs, reliable and sure. The Dead Shot is a saturated tincture of a

POISONOUS GUM RESIN,

Which evaporates very slowly, and will not lose its destructive properties for months. One instance is known where Bugs in LARGE NUMBERS were destroyed by it, where none had been applied later than the previous year. Keepers of Hotels have found that a thorough use of the Dead Shot in every suspicious place, has kept their house free from Bugs for years.

IT IS PUNGENT AND DEADLY.

Apply it to insects it curls them up and lays them out as readily as sulphur fumes kill bees. It is a TRAP READY SET for these noxious tormenters of our nightly rest.

INTERESTING CALIFORNIA STATISTICS.—By the latest reliable statistics that have come under our eye, it appears that the population of San Francisco is estimated at 50,000, of whom 33,000 are Americans, 5000 French, Germans ditto, 3000 Spaniards, 3000 Chinese, and 1000 foreigners from other sources, not including English and Irish, who are classed as Americans. Of the population some 8000 are females, and 3000 children. There are 200 lawyers in the city, and physicians as many. Of free schools there are seven, with six male and ten female teachers, and an attendance of 1178 pupils, and an expenditure therefor, in 1853, of $34,433. The city taxes for the year, were $540,000. There are 18 churches with 8000 members, five military companies with 200 members, 15 fire engine and hook and ladder companies, two Government Hospitals, three Divisions of the Sons of Temperance, three gambling saloons and 103 drinking saloons. Add to these, several lodges of Masons, a number of literary and social societies, two theatres, 12 daily newspapers, (two lately stopped,) two tri-weekly and six weekly papers, and two monthlies, 18 ocean steamers, 13 river steamers, 308 miles of telegraph, 12 wharves, a gas company for speedily lighting the city, 600 large brick buildings, (one-half built the past year,) and a city property of $40,000,000. Total imports for the year $35,000,000; exports more than $50,000,000. There have arrived 35,000 persons within the year; 30,000 have left; 1,000,000 letters have been sent, 1028 vessels have arrived, and 1653 have departed, and all this in five years. Surely, there never was a growth commensurate with this on the face of the globe. The whole seems more like some fairy tale, than like reality.

A negro woman named Esther, the property of Mr. A. C. Pierce, was whipped to death at Shreveport on the 2d inst., by Jonas Curry and others. The perpetrators of this foul act fled, and had not at last accounts been arrested.—N. O. Crescent.

The fugitive slave "George Washington" was discharged from prison at Auburn on Sunday morning, and started for Canada, without any attempt on the part of his master to arrest him.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT—

Every hand has hailed with
Xtacy this preparation whose
Intrinsic merits has introduced its
Curative powers to the notice of the whole
American people. Rheumatism of long duration,
Neuralgia, with its tortures, have yielded to its
Magical influence; cancers, contorted joints,
Ulcerated and swollen limbs that have
Suffered for years under the weight of disease,
Turn to its application to suppleness and health.
A remedy of such general usefulness that can
Restore newness of Action to the diseased nerves,
Arteries and glands of the human body,
Is worthy of high praise.

Let the rheumatic, halt, lame and palsied
Invalid examine its qualities, and they will
Not be disappointed. Years of study and
Investigation have enabled the proprietors of the Mexican Mustang Liniment to furnish a remedy,
Extraordinary in its power over diseases,
No matter of how long standing—sold at

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to improve advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ———

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully, Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK, Commissioner of Patents."

Boston, Dec 7, 1853. eodly

The Greatest Medical Discov e of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimply Face. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, hums and has's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to a child seven a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, worms looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy; but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853, I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do so.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every kind of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs.—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns.

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. It is the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fit two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to cleanse the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

THE DAILY MORNING CHRONICLE

is published by FRANK W. MILLER, SAMUEL GRAY, & THOS. W. MILLER, At No. 4 Exchange Buildings, Pleasant Street,.....PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

TERMS $4 a year, or $3 if paid strictly in advance.

The Weekly Chronicle,

A family newspaper, containing the news of the week, with carefully selected miscellany, &c., is published every Saturday morning—at $1 a year in advance.

ADVERTISING.—For a Square of sixteen lines nonpareil, or less, one insertion 50 cts., three insertions $1, and liberal terms for continuance.

Yearly, quarterly or monthly advertisers liberally accommodated—and their advertisements inserted in both papers without extra charge, thus affording unequalled facilities to business men.

☞ All accounts settled semi-annually.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING promptly executed.

V. B. Palmer, American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and subscriptions at the same rates as required by us. His receipts will be regarded as payments.

J. E. HAM,
TAILOR & DRAPER.

HAS just received another lot of fashionable Pantaloon Goods, Velvet Vestings, &c. &c., which will be made to order as low as can be had at any other establishment in this city.

Particular attention is giving to cutting Pantaloons, which is indeed one of the most difficult garments in the department of dress, and has heretofore received too little attention. The success we have had in this branch of our business enables us to ENSURE ALL with an easy and becoming FIT.

Gentlemen in want of any kind of Garment can be furnished at very short notice.

In the Coat Department, our customers have practical proof that we CANNOT BE BEAT.

Customers furnishing their own cloth will be attended to in the best possible manner.

☞ Wanted immediately 2 COAT MAKERS, to whom the highest prices will be paid.

Apply at No. 22 Market Street, up stairs.

MONDAY, APRIL 3, 1854.

FRANKLIN ON THE COPPER MINES OF LAKE SUPERIOR.—It would seem from the following extract of a letter dated May 1, 1829, from Samuel Preston, of Stockport, Pa., to the editor of the New York American, that the existence of copper in the region of Lake Superior, was known earlier than it is generally supposed to have been, and that the United States are indebted for its possession to Dr. Franklin:

"Dr. Franklin told me that when he was drawing the treaty of peace with England, in the city of Paris, he had access to the journals and charts of a corps of French engineers, that had sloops and were exploing Lake Superior, when Quebec fell to the British; from which charts he drew the line through Lake Superior to include the most and best of the copper ore to the United States; that the time would come when drawing that line would be considered the greatest service he ever rendered his country, and the copper ore be a greater source of wealth than any other nation possessed; and that the facilities of transportation would be well improved so as to export that copper ore to Europe cheaper than they raised it from their own mines."

LITERARY BLUNDERS.—We once heard of a young lady who cast away the "Pilgrim's Progress" with contempt, because as she declared, it was too ridiculous to think of going to heaven on foot. It seems she has companions in blunders almost equally as great, and some of these even among the learned, as we are advised by the following, which we clip from the Parlor Magazine:

'When Dante published his 'Inferno,' the simplicity of the age accepted it as a true narrative of his descent into hell.

When the Utopia of Sir Thomas Moore was first published, the learned Budæus and others took it for a genuine history, and considered it as highly expedient that missionaries should be sent thither, in order to convert so wise a nation to Christianity.

It was a long while after their publication that many readers were convinced that Gulliver's Travels were fictitious.

The 'Hermippus Relivius' of Dr. Campbell, a curious banter on the hermetic philosophy and the universal medicine, deceived, for a length of time, the most learned of that day. His notion of the art of prolonging life, by inhaling the breath of young women, was eagerly credited. A physician, who himself had composed a treatise on health, was so influenced by it, that he actually took lodgings at a female boarding school, that he might never be without a constant supply of the breath of young ladies.

In a catalogue compiled by a French writer of 'Works of Natural History,' he has inserted the well known essay on 'Irish Bulls,' by the Edgeworths.

Old Mr. Morgan and his wife, who resided on the public road in Fairmount, Virginia, were robbed a few evenings since of about $300 in specie, by two strangers who claimed their hospitality. In getting the money out of a bureau for the villains, Mrs. Morgan contrived to hide a roll of bank notes amounting to $400—which fact we mention as something in favor of paper currency.—Boston Post.

Mr. John O'Neil, while gunning in Whiting, Me., saw a deer in the water, swimming for the shore. In running to the spot which the deer was approaching, he slipped on the rocks, and dropped his gun, which went off and discharged the contents, two balls and a quantity of buckshot, into the lower part of his body, mangling him shockingly, and producing death in a short time.

James F. Morriss, Catholic priest at Tamaqua, Pa., has been fined $20 for assault and battery on Bernard Gilespie. They had a quarrel, in which blows were exchanged, and afterwards Gilespie was forcibly ejected from his pew by command of the priest. Those who assisted the priest were fined five dollars and costs.

A newly married man in Lynn, declares that if he had only an inch more of happiness he could not live. His wife and sisters are obliged to roll him on the floor and spat him with a shingle every day, to prevent him from being too happy.

Two men have been arrested in Philadelphia for counterfeiting gold dollars, forty-three of which were found in their possession, besides a quantity of counterfeit half dollars. The coins were very finely executed.

One of the large brandy houses in France writes to its agents in Boston, under date of Feb. 25th, at Rochelle, as follows:—"The sickness or disease which proved so fatal to our grape crop last year, is again making its appearance in our vineyards. On cutting the wood, it has a black appearance, instead of looking green, as the healthy vine should do."

NATIVE WINE.—Mr. John Holmes of Stafford, Conn., made last autumn, twenty-six barrels of wine from the grapes that grow spontaneously in and around the swamps of that town; and his brother made some half a dozen barrels. Wine has been made in the town for several years.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, APRIL 3, 1854.

ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF DISTILLERIES.

Our readers are aware that a new liquor bill has passed both Houses in the New York Legislature, and that the Governor will probably veto it.

The Boston Chronicle says:

Should the bill be signed by the Governor, or should it become a law notwithstanding his veto, we shall witness such a contest in New York next autumn as has not often been seen even in that State, of excited—and we had almost said—of riotous elections. And further, we have not a doubt that should the issue in question be made, that the next legislature will repeal the statute within a fortnight after it shall come together.

In this connexion, our Boston namesake appends the following letter from a gentleman in Seneca County, dated March 27, embodying some of the strongest argument against the liquor law, and in favor of distilleries:

The Maine Law now fastened upon this State, will probably be either modified or repealed by our next Legislature through the influence and action of a class of men, which self-willed fanaticism cannot abase with impunity; I mean the farmers of Western New York.

Wheat here is no longer a paying crop; hence the cultivation of corn and barley has been constantly on the increase for the last ten years. all the barley and the great surplus of corn, after fatting the farmer's pork, is appropriated by brewers and distillers. The shipment of barley alone to Albany and New York amounts each year to several hundred thousand bushels per month.

The Maine Law faction, with that hypocrisy which is its peculiar characteristic, has told the farmer that the foreign demand for corn is to make up for the loss of the distillery demand, and the present short cereal crop in Europe, together with anticipated war there, has stultified many farmers into that belief.—Corn, this winter, has been sold to distillers in Western New York at 80 cents a bushel, when for storing and shipment to New York in the spring, it could not be sold. I was told by a firm of distillers here, who run 500 bushels of grain daily, and fat 5000 hogs every six months, that they should prepare to bow to the Maine Law, and shut up this fall. If the neighboring distillers do the same, and the malters and brewers of Albany also shut up, there will be no shipment of barley here next fall; and the price of coarse grain must fall below all remuneration; then our farmers, ever ready to resent that which touches their interest, will feel that they have been practised upon scarcely less fatally than the poor brewers and distillers themselves. Our farmers will also find a patriotic excuse to vote for repeal, on the ground that liquors from without are introduced to supply the place of the home made article, now suppressed by the Maine Law.

The Maine Law will doubtless restrict the open trade in stimulating drinks, but in doing this it adds tenfold to the evil it attempts to abate. Hundreds of farmers in this little county, who rarely keep ardent spirits in their houses, will now supply themselves with barrels of whiskey for domestic use. This will soon tell on the social tippling habits of farmers; whiskey will be given, lent and sold from one to another, ad libitum, and as prohibition seldom fails to sharpen the appetite, many men who now pass weeks without drinking spirits, will, with a barrel in the cellar, or in the cellar of a neighbor, soon become regular tipplers, to say nothing of the clandestine drinkers to be created by prohibitory restrictions.

As well might you legislate against the German's tobacco pipe as against his Lager bier; it has only half the strength of strong beer, and is a beverage as necessary to the German as the light wines of Rome and Italy are to the laboring poor there. In framing our law, it would seem as though self-willed fanaticism had descended to the level of idiocy; the prohibition of cider and light beer as a beverage, puts the crown on the sumptuary madness, the high-handed abuse of power of our last accidentally elected Legislature. Another set of men, equally unscrupulous of infringing the rights of the people, will probably never be returned to disgrace or caricature the council of a free State.

We always desire to see every question argued on both sides. Here, one side is presented pretty strongly, by its best friends.—Let us look at it in detail. The great distillery which fats 10,000 hogs a year, does not eat them,—but it sells them. So far as the hogs are concerned, we think they would be quite as fat, quite as healthy and happy while they live, if they ate the corn before distilling, as they are now on distillery corn. And we know that the meat of corn-fed hogs will sell for one cent more per pound, than the still-fatted hogs, for the price currents tell us so every week.

From hogs, we go to men,—and ask, Is distillery fed pork wholesome? Answer, No. Do you commonly find a rich distiller using still-fatted pork in his own house? Answer, Not often. Do the cows in the stables of the "poor distillers and brewers" in New York commonly give good wholesome milk? Ans. No, no.

We have no doubt that the "poor distillers and brewers" make money by these dismal operations on cows and hogs:—but so far as they make pork and milk in their fashion, they make no little disease and death.

But besides making pork and milk of the corn they make whiskey of it: and the argument goes on to show us that a farmer with a barrel of whiskey in his cellar, will soon become a regular tippler. We admit the force of this, because we have seen something like it, when our farmers used to have a ten-gallon keg of rum to help them get in their hay. We cannot help thinking that those who drink whiskey by the barrel, go far towards making swine of themselves.

One other point rather puzzles us. We can understand very easily, that if any person is determined to drink, and you shut up the public drinking house, he will drink in private if he can;—but we have never yet seen one particle of evidence that more men would drink if drinking were forbidden: it has been asserted often, but it is just as hard to be believed, as would be the proposition, that there are more thieves now, than there would be if theft was neither forbidden nor punished by law.

The last paragraph, about lager bier and fanaticism, may go for what it is worth, either as a compliment or a libel.

And now summing up the details, what is the amount of the argument? Just this:—Distilling Corn and Barley into Whiskey, makes these coarse breadstuffs higher in price—therefore the farmers of Western New York would vote for free trade in liquors, and especially for distilleries. A very sound argument of its kind.

But let us turn the argument round, and look for one moment at the other side of it.

Suppose we are consumers of corn, and pork and milk: now if the distilleries make corn dear, and pork bad, and milk horrible, we, on the same logic, ought to vote against them.

If anybody wants lager beer, or whiskey, let him get it where he can: but don't ask us to vote for the machinery whereby our bread is made scanty, our pork flabby, and our milk poisonous.

The reader will please to observe, that in this article we have not offered one argument against distilleries, nor in favor of the new liquor laws; but have merely analyzed some of the arguments by which the distillery is to be sustained and glorified, and the liquor laws repealed and trampled under foot.

For the Chronicle.

THE CRY OF TERROR.

Man is a being oft by error led—
False are his steps without a healthy head;
Turn reason from his brain, and man's a shell,
Hollow and useless as an old cracked bell.

Fall many in this fevered age there be,
Pretending to unbosom mystery;
They sip at dark delusion's turbid stream,
And strangely thrive on every phantom dream—
And dare imagine they are sent from God,
To hold us humble 'neath a burning rod.
Thus, while they seek Jehovah's ways to scan,
Full many bow in homage to vain man.

We see man flying (yet no wings have they,)
All o'er the land, chaunting a doleful lay;
Thousands the dreadful tune o'er woe have caught,
Who join the shout that earth will soon be nought.
These fancy they're a message from on high,
Unveiling when and how the world shall die;
They set the time when God's impatient ire
Shall burst upon us in fierce clouds of fire.
Many there are with duties left undone,
Who madly after such delusion run.

Look back upon the past, vain man,
And think how oft we've tried God's ways to scan;
Think of the prophets false, who fixed the bound
When time should cease—the last shrill trumpet sound.

Hear ye the voice of one whom ye would chide,
For daring to outbrave the rushing tide;—
The cheering rays will beam of you bright sun,
When time is past ye stint this globe to run;
And let the song I sing remembered be—
Bright summers many we with joy shall see.
O, if we follow virtue's pleasant ways,
What fear can mar the quiet of our days?
'Tis true, that great catastrophe will come,
Yes, we must die—our lips be closed and dumb,
Then let us worship Him, the God of love,
And fears will vanish as we look above.

PETRARCH.

Portsmouth, March 26, 1854.

BARBARISM RETURNING.—At the execution in Pittsburg, on Friday, the Sheriff employed a professional hangman, said to be the notorious Geo. Alberti, formerly of Philadelphia, and now residing in Baltimore. The same man is said to have been the executioner of Arthur Spring, and of one or two other victims of the law. When engaged in the work of his despicable profession, this monster disguises himself in a style that would be absurd, if it were not for the circumstances of the scene, which make it absolutely revolting. At Pittsburg, on Friday, he wore a white shirt and white pantaloons, the latter held up by a red scarf around his waist. His face was painted a hideous red; long false red hair fell in matted curls over his shoulders, while huge black whiskers covered the lower part of his face. The brute that insulted humanity by appearing in this horrible dress, behaved with corresponding heartlessness on the scaffold, and in binding the prisoner and removing his fetters, was so rough and violent that the Sheriff was compelled to take the task out of his hands. His conduct, up to the time of the prisoner's death struggles, was equally brutal, and it so shocked the witnesses of the execution that they were disposed to lay violent hands on him.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

We think it is horrible; but then, if we were about to be hanged, we think it would not matter much whether the hangman were dressed in white or black, nor whether his hair or whiskers were black, red or grey. A hangman is a hangman, dress him as you will.

From all parts of Ireland the people are departing in considerable numbers; but the proportion from the western counties is greater than in previous years.

LOCAL.

POLICE COURT.—On Friday last, three boys, Joseph Berry, Charles Berry, and Albert Maxwell were arraigned on complaint of Geo. A. Teely, for assault and battery upon him. It appeared that the respondents had several times assaulted and violently abused the complainant, and several witnesses testified to the assault mentioned in the warrant. The counsel for the respondents moved to quash the complaint for the reason that there were two distinct allegations in the warrant, but the Court overruled the motion. But upon the conclusion of the hearing, the Court held that as this was an affair among boys it was not proper for the law to interfere, and ordered the respondents to be discharged. J. W. Towle for State. Hatch & J. S. H. Frink for respondent.

MACALLISTER.

This Magical Performer, who is to perform at the Temple to-night, may thank his stars that he did not come round this way two hundred years ago, when witches were hanged.—Among many notices in the newspapers in reference to his strange and wonderful powers in his line of art, we select the following from the Savannah Republican:

There are men in all pursuits of life who raise themselves far above the common level and dignity in any art to which they address themselves. Of this pre-eminent class is Mr. Macallister. He is as far above his compeers in the magic art, as John Kemble was above one of his subordinate actors. They imitate: he inventa. It is to his mechanical ingenuity, and his real love of his business, that he is indebted for the singular and strange inventions and conceits that have astonished the world. With him there is no blundering.—Everything goes on like clock-work, and by an easy grace and uniform courtesy he puts his audience at ease in an instant. He always deserves and demands success. It is not long since that he left at Boston as full houses after performing nine successive weeks as when he first began. When he was here in 1849, he had to the last moment full houses.

As his name imports, Macallister is a Scotchman. He was born in Glasgow. He is now a cosmopolite, speaking several languages; liberal with his money, and decidedly a gentleman in the best acceptation of the word. Had he lived two or three centuries ago, he might have held the best intellects of the age enslaved by the belief that he held familiar converse with spirits from another world. He might at that time, had he pleased, have controlled the action of kings and princes by a magic and undisputed sway.—Now, he goes laughing and singing along life's highway, every now and then conjuring up from his fertile imagination some new, innocent, and pleasing diversion with which to delight the world. He has already accumulated a large fortune, but he follows the bent of his genius, and keeps on in his old practices.

He will open at the Temple to-night.—Those who have never seen him, should know that he fills up the whole stage with the magic splendor of his paraphernalia. Thus at the outset, the scene becomes transformed into a mystic temple, gorgeously symbolic of his art. His famous mechanical wonders of the Peacock and Harlequin, also the Productive Portfolio and Inexhaustible Bottle, are novelties in his line; while his Mystic Chinese Cabinet, Magic Clock and Bell, and Great Shawl Feat, must be seen to be appreciated properly.

MACALLISTER OUTDONE.—According to Mr. Meinerth's advertisement in the Journal, Krissman's Club possess unequalled powers of magic. Mr. M. says,

"The Chorus Singers (German Quartet) prevented from appearing the first evening by the illness of the first Tenor, have friendly volunteered to appear this time in double number, to make up for my disappointment."

Now if this doesn't mean that the German Quartet are to double themselves this time, making eight singers of four, what does it mean?

This excels any performance offered at the first Soiree, even. We don't believe Macallister can do any thing like it.

☞ The answer to the Charade, in the Daily Chronicle of March 31 and the Weekly of April 1, is WILD WOOD.

We learn that Samuel Dunn who was noticed in our last as having become a defaulter to the town and the Strafford Bank, was a few days since arrested on board one of the Hudson River Steamers, New York, by officer Wrisley, and lodged in the jail at Kingston in that State. He was subsequently released however on a writ of habeas corpus, and we are informed, that able council of New York city, have decided that there is no article in the statute by which he can be detained in that State.—Dover Gazette.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for April, comes to us via Federhen & Co. Boston, and Morse of this city. The frontispiece, Departure of the Orphan, is beautiful; the other illustrations are,—Arrival of the Lady's Book, to illustrate the Souvenir, which is a pleasant sketch of southern life; the Husband of your cook leaving your House; innumerable patterns for Ladies' Fancy Work; and four Architectural designs.

The literary contents are in great variety; many of them very fine. The Fourth Letter of those left at the Pastry Cook's, amused us greatly. The Trials of a Needle Woman, by T. S. Arthur, of course does not amuse, but holds, and warms, and chills. The number is excellent as a whole.

THE NEW YORK LIQUOR BILL VETOED.—Gov. Seymour of New York has vetoed the Liquor Bill recently passed by the Legislature of that State. A telegraphic despatch to the New York Express says it is hardly possible that this bill can command a two-thirds vote in the Senate, though it may possibly in the House—and it is therefore regarded as effectually killed.

Rev. Stephen Hildebrand, charged with seduction, was expelled from the Methodist Episcopal Church last Monday, by the Baltimore Conference then in session.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, March 31.

SENATE.—In the Senate to-day the private calendar was suspended and the Deficiency bill was taken up. The question pending being on Mr. Thompson's amendment for Custom Houses at various places.

Mr. Hamlin offered an amendment providing for a Custom House at Portland. Me.—Agreed to.

An amendment providing for the completion of a Marine Hospital at San Francisco, St. Louis, Chicago, Louisville, Evansville, Paducah, and Burlington, Iowa, was also agreed to, when the bill was reported to the Senate and passed. Adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE.—Mr. Breckenridge was in the House to-day, but Mr. Cutting was absent on account of sickness in his family. Soon after the meeting, Mr. Preston of Kentucky, made a personal explanation relative to the Breckenridge and Cutting difficulty.

After which the House debated the Steam Frigate bill.

ACCIDENT AND FIRE IN CAMBRIDGEPORT.—Between four and five o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, Mr. John Symmes, engineer in the ropewalk of Mr. James Ackerson, on Magazine street, Cambridgeport, become accidentally caught in a belt and was carried several times round a shaft, breaking his jaw, knee and several ribs, besides otherwise severely injuring him. Mr. Symmes is a brother-in-law of Mr. Ackerson, and was a most faithful workman.

Soon after ten o'clock Wednesday night, fire broke out in the ropewalk of Mr. Ackerson, and notwithstanding the efforts of the firemen, the building and a large amount of stock were entirely destroyed. The building and machinery were valued at about $4000, and the stock on hand at from $5000 to $6000. Mr. Ackerson is insured $2000 at the People's Mutual office, Worcester. The fire is attributed to an incendiary, and the loss to Mr. Ackerson, who by years of industry and economy had gathered together a snug little property, is quite heavy. Mr. Ackerson bears the reputation of being one of the most industrious and hard-working men in Cambridge. The fire is supposed to have been kindled by some evil disposed persons who were dissatisfied with the honorable course he pursued in increasing the pay of the men in his employ, at the time of a strike among the ropemakers a short time since.

THE STAFFORDSHIRE.—A contract has been made by the underwriters of the ship Staffordshire with a Sub-Marine Company, by which said Company is to receive one half the property obtained from the wreck. The ship has been paid for by the insurance companies, and stands charged on their books as a total loss. The parties about to make efforts to save the cargo, think that by the removal of the decks of the ship a considerable portion of the freight can be reached with the modern sub-marine apparatus. The contract is a safe one for the underwriters, and we hope the enterprise of those who propose to save the property, will meet with a liberal reward.

SURVIVORS OF STEAMSHIP SAN FRANCISCO.—An act of Congress approved March 27, grants to each of the officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates who were on board said ship at the time of her disaster, a sum equal in amount to his pay and allowances for eight months. In case of the death of any such person, from any cause consequent upon the disaster, a sum equal in amount to six months' pay and allowances shall be paid to his widow, if one survive him, and if not, then to his minor children. Moreover, it is enacted that the widows and minor children of those officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates, who perished by this disaster, or who died from disease in consequence thereof, shall be allowed pensions in the same manner in all respects as if the said officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates, had been killed in battle.

EXPLOSION OF A LOCOMOTIVE.—A locomotive attached to a freight train on the New Albany and Salem Railroad, in Indiana, exploded a few days since, killing three persons, John Morris, engineer; Thomas Ratcliff, fireman; and John Merrill, a hand on the train. It was afterwards found that the steam gauge had been screwed to its utmost tension and then tied down to prevent the least possible escape of steam. Wherefore this was done no person lived to tell.

STRIKE AT LEWISTON FALLS, ME.—We learn from the Democratic (Lewiston) Advocate, that on Friday the Operatives of the Lincoln and Bates Mills struck for the eleven hour system. They had worked 15 hours, until about November, when the time was changed to 11 hours. Recently, the Corporation determined to have 12 hours' work done. To this the Operatives demurred. The Companies refusing to return to the 11 hour system—not more than a third of the whole number of the hands are at work in the mills.

The operatives have held two meetings; at the latter meeting, several ladies and gentlemen spoke; among them Rev. M. Goodrich and the Rev. Geo. Knox. Mr. K. closed with a prayer.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The difficulty between Messrs. Cutting and Breckenridge has been settled on a basis entirely honorable to both parties. The offensive expressions on both sides have been withdrawn. Both parties are in the House, where Mr. Preston will make an explanation to-day.

From the Boston Daily Advertiser.

On the rumored "affair" between Messrs Breckenridge and Cutting.

They cannot fight with pistols, lest
The noise should rouse the neighbors:
Long swords suggest a coward Pierce—
The weapons must be sabres.
Let's hope then that their blades may be
Than are their wits, less keen:
In chopping limbs less mighty than
In chopping logic fine,
May Breckenridge in breaking ribs
His zealous fury balk:
And Cutting prove in Cutting blows
Less cutting than in talk.

Dead Shot for Bed Bugs!

SLEEP IN PEACE.

ALL good House-keepers will be glad to hear of an article for the destruction of Bed Bugs, reliable and sure. The Dead Shot is a saturated tincture of a

POISONOUS GUM RESIN,

Which evaporates very slowly, and will not lose its destructive properties for months. One instance is known where Bugs in LARGE NUMBERS were destroyed by it, where none had been applied later than the previous year. Keepers of Hotels have found that a thorough use of the Dead Shot in every suspicious place, has kept their house free from Bugs for years.

IT IS PUNGENT AND DEADLY.

Apply it to insects it curls them up and lays them out as readily as sulphur fumes kill bees. It is a TRAP READY SET for these noxious tormentors of our nightly rest.

TO LET—HALF of House No. 66 Pleasant street, containing 5 rooms. Possession given April 1st. Inquire of THACHER EMERY, No. 72 Pleasant street, or at Charles T. Emery's Jewelry Store, No. 10 Market sqr. m22

HOUSES FOR SALE.
THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city. each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the ship-yards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Pow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the ship-yards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,
Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

TO LET—ONE HALF of the large and commodious Dwelling House, No. 18 Vaughan street. Apply to m9 W. J. LAIGHTON, 18 Market st.

TO LET—Half of House No. 6 Church street. Rent $40. Apply to BURY ME IN THE MORNING.

BY MRS. HALE.

Bury me in the morning, mother;
Oh! let me have the light
Of one bright day on my grave, mother,
Ere you leave me alone with night;
Alone in the night of the grave, mother—
'Tis a thought of terrible fear!—
And you will be here alone, mother,
And stars will be shining here.
So bury me in the morning, mother,
And let me have the light
Of one bright day on my grave, mother,
Ere I am alone with night.

You tell of the Savior's love, mother—
I feel it in my heart;
But oh! from this beautiful world, mother,
'Tis hard for the young to part!
Forever to part, when here, mother,
The soul is fain to stay,
For the grave is deep and dark, mother,
And Heaven seems far away;
Then bury me in the morning, mother,
And let me have the light
Of one bright day on my grave, mother,
Ere I am alone with night.

Never unclasp my hand, mother,
Till it falls away from thine—
Let me hold the pledge of thy love, mother,
Till I feel the love divine;
The love divine—oh! look, mother,
Above its beams I see;
And there an angel's face, mother,
Is smiling down on me!
So bury me in the morning, mother,
When the sunbeams flood the sky—
For death is the gate of life, mother,
And leads to light on high.

CHOIR SINGING.—A correspondent of the New York Musical Review, thus speaks of church music in Boston:—

I can safely say that we have all sorts of singing, from the best to the poorest; the poorest, according to my opinion, being those artistical quartets, who, for "a consideration," worship the Lord in behalf of the congregation.

He makes the following correct remarks respecting Mrs. Wentworth, formerly Miss Emma A. Ham of this city:—

Mrs. Wentworth, in the concert room, has been accused of a lack of energy and fire; but in the church, her pure and bell-like voice rises and soars on its heavenly mission with a buoyancy and eagerness that cannot but impress the hearer. In some female voices there is a quality, which, to my mind, expresses innocence and sweetness of disposition. This is particularly apparent in this lady's singing, and never more so than in church.

BLUCHER. — When old Blucher was in England he was invited to Oxford to have a doctor's degree conferred upon him. The fierce dragoon was as much amused as delighted at the idea of the honor, and introducing another Prussian general, who had been his right hand man in all his campaigns, observed, in a broken English to the vice chancellor, "Sir, if I am a doctor, this is my apothecary." But the veteran made a better hit than that, before the day was over. At an evening party given on the occasion, among others present was a lady, of whom it was sometimes whispered that she did not belong to a temperance society. We dare say this was all malice, but on this evening it did unfortunately happen that she was in very high spirits. "Who is that lady?" said Blucher, fixing his eyes upon her. "That is Mis Sparkle, the daughter of one of our canons," was the answer; at which the shocking old Field-Marshal thundered forth, with a roaring laugh, "a cannon's daughter! I thought so, she looks so very well charged." The charge was probably grape.

THE QUEEN OF THE BEGGARS.—At Bow street Police office a few days ago, Catharine Leary, well known as the Queen of the London beggars, being nearly ninety years of age, was charged by one of the Mendicity officers with asking for alms in the public streets.—The "Queen" is said to have between 20 and 30 daughters and grand-daughters, all of whom (with their families) have been trained to the begging profession. She is accustomed to operate on the sympathies of the public by lying prostrate on door steps, looking ghastly, and struggling convulsively for breath, always taking previous care that there is no constable on the beat. Mr. Jardine said that she deserved the severest punishment he could inflict, but, in consideration of her age, he would let her off with a month's imprisonment.

BRIDGING THE HUDSON AT ALBANY.—The New York Senate Committee have reported a bill for a bridge over the Hudson River at Albany. The report takes the ground "that the exigencies of trade and travel across the river at this point requires a bridge—that it can be built without materially obstructing navigation, or injuring the interests of the river, or of the canals—and that neither the laws nor the Constitution of the United States are in the way of it."

SNOW IN RUSSIA.—From the interior of Russia it is reported that the snow was lying everywhere, and in many places was from five to seven feet deep, seriously hindering the marching of troops. For 60 or 70 versts round Odessa the snow had melted, making the ground spongy and impassable.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, APRIL 4, 1854.

NEW YORK.

We have already mentioned that Gov. Seymour has vetoed the liquor bill. It appears from the Boston Chronicle that on Friday he sent in his message, vetoing the Liquor Bill, to the Senate—the branch of the Legislature in which it originated, but an adjournment took place without any action upon it. On Saturday the veto came up again, and after an ineffectual effort to make it the special order on a future day, the Chair put the question—"Shall the bill pass notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?" Ayes 9, nays 18. The Senate then by a vote of 14 ayes to 13 nays voted not to pass the bill; a motion to reconsider the vote was lost. This, therefore, settles the question so far as relates to the bill vetoed by the Governor. There is another bill in the hands of the House Committee, of a similar character, and probably an effort will be made to remodel it, so as to obviate the objections raised in the Governor's veto message. On Friday however the House refused to take it up—ten votes being wanting to enable it to do so.

The Chronicle remarks:

The veto of Gov. Seymour, as might be supposed, is the cause of much rejoicing in Albany, New York, and indeed all over the State. Guns are fired, and there are various other demonstrations of joy. The friends of the bill appear to have been expecting a veto, but were confident they could pass it in spite of the Governor's objections. They are disappointed in this, and of course will proceed at once to organize for the next election. But the Liberals will no doubt see to it that Gov. Seymour is sustained and re-elected, with probably a legislature also that agrees with him on the exciting question which is now occupying so large a share of public attention in New York.

"The Governor thinks the provisions oft he bill are calculated to injure the temperance cause, and be detrimental to the welfare of the Commonwealth. He deems it unconstitutional and oppressive, and thinks that the people, when fully advised of its provisions, will view it with arlarm.

After quoting the section which authorises searches, he quotes the eleventh section of the bill of rights, which declares the people to be secure in their houses, persons, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures. He argues this point at much length, and concludes by saying that this clause deprives our citizens of the protection guaranteed by that section of the bill of rights. He declares the sections of the bill directing the forfeitare and seizure of liquors unconstitutional. In regard to searching for and seizing liquors, malicious persons may take advantage of this law to get possession of property with fraudulent designs. By the section which directs the forfeiture and destruction of property, the door is opened to gross frauds and malicious proceeding. The two weeks notice would be sufficient to non-residents. It would not be in the language of the constitution, "due process of law." He argues this point also at some length. He contends that this law reverses the order of every other known proceeding, as the person charged with an offence stands guilty until he proves his innocence. He points to other provisiions, which he says are opposed to all well settled principles of common law, dangerous to the liberties of our citizens, and repugnant to the religious and moral sentiments of this community. Our constitution says, "no person shall be compelled, in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself;" but this act, if the facts should be of the character to criminate the party under examination, compels him to answer or be imprisoned. If he answers untruly, it is made perjury. If he admits the offence, he is arrested, and his premises searched. This unprecedented proceeding might be used for the worst of purposes, probably to obtain testimony in civil and criminal suits not growing out of this law, and in the ordinary transactions of life. Proceedings so tyrannical would tend to strife, bitterness and resistance of the law.

We do not consider all these guns, vetoes and decisions, to be half so surprising as the fact that a legislature of New York, chosen "by accident," as one writer says, should pass such a law by majorities so large.

This latter fact is evidence that the people of New York, burdened with a pauper and criminal tax, caused mostly by drinking houses and tippling shops, demand their abatement as a nuisance. Perhaps the people do not know exactly what kind of law will best answer the purpose;—but they surely wish to be relieved of their worse than useless burden:—and as surely will they make an effort for relief. The contest in that great State is just begun.

POSTMASTERS.—A proposition is made by the government to increase the pay of Postmasters. For the smaller offices, where the salaries do not reach more than $200, and a large part of them are less than that, it would be a good measure; but an increase of pay to goverament officers generally, is not called for by the public interests, nor will it promote the public morals. It would be better for the government to abolish the sinecures in all departments, reduce the pay, and hold every man responsible for the strict and honest performance of his duties. Many reforms are needed in our post office departments, and the most important is the election of the Postmasters by the people whom they are to serve. —Indianapolis Herald

For the Chronicle.

GEN. CASS' SPEECH.

Gen. Cass finally voted in favor of the Nebraska bill, after several amendments had been adopted. As he is the most talented and experienced statesman of the democratic party, we read his speech of 12 columns in the National Intelligencer to learn the strong points in favor of the measure. We find but one, called nonintervention, embraced in one of the amendments; all the other reasons assigned seem to us to be against the adoption of the measure. It is true he holds the Missouri compromise of 1820 to be unconstitutional, and, of course, the ordinance of 1787, and all other acts of Congress upon the subject of slavery, because, he contends, that the Constitution confers no authority upon Congress to legislate upon that subject. If this doctrine be correct, then the act tolerating slavery in the District of Columbia, the fugitive slave act, the line of 36° 30 defined by the joint Texan resolution and reaffirmed by the compromise measures of 1850, as well as the other acts of the kind are unconstitutional, and ought to be repealed. Still, Gen. C. much regrets the introduction of the present measure to repeal the Missouri act after it has been acquiesced in for 34 years, as it tends to produce agitation, &c. He says, "Slavery is, in my opinion as I have said more than once before in the Senate, and I have no doubt unacceptably to many, a great evil, social and political." Instead of advocating its extension, he thinks the question is, what practical measures can be adopted to get rid of the evil, and that it is for the states to adopt remedial measures, Congress having no jurisdiction. He quotes the opinion of others that slavery can never go into Nebraska, but we think that such opinions are inconclusive, unless the majority of the first settlers shall be opposed to the institution. The climate and soil furnish no obstacles. He wholly repudiates the Southern doctrine that slave holders with "their property" (slaves) can go into the territory, and hold such property under the constitution, as there is no such guaranty in that instrument, and contends that the slave holders, about three hundred thousand, have no right to complain of a breach of equal rights and privileges, because they should be under the same necessity, upon migrating, to dispose of their slave property, which Northern freemen are under, in disposing of their cattle and farms, and further, that there are nearly six millions of white people in the slave states, who are not slave holders, and these should be upon an equal footing with the Northern population. The slave holders are too small a portion to furnish an objection to a general, salutary law.

He alludes to Mr. Calhoun's denial of the truth of the Declaration of Independence—that all men are created equal—and upholds the Declaration by sound argument. Upon the whole, it is evident that he is no advocate of slavery or its extension—and had it not been for the nonintervention doctrine laid down in his Nichalson letter, to which he says the South were at that time opposed, our inference is that he would have voted against the bill. He contends that the first settlers of the territories should be left free to mould and adopt civil and political institutions, and enact municipal laws; that intervention on the part of the federal government is inconsistent with self-government. If this new position be well founded, it follows that the people of the United States, and their representatives since the origin of our government, have embraced erroneous doctrines, and that the provisions of the federal consitution in organizing territorial governments should be amended. The Nebraska bill itself, with its 40 sections, stands out, in bold relief, against the doctrine of nonintervention. Gen. C. justifies the congressional action in organizing territorial governments as a matter of necessity. We think the people of the United States expressly delegated the authority of the federal government, and that the authority is consistent with the theory of self-government. There can be "no liberty without law." It requires wise men to frame a wise constitution. T.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.—This Magazine for April, was received by us on the first day of the month; thus in three months gaining one number. The January number was burnt, re-made and re-printed. When it is remembered that the edition numbers 125,000 copies, each one of which is composed of six sheets of paper, giving 750,000 sheets to be printed each month, besides the type-setting, stereotyping, binding, and covers for them all, this gaining of time is seen to be quite a difficult achievement. This number is as good as any of its predecessors, perhaps better. For sale in this city by J. F. Shores; by Fedridge & Co., Boston.

NEW PAPER.—A new paper, called the "Lynn Weekly Reporter," has recently made its appearance. It is a handsome sheet, published by P. L. & H. S. Cox, at $2 per year, and is intended to be a local, family paper, neutral in politics. Lynn already has two political papers.

LOCAL.

☞ Macallister, the Wizard, in his performances last evening, showed himself to be one of the best artists in his line. His apparatus is elegant, costly, and ingenious; and the spectators were greatly amused, and somewhat astonished, especially the juveniles.

He performs again this evening.

CAROLINE LEHMANN.

☞ Mr. Meinerth's second Concert of his series, is announced for this evening, when the grand attraction will be Miss Caroline Lehmann, of whose merits we copy the following notice.

There has seldom been a singer among us who seemed to possess so much of the true artist-spirit, so much of the religion of her art. And we wish that there were a dozen instead of three more Germania Concerts to be enriched and enlivened by her voice.

In an unpretending, genuine, really inspired German or Swedish song, we have hardly heard, since Jenny Lind, the equal of Caroline Lehmann.

☞ The South Parish in this city (Unitarian,) have voted to offer the use of their Church to the North Parish (Orthodox) while the latter shall be building their new House of Worship.

FIRE IN HAMPTON.—We are informed that on Saturday evening last, the old school-house situated on the "Back Road" in Hampton, was entirely consumed by fire. There had been a meeting of the district on Saturday afternoon, to consider the expediency of building a new house, but the measure was defeated by a couple of votes. The next morning a heap of burnt ruins was seen in place of the obnoxious Temple of Learning—the conflagration having taken place unknown to the citizens generally.

A little girl, about twelve years of age, daughter of Mr, Horatio Brown, was instantly killed last Friday in the box-mill, on Water street, by having her clothes catch in the shafting which drives the saws. She was gathering chips at the time.—Saco Democrat.

THE NEBRASKA BILL.—That there will be a struggle to pass the bill, may be inferred from the tone of the Washington Union, and all the other avowed organs of the administration. It is decidedly an administration measure, and the Union is in favor of making it a test question. But from what can be gleaned from the democratic press of the whole country, it may be inferred that it will be difficult to convert it into a strictly party measure. In the South, Alabama and Louisiana, besides many distinguished statesmen in other slave States, oppose the measure. In the north, it is stated that the democrats of Rhode Island, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Maine are almost unanimous against it—that in Ohio 41 of her newspapers are opposed, while 13 are in its support—that in the State of Maine 50 of her newspapers are hostile, and only 5 friendly to it, and that each of the 5 is pensioned by the government. We allude to these as affording some evidence of the democratic sentiment, which pervades the States generally. In the Empire State, since the attack upon Mr. Cutting, the "hards" seem to be taking a decided stand against the bill; and in Pennsylvania many democrats meet in convention, without party distinction, to remonstrate against it. It seems as yet to be an experiment only, to make this a party question. In 1820 the opposition in New Hampshire to the Missouri Compromise, was very far from being a party question—nearly the whole Republican party united with the Federalists (there was no abolition party) in public meetings and remonstrances against admitting Missouri as a slave State. Our newspapers of that day are evidence of the fact.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—In conversation a few evenings since with my uncle Toby, (for I also have an uncle Toby) it happened we got upon the subject of corns—as you had a correspondent who had given you a recipe for the cure. My uncle Toby said, "that recipe may be very good, I never tried it: but I know what is certain, for I have used it for more than 25 years—why, sir," said Uncle T., "mine were so bad I had Doctor P. to burn them with caustic, but it was only a momentary relief; and sir, whether I heard it or stumbled on it by accident, I know not: but I soaked my feet, scraped my corns with a dull knife; when dried, I put on each a small piece of adhesive plaster called diachylon, which I continue to renew every Sunday morning, and have heard nothing of my corns for more than 20 or 25 years. They do not twitch when the wind comes east. Try it sir—I ask nothing for the cure."

SHERIFF ADAMS.—Judge Dewey, of the supreme court of Massachusetts, decided, on Monday, that Sheriff Adams of Norfolk, who was ordered to be imprisoned for selling liquor at a sheriff's sale, must be discharged, as the Mittimus put him in his own custody as chief jailer.

DEMOCRATIC TESTIMONY.

Before the late election, we copied extracts from the N. H. Patriot and other leading papers, stating that the Nebraska bill or question was not the issue in the election, but true democrats took different views, &c.

The Washington Union of March 23, said:

It need not now be repeated that President Pierce was an early, and that he has been an ardent and constant, advocate of the Nebraska bill. It has become a prominent measure of his administration. If it be defeated in the House, it will, it must be admitted, be a defeat of the administration.

The Old Guard of March 31, says,

If neither the Nebraska Bill nor the Administration, nor the cabal at the capital, was the matter in issue at the late election, it becomes curious and interesting to know, what was the issue? We know of nothing in issue, in the late canvass, but the Democratic organization.

This was the only question really involved in the late election. And it was the Democratic organization that triumphed. It was for that the National Democracy voted. The appeals of the N. H. Patriot and its echoes were, in substance, for the Democratic organization. To save that, the prints referred to, absolved all democrats from the duty of supporting the Nebraska bill, as a test measure. The "Old Guard" went in for the Democratic organization, to preserve it for future uses—to make future Governors and Presidents.

The same paper says,

We have several times seen and heard it stated that Hon. HARRY HIBBARD cannot be elected a Senator in Congress next June, because he is committed in favor of the Nebraska bill. Then how is any man to recee ve the election who is opposed to the Nebraska bill?—Are the friends of that measure supposed to be any more tolerant than those who oppose it? and if that question is to be the test, how can any election be made at all, when it is known that the democratic members of the House are nearly equally divided upon that question, and if united, scarcely constitute a majority? It is certainly a singular state of things if a support of the Administration by our delegation is to be made fatal to their advancement at home.

* * * * *

Close as the House is, and even doubtful whether there is any democratic majority at all, it is very questionable whether any Senators can be elected; but if Mr. Hibbard cannot, we do not see clearly who can be.

FROM BARACOA.—By an arrival at New York from Baracoa, we learn the particulars of the loss of the Spanish war steamer Pizaro. It appears that she struck on a reef off Cape Mary, on the 12th. She had on board over 300 troops from the garrison of Baracoa, and a crew of 100 men, all of whom were landed safely. Her guns and armament were all thrown overboard.

The French war steamer Lellan and the Spanish war brig Pelayo are alongside, trying to get her off, but it was thought she would become a total wreck.

A severe shock of an earthquake was felt at Baracoa, on Sunday the 19th.

THE CHRISTIANS IN TURKEY.—The most important news received from Constantinople by the mail of the 27th is, that the Sultan has promised to accede to the demands of the four powers relative to the emancipation of the Christians in Turkey. The negotiations are still pending, but the assurances of the Porte are said to be satisfactory and positive. The papers state, with what truth remains to be seen, that the question will be settled by means of a special firman, and a proclamation on the part of the Sheik-ul-Islam. The Christians, it is written, will receive back their arms, and as far as it is feasible, the elements hostile to Christianity will be removed from the provinces.

WASHINGTON, 3d.—CONGRESS TO DAY.—Senate.—Mr. Cass alluded again to his religious freedom question on presenting a petition on that subject, intimating that at some future day he would call it up, when he would reply to some strictures made by a distinguished prelate, meaning Bishop Hughes.

House.—No business of importance has transpired.

Mr. Cutting appeared in the House for the first time since last Monday.

BUFFALO, April 3.—Three fires occurred here simultaneously yesterday morning. The first destroyed Studevant's large planing mill, with a large quantity of lumber; also, Stacoy's brewery, three dwellings and several small buildings. The others destroyed seven dwelling houses. Loss $40,000.

DIFFICULT MUSIC.—The London News introduces a notice of some new compositions for the piano forte, with the following excellent remarks, which we commend to our readers:

Piano forte playing has become so much a matter of exhibition, such an accumulation of feats calculated to show off the exhibitor's manual dexterity, that we seldom see one of the foreign lions of the day sit down to the instrument, without making up our mind to bear half an hour's martyrdom, as patiently as we may; and the case is still worse when the young lady pupils of these fashionable virtuosi contribute their sweet sounds to the entertainment of an evening party; for they can only scramble awkwardly through difficulties which the professor can at least execute.

To hear a piece of clear, melodious music played on the piano forte nicely and expressively, without show or pretension, is a pleasure which is heightened by its comparative rarity. Among our professional pianists there are but few who have the courage to resist the inroads of noise and nonsense, to compose and perform pure and classical music; and, in their capacity of instructors, to communicate good taste and sound judgment to their pupils.

Dead Shot for Bed Bugs!
SLEEP IN PEACE.

ALL good House-keepers will be glad to hear of an article for the destruction of Bed Bugs, reliable and sure. The Dead Shot is a saturated tincture of a
POISONOUS GUM RESIN,
Which evaporates very slowly, and will not lose its destructive properties for months. One instance is known where Bugs in LARGE NUMBERS were destroyed by it, where none had been applied later than the previous year. Keepers of Hotels have found that a thorough use of the Dead Shot in every suspicious place, has kept their house free from Bugs for years.

IT IS PUNGENT AND DEADLY.

Apply it to insects it curls them up and lays them out as readily as sulphur fumes kill bees. It is a TRAP READY SET for these noxious tormenters of our nightly rest.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE,
FOR THE
COUNTY OF ROCKINGHAM.

THE next Session of this Institute will commence in the METHODIST CHURCH, at Kingston, on MONDAY, April 10th, 1854, and continue until Saturday the 15th. The exercises will usually commence at half past 8 o'clock A. M., and half past 1 & 7 P. M.

The services of the following named gentlemen of much experience and reputation, have been secured:—

Prof. Arthur Sumner, in Elocution and Grammar.
Prof. Osgood Collester, in Music.
Calvin Cutter, M. D., in Physiology and Hygiene.

The citizens of Kingston will provide suitable accommodations for all who attend the Institute, at a moderate charge.

Each evening of the week will be occupied by lectures.

Each member of the Institute is requested to have present a Bible, Dictionary, Russell's School Reader, or Town's Fourth Reader, and a small Blank-book; also, to have his or her full name and residence written on a slip of paper or card, ready to hand to the Committee of Reception, on entering the Insitute, so as to expedite the organization.

The attendance of all the teachers in the County, especially, and of Superintending and Prudential School Committees, Parents, and all friends of popular education, is earnestly requested.

Let all make sufficient exertion to be present at the opening of the Institute on the first day.

A BARBER-OUS ADVERTISEMENT.—We like wit in an advertisement as well as anywhere. A tonsor of Hartford, advertises in the Times, in quite a rhetorical and poetical style, and concludes thus—alluding to the growing fashion of wearing the beard as the Creator designed :—

"Shave like the goat, if so your fancy bids, but Bassett (the barber) must be allowed to quote the learned and tuneful Dr. Watts in support of his own private opinion, that—

'MAN wants but little hair below,
Nor wants that little long'"!!

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, hums and ha's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh, and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now compounded of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853, I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns.

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last burst, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. If the editor of this paper wishes as a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fit two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in Dropsy. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to cleanse the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, tea spoonful. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Chatham street, formerly occupied and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

TO LET—ONE HALF of the large and commodious Dwelling House, No. 18 Vaughan street. Apply to m9 W. J. LAIGHTON, 13 Market st.

TO LET—Half of House No. 6 Church street. Rent $40. Apply to m6 S. DONNELL, 6 Congress st.

Livery Stable.

C. H. SIDES & CO., would return thanks to their friends and the public for the liberal patronage heretofore received, and would respectfully announce that having recently re-furnished their stable with a full stock of the best horses and carriages, they are now prepared to supply as good teams as can be found elsewhere.

Among their new carriages is a Hack of the very best manufacture and finish, which will run to accomodate the public.

Funerals and parties furnished with good hacks and careful drivers, at short notice and on reasonable terms.

Stable on State street, nearly opposite the Rockingham House.

Hack Notice.

LADIES and Gentlemen of this City, or strangers visiting here, are informed that two good Hacks with good horses and careful drivers, are to be found at the CITY HOTEL, at all hours, ready to convey passengers to or from the Railroad Depots, or to any part of the city at reasonable prices.

Funerals and Parties attended,—and Horses and Carriages to let, at reasonable rates, at the Stone Stable, in rear of the City Hotel.

A HORSE BIOGRAPHY.

From the Rochester, N. Y. American.

"There goes 'old dandy,' and a noble old fellow he is too," said some one just now.—We looked out and saw this famous horse, and could not help thinking how bravely he had done his duty in his day and generation. 'Old Dandy' was of highly respectable parentage, and is a native of this county. He is about 25 years of age. He was first put in livery in 1835 and has remained in that harness ever since, without losing a day. He has been owned at three different times by Mr. George Charles, whose property he is now. He has always been owned on State Street.

Horse-men think that 'Dandy' is one of the most remarkable quadrupeds that ever trotted in harness. He has always had thews of iron and muscles of steel, with the 'constitution of a horse,' an eye of fire, and a way of getting himself up that astonishes all who see him. He is a 'Dandy of an animal, gay, showy, impetuous, strong bitted, and, unlike other dandies, useful. Even now, with all his years upon him, he is one of the best, if not the best 'driver' in town. His muscles have lost none of their elasticity, and his eye none of its fire. He is a dark chestnut horse, of good average size, and with a loftiness of bearing as if conscious of his own noble traits.

In these days 'Dandy' confines his journeyings to short drives about town and brief ramblings in the country. In former years he has done his 75 miles before a wagon, between breakfast and tea, time and again, and rather liked it. Some years since he was driven 68 miles a day five days in succession and was ready for a drive to the Lake or out on the ridge, as soon as he had taken a bite.

'Dandy' was never sick a day in his life. He ignores Doctors. He was never at grass. He has lost all natural fondness for green fields and the like. He admires oats and such like substantial fare, but he despises fresh croppings in the country. He has often been sent to grass 4, 6, and 8 miles in the country, but he leaped the fence and was in the stable before the man returned, who took him out.

'Dandy' runs away. He likes thus to terrify young men unskilled in horses, particularly if they are inclined to show off to the lady whom they may have at their side. Then 'Dandy' laughs at their feeble strength, he contemns feminine shrieks and screams, and rushes off headlong, with no thought except of his familiar stall. Facetious Dandy!—When a lady loses confidence in her driving cavalier the ride is apt to be short, and you, with your tricks should be held responsible for it. But Dandy does not always choose to run away from unskilled hands. He sometimes indulges this propensity even when a master hand is at the ribbons. He wishes to show the vanity of human pride, and how much stronger his hard mouth is, than the strong muscles which try to control him.

Dandy loves an inn, a country tavern he smelleth afar off, and always hauls up before it just long enough for the mixing and imbibing of a beverage, and then he proceeds. Drive him out and see if he can be driven by any tavern where there is a bar. Not unless he has in his old age taken up for the "Maine Law." Dandy was always a fast horse, and even now he can out trot the majority of horses that compete with him. Still it is not so much his speed, as his bottom and his tremendous endurance that give him notoriety here, and make him a marvel among 'horsemen' everywhere.

Dandy has been in livery 19 years, or about 6900 days. More than that number of times has he been harnessed up, put before a wagon, and put through at the top of his speed. Not less than $10,000 has he earned in these nineteen years for his several owners. He has seen a vast number of 'awful good times,' as they phrase it, in his day. But he was never tight. He has stood under the tavern shed, or munched his hay in the tavern barn, while the sound of the dance or the revel came to his ears and he thought of the fierce drive that was before him. What hosts of young men has he 'seen through,' and in how many delightful scrapes has he participated. Yet the old fellow is just as ripe for fun as he was in the hay-day of his youth. He does not grow old. Time, which sets its seal on everything else, has spared 'old Dandy, and left him as frolicsome and spirited as if he had not reached his teens. May he live a thousand years.

We have tried to immortalize our friend 'Dandy' but we confess to only a general acquaintance with his career. Those who have known him best are loudest in his praise—He is worthy of even a longer article than this. He knows as well as we, that when he trots along over the pavement, everybody is saying, "Look at old Dandy."

SAVINGS BANK FOR SLAVES.—It strikes us that it would be a capital idea to establish a savings bank in this city, where with the consent of their owners, slaves might deposit on interest the sums which they have so many opportunities to earn. It would tend to make them more industrious and frugal, and be an incentive to good conduct, and would doubtless enable many of them to purchase their freedom and colonize to Liberia.—N. O. Bulletin.

UNANIMITY.—"We must be unanimous," said Hancock, on the occasion of signing the Declaration of Independence; there must be no pulling different ways." "Yes," answered Franklin, "we must all hang together, or most assuredly we shall all hang separately."

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 1854.

CONNECTICUT.

The election for State officers in Connecticut, took place on Monday, April 3; and the telegraphic returns so far, indicate an entire defeat of the democratic party, though not exactly a victory of any other party.

Last year, this party carried every thing before them, choosing their Governor by ten thousand plurality over the whig candidate, and having a plurality of 10 in the State Senate and 77 in the House. This year, as we learn, the whigs have carried both branches of the State Legislature, and will have the Governor and State officers, though the 'Independent' ticket may prevent a choice by the people, of many officers, as it undoubtedly has of the Governor.

The Maine Law vote is supposed to be within twenty per cent, as large as the whig vote.

Of the eight sheriffs four whigs are chosen, and probably three more.

So far as heard from, only one democratic Senator is elected, namely, in the Thirteenth District.

A Senator in the U. S. Congress to succeed Hon. Truman Smith, (whig) who voted against the Nebraska bill, is to be chosen; his colleague, Mr. Toucey, (dem.) voted for the bill.

Thus Connecticut seems to be following in the wake of New Hampshire, uttering its dissent from the offer to repeal the Missouri Compromise. Indeed Connecticut goes one step farther than New Hampshire went, and she has also taken that step on a platform somewhat enlarged.

We were carefully and repeatedly told, by all our sound and reliable papers of the regular democratic party, previous to our election, that the Nebraska bill was not the issue,—and were moreover assured on the same high authority, that men might be good democrats and good friends of the administration, and yet entertain opposite views of the new measure; and after election it was said the Nebraska trap was sprung upon the democracy by whigs and abolitionists.

Since that time, but a week and more before Connecticut election, viz., March 23d, the Washington Union says, "The Nebraska bill has become a prominent measure of his [Mr. Pierce's] administration. If it be defeated in the House, it will, it must be admitted, be a defeat of the administration."

Plain talk of this kind, though it could not destroy or avoid all other issues, as temperance, &c., yet made the issue on the Missouri Compromise quite prominent, and compelled all the fence men to jump off on one side or the other.

The result was as much more decisive in their case than in ours, as the issue was more distinct. Connecticut, as well as New Hampshire, dislikes the Nebraska bill, because her freemen, like ours, suppose it to be an insidious advance of slavery, to take by indirection what could not so well be taken openly.

The people may mistake its effect;—the President says he thinks they do—but the people are disposed to judge for themselves, and to vote against men and administrations whose measures they do not approve.

CONTROVERSY WITH SPAIN.

The correspondent of the New York Courier at Washington, under date of the 1st inst, states that the President has sent to the Senate, a long document recapitulating all our difficulties with Spain since the date of the treaty of Florida. It is said that the message enumerates a dozen or more cases of agression upon our citizens, by the Spanish government, or under its authority, for which no satisfactory reparation has been obtained. It is, adds the letter, "a manifesto of war without a declaration." "Our government is doing all that it can to produce a war, or to accomplish its objects of annexation without one."

In addition to these statements of the purport of the President's message, the letter states the following:

"The explanations of the Captain General, and the later dispatches of the American Consul, dispel the supposition that there was any intention to insult the American flag in the seizure of the Black Warrior. The fact appears to be that previous to that occurrence the American steamers had been treated with unusual indulgence, and that it was determined to withdraw the exclusive privilege accorded to them, just before the last trip of the steamer. Precisely the same rules were enforced as regards the British steamers of the Southampton and Vera Cruz line."

The same letter states that the reports in the English papers, that Mr. Soule at Madrid is in high favor with the Queen and Ministers is not sustained by the authentic advices of the Goverament. This statement cannot be deemed improbable. The ground on which it has been asserted that the Queen had exhibited marks of favor towards Mr. Soule, is the absurd one of its being done as an indication of slight to the French minister.

FAST DAY.—A clergyman in Boston, after reading the proclamation for Fast Day, called the attention of his congregation to the fact that the Governor requested the people, and not the ministers only, to meet in the houses of worship on that day.

NAVAL CONSTRUCTION.

The Boston Courier cuts out work at the Navy Yards in the following manner:

Now that the bill for the six steamers has passed Congress by a handsome majority, it is presumed that the Department will at once direct the keels to be laid down at our Navy Yards. The question of building these ships by contract has been set at rest, and the well-seasoned materials at our navy yards will be used in their construction. The nation will thus have ships built of live-oak frames in a substantial manner, and there can be no doubt that they will be fully up to this age of fast models. We are told that Mr. Pook, the naval constructor at the Boston yard, has already prepared a model, which has received the approbation of the Navy Department, and we hope that at least two of the six new frigates will be built here. The steam machinery will necessarily be constructed by contract. The steam frigate Saranac's machinery was built at the works carried on by the Mattapan Company at South Boston, and as that has proved itself equal to any steam machinery in the navy, for which we have the authority of Commander Long and others, we hope the enterprising and faithful machinists of these works will obtain the contract for the new frigates to be built at this station.

Besides the six new screw frigates, the Santee, now on the stocks at Portsmouth, N. H., and whose keel was laid nearly thirty years ago, is to be altered and finished, we believe, as a frigate, and her consort at New York is also to be finished and launched in the same manner. Besides, the line of battle ship Franklin, at Portsmouth, will be rebuilt under the appropriation for "repairs," and will be razeed to a frigate of 286 feet in length, with a screw propeller. Thus we have a fair prospect of seeing the navy strengthened by an accession of nine modernized ships of war with steam machinery.

M. Bedini has written a very long and a very silly letter to the Archbishop of Baltimore. After muttering many sour things about those individuals—mostly his own countrymen—who insulted him during his tour in America, and a sly complaint about the administrators of the law, he prays, in a tone of feigned humility, for the conversion of the wicked men who charged him with the commission of many wicked deeds, which his reverence does not condescend to deny. M. Bedini is too humble altogether for Democrats, and his future letters to American correspondents should be "confidential."

The above item is from the Boston Courier, which paper, we believe, has never been considered as specially Anti-Catholic. We have not yet seen the letter itself.

HIGH TREASON.—Some time since, as our readers will probably remember, Major Bryant, U. S. Marshal for Missouri, while endeavoring to execute certain writs against tresspassers who were cutting timber on the public lands in McDonald county, was resisted, and chased by a mob into the State of Arkansas, where he was protected from violence only by the interference of citizens of Bentonsport. A few days since, as we learn from the Missouri Republican, James M. Baker, a lawyer in McDonald county, while on a brief visit to St. Louis, was arrested on a charge of being concerned in the rebellion, and countenancing resistance to the process of the United States Court. The offence of high treason not being bailable, he was sent to jail, there to remain until the approaching session of the Circuit Court.

LOG ROLLING.—We copy the following from the Washington correspondence of the New York Evening Post. It exposes a most corrupt combination, which ought to receive the unqualified condemnation of every honest man:

"The railroad schemers in the House count 80 votes, or, as they term them eighty true men; these are banded together by an engagement to vote against everything proposed by the eastern opposers of their schemes, and everything in which they suppose those opposers feel an interest. This is a vicious system of legislation; as those 80 votes, added to the honest opponents of a measure, can defeat almost any bill which comes up for a decision."

EASTERN RAILROAD.—On Monday next, 10th inst., the trains of this road will leave the new depot in Causeway Street, Boston, near the Boston and Maine freight depot. A large force has been actively employed in getting everything in readiness. Three tracks have been laid in the depot building, and extend to some distance, and then merge into two across the bridge. The objection of "crossing the ferry" cannot now be used. The location is central and convenient to the traveller and business man.—Boston Courier.

"The objection of crossing the ferry," always seemed to us exceedingly silly. Nevertheless, as it was an objection let us congratulate those who urged it, that it is now out of the way.

SNOW IN MAINE.—The Bangor Whig of Friday says: The storms, the deep snow and the consequent bad travelling for a week past, have caused great detention of the mails. There is more snow upon the ground in Maine than has been known before at this time of year by the oldest inhabitant. In many parts of the State the fences are invisible by being buried in snow, and in many towns all the men and cattle that can be mustered are required to open the roads. Stage passengers are put through at a slow rate, in sleds and pungs and other conveyances of similar elegance and comfort.

Sleighs, with men and women travelling for business and pleasure, were passing briskly up and down the Saco river on the ice, as low down as Saco and Biddeford, on Monday morning.

☞ The Concord, N. H., Reporter, states that the Universalists of that city are about to build a new and elegant Church, ninety feet long, on the site of their present house, which is of much smaller size.

LECTURE THIS EVENING.—The first anniversary of the Mercantile Library Association will be celebrated this evening at the Temple. A lecture will be delivered by Dr. Frank Fuller, a member of the Society, in which the benefits resulting from such organizations will be set forth, and also the claims of this particular institution upon the community. Previous to the lecture, the annual report of the condition of the Society will be read by the Secretary.

The holders of the tickets will notice a prospectus for a course of Lyceum Lectures, the coming season, and it is hoped that all who propose to attend, will fill the blank, for such number of tickets as they may wish.

Mr. Brookton, the talented Pianist, who plays the Piano at Macallister's Magical Soirees, will by arrangement with both these gentlemen, enliven the occasion by his bold and brilliant performance on that instrument.

☞ We take this occasion to say that the old Portsmouth Lyceum always had good music; and that we esteem a little musical divertisement as a pleasant appendage to any lecture, and an almost indispensable offset to a dull one.

Messrs. Editors:—In quite a number of instances, we have seen and heard it reported that the Solicitor for our County, who is also the city solicitor or agent, has appeared in defence of criminals for the violation of our Statute Laws and City Ordinances; and in a few cases has appealed from the decision of the Police Magistrate to a higher Court.—Can you give us information how he can consistently, at least, thus appear or claim an appeal and thus discharge his official duties faithfully? By so doing you will oblige

MANY CITIZENS.

Not knowing our correspondent "Many Citizens," we suppose the signature means particularly that useful class of citizens, the Lawyers. Really, we cannot answer his questions fully; but will do the best we can. It would appear at the first view, that no lawyer ought to take the faulty side of a case; but if this were so, real criminals could not have legal counsel. But as matters go, when it is deemed all fair and right for two good lawyers, and good men, too, to be on opposite sides of a criminal case, even when the case is open and known—we cannot see why one very good lawyer might not plead and act on both sides.

MR. MEINERTH'S CONCERT.—Miss Lehmann, with her brother, and eight singers of Kreissman's Club, gave the second soiree of the series at the Cameneum last evening, to a fair audience.

☞ Rev. Dr. Burroughs' second lecture on the Prophecy of Daniel, is to be given at St. John's Chapel in State street this evening.

Mr. William H. Wells, the very efficient and popular Principal of the Putnam Free School, at Newburyport, who has been at its head from the commencement, and to whose energy, industry and talent it is indebted for the high rank it has attained, has handed his resignation to the trustees. This resignation is occasioned by an appointment from the Board of Education, as Principal of the State Normal School at Westfield, at a salary of $1500 a year. He enters upon his duties at Westfield in August.—Herald.

MASSACHUSETTS.—On Monday an election took place in the first district, for the choice of a Representative in Congress, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. Zeno Scudder, from ill health. The returns already received give little room to doubt the election of Thomas D. Eliot, the Whig candidate, by a plurality over his competitor, Abraham H. Howland, an "independent" candidate. Eliot was pledged against the Nebraska bill: Howland was unpledged and unknown as far as this question is concerned.

JENNY LIND.—Madame Goldschmidt recently appeared in a concert given by the King of Prussia at Berlin, and with immense success.

The despatch from Springfield stating that Gov. Steele and Mayor Tyler had gone to Washington to influence Congress concerning the armories, and that both were candidates for the superintendency of the Springfield armory, is pronounced to be utterly false by Mayor Tyler. The despatch was sent by one of the editors of the Republican, a whig print.

During the period of his command in Turkey, Marshal de St. Arnaud is to receive 60,000 fr. a month above his ordinary pay, and other emoluments, besides 400,000 fr. for his preliminary expenses, outfit, &c. The Marshal is so feeble in health that his wife will accompany him.

The New York Tribune says that Hon. Thomas Marshall, of Kentucky, who made such a sensation twelve years ago as a temperance lecturer, has again become a sottish drunkard.

The punishment of the two Conleys, convicted at Portland of the murder of Thomas Guiney in a riot, is imprisonment for life—the verdict being "in the second degree."

SOIREES MAGIQUES,

AT THE TEMPLE.

MACALLISTER,

The Great European Magician!

THE public are respectfully informed that this world-renowned WIZARD will have the honor of giving a brief series of his splendid and

Original Soirees Magiques,

In this city, on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday Evenings,
April 3d, 4th, 6th, 7th and 8th, 1854,

On the same extensive scale of grandeur and effect that has distinguished his Soirees throughout Europe and America.

MADAME MACALLISTER

THE GREAT WIZARD

Will perform a great variety of ASTONISHING WONDERS, which have created the most profound astonishment and delight.

His astonishing experiments in MAGIC, Mechanism, Electricity, Science and Philosophy, are of an entirely novel and original character, while his GORGEOUS PARAPHERNALIA fully illustrates the idea of a Palace of Enchantment.

WASHINGTON, 4th.

CONGRESS TO-DAY.—Senate.—After the reception of several petitions against the Nebraska Bill, the Senate, on motion of Mr. Mason, went into executive session.

The chamber doors were temporarily reopened to receive a message from the House, announcing the passage of the six steam frigate bill, which the Senate took up and passed forthwith.

FEARS FOR THE STEAMER CITY OF GLASGOW.—Fears begin to be entertained for the safety of the steamer City of Glasgow, which is now thirty-four days out from Liverpool for Philadelphia. She had a supply of coal on board sufficient for twenty-six days, and with economy twenty-eight or thirty days. Her cargo is valued at $1,000,000. She has also 125 passengers.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The steamer Empire City, from New Orleans and Havana, and Star of the South, from New Orleans direct, arrived here this morning.

Trade at Havana was dull. A great many American vessels had arrived there recently; 33 were there on the 29th.

Much damage had been done on the island by drought.

Upwards of twenty sugar plantations, including several of the largest on the island, have been burnt, in consequence of the dry cane igniting from some sparks which were emitted from a railroad locomotive, causing an immense destruction of property.

A large American frigate was outside, supposed to be the Columbus.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.—New York, 4th.—The Steamship Baltic is below—will be up at about half-past four o'clock this afternoon.

NEW STEAM FRIGATES.—On Friday the Steam Frigate bill passed the House by a vote of 113 to 43. It is similar to one which passed the Senate some days since, and will probably be concurred in by that branch. The bill appropriates the sum of $3,000,000 for the construction of six first class steam frigates to be furnished with screw propellers and properly armed and equipped for service; and to be built at the government navy yards, or by contract, as the Secretary of the Navy shall deem advisable. The bill also provides for altering, completing and launching the frigates "Santee" and "Sabine."

SOUTHBRIDGE, Mass., April 2.—The body of an Irish woman named Read was recovered from the Quinebaug River, a little below this village, on Saturday. She left home about three months ago under circumstances which led to the belief that she had committed suicide, and search was made for her body at the time. The body must have passed four dams to reach the spot where it was discovered.

THE CRYSTAL PALACE.—The labors of Mr. Barnum seem already to have imparted new life to the financial department of the Crystal Palace. In response to his suggestion, subscriptions to the amount of $35,000 have been made for Crystal Palace tickets by the hotel proprietors, railroad companies, and various public spirited individuals. Mr. Barnum thinks that subscriptions to the amount of $50,000 will be sufficient for his purposes.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The express train from Albany for New York was thrown off the track, on Friday evening near Tivoli, about fifty miles from Albany, in consequence of a rock having fallen from the embankment and rolled on to the track. The rock was eight or ten feet long, five feet wide, and two feet thick, and of not less than five tons in weight. The flagman saw the rock fall and lodge on the track, but it was too late to give the signal so as to stop the train, which was approaching at the rate of 40 miles an hour. The locomotive, tender, baggage car, and two of the five passenger cars that composed the train, rushed upon the rock, split it in twain, and passing over it ran nearly a hundred yards beyond it. Four of the persons employed on the road met with terrible injuries; the engineer, Francis Scott; the fireman, Francis Shaltz; and two brakemen, Charlas Bertrand and James McLaughlin.—The last two died shortly afterwards. None of the passengers were injured.

The Eastern Railroad Company are about erecting a new and spacious station house in Beverly, at a point on the line of their road about half way between the present station and the junction of the Gloucester Branch, which junction is to be brought up to this point, in order that the Gloucester road may be operated with more facility as a branch.

NEW STARS ON THE NATIONAL FLAG.—The people of Oregon are to vote in June upon the question of forming a State government; and if a majority favor the proposition, they will be prepared to send their Senators and Representatives to Congress next winter. Oregon, Minnesota, Washington, and perhaps Utah will soon be in the Union, possibly by the next Presidential election—all free States.

FIGHT AND FIRE.—On Friday night two Irishmen had a fight at a stable in Cambridge street, during which they tumbled over a stove, the contents of which set fire to the premises, but the fire was extinguished without creating a general alarm.

STRIKE AMONG THE SHIP BUILDERS.—The ship builders of New York have struck for an increase of wages. They have hitherto received $2.50 per day, and now demand $3. Their employers refuse to accede to their demands, on the ground that $3 per day is beyond the bounds of reason, and if acquiesced in, will drive the business of ship building out of the city. Work has consequently been stopped in all the ship yards.

EVADING FARE.—An Irishman named Sullivan, who rode in the cars from Reading to South Reading, on Saturday, and evaded paying the six cents by a misrepresentation to the conductor, was afterwards taken before a magistrate and sentenced to pay a fine and costs, amounting to $10.

Dead Shot for Bed Bugs!

SLEEP IN PEACE.

ALL good House-keepers will be glad to hear of an article for the destruction of Bed Bugs, reliable and sure. The Dead Shot is a saturated tincture of a

POISONOUS GUM RESIN,

Which evaporates very slowly, and will not lose its destructive properties for months. One instance is known where Bugs in LARGE NUMBERS were destroyed by it, where none had been applied later than the previous year. Keepers of Hotels have found that a thorough use of the Dead Shot in every suspicious place, has kept their house free from Bugs for years.

IT IS PUNGENT AND DEADLY.

Apply it to insects it curls them up and lays them out as readily as sulphur fumes kill bees. It is a TRAP READY SET for these noxious tormenters of our nightly rest.

MRS. PARTINGTON ON THE DIGEST (IGN.)—Isaac read in the Transcript, "the legislature authorized the governor to appoint commissioners to digest into one act all of the general statutes upon the subject of insurance." "Isaac!" said Mrs. Partington, admonishingly, "don't make fun of what you are reading, because by and by I shan't put no confidence into you." Ike looked up astonished. "Its in the paper here," replied he, giving emphasis to his remark by lifting up the lid of the table and slamming it down as he read the sentence again. "They must be ostriches to do it," continued she, "that can digest board nails and window glass. I wonder how long it would take 'em to digest the new statute of Franklin that they're going to build, or the big one of General Washington in the state house, or Eve in the city hall yard. I don't believe they can do it." "Unless the statutes are made of gingerbread or sugar," said Ike, breaking in upon her darkness with a grin like sunlight through a chink in the broadside of a barn, "and if them's 'em I should like to be a commissionary too." The old lady rested here, like a traveller on a rock by the wayside, and felt assured that if the boy was right she wasn't, and took a severe pull at the rappee, and Ike turned over to read about Mr. Baker's fancy chocolates.—Post.

HORSES AND MULES.—There were 834 horses at the New York city Horse Market on Friday last.

There are now more mules in use in that city than ever before. For some work they are superior to horses, but where a faster gait than a walk is wanted, those who are employing them now, will be disappointed when warm weather comes on. If urged beyond his stubborn inclination, he will lie down.—For services where a slow gait and steady pull are required, a good mule will work 365 days a year.

Professor Agassiz is clearly of opinion "that there was an extensive continent in North America, when all the rest of the world was under water;" and that thus physical condition has been more unaltered on this continent, than in any other part of the globe.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT—

Every land has boiled with
Xtacy this preparation whose
Intrinsic merits has introduced its
Curative powers to the notice of the whole
American people. Rheumatism of long duration,
Neuralgia, with its tortures, have yielded to its

Magical influence; canners, contorted joints,
Ulcerated and swollen limbs that have
Suffered for years under the weight of disease,
Turn by its application to suppleness and health.
A remedy of such general usefulness that can
Restore newness of Action to the diseased nerves,
Arteries and glands of the human body,
Is worthy of high praise.

Let the rheumatic, halt, lame and palsied
Invalid examine its qualities, and they will
Not be disappointed. Years of study and
Investigation have enabled the proprietors of the Mexican Mustang Liniment to furnish a remedy,
Extraordinary in its power over diseases,
No matter of how long standing—sold at

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby more cases are prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and there is no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ——

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,

Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city. each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly by owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

MUSIC IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The obstacles adduced by the few who are opposed to the incorporation of music in our system of common school education, are of two kinds, imaginary and real. Of the former, the most prominent is perhaps the following:

That it will take up time and interfere with other studies. Suppose it does. The study of arithmetic "takes up time" which might otherwise be devoted to writing, reading, or grammar; but would any one advocate its neglect on such ground? certainly not. It takes time to get rich. There is no prospect of an immediate diminution in the ranks of Mammon, however, for that reason. Men "take time" for the attainment of any good, which, in their estimation, is worth what it costs.

The advantages of introducing vocal music into the school room can hardly be over estimated. Physically, it expands the lungs and promotes health. Intellectually, its study, like that of any other science, affords mental discipline. Socially, it refines the taste, brings out in full bloom the flowers of feeling, and throws a halo of happiness over all who come within its influence. Morally, it helps to counteract the utilitarian tendencies of the age, by raising man into an atmosphere that does not forever vibrate to the clink of gold, forms an essential part of public praise and private devotion—in short, gives expression to the holiest emotions of the soul. These advantages are both numerous and important enough, one would think, to secure its systematic study in every school room, even though less arithmetic, geography and grammar be acquired in the course of a term.

But so far from admitting that music in school interferes with the prosecution of other studies, we do not hesitate to affirm that exactly the reverse is true. We speak from our own experience, as well as from the testimony of others, when we say, that schools in which twenty minutes of each day are devoted to music, make greater advancement in the ordinary branches of study, than they would were it altogether excluded. This is mainly owing to the fact that the minds of children in their first efforts at continuous thought, are, like the pinions of the young eaglet, soon wearied.

At just the point when pupils are hanging listlessly over their books, when they are jaded and worn, music comes in as a grand panacea, putting to rights and lubricating the whole mental machinery, renerving the pinions of thought, and so far overcoming the friction, which unhappily attends every species of progress in this world, that when the music lesson is concluded, the driest study is resumed with a zest which could hardly be greater if it were the most delightful recreation. Indeed, we have always observed that more hard study is done in the first half hour after music, than in any other half hour of the whole day.

So far, then, from interfering with progress in other studies, it promotes such progress, and this is an excellent reason why music should have a place in every school.

But it may be urged: The regular study of music in school will soon assume, in the estimation of the pupil, the nature of a task to be got through—a duty to be done—and so will fail to produce the recreative effects claimed above.

All will agree with us that music, however imperfectly taught, is far less liable to this objection than arithmetic, grammar, or indeed, any other school study; and yet even these should not, and if properly taught, will not become irksome. The great thing to be aimed at in teaching music is to educate (educe, draw out) the musical intuitions of the child, cultivate his ear, attune his voice, and above all, impress upon his heart the relation between tones and emotion. Let this be kept uppermost, and familiarity with the signs that represent tones—the ability to read musical notation, will come in as an incidental and entirely subordinate affair. Taught in this way, it is impossible that the study of music should become irksome.

We call particular attention to this, because we fear that in schools where music is taught in this country, as well as in Germany, the mere training of the eye is often allowed to usurp undue importance, compared with the education of the ear, voice and heart. Having now disposed of the imaginary obstacles which, so far as we know, are ever urged against the introduction of music in schools, it remains for us in a future number to carefully consider the real obstacles.—N. Y. Musical Review.

CAMBRIDGE IN 1666.—The King's Commissioners in 1666, sent the following account of Cambridge to Charles II.: "At Cambridge, the colonists have a wooden college, and in the yard a brick pile of two cages for the Indians, where the commissioners saw but one. They said they had three or more at school. It may be feared this college may afford as many 'scismaticks to the Church and the corporation,' as formerly they have done, if not timely prevented." They report that the local government of the Colony informed them that "they might say without boasting, that more than an hundred able preachers, physicians, and other useful persons, had issued from the small college at Cambridge."

The fears of these Royal Commissioners respecting the rebels was realized in the next century, as many of the graduates of Harvard were foremost in the Revolution, as signers of the Declaration of Independence, members of the Provincial Congress, and active and ardent leaders in the struggle for American Independence.—Boston Transcript.

PORTLAND ELECTION.

This municipal election was justly regarded with great interest, not so much in relation to partisan politics, as to temperance in general, and the Maine Law in particular.

The Argus says the democratic party had no candidate in the field, but the contest was on other grounds than those of politics.

Mayor Cahoon is re-elected, having 1590 votes. Neal Dow received 1496; and 34 votes were scattered.

The Advertiser informs us that four Aldermen elected are whigs—the other three are democrats, two being Morrill Democrats.

The Council stands thirteen whigs to eight democrats—four or five of whom are Morrill Democrats.

Three of the Aldermen elected were nominated by the Dow men—the other four were nominated by the friends of Mr. Cahoon, although none of them we believe are opponents of the Liquor law, and some of them, if not all, are in favor of a vigorous execution of it.

Of the Council, thirteen of those elected were nominated on the Dow ticket, and eight on the opposing ticket.

There is therefore, unquestionably a decided majority of both branches of the City Government, in favor of a vigorous execution of the Liquor law.

The Advertiser remarks:

This result of the election, under all the circumstances, is a strong indication of the strength of the law in this city. Hundreds of the strongest friends of the law voted for Mr. Cahoon, and hundreds more would have voted for him a week ago. But the character of the canvass, on the part of some of Mr. Cahoon's supporters, drove off many who had at first intended to vote for him, although they had no objection to the man himself.

Mr. Dow's supporters were, from the first, very ready and willing to have the canvass of such a character as to create the impression, at least among the voters who were to decide it, that the election was in some degree an issue upon the law. Some of Mr. Cahoon's supporters, having much more faith in the strength of "liberalism" than we had, were indiscreet enough to afford them the opportunity they desired to give it that turn, and this very nearly elected Mr. Dow.

We have been of opinion that the law itself, disconnected from all other considerations, would poll at least a majority of eight hundred in this city, and the result of this election has confirmed us in that opinion.

THE HOUSE.—The New Hampshire Patriot of April 5, having complete returns of all the Representatives, makes the House to stand democrats 165; all others 15; majority 20.—The same paper also contains various cards and certificates from Representatives who were classed as independent or free soil democrats, but who signify their allegiance and adherence to the regular democratic party. Also some certificates from the friends of others. These certificates apply to six or seven representatives. Two of them, Messrs. BROWN and SIAS, of Ossipee, say:

We are democrats, and were elected as such, and whatever may be our views upon collateral and incidental questions, we shall, both at the polls and in the Legislature, maintain the principles, sustain the usages and support all the nominations of the Democratic party.

To this the patriot responds, "This is the course which all true Democrats will pursue," and says also, "party fidelity is fidelity to principle."

THE NORTH WATCH, BOSTON.—During the last quarter the North Watch arrested and took 1334 persons to the station house, of which number 285 were committed to jail.—They have found upon prisoners the sum of $1120.28, and restored the same when the prisoners became sober. They have been called to stay 228 fights; have assisted 182 intoxicated persons to their omes; discovered and extinguished two fires without alarm; rescued five persons from drowning; found fifteen stores open and secured the same, and found eight horses and carriages in the street, and taken proper care of the same. The watchmen of this division have the most turbulent portion of the city under their charge. Boston Chronicle.

The foreign population predominates in their district, drinking houses and dance cellars abound; and drunkenness and debauchery follow of course. The law made to break up one grand fountain of these evils, is declared unconstitutional, and contrary to the inalienable rights of those worthy citizens, whose persons and money are taken care of by the watchmen.

Sumptuary laws are declared inexpedient as well as unconstitutional;—as it seems to be a hard case to prevent any man from lodging in the gutter, who has a taste for such accommodations as abound in the neighborhood of the Black Sea. No people can be more jealous of their rights of life, liberty and happiness, than those poor creatures are of their right to pursue after death, bondage and misery.

☞ Rev. Dr. Waterbury, formerly of this city and now of Boston, has sought and obtained leave of absence from his (Bowdoin Street) Church, for six months, on account of an affection of the eyes. His society continue his salary and supply their pulpit at their own expense.

A MODERN MIRACLE.

We continue to see more extracts from Father Bedini's Letter. One of these extracts is given below. It will be remembered that a great sensation was created among the credulous portion of the Catholics in Europe, by a report that a picture of the Virgin Mary, at Rimini, had actually winked on the occasion of some holy festival. It seems that this alleged phenomenon occurred during the civil jurisdiction of Bedini, when he presided over the government of Bologna. He now gives new currency to this story and vouches for its correctness, though without "pledging a divine faith therein" until the miracle is duly sanctioned by the Vatican. We copy that portion of his letter which relates to this miracle.

"Meanwhile, for a more sensible proof of my gratitude, and of pious remembrance, which may recal my journey, I send at the same time to your grace and to your colleagues a number of pictures of the Blessed Virgin of Rimini, which I caused to be there expressly engraved, the engraving being done from a daguerreotype taken from the wonderful picture itself; and given me by the pious and zealous Bishop of that city. That portentous moving of the pupils (of the eyes) took place precisely during my civil jurisdiction, when I presided over the government of Bologna. It was very just, after the attention of the American people had been drawn to those events of my commissaryship, which depended in no way upon me, or which arose solely from the implacable anger of a few lost individuals, that I should call it also to one which more truly distinguished and privileged it. Without pleding a divine faith on this subject, since I believe that the only authoritative sentence of the Vatican has not yet intervened, still how much force in itself has a faith, all human though it be, in favor of the well established prodigy; and the diffusion of a picture so blessed, and so full of celestial inspiration, I consider will be grateful to Catholic hearts, and more than grateful, useful and efficacious to their piety.

If others collected the mire which impeded my difficult administration, let them have this true gem; and as the former with that inflamed themselves to anger, to outrages, and to curses, let those by this be inflamed to faith, to love, to devotion, to piety, and to every fairest virtue which can render them worthy of so dear a treasure. Yes! this beautiful contradiction will also appear at the sight of this picture, to wit, that so many who yielded so prompt a credulity to the false and most injurious narratives of one individual, will glory in being the most incredulous in resisting the assertions of thousands and thousands who have testified to that prodigious movement of the eyes, and who through a sudden and irrepressible emotion, found their own eyes in tears and their hearts in commotion. Having a blind and most prompt faith for calumnies and for falsehood, they will have none whatever for the most marvellous truths; and throwing themselves with full appetite and without disgust upon tales which degrade and corrupt the man who believes them, will profess themselves too experienced and too sagacious not to reject with scorn and contempt the faithful relation of events which ennoble the human species and console it, putting it in more evident relation with the divinity even, of which it bears itself the image since the first moment that the vital breath was given to the clay of Eden. But this is language lost upon them; non omnes recipiunt verbum istud. I must limit myself to pray the same blessed Lady of Rimini, that benignant she would turn her merciful eyes upon this land, where to me it is most sweet to distribute this her image. Oh may this most powerful Mother of the God-Man console with her celestial glance so many of her children who will seek in her maternal heart the fountain of so many graces; and may she in so many others also, who, bathed in the blood of her Son, still obstinately refuse to call her their Mother, work the not less rare prodigy of opening their eyes to notions more true, more just, more dear, more holy."

This is a strange document for the 19th Century, and for American citizens. A picture taken from a daguerreotype, the daguerreotype taken from another picture,—which other picture opened and shut its eyes most portentously. And this shadow of a shade; this picture, of a second picture, of a third picture, is to convert the dark minded American people into the Roman Church, by opening and enlightening their eyes.

ARCHBISHOP HUGHES, of the Roman Church in New York, contradicts all the sayings imputed to him, unfavorable to the government or condition of Cuba—deeming it on the contrary, as we suppose, well governed and happy. He says:

I was in Cuba as an invalid, by the advice of my physician in New York. But whilst there I saw no signs of "degradation or imbecility" in the "Creole population." On the contrary, I found them quite on a par with corresponding classes of society in our own and other countries which I have had occasion to travel. Neither did I witness any evidences of "incapacity" in those who administer the government of the Island. On the contrary, I found them well educated, kind and accomplished gentlemen—highly qualified to discharge their respective duties with honor and ability.

THE EFFECT OF A VETO.—The New York "Maine Law Bill" originally passed the Senate (where it originated) by an affirmative vote of twenty-one—and in a full Senate there are thirty-two members. When it was returned last week to the same branch, with the Executive's veto, it received an affirmative of fourteen only—to thirteen against it. The bill thus lost seven votes through the influence of the veto.—Boston Chronicle.

Take a Paris grisette, give her three quarters of a yard of tulle and two yards and a half of ribbon, and she conquers the world; but an English woman, with her California of shawls and diamonds on her person, has the appearance of a clothes stand.

LOCAL.

MACALLISTER.

The Wizard comes out again this evening, at the Temple, with a fine programme of the wonderful magic and legerdemain, whereby he astonishes and delights even the most practised spectator. All who have seen him pronounce him, A Number One among the Magicians. The following is from the Philadelphia Enquirer:

Macallister, the Magician, who is giving nightly exhibitions at the Arch Street Theatre, attracts crowds. On the evenings of Friday and Saturday, the dress circle presented quite a brilliant appearance, while every other part of the house was thronged. The applause at times was truly enthusiastic. All the tricks are clever, and some are quite wonderful. Among the latter we may mention the Magic Clock, the Magic Teapot, and the Mysterious Disappearance. The Spanish Harlequin, a piece of mechanism invented by Mr. Macallister, is a truly amusing affair. It dances, smokes, plays, whistles, and cuts all sorts of antics at the word of command. The Magic Teapot is no larger than an ordinary teapot. It is apparently not changed during the performance, and yet Mr. M. pours from it upwards of twenty kinds of liquor, which he distributes to the audience. His manner is gentlemanly, agreeable and pleasing; his apparatus is quite magnificent, and the music of a fine pianist adds no little to the amusement of the evening.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

This institution celebrated its first anniversary on Wednesday evening, on which occasion the Temple was crowded with ladies and gentlemen.

The Annual Report was read by Mr. Daniel J. Vaughan, Secretary of the Society; the Occasional Address was delivered by Dr. Frank Fuller; and the music of a good piano well played, enlivened the scene.

Dr. Fuller's address ably urged the claims of the society on the public; grounded on the usefulness of the institution not only to the individuals composing it, but to the public at large. It was an eloquent production, and was favorably received.

CORRECTIONS.

Messrs. Editors:—The report of the examination of the boys in the Police Court, in last Monday's paper, is erroneous. Mr. Hatch did not appear as Counsel in the case. And the statements in yesterday's paper, in the communication signed "Many Citizens," are also erroneous. The duty of the Solicitor, as presented in the rules of the Court, requires him to examine all criminal cases, coming from Justices of the Peace; to determine whether they are "proper to be prosecuted at the expense of the County," and to dismiss them if they are not.

The present Solicitor has never appeared as Counsel for any defendant, so far as to charge or receive a fee, since the Police Court has been in existence.

To the Editors of the Chronicle:

GENTLEMEN:—As you are so very sensitive to the faults of others, and are so ready to find fault with them and to hold them up to public ridicule, you must not expect to be let alone when you, intentionally or not, fall into error; and besides, you so easily see where there is nothing to be seen, and don't see when the fact is right before you,—that I cannot forbear calling your attention to an advertisement in your paper this morning. The public cry is, what does it mean? "Children, awake," "Dead Shot," "Axles," "Wagon Wheels"—the only meaning I can make out is this—"Buy the dead shot, 2 axles and 2 wagon wheels, and you will get rid of your bed bugs. Please say if this is a positive cure, and if so, where I can buy them,—and much oblige THE CHILDREN.

That's it—exactly,—boys. Always take aim before you fire. On looking at the advertisement, it does not say either where the wagon wheels are to be sold, or where the dead shot is to be found. But we presume the fast men, who want chariot wheels, will look at the auction column, where they will be revolving briskly; and the good mothers, who wish to use the dead shot in defence of the juveniles, will look into Mr. Thacher's armory, where they will find the article, ready primed and loaded, waiting, like Billy's gun, to go off, even if it is not charged.

☞ A series of articles on "Hair and Wool," is in course of publication in the Portsmouth Journal, written by Hon. Peter A. Browne, author of a curious and invaluable treatise on Pile, entitled "Trichologia Mammalium, or a Treatise on the Organization, Properties and Uses of Hair, Wool, &c." In the articles being published, there are frequent allusions to the pages of the above work, and for the reference of the readers of the articles, a copy of the work is temporarily deposited in the Athenæum Library.

☞ We perceive by the Newburyport Herald, that Rev. Justin Spaulding, of the Methodist Church in this city, is to deliver an Address on Romanism, at the Church in Liberty street, Newburyport, to-day.

Rev. Mr. Fay, of Hampton, is also announced to preach at the Prospect Street Church.

THE NEW ERA IN MUSIC.

At the hopeful advent of the Savior of fallen Music in Portsmouth, a glorious era has dawned upon the benighted inhabitants of modern Nineveh. A cessation of pouring "new wine into old bottles" has come. No more new cloth is to be incorporated into old cast off garments. All discord has received a permanent quietus. A new uncalculated star has dawned in mercy, in this locality. Although its nucleus is unsteady and extremely small, it sports a train of remarkable light.—This luminous part of the star, is, however, being subjected to a severe analysis, by eminent astronomers; who have already intimated that it is only an ephemeral creation of harmless mist, which has not body enough to hold itself on its limited orbit,—and that it must at no remote period, vanish into evanescence. Such a calamity, we trust, will be averted.

No newly discovered planet of ancient or modern time, has equalled this in brilliance of gassy splendor. It is surely a guide to the ignorant, and a staff for the foolish. Henceforth, at least during its fantastic and spasmodic dodging,—now to the zenith, eclipsing all the celestial burners therein hung out—now to the earth, bedazzling all things terrestrial into splendor:—henceforth this long trailed gassy visitor will radiate a brilliance that shall show our timid footsteps the way into the beautiful ante-chambers of celestial music, and teach us that

"All partial evil 's universal good,
All discord, harmony not understood."
All flats are worthy, with a blinded clique,
All soft heads good, if they appear but meek.

ARRIVAL OF THE BALTIC.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, April 4.

The Collins steamship Baltic, Capt. Comstock, arrived at this port about 4 o'clock this afternoon, having left Liverpool at 5 o'clock on Thursday morning, 23d ult. The Baltic arrived out on Sunday, the 19th, at 3 A. M., having been two days in an ice pack, which took her 300 miles to the southwest. She brings to New York 76 passengers.

On the 25th ult., at midnight, lat 50 30, lon 23, passed a steamer supposed to be the Atlantic, bound east.

Admiral Sir Charles Napier's fleet arrived at Wingo Sound, in the Baltic Sea, on the 15th ult.

The allied fleets remained at Beycos Bay, but would soon reenter the Black Sea. Two Austrian ships had anchored at Beycos.

The official final refusal of the Czar Nicholas of Russia to evacuate the principalities at the demand of England and France, was hourly expected. It is already known that he refuses the demand.

When the official refusal arrives it will be communicated to both houses of parliament, and war will be proclaimed.

A Paris correspondent says that the czar's refusal to treat was telegraphed from Berlin on the 17th to the French government, and that so soon as known, the British minister sent a notification of the fact overland to Sir Chas. Napier.

No engagement is reported in Europe, either by land or sea.

On the Danube, positions remain unchanged.

Said Effendi had reached Janina, empowered to settle the Greek insurrectionary difficulties. The insurrection is now over.

The first division of the French troops, under Gen. Carrobert, had sailed from Marseilles for Turkey.

The French loan had been taken up.

Baron Mantueffi had made a communication to the Prussian chambers, strongly insisting on Prussian neutrality.

Russia continues to urge Prussia to preserve neutrality.

Austria gives no further indication of her policy. She is still, in appearance, with the western powers.

Up to March 10th Russia had not recognized Sweden's neutrality.

The Austerlitz, of 100 guns, and three other French ships, have sailed to the Baltic to join the English fleet.

The prohibition to export gold from Russia is confirmed. Exchange for London had fallen to 21s 10d.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, April 4.

HOUSE.—The consideration of the bill to reduce and graduate the price of public lands, was further postponed for one week.

Mr. Bennet of New York, reported a bill to equalize the grants of public lands to the several States for certain purposes. He said that the Committee on Public Lands were opposed to the bill, but were willing to take the sense of the House on the subject.

The bill is the same as Mr. B. before reported, with an amendment.

Mr. B. spoke for some time in support of the bill, when before concluding the subject, the House went into committee and took up the General Appropriation bill.

Mr. Matteson of New York, spoke upon the bill. In the course of his remarks he read the circular signed by Mr. Clay, and others in 1850, pledging themselves not to countenance the reopening of measures settled by the compromise, nor vote for men who would reagitate. Not five years have passed, he said, and yet in terms the most unprovoked, we find those signers who are now in Congress doing the very thing which they at that time condemned over their own signatures.

Mr. Clingman of North Carolina, spoke in favor of the Senate Nebraska bill, but wanted the Clayton amendment stricken out, not because it was wrong, but because it would lead to no practical result, and because it would embarass the passage of the measure.

Mr. Wright of Pennsylvania, said he had made up his mind to vote for the Nebraska bill with Mr. Clayton's amendment out.

THE EUROPEAN MARKETS.—In consequence of the increased promising or threatening war symptoms in Europe, the English Funds have declined, and Consols stand at 89 3-8 to 89 5-8. In Paris, Three per cents were 64, 55; Four and a half per cents 91,10.

The Corn market has again been very dull at a decline of 6d per bushel on Wheat, and 3 a 4s per qr on Indian Corn. Flour in limited demand without change in prices, 35s a 36s; sour 32s a 32s 6d. White Indian Corn 41s a 41s 6d; yellow 40s; mixed 39s per qr.

Imports of Bacon increasing and stock accumulating. Fine Beef in more request.—Pork more saleable but not dearer. Lard inactive.

EXPLOSION—THREE KILLED.—Allentown, Pa., April 3.—An explosion occurred in the distillery of Wm. Edemon this morning, causing the loss of three lives.

NEW YORK, April 4.—A tremendous fire occurred at 10 o'clock this morning, commencing in the distillery of Lazarus & Johnson, on Washington street, which was destroyed, together with several other buildings and an immense amount of stock. The loss by the fire is about $60,000. Lazarus & Johnson, $50,000; Kattenhorne & Bomaine, $10,000. Both parties are fully insured.

"Biddy, has that surly fellow cleared off the snow from the pavement?" "Yes sur." "Did he clear it off with alacrity, Biddy?" "No, sur; wid a shovel."

Dead Shot for Bed Bugs!

SLEEP IN PEACE.

ALL good House-keepers will be glad to hear of an article for the destruction of Bed Bugs, reliable and sure. The Dead Shot is a saturated tincture of a

POISONOUS GUM RESIN,

Which evaporates very slowly, and will not lose its destructive properties for months. One instance is known where Bugs in LARGE NUMBERS were destroyed by it, where none had been applied later than the previous year. Keepers of Hotels have found that a thorough use of the Dead Shot in every suspicious place, has kept their house free from Bugs for years.

IT IS PUNGENT AND DEADLY.

Apply it to insects it curls them up and lays them out as readily as sulphur fumes kill bees. It is a TRAP READY SET for these noxious tormenters of our nightly rest.

DEATH FROM THE BITE OF A CAT.—Mrs. Hannah Willard, residing in North street, Buffalo, died a day or two since from the effects of the bite of a cat. She was 55 years of age; The Buffalo Republic gives the following particulars:

About six weeks ago as Mrs. Willard was sitting in her room, the cat came along by her under some apparent excitement. Mrs. W. put out her hand with the intention of soothing and allaying its feelings. The cat instantly seized upon her hand and refused to let go until forced off, when it escaped out of the house and returned again two days after, when it attacked and bit another person in a similar manner, and the cat was killed. This aroused suspicions that the cat might be mad, and Mrs. Willard then submitted to the painful alternative of having the flesh cut out around the parts of the hand that had been bitten, and the wounds have since become entirely healed.

Early last week Mrs. W. began to betray symptoms of nervousness, which increased up to Friday, when it became evident her complaint was hydrophobia. The usual characteristics of that disease now attacked her with their usual violence. Although clearly rational, she found it impossible to refrain from continual talking—a cessation of which produced a feeling of smothering and difficulty of breathing. There was a constriction of the throat, attended with spasms, which became more frequent, violent and distressing to the termination of life. A dread of all sorts of liquids, the sight of which produced a painful shudder, was followed by vomiting.

The deceased had been for about eight years a member of the Niagara Square Baptist Church. Her conversation ran principally upon religious topics, and she seemed desirous of conversing with any who called on her, but could not permit them to come near her bed, stating that their breath seemed to choke her. She made no attempt to injure any one. Her husband only could attend her. Attempts were made by physicians to apply chloroform to alleviate her nervousness, but we understand the effect was the same as that produced by the sight of water.

In this way she gradually sank down until yesterday morning, when her terrible sufferings ended in death.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The Subscriber (late agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and Infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase the Remedy equal to DR. IOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have said that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the ship-yards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished and very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the ship-yards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.
